DEDICATION

TO the memory of Major William Holcomb Webster, the loyal soldier, the distinguished chief in governmental service, the critical compiler of military records, the Christian churchman, the comrade in fraternal, historical, hereditary and patriotic societies, the unfaltering friend, the devoted husband, the author of this monumental work; and to Anna Stracy Webster, his faithful wife, whose patient love aided in laying its foundations, and whose widowhood has been cheered by the hope of its completion; and to Frances Janet Jay Webster, our own beloved wife, who rose to immortality in the early morning of September thirtieth, nineteen hundred fifteen, after her smiles had brightened our way and made possible this glad consummation, this book is gratefully dedicated, by its Final Author, Editor and Publisher.

A KEY TO THE BOOK.

In the arrangement of this Genealogy the Chapter is the key. Following the third chapter the descendents of Governor Webster are grouped on the basis of the Great Grandchild. At the head of each chapter is placed conspicuously the name of a Webster ancestor, and within that chapter appear all the names of his great grandchildren, except those not brought forward from a previous related chapter.

The Chapter is sub-divided into "Divisions," "Sections," and "Numbered Paragraphs." Those named in the Divisions are children of the ancestor at the head of the Chapter. Those named in the Sections are his grandchildren. Those named in the Numbered Paragraphs are his great-grandchildren.

The Section is distinguished by its italic type, and also by a recapitulation of the Webster pedigree of the person first named in the Section. Should both the male and female pedigree be desired it may be found at the head of the Chapter.

The names of the Great Grandchildren are printed in heavy face type, or in small type next after the birth list in case their history is concluded in the same Chapter as that of their parents.

Because of the varying numbers in the different branches, the Chapters are of unequal length. The advantages of this arrangement, however, are too obvious to be sacrificed for mere uniformity.

Open the book anywhere and the reader may proceed in either direction. At the top of the left-hand page the words "From Chap.," and at the end of numbered paragraphs the words "Resumed in Chapter," are a guide to ancestry or descendants as may be required.

PREFACE

WHEN Charles Sumner, the illustrious senator from Massachusetts, a generation ago, faced death, he said to his intimate friend, Judge Hoar, "I should not regret this if my book were finished. My book! my book is not finished, but the great account is sealed." *

In like spirit, we may be assured, the gifted author of this work came to his end. It lay near his heart. He devoted many years to its production. He sacrificed much that he might give the Connecticut Webster family an account of its life from the time of its founding in America, away in the dim Colonial times to the present, and earlier if possible. But the inevitable came to him before the task was done, and the completion fell to other hands.

The author, Mr. William Holcomb Webster, determined before leaving college that he would prepare and publish a "History and Genealogy of the Governor John Webster Family of Connecticut." The great Civil War intervened and delayed but did not defeat his purpose. After serving as a soldier in the Union Army, he entered the civil service of the Government in the Pension Office of the War Department, and became Superintendent of the Old War and Navy Records. Nothing could have aided his cherished purpose more, for it gave him access to the official records of all the wars. A monument to his industry and skill may be seen in "The Connecticut Men in the Revolution," published by the State of Connecticut, for although it does not bear his name it was his work. As a result, few family histories will contain more abundant and accurate accounts of military service than this. Many now ignorant of the fact, or lacking the data to prove it, will, when they obtain this book, find themselves eligible to the Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution, and other Patriotic Societies.

At the time of Mr. Webster's death, March 23, 1896, he was Chief Examiner of the Civil Service Commission of the United States, having been promoted to this position by President Grover Cleveland.

Our first letter from him—a total stranger—was dated September 26, 1881, and the signature underneath his portrait (see frontispiece) is copied from that letter. Ten years later, (October, 1891) after we had entered with enthusiasm upon a line of co-operation with his work, we were in Washington, D. C., attending, as a delegate, the Ecumenical Conference of Methodism, and he earnestly asked, one day, "If I am taken away before this work is finished, will you complete it?" We were unable to say yes, on account of heavy pastorates and other official duties, but when his death came, and with it information that Edward Hannegan Webster of Kansas City, Mo., who had been mentioned as a possible successor, had also passed away December 3, 1894, our duty seemed clear, and upon the request of the author's widow, Mrs. Anna Stracy Webster, we undertook the task.

Only fourteen days before his death Mr. Webster had written us, "The material you have just sent me * * * covers a larger branch of the family than anything that has heretofore come to me from one source."

To his ample gatherings we have added more. We have learned from many sources the facts which were necessary to carry to completion his investigations. New fields have been entered, a wide correspondence carried on, and the compilation brought down to the recent past, and in some cases to the immediate present.

The arrangement of the book is our own. So far as the material collated by Mr. Webster indicated a plan, it followed that of Goodwin's Genealogical Notes. It is hoped that the simplicity of the arrangement adopted will commend itself to all who use the book.

To the many who have contributed to this genealogy, chiefly in furnishing the records of their own families, we record our thanks. Without such cooperation a work of this kind would be impossible. To acknowledge in detail such cooperation would be equally difficult.

We close these pages with keen regret that so many have passed before its completion. Their interest and assistance are their best memorial. If that interest and zeal shall pass to their children, this, and all other undertakings, will be safe in their keeping. To that posterity we confidently commit this work, bespeaking their appreciation of its merits and their charity for its faults.

CHAPTER I.

First Generation—Governor John Webster of Connecticut.

OLDEST AMERICAN FAMILY OF WEBSTERS.—SUCKIAUG THE INDIAN NAME FOR PRE-HISTORIC HARTFORD.—NORTH AND SOUTH SIDE PLANTATIONS.—CONTROVERSY WITH DUTCH.—LOTS SELECTED PRIOR TO 1636.—HOOKER'S JOURNEY.—EXACT ROUTE LOCATED.—JOHN WEBSTER ON GOVERNOR STREET.—WEBSTER HOUSES.—WAS AN ORIGINAL PROPRIETOR.—ENGLISH ANCESTRY.—MEANING OF NAME WEBSTER.—COAT OF ARMS.—GOV. WEBSTER'S POSITIONS AND SERVICES.—CHURCH RELATIONS, CONTROVERSY, REMOVAL TO HADLEY, MASS.—DEATH.—MONUMENT ERECTED BY NOAH WEBSTER.—WILL.—WIFE AGNES AND CHILDREN.

Oldest Webster Family.—The progenitor of the oldest, and probably the most numerous family in America, bearing the name of Webster, was John Webster of Warwickshire, England. He came to the Massachusetts Bay Colony in a year not certainly known, but, by tradition, understood to have been about 1630–33. He removed from Newtowne, now Cambridge, Massachusetts, to the present site of Hartford, Connecticut, in 1636, presumably with the Rev. Thomas Hooker and his historic party.

Hartford, Connecticut.—Hartford was then known by its Indian name, Suckiaug, meaning “black earth,” possibly from the dark rich soil of its fertile meadows and cultivated fields, portions of the country even then being under the rough tillage of the savages.

The South Side.—John Webster located on the south side of Little River, a small stream flowing into the Connecticut from the west, and which, from the founding of the Colony, has divided the town into two unequal parts, the south side never quite equaling the north in population. In the beginning, it formed the boundary between two “plantations” into which the community was divided, and this dual feature,—with separate meetings, independent books, and recognition in the town votes,—continued even after the legal organization of the town was effected.

The North Side. — The north side is the older. In the autumn of 1635, "about sixty men, women and little children, went by land toward Connecticut," says Winthrop's Journal, under date of Oct. 5, 1635, "with their cows, horses and swine, and after a tedious and difficult journey arrived safe there."

Colonial History. — The Rev. William DeLoss Love, Ph.D., of Hartford, Conn., who is the author and publisher of "The Colonial History of Hartford" (1914), from which we are freely quoting, and hereby acknowledge our indebtedness, identifies the following as a part of that company, and thinks that they were the pioneers who located their house lots on the north side at that time, namely, Elder William Goodwin, John Steele, William Westwood, Thomas Scott, Stephen Hart, William Pantry, John Barnard, William Butler, William Kelsey, Nathaniel Ely, Nicholas Clark, Richard Webb, Richard Goodman, Edward Elmer, Mathew Marvin, Thomas Stanley,—sixteen.

He says, "in the judgment of the wise it was necessary for some to go forward to prepare the way, and there was at least a tacit agreement, to which the ministers were a party, that others would follow the next season."

To the above sixteen he thinks that nine more should be added, inasmuch as their house lots are intermingled with the others, as though they were all selected at one and the same time. Since, however, it is known that some, at least, of the nine, accompanied Hooker in his march the next summer, the author holds that, after selecting their lots in the autumn of 1635, they returned to Newtowne in time to accompany their families in their journey at that time through the wilderness to Suckiaug. The nine were Mathew Allyn, John Stone, Timothy Stanley, Edward Stebbins, James Olmsted, Robert Day, John Talcott, William Lewis, Clement Chapin. Two lots were reserved,—one each for Rev. Thomas Hooker and Rev. Samuel Stone.

But "the majority of the settlers who came in 1636, settled south of the river and became the South-Side Plantation." (Ibd.)

South Side Disputed Territory. — The reason for this is not far to seek. The South Side was disputed territory. The Dutch claimed it.* They held their title from the Pequots, a powerful tribe who were already predatory and menacing, and with which, a year later, the English were to test their prowess. The English

* The Connecticut River was discovered as early as 1614 by Adrian Block, but for nine years after it is not known that any European visited it. It is claimed that the Dutch took possession of the River in 1623. Be that as it may, Edward Winslow penetrated there in 1632, and "pitched upon a place for a house." (Broadhead, I. 210.) But in 1633, June 8, the Dutch of Manhattan made a treaty with the Indians and immediately built a blockhouse on the south side of the Little River,—a stream which flows into the Connecticut from the west at Suckiaug, now Hartford.

held their Indian titles from the Sequins,† the ancient owners, who, however, had recently been conquered by the Pequots and made tributary. Prudence would not permit the premature defiance of these forces, and hence the first lots were chosen on the north side, and the movement to the south side was delayed until the arrival, or the near approach, of Hooker, and the main body of his congregation.

Earliest South Side Lots. — It is quite certain, however, that in the spring of 1636, after having secured rights through the Warwick patent,‡ lots were actually located on the south side, those of John White and Samuel Wakeman being the first, including, possibly, that of William Hills. Having these titles, both from the Indians and the English, the settlers gave little heed to the Dutch fort called "House of Hope," and even before the arrival of Thomas Hooker and his band of pilgrims, boldly crossed the Little River and staked out their home lots as above shown. But on the arrival of the larger number under Hooker, in June, 1636, the majority of the new comers, either from policy or choice, or both, located on the south side. Among them were John Webster, William Whiting and Thomas Welles (the last from Saybrook) foremost men of the colony. Only five proprietors in the colony owned a larger share of the common, or undivided lands, than John Webster, and only one, William Whiting, as much. Of the seven largest owners of land held in common, four were located on the

The defect in the title to this land, in the view of the English, was, that it was obtained from the wrong Indians; the Pequots and not the Sequins who were the ancient owners.

† The Suckiaug Indians belonged to the Sequins, a general tribe which included not only the Suckiaugs, but Matianucks, or Windsor Indians; the Hockinums living on the east side of the Connecticut, where East Hartford now stands, and the Podunks, scattered along the Podunk River (Podunk means "place of fire") lying between what is now South Windsor and East Hartford. The chief sachem of these clans was Sowheag who sold land to the planters of Wethersfield, and the sachem of the Suckiaugs was Sequassen, the son of Sowheag. Some years prior to 1633 the Pequots had conquered the Sequins to which the above clans belonged. The Dutch purchased of the Pequots; the English of the Sequins, the ancient owners; "and in so doing, they declared their opinion that the subjugation of this tribe by the Pequots did not give to the conquerors the rights of ownership in the river lands." Lord Saye and Sele wrote in 1642 that the Pequots had no just but a usurped title." (Holland Documents, I, 128.)

‡ It is claimed that Robert, Earl of Warwick, received in 1620, with others, a patent from James I, and in 1631 the Earl transferred the territory of Connecticut, under that patent, to Lord Saye and Sele, Lord Brooke, Sir Richard Soltonstall, and associates, and, questions of government having been compromised late in the winter of 1635-6, between the patentees and the Newtowne people who were about to migrate, there followed the events above shown. It is probable that Rev. Samuel Stone, early in the season, went to Suckiaug and joined Elder Wm. Goodwin, who had arrived the autumn before, and they, acting together for the Colony, secured from Sequassen, sachem of the Suckiaugs, the Indian title from the Sequins. Thus was established the fact afterward asserted by the English that they "purchased the disputed lands before their settlement upon them." (Love's Colonial History of Hartford.)

south side, namely, George Wyllys, Thomas Welles, John Webster, William Whiting.

Rev. Thomas Hooker's Journey.— The journey of Rev. Thomas Hooker, and the main body of his faithful congregation, from Newtowne to Suckiaug will ever be memorable. Some had preceded them the autumn before; others early that spring, and probably a few followed later that same season. But the majority started from Newtowne, May 31, 1636, a hundred or more strong,* including women and children. Mrs. Hooker, the pastor's wife, being too ill to walk, was carried on a horse litter. One hundred and sixty head of cattle were a part of the expedition, and furnished milk for the party. Thus encumbered, progress must have been very slow, and the journey required probably not less than ten days, and possibly more.

Hooker's Route.— The route by which they reached Suckiaug has recently been established with probable accuracy. This was done in part by an exhaustive study of land records from Cambridge to Hartford, and noting the references to an ancient Indian trail which was no doubt the line of their march.

The course thus shown was from Cambridge to Watertown, Weston, Wayland, Framingham, passing north of Cochituate Pond; through the borders of South Framingham, Ashland, Hopkinton, Westborough, Grafton; thence through Millbury, north of Singleton Pond to Oxford, turning westward at the Centre, and going through Charlton, whose ancient name was "Quabaug Path." It is suggested that they spent their first sabbath at Sturbridge, on the western slope of Fisk Hill, where tradition locates a camping place. Going down the slope westward, and crossing the brook, they passed the foot of Cemetery Hill, and "Old Tantiusque Fordway," up the valley through Fiskdale. The path went north of Little Alum Pond to "Little Rest," and north of Sherman Pond and north of Steerage Rock, descending the slope to the Connecticut Valley at Agawam, now Springfield, Massachusetts.

From Agawam they moved southward on the east bank of the Connecticut River, through "Longmeadow Gate," so called, because the shoulder of the hill and the river narrow the space at that point to something like a gateway; thence in a general line (still marked by highways), to what afterward was known as the "John Bissell ferry" at Windsor, where they crossed the river and completed their journey to Suckiaug on the west bank.

* Dr. Love includes the following thirty-five proprietors in the Hooker party, which duplicates the names of some given elsewhere, who, after selecting their house lots in Suckiaug, returned to Newtowne in time to accompany their families. The list of thirty-five proprietors follows: Mr. Thomas Hooker, Mr. Mathew Allyn, John Talcott, James Olmsted, William Wadsworth, William Lewis, Timothy Stanley, Edward Stebbins, John Pratt, William Ruscoe, James Ensign, John Hopkins, George Steele, Stephen Post, Thomas Judd, Thomas Lord, Sen., John Stone, Richard Lord, John Maynard, Jeremy Adams, Samuel Greenhill, Robert Day, Nathaniel Richards, Joseph Mygatt, Richard Butler, John Arnold, Thomas Bull, George Stocking, Seth Grant, Richard Olmsted, Joseph Easton, Clement Chaplin, Thomas Lord, Jr., John Olmsted, Samuel Whitehead. The names of John Webster, William Whiting, and Thomas Welles, are not included by Dr. Love in the above list, although he thinks they became settlers in 1636. It is to be observed, however, that the evidence, or lack of it, which fails to place the name of John Webster in the list is equally incapable of placing him elsewhere. Until such evidence appears is it not better to accept tentatively the more natural assumption that he accompanied the Hooker party?

Governor Street. — Whether John Webster and his family came in that group, or later in 1636, he located, as already shown, on the south side of the Little River, on what afterward was and still is known as Governor Street, not far from what became the famous Charter Oak.* Governor Street was so named because of the number of men living in that vicinity who became governors,—Edward Hopkins, George Wyllys, Thomas Welles, John Webster, and as late as 1850, Thomas H. Seymour. The street extends from Little River, southward, crossing Sheldon Street at the head, and Charter Oak Avenue about midway of its total length. The street ends (1914) at Wyllys Street. On the east side of the street, about half way between Charter Oak Avenue and Wyllys Street, was the home lot of Gov. John Webster. (See pictures.)

Webster Houses. — In an interesting volume issued in 1900 by Isham and Brown of Providence, R. I., from the press of the Preston and Rounds Co. of Providence, entitled, "Early Connecticut Houses," Dr. Henry Barnard of Hartford, writes an important chapter in Appendix II, entitled, "The Webster Houses." His first effort is to correct the error that the houses on the estate of Lieut. Robert Webster, located on Retreat Avenue, and Washington Street were identical with the home of Gov. John Webster, father of Lieut. Robert Webster. Dr. Barnard says: "On this portion (Retreat Ave.) stand three houses, in none of which did his father, Gov. John Webster, ever live. Gov. Webster's home lot was on the same plot with Gov. Wyllys' (directly east of my residence) on the street now known as Governor Street, and the house, which I recollect as far back as 1817, when, I clambered over the fence to play with the Hillsdale boys, was always known as 'the Webster house.'"

Albert William Webster of New Haven, Conn., a descendant of Gov. Webster, issued in 1900, a twenty page pamphlet entitled, "One Branch of the Webster Family." In it, he explains that the Governor's home lot of two acres lay on the east side of Governor Street, and that the house in which the Governor lived was located on, or near the spot where the barn of Peter D. Stillman, Esq., now (1900) stands.

* A monument has been erected to mark the location of the Oak, upon which is this inscription: "Near this spot stood the Charter Oak, memorable in the History of the Colony of Connecticut as the hiding place of the Charter, October 31, 1687. The tree fell, August 21, 1856." The tree itself has been perpetuated by registered propagation.

Webster an Original Proprietor.—Thus it is seen how Gov. Webster became one of the original proprietors of Hartford, and one of the founders of the Colony of Connecticut. It is a matter of regret that larger research into his earlier history could not have been prosecuted. The untimely death of William Holcomb Webster, the pioneer author of this work, however, cut off that possibility. What follows is taken from his early notes and must be accepted not as historic proof, but an index-finger pointing the way.

English Ancestry.—From an ancient chart in the possession of descendants of Noah Webster, LL.D., the following is set forth as the possible line of Gov. John Webster. "The Websters were settled in Yorkshire at a very early period. They were, according to Burke and Playfair, of Scottish descent, and held the manor of Lockington, Yorkshire, in the time of Richard II (1389–1399). The apparent founder of the family was John Webster of Bolsover, near Chesterfield, Derbyshire, who, in the 12th of Henry VI (1434), was returned into Chancery among the gentlemen of that County who made oath, in behalf of themselves and their retainers, for the observance of the king's laws. From him descended John Webster, who, upon the dissolution of the monasteries, received from Henry VIII, large grants in Cambridgeshire, Essex and Huntingdonshire (1509–1547). From him descended, in the third generation, John Webster who came to Watertown, near Boston, New England, from Warwickshire, England, about 1636."

The line thus established would be: 1330, Webster of Lockington, Esquire, time of Edward III. 1434, John Webster of Bolsover, Esquire, twelfth of Henry VI. John Webster in the time of Henry VIII, 1509–1547. John Webster, b. 1590, Fifth Governor of the Colony of Connecticut.

Other Early Webster Lines.—Among the papers of the late Charles R. Webster of Albany, N. Y., the veteran Publisher, were found the following excerpts, giving data on certain early English Websters which may be of value in further investigation of the subject, namely:

"Extracts in the Autograph of Arthur Collins, from the Will of John Webster, Clerk, dated Aug. 21, 1494. Orders his body to be buried in the Parish church of Moreton, and that John Masson, Priest, say there Placebo and Diridge for the soul, of him, the said John Webster, William Webster his father, and Agnes Webster, his mother. Probate dated Oct. 14, 1494."

"Will of Hugh Webster of Chesterton, but who writes himself of Cambridge, dated Oct. 13, 1503. Directs his body to be buried in St. Peter's at Cambridge, and six pounds for the supplying the effigies of his family in the painted glass windows of that church; bequeathes other sums for obits and other remembrances of the dead, to the Convent's of Gray Friars, Black Friars, and Austin Friars, in Cambridge. Mentions Jane, his wife; Thomas, his son and heir; Hugh, his son, and Catharine, his daughter, with Richard and Thomas, sons of Thomas, his son; appoints the said Thomas, Executor, with John Webster, and makes his own brother, William Webster, supervisor. Probate dated, Feb. 17, 1503."

"Will of John Webster of S. Margarets, Southwark, dated last of February, 1503. Orders his body to be buried in the church of S. Margaret in Southwark, a hental of Masses to be sung on the day of his burial; bequeaths his lands in Barwey, in the Parish of Laham and Stretcham, County of Cambridge, to Agnes, his wife, during her life, and then to Robert, his son, forever; constitutes Agnes, his wife, and her father, Hugh Reubyn, of the town of Cambridge, Executors. Probate dated, April 24, 1504."

"Will of George Webster of East Greenwich, in Kent, master cook to Queen Elizabeth; dated July 13, 1574. Probate dated Oct. 4, same year. Transcript in the autograph of Arthur Collins, Compiler of the Peerage, etc., ex registro, entitled Martyn (or Martyr) No. 16, qu. 37.

"Will of William Webster of the Ford End, within the Parish of Eaton, County of Bedfordshire, dated Apr. 5, 1587. Ex regist vocat, Spencer, que 39, in cor Prace. Cant. Directs his funeral near his late wife, Anchorret, etc. Probate dated June 30 (or 20), 1587." (Other extracts follow, but of dates subsequent to John Webster's departure for America.)

The Name Webster.—The surname Webster, meaning a female weaver, of unmistakable ancient English origin, was a trade name. It is not, therefore, any more than Smith, a proof of relationship among the first families bearing it. "With the Anglo-Saxons the termination er in trades and employments, was masculine; while that of ster was feminine. Of the former we have an example in Webber; of the latter we have example in Webster." (Anderson's Genealogy and Surnames, p. 58.) Spinner is masculine; spinster, feminine.

Coat of Arms.—The authorities quoted in the Noah Webster manuscripts show that the Websters, Whitings, Steeles, Coffins, etc., are entitled by descent to wear coat of armor. Of this it is said, "The arms reproduced is argent, a fesse gules between three cross-crosslets-fitsschu azure. Crest, the sun rising out of the sea proper. Motto, "Emergo,"—"I come up." The sun is an heraldic emblem of glory and splendor, and of absolute authority. "Fides et justitia" ("Faith and Justice,") is another family motto, and the lion, dragon, leopard and swan are emblems used in different branches.

Webster of Penns, County of Warwick, England, Lineage: This family claims its descent from the Websters to whom arms were confirmed by St. George in the visitation of Yorkshire, 1612.

Thomas Webster of London whose son John m. Sarah, dau. of Joseph Webster of Penns, Co. Warwick, and left, with several daughters, two sons: Thomas who m. Miss Grace Ascough and left two daughters, etc., and John Ernest Webster, a Captain in the Bengal army who d. unm. (On the reverse side of this note was written, William Swift, Windham, Ct.) Seat, Penns near Sutton, Coldfield.

Gov. Webster's Position.—That John Webster was a man of influence and standing in the Hartford colony is obvious. When the colony was settled at Hartford, a Board of Commissioners from Massachusetts governed the new towns, but a meeting of all the freemen of Hartford, Windsor and Wethersfield, held Jan. 14, 1639, adopted a written constitution,—“the first written constitution known to history, that created a government.” (Fisk, “Beginnings of New England,” p. 127.) From that time to 1659 he was chosen to office; from 1639 to 1655, as magistrate, or judge; 1655, deputy governor; 1656, governor; and the three following years, first magistrate, or chief judge. Hinman in his “First Puritan Settlers of Connecticut,” says that John Webster’s first appearance as an officer of the Court was in April 1637, when he was a member of a committee who for the first time sat with the court of Magistrates for the purpose of declaring war against the Pequot Indians. That same year he was elected to the general court, and also elected as one of the deputy commissioners in 1638. Then followed his election to the court of magistrates at the first general court holden by Gov. Haynes in April 1639 as aforesaid.

His sessions of court held are summarized as follows: 1639, four sessions of the general court; 1640, three; 1641, four; 1642, three; 1643, five; 1644, five; 1645, five; and of the particular court, 1639, five; 1640, four; 1641, two; 1642, two; 1643, six; 1644, five; 1645, six; 1646, four.

In 1640 he was appointed with Mr. Ludlow and Gov. Welles to consult with friends in New Haven respecting Indian murders which had been committed, to learn of them whether they would approve a decree of war. With William Phelps he was appointed to form law against lying, and to hold consultation with elders on the subject. He was also a member of a committee with William Phelps who formed a noted criminal code of laws for the colony; reported and approved by the General Court in 1642, several of which remain on the statute book unto this day, with little alteration except in punishment. In 1654 he was appointed a member of the Congress of the united Colonies with Maj. Gen. Mason. He was the first of his name in this country who gave high character for talent in the name of Webster.

Gov. Webster's Public Services.—Benjamin Trumbull gives the following summary of his public services: “For twenty years Mr. John Webster had been annually chosen into the magistracy of Connecticut, being elected Governor in 1656. At the election in Hartford, May 17th, 1655, Thomas Welles was elected Governor and John Webster Deputy Governor. At the election in 1656 John Webster was elected Governor and Thomas Welles Deputy Governor.

THE CAPITOL AT HARTFORD, CONNECTICUT.

OLD STEAMBOAT LANDING AT GLASTONBURY, CONNECTICUT.
ON THE CONNECTICUT RIVER.
AUGUST 19, 1899.

At the election in 1657 John Winthrop was elected Governor, Thomas Welles Deputy Governor, and John Webster Chief Magistrate. This alternating was not a freak of voting, but arose from the law which permitted a governor to hold his office (until after 1660) only one out of two years.

Out of the one hundred and fifty-three original settlers of Hartford, only ten gentlemen besides himself were honored with the imposing prefix Mr. The ordinary title was Goodman or Goodwife, sometimes Goodwoman, and often Goody, or Neighbor. Only men of means and rank in the Colony who had come from England were looked up to with awe and without familiarity, such as clergymen, magistrates, doctors, schoolmasters, and those freemen who had received a second degree at college; eminent merchants, military captains, captains of vessels, and sometimes the mates, were addressed as Mr. and their wives as Mrs.

One has well said of him: "Prior to his election as Governor he was frequently directed by the General Court to decide controversies about boundaries, or arbitrating on lands, distributing estates, auditing the accounts of the treasure and answering petitions. In 1639 he was one of a committee appointed to confer with New Haven in relation to the murderous attacks from the Indians at Middletown, and he bore the banner of war against the haughty and insulting Sowheag, when our sister of Quinnipiac (New Haven) turned her face from it, and her milder counsel prevailed. Ten years later, 1649, the New England Congress employed him "to set forth on the towns" soldiers and ammunition for an expedition against the Indians. At other times he was chosen "to press men and ammunition" or appointed one of the officers with whom the constables of each town were to take advise in the pressing of men." In 1654 he with others was appointed by the General Court to examine and arrange "all particular and several charges of the late war (with the Narragansetts) and for the support of Uncas," of which charges they directed that they should cause the constables of Hartford to bring in a full account. When it was determined to provide a frigate of ten or twelve guns to defend the coast of Long Island, against the Dutch and Ninigrate, Mr. Webster was one of the Committee "to treat with the owners of the frigate, and agree with them for the use of the same." Likewise in the matter of the agreement with Mr. Fenwick and the impost duty at the mouth of the river, he was frequently called to act, and also to license the exportation of provisions in times of scarcity. He made journeys as magistrate to the seaside and elsewhere to administer justice. He was employed in drawing up correspondence with friends of the Colony in England. He surveyed the highway from Hartford to Windsor, and overlooked its "amendment." He was one of the Committee which purchased and disposed of Simsbury. Abstracts for grievances to be presented to the New England Congress for its deliberation were at times drawn up by him. The New England Congress of 1654 had before it a new expedition against Ninigrate; the difficulties of New Haven with Delaware Bay; plans for "the better passage of the gospel among the Indians;" for the education of some of the Indians at Cambridge College, including the extension and repair of the buildings of the institution, and he with his fellow-members dealt with these early problems of the infant state. To the several letters and sets of instructions growing out of these deliberations, the name of John Webster is in every instance signed, as also to the Swedish Governor of Delaware Bay, which was written in Latin.

The Office of Governor.—It is of interest to know that the office of Governor which John Webster reached had some peculiarities not existent now. He had not only to be a freeman, but must have been previously a magistrate, and always a member of some "appointed congregation." His election by ballot was by the greatest number of votes, cast by all who had been admitted freemen and had taken the oath of fidelity, and who "did cohabit with this jurisdiction," the vote being taken the second Thursday in April each year. The convention for this purpose was held in Hartford. The General Court was in session at the same time to choose one or more persons to tell the voters who were sworn "to be faithful therein." Immediately upon his election the Governor-elect appeared before the General Assembly and took the oath of office "by the great and dreadful name of the everliving God to promote the public good and peace of this jurisdiction according to the best of my skill, and will also maintain all lawful privileges of this Commonwealth, and also that all wholesome laws that are or shall be made by lawful authority here established, be duly executed according to the rule of God's word, so help me God: In the name of the Lord Jesus Christ."

Duties of Governor.—His duties were manifold. Through the constables of each town, by himself or his secretary, he called the two General Assemblies. Special meetings might be called upon the advice and with the special consent of a majority of the magistrates, "within fourteen days warning," or shorter notice if necessary, the reasons to be stated in his warrant. When in session the Governor presided over the General Assembly, all the branches sitting in one body. He had power to order the court to give liberty of speech, and to silence unreasonable and disorderly speakings. He put the motions and in case the vote was equal he cast the deciding vote. The Governor was also a magistrate and held, with his colleagues, Particular Courts over which he presided, now in one place and then at another. He managed the chief correspondence of the Colony, served as one of the Commissioners of the United Colonies, acted on important committees and acted as principal adviser in all emergencies. For this Gov. Webster received the munificent sum of 30 pounds a year, this salary having been established in 1647, prior to which time there was no pecuniary compensation, and this was the first office to receive compensation in the Colony.

His Church Relationships.—The First Church of Hartford justly stands in the forefront as one of the historic churches of New England. Founded by the learned and beloved Rev. Thomas Hooker who led in person the church through the wilderness from Cambridge to Hartford, he left the stamp and impress of his great personality and teachings upon them when, in 1647, eleven years after their arrival, he passed away. With the most judicious management such a crisis would not be easily passed, but when Rev. Samuel Stone the assistant assumed the pastorate with some innovations, some deviation in doctrines, and a new bent in ecclesiastical precedure, it is not surprising that others were quick to resent it, and the little fire of controversy rose to a great conflagration. Out of the imperfect records of the time it is difficult to determine the exact cause or causes of the controversy. It probably involved some questions of church order. Mr. Stone stood for “a speaking aristocracy in the face of a silent democracy.” *

A minister had spent some time in Hartford, and preached on several occasions. It was deemed by many to be wise and courteous to put to vote the question of his call to the pastorate. This Mr. Stone would not allow, and this he acknowledges in a paper drawn up in 1657, and concedes that the brethren had the right or liberty to have done what he did not permit, and “that he ought to have left the church to their liberty in voting.” William Goodwin was the Ruling Elder, the Moderator at church meetings which it was his duty to call and dismiss; to prepare business for action of the church, superintend the conduct of members, and preach in the absence of the pastor or teacher. (2d Church, p. 17.) In these duties or many of them he was probably thwarted by Mr. Stone the acting pastor, and both being determined men the “conflict between opposite principles of ecclesiastical order,” as Dr. Leonard Bacon described it, waxed hot. To this was added a growing demand for an enlargement of baptismal privileges. As taught by Hooker, and original Congregationalism in N. E. only children of members in full communion were proper subjects of baptism, but Mr. Stone espoused the idea of extending the privilege to those outside the * Those desiring a fuller treatment of this subject will find it in “History of the Second Church of Christ in Hartford,” by Edwin Pond Parker, published 1892, by Belknap and Warfield, Hartford, Connecticut. Also “History of the First Church in Hartford,” by its pastor, published in May, 1884, from the press of The Case, Lockwood and Brainard Company, Hartford, Connecticut, from both of which we have freely quoted and hereby acknowledge our indebtedness.

communion, and also to extend the voting privilege to non-communicants. (2d Church, p. 20, p. 33, p. 34.) These views leading to sharp attrition, a ukase was agreed upon and a council was convened in Hartford in June, 1656. The petition for the council was signed by George Steele, Ozias Goodwin, Will Partrigg, John Marsh, Isaac Graves, Benjamin Harbert, William Leawis, Thomas Bunc, John Webster, John Cullick, Nathaniel Ward, Andrew Bacon, Andrew Warner, John White, John Crow, Thomas Standley, John Barnard, Gregory Woolterton, John Arnold, Zachary Fild, Richard Church. The Council was composed of ministers from the Connecticut churches, with one or two from the New Haven Colony. (2d Church, p. 26, pp. 23, 24, 25.) They decided that mutual satisfaction should be given on both sides, each to the other, that in case further differences arose and the dissenting brethren should desire dismissal the church should grant it. "A substantial vindication of the minority as against the arbitrary procedures of Mr. Stone and the church." (2d Church, p. 26.) But Mr. Stone and the church refused to be bound by the findings of the council and matters grew worse. All New England soon became involved. Mr. Stone visited Boston and promoted a movement for a new Council. The General Court of Connecticut favored it. Gov. Webster, Cap. Cullick and Mr. Steele opposed it, pointing to the previous Council which Mr. Stone had disregarded, and objecting to legislative interference in the case. In a letter to Mr. Stone and the church they declined the suggestion of a new Council. (p. 29.) The following year, 1657, in April and a few days in May the council was held in Hartford with no result. The minority participated in the proceedings, holding however that all were bound by the first council. The pacification did not last and the minority demanded their dismissal which was not granted and they formally withdrew, seeking admission to the church at Wethersfield, and sending to other churches their reasons for separation and this letter was read in some of the churches. For reading this and another paper the pastors were haled into court, among them Roger Newton of Farmington, and his wife, a daughter of the lamented Thomas Hooker, "to answer for the crime of publicly reading the communication addressed to the churches by the withdrawers who could get no other hearing." (p. 37.) The subscribers themselves went before the Governor and his Deputy and declared that Mr. Stone would allow them no hearing in the church, and the Court would not permit them to make proof on oath of the particulars allged by them. The General Court ordered many things, granting in the month of May, 1658, permission for the withdrawers to settle up the river near Hadley, on condition that they should submit to an orderly hearing of the differences between themselves and their brethren. They accepted, the church declined, and the court, acting for the church selected referees. It came to nought however by fault of the church. In March, 1659, the court renewed its effort, but the churches refused to attend this "court-created council." Renewed again, June 15, 1659, the withdrawing party was required to submit, and the church agreed to. The withdrawers said, "of our free choice we are not at all interested in the council now chosen." A month earlier they had signed an agreement to remove to Massachusetts (p. 40.). The council met in Boston, Sep. 26, 1659, reviewed the case, distributed its mild censures and counselled that those disposed to go elsewhere be given dismissal. They found too much evidence of Mr. Stone's rigid handling of adverse brethren, particularly specifying Honored Mr. Webster and Brother Bacon. (1st Ch. p. 173.) "The weight of right and justice," says the historian of the First church, "was with the defeated and emigrating minority." "Their ideas and principles finally triumphed, not only in a separate organization, but in the mother-church as well, and in the Congregational churches of the country. For it is the congregationalism of Thomas Hooker, and not of Samuel Stone, that flourishes in our own age." (2d Church, p. 42.)

In this lamentable controversy Mr. Webster took an honorable and dignified part, revealing in the papers extant always the spirit of the gentleman and christian that he was.

The Hadley History.—The agreement to remove to Hadley is dated at Hartford, April 18, 1659, and signed by fifty-nine persons belonging to Hartford and Wethersfield, including one or two from Windsor. In the Hadley records John Webster's name appears first on the list of settlers from Hartford. On a map showing the list and arrangement of the original lots in Hadley, and the names of their owners, we note the following which are also in the list of First Church, Hartford, of those who removed to Hadley: Francis Barnard, Richard Church, Andrew Warner, John Marsh, John Webster, William Goodwin, John Crow, Samuel Moody, Nathaniel Ward, William Markham, William Partrigg, John Barnard, Andrew Bacon, Timothy Stanley, Nathaniel Stanley (returned to Hartford), John White, William Lewis, Richard Goodman, William Westwood. Of those who went to Hadley, the names of Samuel Church, Zachariah Field and Daniel Warner do not appear on the map; also William Hill. The following signed the agreement to go but either did not, or soon returned: George Wilerton, John Arnold, Ozias Goodwin, James Ensign, Robert Webster, George Steele, William Lewis, Jr., Benjamin Harbert, John Catling. The following upon the map came from other places than Hartford: Samuel Gardner, Chileab Smith, Joseph Baldwin, Robert Boltwood, John Hawks, Edward Church, Henry Clark, Stephen Terry, Joseph Kellogg, Thomas Coleman, Samuel Smith, Philip Smith, Richard Montague, John Dickinson, Samuel Porter, Thomas Wells, John Hubbard, John Russell, Jr., Peter Tilton, T. Dickinson, N. Dickinson, J. Russell, Sr., J. Kellogg.

The tract of land which they purchased was upon the Connecticut River, on the east, covering what is now included in the present towns of Hadley, Amherst, South Hadley and Granby, and on the west side, Hatfield and a part of Williamsburg. Soon after signing the agreement to remove to Hadley, dated April 18, 1659, the signers, or some part of them entered upon the work of preparing for settlement there. John Webster accompanied or preceded them that he might assist or superintend the laying out of the roads and other business, and made his temporary home in Northampton where he was taken sick and made his Will, dated June 25, 1659. It was witnessed by John Russell, Jr., the minister at Hadley, and Eleazer Mather, the minister at Northampton. Mr. Webster recovered however and lived nearly two years, dying in Hadley, April 5, 1661, and was buried there according to the instructions in his Will. Honor and labor followed him to his new field for he was soon made a judge, or commissioner as it was then called, John Pynchon and Samuel Chapin being his associates. The Court was held alternately at Northampton and Springfield. Sep. 25, 1660, a court was held in Springfield, and there were present for holding it, Mr. John Webster, Cap't John Pynchon, Mr. Samuel Holyoke, and Elizur Holyoke, Recorder. The jurors were Thomas Cooper, Henry Burt, Thomas Merick, William Warrener, William Branch, Mr. Jeans, Mr. Williams, John Dembleton, Robert Bartlett, Lawrence Bliss, Alexander Edwards and Benjamin Parsons.

In Massachusetts Records, Vol. IV, Part I, is the following: "At a General Court of Election held at Boston, May 30, 1660, it was declared: Mr. John Webster, Senior, of the new towne of Norwotuck, is by this court commissioned with magistratticall power for the year ensuing, to act in all civill and criminall cases, as any other magistrate may doe, and that he joyne with the Commissioners in keeping the court at Springfield."

March 26, 1661, at the New Towne at Norwotuck, the following were made freemen and took the oath before Mr. Pynchon and Mr. Holyoke, who was recorder: Mr. John Webster, Mr. John Russell, Nathanooll Ward, William Markham, Thomas Dickerson, Andrew Bacon, Thomas Wells, John Hubard, Nathaneell Dickenson, Philip Smith, Thomas Coleman, Robert Boltwood, Samuel Gardner, Peter Tilton.

The Death of Governor Webster.—The end was now near at hand. In eleven days, namely, April 5, 1661, under circumstances without record now extant, the Puritan and Pilgrim of two hemispheres, the faithful judge, the Deputy Governor and Governor of an incipient American State, the public spirited citizen and public servant, in old age an exile for conscience sake from the infant city which he helped to found, in a new home, but surrounded by neighbors who had suffered with him, he closed his labors, and sleeps with the pioneers who with him blazed the path of empire in the New World. His most eminent descendant, Noah Webster, LL.D., one of the chief lexicographers of the English language, erected in the Old Hadley Cemetery, in 1818, a modest slab* upon or near the spot where Gov. Webster was buried, bearing the following inscription:

To the memory of John Webster, Esq.
one of the first settlers of Hartford in Connecticut, who was many years a Magistrate or Assistant, and afterwards
Deputy Gov. and Governor of that Colony, and in 1659 with three sons, Robert,
William and Thomas, associated with others in the purchase and settlement of Hadley where he died in 1661, this monument is erected in 1818 by his descendant,
Noah Webster of Amherst. * * * * *

Gov. Webster's Will.—In the Northampton, Mass., Probate Records, pages 20 and 21 is recorded the following instrument, attested as a true copy of the last Will and Testament of Mr. John Webster, late of Hadley, deceased.

"I John Webster late of Hartford in the jurisdiction of Connecticut being weak of body yett sound of mind and having my perfect understanding doe ordayne this to be my last will and testament in manner following—

No date of birth for any of the children of Gov. John and Agnes Webster has, so far as we can learn, been discovered. There exist some conjectures, and so, until something authentic appears, it will be well to await with patience the result of further research.

Later Settlers.

On the Two Hundredth Anniversary of the settlement of Hartford, its citizens erected a monument (1836) in memory and honor of its Founders. Nearly all of the names in the above list, except the "Later Settlers," appear upon the monument. Inserted elsewhere is a picture of it, with several other objects of interest. The monument stands in the cemetery at the rear of the First Church.
 On one of the faces of the monument the list begins with the names of the early governors, and fifth from the top, to correspond with the number of his term, is the name of John Webster, the Fifth Colonial Governor.

To the right of the monument, in the picture referred to, is a view of Governor Street, the home of Governor Webster. It is so taken as to show its junction with Wyllys Avenue, near which, and just back of the apartment houses, on Governor Street, stood his house. No trace of any building of that ancient time now exists.

Underneath the picture of Hartford Monument, is the Soldiers Monument, which arches the north entrance to the capitol grounds, and also spans the "Little River" which is such a landmark in Hartford history, the early boundary line between the North and South Plantations.

Still below this is a picture of the Charter Oak Monument, marking the spot where stood the tree which became historic after Governor Webster's time, but not far from the Governor's original residence.

To the right of this is a picture of Governor John Webster's tombstone in the cemetery at Hadley, Massachusetts, erected by Noah Webster, LL.D., in 1818. The date of Governor Webster's death is there given as 1665. It should, in fact, be 1661.

CHAPTER II.

Second Generation—Governor John Webster's Seven Children.

SEVEN CHILDREN.—ORDER OF BIRTHS.—MATTHEW WEBSTER OF FARMINGTON.—WILLIAM WEBSTER OF HADLEY.—LIEUT. ROBERT WEBSTER OF MIDDLETOWN AND HARTFORD.—LAST WILL.—DEATH.—HIS WIDOW, SUSANNAH TREAT WEBSTER.—HER LAST WILL.—DEATH.—ANCIENT WEBSTER HOUSES.—TITLE OF ONE IN TWO FAMILIES ONLY.—THOMAS WEBSTER OF NORTHAMPTON AND NORTHFIELD.—ANNE WEBSTER MARRIED JOHN MARSH OF HADLEY.—ELIZABETH WEBSTER MARRIED WILLIAM MARKHAM OF HADLEY.—MARY WEBSTER MARRIED JOHN HUNT IN ENGLAND.

Gov. John Webster and Agnes his wife were the parents of seven children. Noah Webster, LL.D., the Lexicographer, and one of their descendants, prepared an eight-page pamphlet in 1836, entitled, "Genealogy. Family of John Webster. Compiled by N. Webster." It is dated, "New Haven, January, 1836." In it he conjectures that "Robert Webster was probably the eldest son of John."

Twenty years later, namely, in 1856, the "Genealogical Notes" of Nathaniel Goodwin were published by F. A. Brown of Hartford, Conn. In it he gives the names of Gov. John Webster's children in the following order: Matthew, William, Thomas, Robert, Anne, Elizabeth, Mary. With many this has become the conventional arrangement, notwithstanding Savage reached the conclusion that Mary was the oldest daughter, if not the oldest child, and Noah Webster that Robert was the eldest son. But for the purposes of this book we have followed the list as given by Goodwin, except in the case of Robert. His name we have placed before Thomas. The fact that Robert's first child was born fifteen years before the first child of Thomas, entirely apart from the question of the relative ages of Robert and Thomas, is a sufficient reason for the change.

Taking up the children of Gov. Webster according to this arrangement their history is as follows:

1. Matthew Webster, son of Gov. John and Agnes Webster, settled in Farmington, Conn., and was the father of two children as shown by the public records. Whom he married is not known. He was admitted a freeman by the Court of Elections at Hartford, April 10, 1645, which is confirmed by the Colonial records which also show that he was a freeman in that year. He was returned a freeman in Farmington, October 12, 1669.

Matthew Webster is not enumerated among the eighty-four original proprietors of Farmington in 1645, but the records reveal that he was there in 1650, and thence onward to 1671, in which year, January 1, 1671, the following agreement was made, namely:

"This present writing made ye first of January, year of our Lord, one thousand six hundred and seventy one between Matthew Webster of Farmington on ye one part, and Wm. Judd and John Woodruff, both of ye same town to the other, agrees: WITNESSETH, yet ye aforesaid Wm. & John bind yourselves jointly and securely for themselves and their assigns to take unto your houses the aforesaid Matthew Webster and his son John Webster and to provide for same, and to give unto them from time to time and at all times sufficient meat, drink, and clothing, washing and lodging according as the condition of such persons shall require at your own debt and charge during the natural life of aforesaid Matthew and his son John."

In consideration, fifty acres of land "in ye great meadow," was given. (Deeds, Vol. 2, p. 101.)

A deed, or writing, given by Matthew Webster to his father in 1660, recorded in a Book of Deeds in the office of the Secretary of State, Hartford, furnishes all that is known, except the above, of the family of Matthew Webster. It reads in part as follows: "I the said Matthew, bind over my land in Farmington, in Matthew Woodruff's hands, for the maintainance of my son John, for the whole time of the life of said John. My daughter, who is with Joseph Easton of Hartford, to have six pounds a year from the rent of the land for a year or two longer; and this I do bind over to my father, Mr. John Webster, to dispose of for the good of my son, after his, my said father's, decease."

In the month of May, 1661, he sold land "in ye Great Meadow," in Farmington, to Anthony Howkens, and in his Will, dated Feb. 26, 1673-4, Howkens refers to "land which I bought of Matthew Webster in the great meadow."

The wife of Matthew Webster, whose Christian name nowhere appears, died Feb. 11, 1656, and he, July 16, 1675.

From all of the foregoing it is obvious that Matthew Webster was born not later than 1624, for he was at least twenty one years old in 1645 when he was made a freeman, and so must have been born in England. In 1660, when he gave a deed or writing to his father, Mr. John Webster, for the care of his two children, he was a widower, and had been for nearly four years. When in 1671 he gave security to William Judd and John Woodruff for the care of himself and his son John, he does not mention his daughter, who in the meantime may have died, or married, and so passed beyond the need of this provision. And the further fact that he was among the Judds and Woodruffs, and was being cared for by them, suggests that his wife may have been of one of those families, or related to the wife of one or both of the parties to the contract. Further research in these allied lines may yet furnish some clew to this. Resumed in Chapter III.

2. William Webster, of Hadley, Mass., another son of Gov. John and Agnes Webster, was born, according to Farmer, about 1617. He m. Feb. 17, 1670, Mary Reeve, dau. of Thomas Reeve of Springfield. They had no children. The chief interest in this family is the trial of Mrs. Webster for witchcraft. She was not required to go as a prisoner to Boston, but her testimony was sent instead. At a County Court held March 31, 1685, at Northampton, Hampshire Co., Mass., the following record was made: "Samll Partrigg was allowed pay'nt for drawing out Coppys of Tests to be sent to ye Bay in Goodwife Webster's case wein (wherein) she was accused with familiaritee with ye devell." She was acquitted.

A History of Hadley, Mass., published in 1863, indulges in a long account of this trial. That is authority for the statement that William Webster was fifty three years of age at the time of his marriage, and she probably some years younger. Possibly as a sequel to the above trial the following from the Probate records of Northampton, Vol. 1, p. 209, was recorded:

Sep. 28, 1680. Whereas Ann Belding, ye daughter of Sam'll Belding of Hartford, (etc) said Samuel Belding and Thomas Wells were bound in sum of 10 pounds each for appearance of said Ann Belding to "answer for her most shameful, odious, and merderous purpose and practices against the body and life of Mary, wife of William Webster of Hadley." Fined to pay William Webster 20 shillings to satisfy him for charges and expenses, and "to be whipt with thirteen lashes on ye naked body well laid on, or to pay" the County 4 pounds which her father agreed to pay.

Massachusetts Records, Vol. IV, Part 2, show that William Webster was made a freeman in Mass. Bay Colony, May 11, 1670, but not where he belonged. September 27, 1670, at a County Court holden in Springfield, Thomas Mason, Thomas Bascomb, Jr., Samuel Smith of Northampton, with William Webster and Joseph Baldwin, Jr., of Hadley, were admitted as freemen and took the freeman's oath. As early however as March 31, 1661, William Webster and John Coleman of Hadley took the oath of fidelity to the Commonwealth at Northampton.

William Webster and his brother Thomas early located in Mass. rather than Conn., as shown by the fact that Gov. Webster gave his lands in Hadley to these two sons. June 8, 1671, William Webster and Mary his wife sell land in Hadley to Mary Partrigg, and again, Dec. 4, 1682, to Samuel Partrigg, all being of Hadley.

The estate of William Webster was administered upon, April 27, 1688, and an inventory of the estate of his widow, Mary, was filed June 3, 1698, showing 9 pounds, 16 shillings, and 5 pence. These dates fix approximately the time of their deaths. No children. The end.

3. Lieut. Robert Webster of Middletown, Conn., a son of Gov. John and Agnes Webster, said by Joel Munsell and Sons to have been born in 1627, m. in 1652, Susannah Treat, b. 1629, dau. of Richard Treat, Esq., and Joanna, his wife, of Wethersfield, Conn. Richard Treat and Joanna his wife came to America in an early day, and brought part of their family with them. They were among the first settlers of Wethersfield, and their son, Hon. Robert Treat, was the eighth Governor of Connecticut, serving fifteen years, beginning, 1683.

A writer in the Hartford Times of March 13, 1913, declares that Susannah Treat who m. Lieut. Robert Webster, was bap. in Pitminster, England, October 8, 1629, and was the daughter of Richard Treat and Alice Gaylord. The name was earlier spelled, Trett, Trot, etc. Goodwin recites the Will of Richard Treat in which a bequest is made to "my loving wife Alis Treat," showing that Mr. Goodwin was aware of a wife Alice, but the eight children are given as belonging to the first wife, Joan, or Joanna. Stiles and Gaylord however agree that Richard m. in England, April 27, 1615, Alice dau. of Hugh Gaylord, and that Susannah who m. Lieut. Robert Webster was the daughter of Alice Gaylord Treat.

Lieut. Robert Webster was a man of ability and served the community in many ways. He settled in Middletown and upon the organization of the town in September, 1651, was chosen Recorder. Coincident with this was his marriage in 1652 and his settlement in Middletown Upper Houses where four of his children were born. He represented Middletown in the General Court from September 1653 to May 1655; from May to October, 1656; in October 1657, and October 1658, at which time he returned to Hartford. Some of his activities will be seen in the following excerpts from various public records.

1654: "At a General Court of Elections held 18th May, 1654, Robert Webster was confirmed as a Leiftenant in Middletown for the ensuing year, according to the motyon of the Towne."

1654: "At a session of the General Court held in Hartford, Oct. 3, 1654, appeared among the Deputies, Robert Webster, who was appointed as one of the Committee for Middletown to press men and necessities for the Narragansett expedition."

1656: "At a General Court called by the Governor and Magistrety, February 26, 1656, Robert Webster was present as a Deputy, and was appointed on a committee to give advice to the Indians, and was confirmed as Recorder of the Towne of Middletown, according to their desire."

During his Hartford residence his name appears in the following important relations.

1662-3: January 25, Robert Webster was one of a jury who tried and convicted Nathaniel and Rebecca Greensmith, and they were executed.

1669: February 12, the Second Church of Hartford was set off as a distinct organization from the original First Church, and in a list of fifteen brethren in full communion appears the name of Robert Webster.

1669: In a list of freemen "on ye South side of Hartford," dated October, 1669, appears the name of Mr. Robert Webster.

1672: May 9. The Court of Elections of Hartford granted to "Leiftenant" Robert Webster 300 acres of land, provided he took it up where it would not prejudice any former grant.

1673: In October the General Court sitting in Hartford ordered a survey of lands at Mattatock on the Mallatock (Naugatuck) River, and appointed as a Committee, Lieut. Thomas Bull, Lieut. Robert Webster, and Daniel Pratt.

1674: April 6, 7, 8, 9, was the date of a report from the above Committee on the result of their survey, and among other things stated that the place "may accomodate thirty families." The Court afterwards appointed Maj. John Talcott, Lieut. Robert Webster, Lieut. Nicholas Olmstead, Ensign Samuel Steele, Ensign John Wadsworth, a Committee to regulate and order setting off a plantation at Mattatuck. "This Committee," says a local historian (Waterbury, by Bronson, 1858) "was composed of men of note, who bore honorable names well known in the history of the Colony." Of Lieut. Webster he says, "He was a respectable man though not distinguished like his father. * * * His son Jonathan m. a sister of John Hopkins, an early settler of Mattatuck." (Waterbury.)

1675: October 11, at a meeting of the Council "Leiftenant" Robert Webster was appointed on a Committee to arrange certain defences of the Towne.

The last-named date suggests King Philip's war. June 20 of that year the Indians had attacked Swanzey; Aug. 2, Brookfield; Aug. 25, Hatfield; Sep. 1, Deerfield and Hadley; Sep. 2, Northfield; Sep. 4, Capt. Beers at Bloody Brook; Oct. 5, Springfield. Clearly the savages were drawing near to Hartford, and Oct. 11, as shown in the above paragraph, Lieut. Robert Webster and others were appointed a Committee of Safety.

How far he was drawn into the conflict is not easily determined now, but Savage says he was "on service in the war of 1675." This is further shown by the fact that on the 22d of May, 1712, at a meeting of the Governor and Council at Hartford, the payment of certain sums to soldiers whose accounts had not previously been settled on account of uncertainty as to length of service, was ordered, and among them, "To Robert Webster of Hartford, 2 pounds, 13 shillings, and 6 pence."

Lieut. Robert Webster died about May 31, 1676. He was buried June 2, 1676. His Will, dated May 20, 1676, was made about ten days before his death. His estate was valued at 670 pounds. The Will is as follows:

Whereas, I, Robert Webster of Hartford, am at present under the holy hand of God and brought very weake by sickness, yet not, through mercy, destitute of my understanding, doe see cause to sett my house in order, and doe declare this to be my will and testament as followeth—first I commend my soule to God in Jesus Christ, hoping for the pardon of all my sins through the meritts of Jesus Christ my Saviour, and my Body to the earth, hoping for a glorious resurrection. And for that estate which God hath blessed me with all I give and bequeath it as followeth; after my just debts are honestly pay'd out of my estate. The remainder of my estate I give unto my dear and well beloved wife, Susannah Webster during her widowhood, not doubting but she will have a tender care of our children and will help them as she is able. But if my wife change her name then I give her but one third part of my aforesay'd estate. The remainder being to bee equally divided amongst my children excepting my eldest a double portion and if any of my children dye before they come at age, that is to say my sonns at the age of twenty-one years and my daughters eighteen years of age, my will is that it be equally divided amongst those that shall survive, also I desire my wife to be careful in bringing up our children in the knowledge and feare of the Lord and I do heare charge and command my children that they carry it dutiful to their mother, and that they labour to know and feare the God of their fathers, and that they serve him with willing heart and minde, that he may bee with them and bless them, when I am gathered to my fathers. I do also appoynt my loving wife to be sole executrix to this my last will and that she may have some refuge to repayre unto for counsell as any occasion may call for either about my estate or dispose of my children: I doe desire my loving Friend John Coale Sen'r and Andrew Benton Sen'r and John Blackleach of Hartford to be overseers of this my will and testament and for confirmation of the same I hereunto set my hand and Seale.

Robert Webster and a Seale.

This 20th day of May 1676.

Phineas Wilson.

As seen by the foregoing Will, Susannah Treat Webster, the widow, was given sole charge of the estate, and care of the family. Right well did she perform her task. She outlived her husband twenty-nine years. A clause in her own will shows that the estate which she received was not unencumbered, and in recognition of the co-operation of her children in relieving the situation, special bequests were made, "which legacy or devise I make to them especially in consideration of their prudence, industry and help in paying the debts of my husband, Robert Webster, their father above-named, and saving the Estate."

May 8, 1684, she was permitted by the Court of Elections, as Executrix of "Lieftenant" Robert Webster's Will to sell certain lands, provided she took advice of her two eldest sons and Stephen Hosmore.

The following is of interest and should be preserved in connection with the history of Robert Webster's estate.

1706, John Prents, surveyor of a tract of land for the heirs of Robert Webster, April 25, 1706, says: "By virtue of a grant of land of 300 acres unto Robert Webster, of Hartford, by the General Assembly, May the 9, 1672, I have laid out the same in the Nipmug country on the E. side of Quenabaug river, Southeast from Woodstock, as follows: About five miles and adjoining to Richard Evan's farm, I began it on the East side of a barren hill in sight of Richard Evan's house, at a heap of stones and ran nor-nor-west. * * * There is a highway allowed between said Evan's land and Webster of two rods wide."

Susannah Webster died in 1705, probably late in the summer, or early in the autumn, as an inventory of her estate made by John Marsh, and John Marsh, Jr., was dated Nov. 19, 1705. It showed a value of 32 pounds, 3 shillings, 3 pence. Seven years before her death she made the following Will:

"In the Name of God, Amen, the three and twentieth day of January in the year of Our Lord One Thousand, Six Hundred Ninety and eighth, in the tenth Year of the Reigne of our Souverigne Lord William the third, by the Grace of God, King of England, Scotland, France, and Ireland, Defender of the faith, &c.

"I, Susannah Webster, of the town of Hartford, widow (sole executrix to the last will and testament of my honored husband, Robert Webster, deceased,) doe now make and ordain this to be my last will and testament: And touching the dist. of both that estate of my deceased husband, Robert Webster, and of those temporal goods and estate which God hath blessed me withal, my will is that the same be dist. and disposed of as follows:

"I give to my five sons, Jonathan, Samuel, Robert, Joseph, and William Webster, and to the now surviving children of my eldest son, John Webster, deceased (to-wit: John, Ebenezer, Jacob, Daniel, Sarah, Ann and Abigail) the full sum of £ 100 in current silver money of New England (being so much as was given me by my good friend John Hull of Boston, decd.) their several parts of which sum is and shall be reckoned as included in the lands hereinafter to them respectively assigned, which legacy or devise I make to them especially in consideration of their prudence, industry and help in paying the debts of my husband Robert Webster, their father above-named, and saving the estate.

"I give to my above-named grandchildren, John, Ebenezer, Jacob, Daniel, Sarah, Ann and Abigail Webster, in right of their father, my deceased son John Webster, all that capitol, messuage, tenement, barn, outhouses and 8 acres of land (being part of the homelot of my deceased husband).

"I give to Jonathan Webster 8 acres of my home lot with his dwelling house, barn, outhouses and appurtenances.

"I give to Samuel Webster, my son, 8 acres of my home lot with his dwelling house and out houses and appurtenances thereto belonging.

"I give to my son Robert Webster, my lands situated below Rocky Hill, about 40 acres, on which his dwelling house now standeth, with his house, outhouses and all their appurtenances.

"I give to my son Joseph Webster, 15 acres of my lot on land called the Plaine.

"I give to my son William Webster, 15 acres of my lott or land called the Plaine.

"I give to my daughter Sarah Mygatt (she having already received her portion of her father's estate) 12 pence.

"I give to my two granddaughters, Mabel and Elizabeth Grave, daughters of my deceased daughter Susannah Grave, late wife of John Grave, to make the full sum of £32.

"I give to my daughter Mary King, the wife of Thomas King, with what she has already received, £32.

"I give to my daughter, Elizabeth Seamore, the wife of John Seamore, besides what I have already given her, £32.

"I appoint my five sons to be joint executors.

Susannah Webster.

Her X Mark.

Samuel Richards."

Nov. 7, 1705, an agreement was signed by the heirs of Mrs. Susannah Webster, confirming and approving the division and settlement of the said deceased, made by her last will and testament, which agreement was signed by the following, (all Websters except the last name which is William Whiting), namely, Sarah, John, Ann, Abigail, Jonathan, Samuel, Robert, Joseph, William. Minors: Daniel, Jacob, Ebenezer, By their Guardians, John Webster, William Whiting.

It is to be observed that Susannah Webster, in the foregoing Will, gave three parcels of land of eight acres each, to her sons Jonathan and Samuel, and the heirs of her deceased son John, the eldest. All three parcels are now wholly within the present limits of the city of Hartford, bounded on the south by Retreat Avenue and on the west by Washington Street. Two of these tracts have attained some historic and sentimental interest from the fact that one was the home lot of Lieut. Robert Webster, on which he built his residence when he returned from Middletown in 1658. This residence was a part of the bequest to the heirs of her eldest son John, deceased, and is described as "all that capitol, messuage, teneement, barn, outhouses, and 8 acres of land." This house, or at least some of the original, was still standing in 1900, and was "known as the Dorus Barnard house, so-called because it was owned and occupied by Dorus Barnard, eldest son of Capt. John Barnard, who deeded it to his son, Dorus, in 1804." * (See page 5 in this book.)

* See "Early Connecticut Houses," an Historical and Architectural Study by Norman M. Isham, A.M., Architect; Albert F. Brown, Architect, Providence, R. I., The Preston and Rounds Co., 1900. Appendix II, "The Webster Houses," by Dr. Henry Barnard of Hartford.

This house was of greater interest to descendant of Lieut. Robert Webster, than the others, because here stood his residence for many years. The entire front of this lot is now (1915) occupied by apartment houses, and the one bearing the name "The Barnard," 1915 Retreat Avenue, is probably upon, or near, the spot where the "mansion house" of Lieut. Robert Webster stood.

On the eight acre lot which was first deeded to Jonathan Webster, by his mother, Susannah Webster, and also confirmed to him in her Will, and which is described as a part of her home lot, "as he now hath it fenced in and improved, with his dwelling house, barn, outhouses;" bounded northerly by James Steele, Sr., easterly by Samuel Webster, southerly by heirs of her son John, deceased, and westerly on a highway," stood, in 1900, a house "known as the Grove Barnard house,—so named because owned and occupied by Grove Barnard, second son of Capt. John Barnard by whom it was deeded in 1804.

The third eight-acre tract was given by the above Will to Samuel Webster, another son. On it stood an ancient house known as the Capt. John Barnard house, who came into its possession in 1765, in the following manner: Samuel Webster, having no children, by Will left his dwelling house and homestead to Matthew and Medad, the two oldest sons of his nephew, Ebenezer Webster, deceased, after the decease of Samuel Webster's wife. For £60, Medad Webster quit claimed his title to one-half acre of this land to his brother Matthew, which included "part of the messuage or home lot lately belonging to Samuel Webster, deceased, with mansion house, barn, and other buildings thereon erected."

October 8, 1762, Matthew Webster sold to Jonathan Bigelow, an acre and three rods which included the above, and October 29, 1765, Jonathan Bigelow sold the same to John Barnard, Jr., who was Capt. John Barnard of Indian and Revolutionary war service. Capt. Barnard occupied this property until 1813, when it passed by his bequest to his son John, who was born in the house Oct 1, 1775, and later from his son John to Cecelia and Lavinia Barnard, daughters of John, and then by their Joint Will to the children of their sister, Mrs. Delia Cone, the children being Mrs. Ella B. Pratt and John Barnard Cone, the latter holding the part on which stands the house of Capt. John Barnard. (See picture.)

Thus in the case of the Samuel Webster messuage the title for more than two centuries and a half has been in two families only, namely, descendants of Lieut. Robert Webster until October 8, 1762, and the Barnard family until 1898, when the lot was sold, the old house removed, and "The Church Home," 123 Retreat Avenue was built upon the spot. We have inserted a picture of the old house. It was said to contain lumber from the old First Church. The willow tree in front was raised from a slip brought from Napoleon's grave at St. Helena. Possibly some of the original house of Samuel Webster was also a part of the structure.

CHILDREN:—(First four born in Middletown; remaining seven in Hartford) John, b. Nov. 10, 1653; Sarah, b. June 30, 1655; Jonathan, Jan. 9, 1657; Susannah, b. October 26, 1658; Samuel, b. . . . .; Robert, b. . . . .; Joseph, b. . . . .; Benjamin, bap. May 1, 1670; William, bap. July 2, 1671; Mary; Elizabeth, bap. Feb. 8, 1673-4. Resumed in Chapter III.

4. Thomas Webster of Northampton, Hampshire Co., Mass., a son of Gov. John and Agnes Webster, m. June 16, 1663, Abigail Alexander, dau. of George Alexander of Northampton. Thomas Webster like his brother William, settled early in Mass., but evidently remained at or near Hartford for a time. October 28, 1651, Thomas Webster of Farmington sells land there to Capt. John Standley, and again sells land there in 1655 and 1656. In the year 1670 he was of Northampton, as shown by the following:

Hampshire County Court records, Book I, p. 127: At a county court holden at Northampton, in and for said county, Mar. 28, 1670, "Thomas Webster and Edward Scott presented at the last Court at Springfield for defaming the Sabbath by traveling to Westfield from Windsor late in the night before the Sabbath, and warned here to appear; and they were both admonished of their offense and ordered to pay each of them two and six pence to the Recorder as his fees and so were dismissed."

The indictment at Springfield adds some interesting particulars, as follows: "The jury presents Thomas Webster of Northampton, and Edw. Scott, servt to Serjant Kellogg of Hadley, for defaming the Sabbath by travelling with their carts the night before first the Sabbath of this month of Sep., coming to Westfield from Hartford, it being about midnight before they ended their travels."

Soon after this period Thomas Webster settled in Northfield. Noah Webster, LL. D., gives the following history:

"In 1675 Northfield was attacked by Indians, and the settlement broken up, and from 1676 to 1682 Thomas Webster resided in Hadley where he had three daughters born. He afterwards returned to Northfield where he died in 1686. Northfield was again destroyed by the Indians and the settlers driven from the place, but the children of Thomas probably remained in that neighborhood, for I have known one person of that name, Ezekiel Webster of Northfield, who was in the House of Representatives of Massachusetts with me in 1814, and I knew another in Bernardston."

Dr. Webster was in error about the children of Thomas remaining in Northfield. The Hon. Ezekiel Webster mentioned, and the other from Bernardston were like himself descendants of Lieut. Robert, and not of Thomas Webster. The two sons of Thomas, George and John, and the one daughter, Thankful, of whom we have record, settled in Lebanon, Conn.

Driven back by the Indians, Thomas Webster made Hadley his refuge for a time as shown by the following items: March 27, 1677, Thomas Webster of Hadley, "by reason of an infirmitie in his eye is freed from milatarie trayneings." February 8, 1679, Thomas Webster swore allegiance at Hadley. When however the Indian disturbances of the King Philip war subsided he returned to Northfield where he died. In the Northampton probate records is an inventory of the estate of Thomas Webster of Northfield, filed Oct. 20, 1686. Abigail was then his widow. A second Indian devastation in 1690 rendered his Northfield property valueless for more than twenty years, and his large family of children were brought up among the Alexanders and other relatives, locating in the next few years in Lebanon, Conn., where they became "first settlers." His widow died prior to 1690.

CHILDREN: (First four born at Northampton and the other three at Hadley.) Abigail, b. Jan. 9, 1667, died in infancy; Abigail, again, b. Jan. 20, 1668; George, b. Nov. 7, 1670; John, b. Sep. 11, 1672; Elizabeth, b. Nov. 26, 1676; Thankful, b. Jan. 12, 1679; Mary, May 25, 1681.

There is also this puzzling record at Northampton: Jeremiah, son of John and Elizabeth Webster, born July 12, 1668. Resumed in Chapter III.

5. Anne Webster, daughter of Gov. John and Agnes Webster, m. about 1642, John Marsh of Hadley. John Marsh was born, April, 1618, in England, and came to America in the "Mary and John," and settled in Hartford in 1636 as one of the original proprietors. He separated from the First Church, Hartford, with others in 1659, and removed to Hadley. Thence he changed to Northampton where, June 9, 1662, his wife, Anne Webster died. He m. (2) Oct. 7, 1664, Hepzibah, widow of Richard Lyman of Northampton, and dau. of Thomas Ford of Windsor, Ct., where, Sept. 28, 1688, John Marsh died.

CHILDREN: (1st m.; baptisms, First Church, Hartford.) John; Joseph, bap. Jan. 24, 1647, died soon after; Joseph, bap. July 15, 1649; Samuel; Jonathan; Daniel; Hannah; Grace. (2d m.) Lydia, b. Oct. 9, 1667; Sarah. Resumed in Chapter III.

6. Elizabeth Webster, daughter of Gov. John and Agnes Webster, m. about 1658, as his second wife, William Markham of Hadley. He was one of the members of the First Church, Hartford, who withdrew to found the Hadley colony. By his first marriage he had five children—William, Priscilla, Lydia, John and Mercy. The last two were b. at Hadley. William was killed at Northfield, Sep. 4, 1675, with Cap. Beers, by the Indians. Priscilla m. Thomas Hale about 1675, and Lydia m. 1682, Timothy Eastman, and her descendants named Smith lived at the ancient Markham homestead, and inherited much estate from Nathaniel Ward whom he called uncle. John d. at three years and Mercy while young.

There were no children by his second m. with Elizabeth Webster. The end.

7. Mary Webster, daughter of Gov. John and Agnes Webster, m. in England, John Hunt of Sudburrowe Thrapstone, Northampton Co., Eng., where their son Jonathan was born in 1637, and where their dau. Mary may have been born. Mary Webster Hunt probably died prior to 1659, since Gov. John Webster's Will, dated June 25, 1659, does not mention her. Savage notes the fact that only the two grandchildren, Jonathan and Mary Hunt, are mentioned in Gov. John's Will, and suggests that both parents were dead when the Will was made. He also thinks that Mary was the oldest daughter of Gov. John Webster, if not the oldest child. Where and when she and her husband, John Hunt died is not known. Resumed in Chapter III.

CHAPTER III.

Third Generation—Governor John Webster's Twenty-Eight Grand Children.

FIRST GENERATION, GOV. JOHN AND AGNES WEBSTER.—SECOND, CHILDREN OF GOV. JOHN AND AGNES WEBSTER NAMED IN THE NUMBERED SECTIONS OF THIS CHAPTER.—THIRD, GRANDCHILDREN OF GOV. JOHN AND AGNES WEBSTER NAMED IN THE NUMBERED PARAGRAPHS OF THIS CHAPTER AND PRINTED IN HEAVY FACE TYPE.

The seven children of Gov. John and Agnes Webster married, and all except William and Elizabeth had children. They had thirty grandchildren, two of whom died in infancy. Others may have died in early life—at least the records are silent. Whether John the son of Matthew, or John the son of Robert were the older, it is perhaps futile to inquire. But a large progeny descended from John of Robert, and we do not know that John of Matthew married. Hence the distinction of leading the third generation, and being oldest grandchild of Gov. John Webster, having issue, passes to John, the son of Robert, b. Nov. 10, 1653, of Hartford, Ct., who married Sarah Mygatt.

SECTION 1.—Children of Matthew Webster of Farmington, Ct., the name of whose wife is unknown.

1. John Webster, birth date unknown, is not known to have married. Of his fate nothing is recorded so far as we can learn. His father, Matthew Webster, made provision for his care in 1660, when he bound over to Gov. Webster, his father, certain lands in Farmington for that purpose. Also in 1671 when he, (Matthew) contracted with William Judd and John Woodruff of Farmington for the care of himself and his son John. See documents in the preceding chapter. The end.

2. A Daughter, but no name is given. She was mentioned, in the paper given to Gov. Webster in 1660, by Matthew Webster, as "My daughter who is with Joseph Easton of Hartford," but no reference is made to her in the documents of 1671, suggesting either her death or marriage. (See Documents in preceding chapter.) The end.

SECTION 2.—Children of Lieut. Robert and Susannah (Treat) Webster.

1. John Webster, b. Nov. 10, 1653, at Middletown, Ct. m. Sarah, dau. of Jacob and Sarah (Whiting) Mygatt. Sarah Whiting was the dau. of Hon. William Whiting, and Susannah, his wife, who were among the first settlers of Hartford. Jacob Mygatt was the son of Deacon Joseph Mygatt, also one of the first settlers of Hartford. According to Goodwin, John Webster died Dec. 6, 1695, but according to the Hartford First Church record he died Dec. 8, 1694, aged 41, which is evidently the true date as proved by the year of his birth, and also by the fact that his widow was appointed administrator of his estate, March 7, 1695. After his death Mrs. Sarah Webster, his widow, mar. (2) Lieut. Benjamin Graham of Hartford, Nov. 20 or 28, 1698, she being his second wife. Lieut. Graham d. in 1725, but no record of her death has been found. That it was after 1728 is proved by the following: In the settlement of the estate of John Webster, deceased, made by court at Hartford, Aug. 7, 1728, mention is made of Sarah Graham, alias Webster, relict of said John Webster; John Webster, eldest son; Ebenezer, second son; heirs of Jacob, the third son; Daniel, fourth son; Sarah Talcott, a widow; Ann Olmstead, wife of Thomas Olmstead, Jr., and Abigail Merrills, widow, they being the three daughters of said John Webster.

The Will of Susannah Webster, Jan. 23, 1698, enumerates "The now surviving children of my oldest son John Webster, deceased, viz.: John, Ebenezer, Jacob, Daniell, Sarah, Ann, Abigail."

At a meeting of the Governor and Council at New Haven, Aug. 8, 1711, there was allowed, among others, to Sarah Webster of Hartford, sixteen shillings and eleven pence for supplies, etc., for an expedition.

CHILDREN: Sarah, bap. July 29, 1678; John, bap. Oct. 26, 1680; Anne, bap. Oct. 3, 1682; Abigail, bap. Aug. 10, 1686; Ebenezer, bap. July 14, 1689; Jacob; Daniel, bap. Oct. 1, 1693. Resumed in Chapter IV.

2. Sarah Webster, b. June 30, 1655, at Middletown, Ct., m. (1) Nov. 15, 1677, Joseph, son of Jacob Mygatt of Hartford, and grandson of Deacon Joseph Mygatt one of its early settlers. He died March, 1698. She mar. (2), Dec. 13, 1722, as his second wife, Bevil Waters of Hartford. He died Feb. 14, 1729, aged ninety-seven years, and she, Feb., 1744, aged nearly eighty-nine.

CHILDREN: (All by first mar.) Joseph, born Oct. 27, 1678; Susannah, Oct. 1, 1680; Mary, Dec. 4, 1682; Jacob, Dec. 9, 1684, died Jan. 29, 1685; Jacob again, b. Nov. 9, 1686, died Nov., 1687; Thomas, Sep. 11, 1688; Sarah, March 9, 1691; Zebulon, Nov. 6, 1693; Dorathy, Jan. 26, 1696.

(1) Joseph, Jr., m. Feb. 26, 1705-6, Elizabeth Taylor at Northampton, Mass.

(2) Susannah probably died unmarried.

(3) Mary m. 1705 or 1706, Daniel Bull, b. Nov. 9, 1677, in Hartford,

d. Nov. 23, 1721, on Long Island. She d. Mch. 9, 1769, aged 86 years. There were children.

(4) Thomas died May 16, 1727, probably unm.

(5) Sarah m. Nov. 6, 1712, Thomas King of Suffield.

(6) Zebulon m. (1) Nov. 20, 1720, Rachel, dau. of Thomas and Hannah Merrick, of Springfield, Mass. She d. in Hartford, Ct., May 14, 1721, and he m. (2) Dorothy Waters, b. Aug. 28, 1704, dau. of Thomas and Hannah Waters.

(7) Dorothy, m. May 6, 1715, Jonathan Steele of Hartford. She d. Nov. 10, 1775, aged seventy-nine years. The end.

3. Deacon Jonathan Webster, a merchant of Hartford, Ct., b. Jan. 9, 1656-7, at Middletown, Ct., m. (1) May. 11, 1681, Dorcas, dau. of Stephen and Dorcas (Bronson) Hopkins, and granddaughter of John and Jane Hopkins, first settlers of Hartford; also of John Bronson of Farmington. In the Will of Stephen Hopkins, dated Sep. 28, 1689, he makes a bequest to Dorcas Hopkins his wife, and one to his daughter, Dorcas Webster, of "40 shillings, besides what I have already given her."

Jonathan Webster and Dorcas Webster his wife were received into the Second Church at Hartford, March 17, 1695, and she died during that year. He m. (2) Jan. 2, 1696, Mary Judd, supposed daughter of Thomas Judd of Farmington. His brother, Joseph Webster, also m. a Mary Judd, Feb. 23, 1696, dau. of Benjamin Judd, which see.

At a meeting of the Governor and Council at New Haven, Aug. 8, 1711, there was allowed to Jonathan Webster of Hartford, among others, seven shillings and one pence to help supply an expedition.

He d. 1735, aged seventy eight years. No date of her death. Three years before his death he made the following:

The Last Will and Testament of Jonathan Webster, Senr. of Hartford, in the County of Hartford and Colony of Connecticut in New England. As God hath given the Earth to the Children of men, dividing to every-one severally as he will, and doth judge to them the liberty of disposing of their worldly estates in a testamentary way to such as are to succeed them in the enjoyment thereof, and their doing this seasonably, and in a just and prudent manner, being a likely means to prevent after trouble and contention; Therefore I who am old and under those decays of Nature which forebode a speedy dissolution of it, do with submission to the will of God, make the following disposition of that part of the earthly estate which thro His goodness is yet continued in my possession. Imprimus. My will is that all my just debts and funeral expenses be first paid without fraud or delay.—Item. I confirm to my loving wife all which before I have made over to her under my hand, and signed by my own handwriting. Item. I give to my three daughters all my movable estate (namely Susanna Steel, Mary Brace, Mehetabell Bidwell) to be equally divided between them; and also I give unto each of my before-named daughters, the sum of ten pounds to be paid unto them; the aforesaid ten pounds in money apiece by my executor within a twelve month after my decease. Item. I give unto my son Benjamin all the lands that I have within the South Meadow. Item. I confirm unto the heirs of my son Stephen, deceased, the lands which I made over to him in his lifetime, and to have at my decease the buildings standing thereon, except the use of what I have given to my wife. Item. I give unto my son Jonathan my home lot with the—Lastly. I continue and appoint my son Jonathan executor of this, my last will and testament, and for confirmation of all that is above willed I have hereto set my hand and seal this seventh day of April, Anno Domini, 1732. Jonathan Webster & seal.

Witnesses: John Marsh, Elizabeth Marsh, John Marsh, Jr.

CHILDREN: (By first mar.) Jonathan, born March 18, 1682, bap. March 26, 1682; Samuel, bap. Feb. 17, 1683-4; Susannah, b. An inventory of the property of Jonathan Webster, dated July 23, 1735, mentions his wife, his daughters,—Susannah Steele, Mary Brace, Mehitabel Bidwell, and his son Benjamin, the heirs of his son Stephen, and his son Jonathan. (Samuel is omitted.) Resumed in Chapter IV.

4. Susannah Webster, born Oct. 26, 1658, at Middletown, Ct., mar. about 1680, John Grave of Hartford. After her death he mar. (2), 1690, Hannah, dau. of Philip Davis of Hartford, by whom he had six children, but only two survived infancy, viz.: John, b. March 3, 1695, settled in Guilford; Sarah, b. Sep. 25, 1698. His first wife d. in 1688, aged thirty years, and he in Aug. 1702.

CHILDREN: (Grave) (By first mar.) Mehitabel; Elizabeth.

(1) Mehitabel, mar. Jan. 1, 1701, James Henderson of Hartford, Conn.

1715, June 20, James Henderson and Mehitabel his wife in consideration of what has been paid to Susannah Grove, (Grave) formerly Susannah Webster, release all right to the estate of the late Lt. Robert Webster, to the sons, naming them.

(2) Elizabeth, a sister, mar. Ebenezer Dudley of East Guilford, Ct. He d. in 1751, his wife and seven children surviving him.

1715, May 14, Ebenezer Dudley of East Guilford, and Elizabeth his wife, convey to Jonathan, Robert, Joseph and William Webster, all right to the estate of our grandfather and grandmother, the late Robert Webster and his wife Susannah Webster, both deceased. The end.

5. Lieut. Samuel Webster, High Sheriff of Hartford Co., date of birth unknown, mar. Elizabeth, dau. of Robert Reeve of the same town—Hartford, born Dec. 14, 1668. He was appointed High Sheriff, Sep. 7, 1708; and was chosen by the Assembly, and appointed Lieutenant in an expedition against Port Royal, August, 1711. He resigned the office of High Sheriff, Aug. 1, 1721, and recommended Col. Wm. Whiting of Hartford as his successor, on whom the office was bestowed. He died Feb. 1, 1744, and she died in 1747, aged seventy-nine years.

By Will dated Nov. 29, 1738, Samuel Webster of Hartford bequeathed to his wife Elizabeth his dwelling house; his other property to cousin Ebenezer Webster's two eldest sons, viz.: Matthew and Medad; and to his cousin, Samuel Webster; and to his cousin Ann, wife of Thomas Olmstead, and to his cousin Ebenezer Webster whom he constituted executor. An inventory was taken Feb. 15, 1744.

By Will dated Jan. 17, 1743-4, Elizabeth Webster gives her property to her beloved sister, Mehitabel Peck; to her beloved brother, Robert Reeve; to Elizabeth, wife of Ebenezer Benton; and to the two sons of Ebenezer Webster, viz.: Matthew and Medad. Probated March 3, 1747. CHILDREN: None. The end.

6. Robert Webster, mar. (1), Sep. 10, 1689, Hannah, dau. of John Beckley of Wethersfield. They were received into the Second church of Hartford, Apr. 13, 1712. After her death he mar. (2) Sarah Colfax, widow of Jonathan Colfax, deceased, of Wethersfield, daughter of Joseph Edwards of same place. She died Feb. 15, 1725, aged fifty-three years. In the old First church burying ground of Hartford is the following: "Here lieth the body of Sarah, the wife of Mr. Robert Webster, who deceased February, this 1724-5, aged fifty-three years." He mar. (3), July 20, 1731, Susannah, dau. of John Baker of Hartford, and grand-daughter of John Basey one of its first settlers. Robert Webster died in Feb., 1744, and his widow, Dec. 1746.

By a Will dated Sep. 14, 1743, exhibited and inventory taken Oct. 8, 1744, and recorded at Hartford, he gives to his wife Susannah, to three grandsons, Justice, Medad and Ebenezer; to his daughters Hannah and Abigail, the latter as long as she bears the name of Webster. The sons received land in Hartford.

Jan. 6, 1747, letters of administration were granted on estate of Susannah Webster, late of Hartford, to Wm. Bacor of Hartford, who, with Daniel Ensign, gave bonds.

CHILDREN: (All by first mar.) (Baptisms in 2d Church, Hartford) Robert b. Oct., 1689; Abraham, Sep. 1, 1693; Hannah, b. Nov. 7, 1695, bap. Nov. 10; Matthew, April 17, 1698, d. Feb. 2, 1707; Joshua, b. March 7, 1700, bap. March 10; Caleb, b. Feb. 22, 1703, bap. Mar. 1, 1702; Mary, Dec. 5, 1704, bap. Dec. 10, died in early life; Joseph, bap. Nov. 16, 1707; Abigail, Jan. 22, 1710-11 but the baptism record is Jan. 22, 1709-10. Resumed in Chapter IV.

7. Joseph Webster, of Hartford, mar. (1), Feb. 23, 1696, Mary Judd, b. 1675, dau. of Benjamin and Mary (Lewis) Judd of Farmington. Her sister Esther, born 1686, on March 7, 1702, chose Joseph Webster to be her guardian. Hence the inference is that his first wife was Mary Judd, dau. of Benjamin. Date of her death unknown. He mar. (2) Hannah, widow of Basey Baker, deceased, of Middletown, formerly of Hartford, May 11, 1726. She was the dau. of Nathaniel Willett of Hartford. Her death not recorded, but he died in May, 1750.

March 16, 1711-12, Joseph and Mary Webster, his wife, joined the church. Jan. 2, 1719, Jos. Webster of Hartford buys of Jas. Lewis of Jamaica, L. I., a land right in town grant of Farmington.

The General Assembly, May 9, 1717, in describing land lying in South Meadow, Hartford, bounded it W. by lands of Joseph Webster, and the heirs of Nathaniel Cole.

By Will, dated March 3, 1750, Joseph Webster gave to his wife Hannah, his dau. Mary Kellogg, his dau. Elizabeth Waters, and appointed his son-in-law, Isaac Kellogg, executor. Inventory taken, May 2, 1750.

Record of Probate Court, Hartford, Sep. 1, 1788: "Whereas Joseph Webster of Hartford, deceased, by his last Will gave to his daughter Elizabeth Waters his home lot in the South meadow, and said Elizabeth being now dead, Joseph Waters, son of Joseph Waters, and grandson of said Elizabeth moves for a distribution to the following heirs of Webster Waters, deceased: eldest son of Elizabeth, a double share; also to Abraham Waters, and heirs of Joseph Waters, sons of said Elizabeth."

CHILDREN: (Both by first mar.) Mary, b. May 31, 1697, bap. June 4, following; Elizabeth, b. March 6, 1700, bap. March 10. Resumed in Chapter IV.

8. Benjamin Webster, bap. May 1, 1670, no record.

9. Ensign William Webster, of Hartford, baptized July 2, 1671, mar. Nov. 28, 1700, Sarah, dau. of Cyprian Nichols of Hartford. William Webster died June, 1722. His widow, Sarah, mar. (2), May 13, 1725, as his second wife, Samuel Catlin of Hartford, whose first wife, to whom he was married Jan. 5, 1702, and who died Aug. 4, 1724, was Elizabeth Norton of Farmington. Sarah Webster Catlin's death is not on record, unless the following from the Wintonbury Church records refers to her: Sarah Kirtland, mother of William and Samuel Webster, died Dec. 12, 1762, aged 85 years. If so she either married (3) a Kirtland, or the name Catlin was misspelled.

Note that Sarah Nichols was a sister of Elizabeth Nichols who married Jacob Webster of Hartford, son of John, John a nephew of Ensign William Webster.

Also that Sarai Webster joined the First church, Hartford, March 16, 1711-12, with Joseph and Mary Webster, and that Sarai, wife of William Webster was bap. March 30, 1712.

Aug. 6, 1723, the Court appointed Sarah Webster, relict of Ensign William Webster, late of Hartford, guardian of William, aged about 20 years; Moses about 17; Susannah about 13; Sarah about 11; Samuel about 9; children of said deceased.

Jan. 28, 1719-20, Cyprian Nichols of Hartford, "In consideration of the love and good will I bear unto my son-in-law, William Webster, and to my daughter, Sarah Webster, both of Hartford," conveyed to the same six acres in the south meadow, which the said William Webster now improves; bounded on the school land at the west of the hill.

June 8, 1781, Amos Lawrence, Amos Gillett, Samuel, James, Sarah and Susannah Webster, all of Windsor, quit claim unto Thomas Goodwin of Hartford, our right and title in six and three-fourths acres of land in Hartford, formerly called Commons, bounded north and south on the lands formerly belonging to the heirs of Thomas Hosmer, deceased; east on a highway, west on land called West Division Lott. Signed by all above named in presence of Noah and Charles Webster.

June 13, 1722, an inventory of the estate of Ensign William Webster, late of Hartford, deceased, amounting to five hundred and sixty-six pounds, five shillings and five pence, was taken, and James Ensign and Samuel Catlin were appointed under oath. Items: house and homestead, 150 pounds; 30 acres of land at West Division, at 5 pounds per acre; 15 acres of land called "the plain," at 6 pounds per acre; an acre and a half of meadow at 20 pounds, equal to 410 pounds.

May 11, 1721, the General Assembly established and confirmed William Webster of Hartford, to be Ensign of the South Side Trainband in Hartford.

CHILDREN: (Baptisms in First Church, Hartford.) Cyprian, b. Sep. 3, 1701, bap. Sep. 7; Moses b. 1702, died in infancy; William b. Sep. 3, 1703, bap. Sep. 5; Moses, again, b. Sep. 26, 1706, bap. Sep. 29; Aaron and James, twins, bap. Sep. 5, 1708; Susannah, b. April 18, 1710; Sarah, bap. Aug. 10, 1712; Samuel, b. 1714, bap. Nov. 28, 1714; Timothy, bap. May 29, 1720, died early. By court action, Aug. 6, 1723, it appears that Aaron and James were not living at that date. (See above.) Resumed in Chapter IV.

10. Mary Webster, mar. Nov. 1690, as his second wife, Thomas King of Hartford, b. July 14, 1662, son of John and Sarah (Holton) King. His first wife was Abigail Strong, dau. of Jedediah Strong, whom he mar. Nov. 17, 1683. She was a sister of Elizabeth Strong, first wife of Deacon Ebenezer Wright who mar. for his second wife, Hannah Hunt, dau. of Jonathan and Clemence (Hosmer) Hunt. By his first wife, Thomas King had Thomas, Jun., b. Dec. 3, 1684 who d. y.; and Abigail, b. Jan. 31, 1687. His first wife d. 1689, aged twenty three. He then m. (2) Mary Webster, as above, and she d. Sep. 27, 1706. He removed to Hatfield, Mass., 1686, but returned to Hartford about 1694. He m. a third wife, name unknown, who d. Jan. 2, 1712. Thomas King died Dec. 26, 1711.

CHILDREN: (King.) (By Mary Webster) Mary, b. Oct. 5, 1691; Thomas; Robert.

April 14, 1712, the estate of Thomas King was distributed to the children of Thomas and Mary (Webster) King, viz.: Thomas, Robert, Abigail, and Mary. Abigail, however, was probably a dau. by his mar. with Abigail Strong.

Mary, the first-born named above, mar. April 4, 1711, Thomas Clapp. The end.

11. Elizabeth Webster, bap. Feb. 8, 1673, m. Dec. 19, 1693, John Seymour, Jr., of Hartford, b. June 12, 1666, son of John and Mary (Watson) Seymour. He was a grandson of Capt. Richard and Mercy (Rashleigh) Seymour of England; Hartford, Ct., 1636; Norwalk, Ct., 1653. John Seymour, Jr., owned large estates in Hartford and New Hartford, Conn. He died May 17, 1748, aged nearly eighty-two years, and she, May 15, 1754.

CHILDREN: (Seymour) (Born, Hartford, Conn.) John, b. Dec. 25, 1694; Timothy, b. June 27, 1696; Daniel, b. Oct. 20 or 24 1698; Elizabeth, b. May 1, 1700; Jonathan, b. March 16, 1702-3; Nathaniel, b. Nov. 17, 1704; Susannah, April 13, 1706; Margaret, b. Jan. 30, 1707-8, bap. Jan. 29, 1707; Zebulan, b. May 14, 1709; Moses b. Feb. 17, 1710-11; Richard, bap. Mch. 22, 1712-13. Resumed in Chapter IV.

1. Abigail Webster, b. Jan. 20, 1668, at Northampton, no history.

2. George Webster, b. Nov. 7, 1670, at Northampton, m. Dec. 13, 1695, Sarah Bliss of Springfield, Mass., b. Sep. 10, 1677, supposed to have been the dau. of Samuel and Mary (Leonard) Bliss of Springfield. George Webster was one of the first settlers of Lebanon, New London Co., Conn. About 1699 the original proprietors set off to him a "home lot," bounded north-west by the land of John Webster. Other tracts were set off to him in 1700 and 1701, and still another which was recorded April 23, 1718. He was in Lebanon as early as 1705. He died intestate, April 12, 1721, aged 50 years, 5 months and 5 days, and his widow was granted letters of administration, July 4, 1721. She m. (2) Dec. 14, 1725, as his second wife, Capt. John Marsh, b. at Hartford and bap. there, March 5, 1671. On the same day, Dec. 14, 1725, her son Pelatiah Webster was married, which see.

Williamantic Probate records give the following: July 4, 1721, letters of administration were granted to Sarah Webster on the estate of George Webster, late of Lebanon, deceased.

April 22, 1724, Sarah Webster of Lebanon, widow of George Webster, was appointed guardian of Benaiah and Joseph her sons, and Jerusha and Mary Webster her daughters, sons and daughters of said George Webster. And the said Sarah and Sergeant John and Levi Webster gave bond to Wm. Clark, and at the same time Samuel Webster, eldest son of George, was appointed guardian of George, Noah, Ebenezer, Sarah, Zurviah, sons and daughters of George Webster; and said Samuel Webster and Sergeant John Webster of Lebanon, gave bond to Wm. Clark. And at the same time the Court appointed John Bliss, John Webster and Jedediah Strong to appraise the land of George Webster, and at the same date, division of the estate was ordered to the widow, Sarah; to Samuel the eldest son; to Jonathan the second son; to Pelatiah the third son; to George, Noah, Ebenezer, Benaiah, Joseph, Abigail, Sarah, Jerusha, Zurviah, Mary.

CHILDREN: (First four after Abigail probably born in Northampton; the others in Lebanon) Abigail, b. at Springfield, Dec. 6, 1696; Samuel, b. Nov. 5, 1698; Jonathan, Nov. 5, 1700; Peletiah, Nov. 17, 1702; George, Aug. 5, 1704; Noah, Aug. 9, 1706; Ebenezer, June 9, 1708; Sarah, May 5, 1710; Jerusha, Jan. 20, 1712; Benajah, Dec. 25, 1713; Mary, April 1, 1718; Joseph, May 20, 1720; Zurviah, April 22, 1724. Zurviah was a minor, or under a guardian. (In a list from Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, Joseph, b. May 20, 1720, is given as Josiah which is evidently an error.) Resumed in Chapter V.

3. Captain John Webster, b. Sep. 11, 1672 (also given as Feb. 26, 1673), at Northampton, and one of the first settlers of Lebanon, Ct., m. (1) Elizabeth ——— (2) Aug. 4, 1709, at Lebanon, Grace Loomise. He died at Lebanon, Nov. 3, 1735, and is buried in the old cemetery at Lebanon. No record of the deaths of his wives.

At a meeting of original proprietors of Lebanon, Dec. 1697, who said that the land had been granted to them Nov. 1, 1695, they set off a quantity of land designated opposite their names, and to John Webster nine acres and three yards. About the same time a "home lot" of fifteen acres was set off to him, bounded north-west by the highway; south-east by the home lot of George Webser, south-west by the small street, and north-east by a highway near the brook. March 1700 and April 1701, more land was "laid" out to him, and July 5, 1710 is recorded another grant of land to him.

1712, Aug. 5, John Webster of Lebanon buys of Dr. John Loomis land there and resells it to him the same day.

1735, Dec. 26, John Webster of Lebanon, Thomas Webster of Hebron, Josiah Webster and Jedediah Strong and his wife Elizabeth, all of Lebanon, they, John, Thomas, Josiah and Elizabeth, being the only children of their late honorable father, John Webster of Lebanon, aforesaid, now deceased, and Grace Webster of said Lebanon, being the widow of said deceased, being minded by agreement to follow the estate both real and personal, "to prevent disputes," they deed to her land in the Five Miles, etc.

CHILDREN: (By first mar., and all but last probably b. in Northampton) Thomas, Oct. 12, 1699 d. y.; Elizabeth, Feb. 26, 1701;

John, July 10, 1702; Thomas, Feb. 8, 1703-4; Josiah, Jan. 26, 1705-6. Resumed in Chapter V.

4. Elizabeth Webster, b. Nov. 26, 1676, at Hadley, Mass., no history.

5. Thankful Webster, b. Jan. 12, 1679, at Hadley, Mass., m. Dec. 12, 1700, John Bascom, son of Thomas and Mary (Newell) Bascom, b. Oct. 14, 1672, at Northampton, Mass., and baptized the following day. He was a grandson of Thomas Bascom and his wife Avis, or "Advice," according to the Hatfield, Mass., records, of Farmington, says Savage. Edwards' History of Southampton says Mary Baldwin instead of Avis. Thomas Bascom, the grandfather, was of Dorchester, 1642; Windsor, 1639; Northampton, 1661, where he d. May 9, 1682.

John Bascom removed from Northfield, Mass., to Lebanon, Ct., about 1729, and died there June 27, 1755. Of her death, no record.

CHILDREN: (Bascom) Daniel, b. at Northampton, Mass., Feb. 13, 1703. This only child, Daniel, mar. (1), Feb. 27, 1723, Elizabeth French who died Feb. 15, 1750; and (2), Oct. 11, 1750, Mary Bliss. He d. at Lebanon, March 17 or 18, 1761. The end.

6. Mary Webster, b. May 25, 1681, at Hadley, Mass., no history.

SECTION 4.—Children of Anne Webster who married John Marsh, of Hadley, Mass.

1. John Marsh, of Hadley, Mass., m. Nov. 28, 1666, Sarah Lyman, dau. of Richard and Hepzibah (Ford) Lyman. John Marsh, Sr., had married the mother of Sarah Lyman, two years before, Oct. 7, 1664. John Marsh, Jr., was made a freeman, 1670; was in the King Philip war in 1675 under Major Savage, and was a Deputy in 1693. He settled in Hartford where he died in 1727.

SECTION 5.—Children of William and Sarah (Nichols) Webster of Hartford, Ct.

1. Cyprian Webster, b. Sep. 3, 1701, bap. Sep. 7, same year, m. Sep. 25, 1729, Elizabeth Seymour, b. May 1, 1700, dau. of Daniel and Mabel (Bigelow) Seymour. (See later in this chapter.) He removed from Hartford to Harwinton in 1734-5; was town clerk of Harwinton from 1741 to 1756, and Selectman of Harwinton for the years 1737 and 1762. He was received into First Church, Hartford, March 21, 1724-5, and his wife, Nov. 1, 1730.

Chipman's History of Harwinton, Ct., states that Cyprian Webster had land conveyed to him by deed in Harwinton as early as Nov., 1733, but first went to the town in 1734, and was first recorded as an inhabitant of the town in 1737. He settled in the east half of the town. The first settlers of Harwinton, Ct., were Messenger, Brace, Hopkins, Webster, Phelps and Wilson.

The town records show that on July 6, 1739, Cyprian Webster recorded as the ear mark of his creatures, "a cross on the end of each ear and a slitt in the end of the left ear."

Jan. 20, 1741-2, Cyprian Webster was elected town clerk at a town meeting. Dec. 4, 1753, he was town Treasurer. First Tuesday in Dec., 1763, he was elected town clerk for ensuing year.

The town records show that Cyprian Webster was chosen town Treasurer from 1742 to 1757 inclusive.

The records of the Assembly of the Colony show that at each session for the years 1757 to 1761 inclusive, Cyprian Webster was made a Justice of the Peace for the County of Litchfield.

Jan. 29, 1780, Samuel Bull deeded land to Elizabeth Webster bounded in part by Cyprian Webster's land. Who was she? (The dau. b. 1731.)

Apr. 21, 1738, Cyprian Webster was appointed one of a committee to secure the services of Andrew Bartholomew as the minister for the meeting-house in Harwinton. Dec. 6, 1744, he was one of a committee that set apart certain lands for the minister, Mr. Bartholomew. Dec. 14, 1739, he was designated as one of the tithing men. May 20, 1745, he was appointed one of the committee to seat the meeting house in said town (probably to assign pews in the church). Feb. 17, 1745-6, it was voted that Elizabeth Webster, and several other females named, shall sit in ye pew under the stairs at ye east end of the meeting-house. Dec. 20, 1752, Cyprian Webster, and two others were appointed a committee to look after the making and paying for making of pews for the meeting-house, and he and several others were appointed "seaters" of the meeting-house. And on same date he was appointed one of a committee to appoint places for school meetings, &c.

Chipman gives in a list of the original proprietors of East Harwinton (all the proprietors of East H. probably belonged in Hartford, Ct., while the proprietors of West H. probably all belonged in Windsor, Ct.) the names of Abram Webster, Samuel Webster, and the heirs of William Webster. (The heirs of William seem to have been the only ones of the name who actually settled in the town.)

Aug. 20, 1751, a petition was presented to the State Legislature asking for the formation of Litchfield County, from certain towns named, and among the signers was Cyprian Webster.

She d. May 23, 1761, in the 61st year of her age, and he, Dec. 24, 1770, aged 70 years.

CHILDREN: Elizabeth, b. July 19, 1730, bap. same day, and d. Aug. 3, 1730; Elizabeth, again, b. June 17, 1731, bap. June 20, same year; Cyprian, Jr., July 28, 1733; Timothy, Oct. 11, 1734, d. Jan. 23, 1755-6, in 22d year. Resumed in Chapter VI.

2. Sergeant William Webster, b. Sep. 3, 1703, and bap. Sep. 5, of Wintonbury in Windsor, Ct., m. (1) June 3, 1731, Mary Watson, who d. May 6, 1754, in her 44th year, and (2) Sep. 26, 1759, Anna Case, dau. of Josiah Case of Simsbury, Ct. He was a member of the Church in West Hartford, 1732.

The following real estate notes show something of his history. Always of Windsor unless otherwise stated. May 5, 1730, Wm. Webster buys of Thomas Clapp, land in F. June 22, 1741, Wm. and Samuel Webster buy of Matthew Allen. Feb. 28, 1755, Sergeant Wm. Webster buys of David Brown: Witnesses—Pelatiah Mills and Beriah Tree. May 4, 1757, Wm. Webster of Farmington buys of Zebulon Shepard of New Hartford, land in N. H., "laid out to John Keeney." March 23, 1759, Wm. Webster buys of Gideon Burr. Jan 23, 1760, Wm. Webster sells to Ebenezer Doolittle of Wallingford, land in New Hartford. Oct. 22, 1765, gives to his son, James Webster, land in Wintonbury. Jan. 2, 1771, ditto "near my dwelling house." Wit., Matthew Cadwell, Jr. Jan. 2, 1772, "to my son, James Webster of Windsor."

By his Will dated Mch. 27, 1777, William Webster, of Windsor, gave to his wife, Anne; their sons, Joseph, Hezekiah, and Daniel; to his eldest son, William, besides what he had already given him by deed or gift; to eldest daughter, Sarah Lawrence; to daughter, Susannah Gillet; daughters, Anne and Welthean, and to his grandson, Roger Mills. This Will was exhibited in Court, May 3, 1779.

Jan. 4, 1790, distribution of estate ordered.

Jany. 7, 1790, Hezekiah Parsons was appointed to administer and divide the estate of the youngest son of Sergt. Wm. Webster, as follows: Whereas Daniel Webster, late of Windsor, lately died leaving estate both real and personal to which Wm. ## CHAPTER V.

Fourth Generation—Great Grand Children of Gov. John and Agnes Webster in the Line of their son Thomas Webster.

FIRST GENERATION, GOV. JOHN AND AGNES WEBSTER.—SECOND, THOMAS AND ABIGAIL ALEXANDER WEBSTER NAMED IN THE DIVISIONS OF THIS CHAPTER.—THIRD, CHILDREN OF THOMAS AND ABIGAIL ALEXANDER WEBSTER NAMED IN THE NUMBERED SECTIONS OF THIS CHAPTER.—FOURTH, GRANDCHILDREN OF THE SAME NAMED IN THE NUMBERED PARAGRAPHS OF THIS CHAPTER, PRINTED IN HEAVY FACE TYPE.

First Division, showing the Great Grandchildren of Gov. John and Agnes Webster, by their son, Thomas Webster, of Northampton, Hadley and Northfield, Massachusetts, who married Abigail Alexander.

Thomas Webster attempted to locate in Northfield, now in Franklin Co., Mass., but was driven back by the Indians. He lived temporarily at Hadley, but returned to Northfield where he died. Hostilities again arising, at least three of his children settled in Lebanon, New London Co., Ct.

SECTION 1.—Children of George and Sarah (Bliss) Webster of Lebanon, Ct.

1. Abigail Webster, b. Dec. 6, 1696, at Springfield, Mass., was included in the division of her father's estate, April 22, 1724. Nothing further.

The eldest great-grandchild of Gov. John Webster, in the line of his son Thomas, was Abigail, b. Dec. 6, 1696, at Springfield, Mass., daughter of George and Sarah (Bliss) Webster. As we have no record of her life, the distinction of beginning the fourth generation passes to her brother, Samuel Webster of Lebanon, Ct.

2. Samuel Webster, b. Nov. 5, 1698, at Northampton, Mass., m. Feb. 14, 1722-3, at Lebanon, Ct., Anne Marsh. Something of the history of this family may be gleaned from the following transactions.

1719, Oct. 18, Samuel Webster of Lebanon buys of Joseph Thomas also of Lebanon.

1722, May 10, Mrs. Samuel Webster united with First Church, in Lebanon.

1724, March 26, Samuel Webster of L. buys land there of Eleazor Williams of Stonington, Ct.

1724, Nov. 10, Samuel Webster of Lebanon buys in Bolton.

1726-7, Feb., he drew "lott" No. 19 in the second division of land laid out in Bolton. "For his privelege of Bump."

1731-2, Feb. 9, he deeded land in Bolton to Ebenezer Webster of Lebanon, (doubtless his brother) "50 pounds and divers other good causes," in the presence of John Webster, Jr., (his cousin.).

1732-3, Jan. 16, Jonathan Webster, Pelatiah Webster, Noah Webster, Jerusha Webster, all of Lebanon, sell to "our beloved brother, Samuel Webster of Lebanon, land of our honored father, George Webster of Lebanon, deceased."

1732, Nov. 29, sells to George Webster of Lebanon, land there.

1735, April 17, Samuel Webster was admitted to the First Church in Lebanon.

1736, May 12, Samuel Webster of Lebanon, purchased land in the town of Stafford, Ct., but the Stafford records show nothing further in regard to him. Buys of Jos. Payn of Stafford—wit's.: John Lamb and George Master.

1736, May 12, Samuel Webster of Lebanon, County of Windham, Ct., sells two pieces, one of which contained 50 acres.

1736, June 18, Samuel Webster purchased "lott" 34 of Joseph Colyer, of Bolton, second division of land in Bolton.

1737, Aug. 31, he sells to his brother, Benajah Webster.

1740, July 26, Anne, dau. of Samuel Webster was baptized.

1741-2, Jan. 11, sells to his beloved brother, Noah Webster of Lebanon, and takes in exchange land formerly owned by their honored father, George Webster, late of Lebanon, deceased.

1741, June 2, Zerviah Webster and Mary Webster sell to Samuel Webster, their brother, land formerly owned by their father, George Webster, late of Lebanon, deceased.

1743, May 4, he deeds lott 34 of the Second Division, to Joseph Webster (his brother), of Lebanon.

1757, Mch 26, Samuel Webster and Anne his wife of Lebanon, sell to Peleg Sanford Mason. Elihu Webster mentioned in the boundaries.

1757, Mch. 28, Samuel Webster and Anne his wife deed land in Lebanon lying "partly on the land of Elihu Webster."

1757, Dec. 23, Samuel Webster of Lebanon deeded land there to Jedediah Strong.

1785, Dec. 22, Dan Terry of Lebanon sells land there to Benjamin Kinne which extended "to land of Sarah Martin, set to her as part of her father, Mr. Samuel Webster's estate." (See Land Records, Vol. 14, p 461.)

From the foregoing it is evident that Samuel Webster and his wife Anne were living at the end of 1757, but of the exact date of the death of either we have found no record.

CHILDREN: (All born in Lebanon, Ct.) Samuel, bap. July 18, 1725, d. Nov. 4, 1742; Jerusha; Sarah, b. ab. 1730; Anne, bap. July 26, 1740. Resumed in Chapter VII.

3. Jonathan Webster, b. Nov. 5, 1700, probably at Northampton, Mass., m. at Lebanon, Conn., Mary Strong, b. Sept. 19, 1707, dau. of Josiah and Joanna (Gillett) Strong.

Jonathan Webster was one of the founders of the church in Goshen Parish, in 1729, to which his wife was admitted as a member, Jan. 30, 1732. On the 19th of June, 1745, he purchased land in Lebanon of Josiah Dean, on which Dean lately dwelt, and on which said Webster now dwells.

He died July 27, 1746, aged 45 years, 8 months and 22 days. His widow was living as late as 1756, as shown in legal records recited below.

Jonathan Webster left a Will dated the day of his death, "he being sick," which was exhibited in court, Aug. 23, 1746. (Willimantic Probate records.) In it bequests are made to his wife, one-third; to his son Jonathan, his dau. Mary, his son Israel, and constituted his brother, Pelatiah Webster of Lebanon, sole executor, providing however that when his son Jonathan should be of age that he be joined with Pelatiah Webster as executor. The witnesses were Samuel Webster, Pelatiah Marsh and Pelatiah Webster, Jr. The estate was inventoried at 934 pounds, 4 shillings and 9 pence, dated Aug. 18, 1746.

Lebanon Town Records show that, March 16, 1746-7, Mary Webster, of Lebanon, widow of Jonathan Webster, late of Lebanon, deeded land to her son Jonathan Webster.

Jany. 1, 1747, David Roberts and Mary Roberts, both of Lebanon, receipted to Pelatiah Webster, of Lebanon, executor of last will "of our honored father, Mr. Jonathan Webster, of Lebanon." Witnesses, Pelatiah Webster, Jr., and Jonathan Webster.

Tuesday, Jany. 5, 1747-8, Court appointed Ebenezer Webster, Stephen Strong and Samuel Webster, all of Lebanon, to set out thirds to the widow, Mary Webster.

April, 1747, Samuel Webster, Stephen Strong and Pelatiah Webster, set off the thirds to the widow, Mary Webster.

Jany. 31, 1748-9, The Court declared Jonathan Webster, son of Jonathan Webster, late of Lebanon, deceased, to be of age, and eligible as executor under the terms of his father's will.

Probably 1750, David Roberts and Mary his wife, who was daughter of Jonathan Webster, late of Lebanon, deceased, receipted to the executor, Pelatiah Webster.

Nov. 22, 1756, Mary Webster receipted to her son Jonathan Webster, of Lebanon, in full of demands for what was willed to her son, Israel Webster, by his father Jonathan Webster.

CHILDREN: (All born at Lebanon, Ct.) David, b. April 8, 1725, bap. April 25, same year, died Jan. 2, 1727-8; Jonathan, b. Feb. 26, 1727, bap. May 7, 1728; Mary, b. Dec. 14, 1729, and bap. at Goshen Church, Jany. 4, 1730; Abigail, b. Feb. 12, 1731-2, bap. at Goshen Church, Feb. 16, 1731, must have died prior to July 27, 1746, as she is not mentioned in her father's Will; Israel, b. June 18, 1735, bap. at Goshen Church July 6, same year, and died at Lake George, Oct. 24, 1755, "in ye 21 year of age." Resumed in Chapter VII.

4. Pelatiah Webster, b. Nov. 17, 1702, at Northampton, Mass., m. Dec. 14, 1725, at Lebanon, Conn., Joanna Crowfoot (Church record.), who was the widow, Joanna Smith. On this same date, Pelatiah Webster's mother, Sarah Bliss Webster, married Capt. John Marsh, which see. He was admitted to the church in Goshen Parish, July 12, 1730, and his wife, Joanna, Oct. 4, 1730.

The town records of Sharon, Ct., show: "April 19, 1746, Jeremiah Foster, of Sharon, deeds land in Sharon to Pelatiah Webster, of Lebanon."

Lebanon Town Records show, April 4, 1748, Pelatiah Webster, of Lebanon, deeded land to John Webster, of Lebanon, and Aug. 25, 1757, Pelatiah Webster, of Lebanon, deeded land in Lebanon, bordering on land of Samuel Webster.

From Willimantic Probate Records. March 3d, 1756, Administration was granted to William Clark and Joanna Webster, both of Lebanon, on the estate of Pelatiah Webster, late of Lebanon, deceased. March 4, 1756, an inventory was made of the estate which amounted to 588 pounds, 1 shilling and 2 pence.

Dec. 13th, 1756, the Court ordered them to sell a part of the estate, to make 100 pounds, notice of sale to be published at Lebanon. Again June 28th, 1757, ordered another sale to raise 80 pounds, and again April 6th, 1759, a similar order to raise 25 pounds, notice of two last mentioned sales to be published in the three Societies of Lebanon, and also in Windham, and in Coventry; and Aug. 22d, 1757, they reported sale of portions of estate, and the land is described as bordering on land of Samuel Webster.

In May, 1757, on petition of William Clark and Joanna Webster, the General Assembly of the Colony granted liberty to sell some of the estate of Pelatiah Webster to pay debts, and in March 1759, on petition of William Clark alone, as administrator, a similar grant was made.

Aug. 25, 1757, William Clark and Joanna Webster of Lebanon, ad. on est. of Pelatiah Webster late of Lebanon, deceased, sell to Pelatiah Webster of Lebanon.

April 2d, 1760, John Lyman and Israel Loomis, guardians of Constant and Abigail Webster, two of the heirs of the estate of Pelatiah Webster, moved for a division, which was ordered, viz: to Pelatiah, eldest son, to Shadrach, to Oliver, to Constant, to Jerusha Bailey, wife of Joseph Bailey, Jr., to Sarah Webster, and to Abigail Webster, all the heirs to said estate, and same date, division was made, viz: to "Oliver the 3d of said deceased" and to Sarah Webster, to Jerusha, to Constant, and to Abigail, and states that the eldest son, Pelatiah, hath made over his share to his brothers Shadrach and Oliver, and that Shadrach hath received his part at Greenwich, a freehold estate belonging to said deceased.

Dec. 20, 1771, Mrs. Joanna Webster, widow, and Oliver one of children petitioned for a division which was ordered, viz: to Pelatiah, eldest son, a double portion; to heirs of Shadrach, to Oliver, Sarah, Jerusha, Constant, and Abigail. Feb. 4, 1772, division made of that part of estate which had been set off as thirds to the widow, Joanna Webster, since deceased. (Pelatiah, the eldest son, having relinquished his double portions, to his brothers, Shadrach and Oliver, and Shadrach having taken for his share, the farm which his father had owned in Greenwich, in Boston Govt.) Division was made to Oliver, to Constant, to Sarah, eldest daughter, to Abigail, youngest daughter, and to Jerusha, "mother of the heirs of said deceased." Part of the land was described as adjoining land of Samuel Webster.

Inscription on tombstone of Pelatiah Webster, in Cemetery, at Lebanon, Ct. "The body of Mr. Peletiah Webster lies buried here. He married Mrs. Joanna Smith, by her had eight children, gave his eldest son a liberal education, the rest he brought up reputably. He was a pious and prudent man. Born 17 Nov., 1702. Died 15th Feby., 1756."

Pelatiah Webster died Feb. 15, 1756, aged 53 years, 2 months and 28 days. She died prior to Feb. 4, 1772.

12. Joseph Webster, a shoemaker, b. May 20, 1720, at Lebanon, Conn., m. (1) Nov. 14, 1744, as shown by the Bolton, Ct., town records, Martha Adams, and (2) about 1757, as shown by the Stafford, Ct., town records, Hannah .....

As shown in extracts following, Joseph Webster was of Lebanon in 1743 when he sold land which had belonged to his honored father, George Webster of Lebanon, deceased. In 1753 he was of Bolton. In 1756 he sold land in Windsor where he then resided, and evidently removed at once to Stafford where he was a resident in 1757, and remained until his death in 1788. In Stafford his church relations were with the "West Society," a church in the west portion of the town, whose records we are advised do not now, 1913, exist. This has obscured many points that might otherwise have been made plain concerning this family. In chronological order the land and other notes appear as follows:

1743, May 2, Joseph Webster of Lebanon deeded land there to Samuel Webster of Lebanon, which had belonged to his father, George Webster, deceased.

1743, May 4, Joseph Webster of Lebanon had land on "Lott" No. 34 of 2d division in Bolton, which was deeded to him by Samuel Webster of Lebanon.

1743, May 16, Joseph Webster of Lebanon, Cordwainer, sells to Samuel Webster of Lebanon, land there that belonged "to my honored father, George Webster of said Lebanon, deceased."

1753, April 12, Joseph Webster of Bolton deeded said "Lott No. 34," to Phynies Stadman in exchange for land of the latter in Windsor.

1753, April 12, Joseph Webster of Bolton buys of Joseph Steadman of Windsor, land in Windsor.

1756, July 17, Joseph Webster of Windsor sells to Abner Fitch of Coventry, land in Windsor. Witnesses: Joseph Strong, Jr., and Tabitha Strong.

1757, July 31, Joseph Webster of Stafford buys of Josiah Converse Stafford, land there. Witnesses, Isaac Pinney, Susannah Pinney.

1768, April 4, Joseph Webster of Stafford buys of Joseph Pasko of Stafford, 1½ acres in South west part of the town.

1768, Sept. 7, Joseph Webster of Stafford buys of Abner Burroughs of Windsor, land in Stafford. Wit's: Zebulon West, Samuel Cobb.

1774, Aug. 15, Joseph Webster of Stafford sells to Joseph Pasko of Stafford, land which he had previously purchased of Pasko.

1778, Mch 3, Joseph Webster of Stafford, buys of John Gager of Norwich. Wit's: Zephaniah Alden, Nathan Webster.

1778, April 10, Joseph Webster to Nathan Webster, both of Stafford, 20 acres, "being part of the farm on which I now live."

1779, July 3, Joseph Webster of Stafford to "my son, Nathan Webster."

1780, March 24, Joseph Webster of Stafford gave a deed to "my son Simeon," who, in turn, gave a bond in the sum of $500 to support his parents the rest of their natural lives," showing that his wife Hannah, was then living.

1785, Nov. 7, Joseph Webster of Stafford sells to Joshua Pomeroy.

Joseph Webster is buried in Tolland, Ct., and his tomb-stone reads, "Died Feb. 28, 1788, in ye 66th year of his age,"—a discrepancy of one year, nine months and eight days. The dates of his wives' deaths are not found.

The town records at Stafford Springs, Conn., contain a partial list of the children of Joseph Webster by both marriages, but some of the names and dates have become illegible, and cannot be deciphered under the most powerful magnifying glass.

CHILDREN; (Stafford Town Records at Stafford Springs) (1st m.) 1753, Simeon Webster, son of Joseph and Martha Webster was born. (2d m.) April 19, 1758, Simeon Webster, son of Joseph and Hannah Webster was born, and died May 25, 1759; Feb. 13, 1760, Simeon 2d was born; Nov. 18, 1761, Anna was born; Amos was born, Feb. 5, 1766; Samuel was born, and d. Sep. 3, 1768; (Samuel's date of birth is also given, Sep. 20, 1767.) Sep. 2, 1768, Samuel 2d was born.

There may have been other children. There certainly was a Joseph Webster, Jr. as shown by the following:

1778, April 9, Joseph Webster, Jr., of Stafford, buys of Benjamin Thomas, Jr. Witnesses: Amos Webster, Nathan Webster.

1779, Aug. 9, Joseph Webster, Jr., of Stafford, buys of Samuel Gager of Stafford, land there which "I (Samuel Gager) bo't of my honored father, John Gager," being 40 acres by measure, b. on s. w. corner by land that I sold to Nathan Webster.

1779, Aug. 9, Joseph Webster, Jr., to Samuel Gagor, land that I bo't of Benjamin Thomas, Jr.

1788, Sept. 12, Joseph Webster of Stafford buys of John Thompson, Jr., of East Windsor. Wit. Joseph Allen and Anne Allen, and Joseph Kimball is mentioned in the boundaries.

Joseph Webster, Sr., died Feb. 28, 1788, and so his son Joseph omits the "Jr." in the above deed.

There are coincidences which suggest that Isaac Webster, b. 1755, of Bennington, Bennington Co., Vt., may have been a son also. Samuel, 2d, removed first to Bennington, thence to Fairfax, Vt.

Anna Webster in the above list may be Anna Gladding of Fairfax, Vt., where Samuel Webster settled. See following:

1804, Aug. 14, Isaac Webster of Fairfax, Vt., buys of Gamaliel Hopkins of same place, and Samuel Webster and Anna Gladding appear as witnesses. Same occurs in a purchase the same day of Moses Norton. There were Gladdings in Stafford, Conn., where Anna Webster was born.

CHILDREN: Revised list—Joseph, the eldest, probably b. 1745; Simeon 2d, b. Feb. 13, 1760; Anne, b. Nov. 18, 1761; Amos, b. . . . .; Nathan; Samuel 2d, b. Sep. 2, 1768; and Isaac. There may have been a Mary and a Martha. Resumed in Chapter VII.

Note: 1790, the Census gives for Tolland, Tolland Co., Ct. the following Websters: Joseph, Thomas, David, Ransford, Martin, Joseph.

13. Zurviah Webster, date of birth unknown, but about 1721, m. Nov. 17, 1763, by Elder Colton, (Bolton Conn. records) Joseph Cobb.

Lebanon Town Records show, June 2, 1741, Zerviah and Mary Webster, of Lebanon, released to their brother, Samuel Webster, of Lebanon, land in Lebanon which had belonged to their father, George Webster, of that place.

Aug. 15, 1767, Joseph Webster, of Bolton, had land in Bolton deeded to him by Ralph Cox, and the same date by Zurviah Cobb. The end.

John Webster, b. Nov. 29, 1727, is supposed to have died May 10, 1750 and not 1753 as given in the Dewey Genealogy. Resumed in Chapter VII.

3. Thomas Webster, b. Feb. 8, 1703-4, probably at Lebanon, Conn., m. there, Aug. 17, 1727, Lydia Lyman, b. Nov. 23, 1709, dau. of Lieut. Jonathan and Lydia (Loomis) Lyman.

Thomas Webster of Lebanon purchased land in Hebron in 1732 of Nathaniel Dewey of Lebanon, and settled there in the Gilead Society, where he remained for about 20 years, when the town of Bolton was set off. By the division he was left in Hebron, but as he was near the line, and was six miles from Hebron Centre, and only three and a half from Bolton Centre, he bought a small plot of ground adjoining his land, and moved his house over into Bolton. But several of his children who lived near him were within the limits of Hebron, and remained residents of that town.

The first mention of him in the Bolton Records is Oct. 23, 1751, when Jerijah Loomis deeded land to him in Bolton near the Hebron line and Nov. 25, 1751 and March 25, 1754 Beriah Loomis deeded land to him in the same neighborhood.

April 16, 1760, Thomas Webster and Lydia his wife of Bolton sold land in Coventry to Elijah Lyman, Simeon Webster a witness.

In May and June, 1760, Thomas Webster, of Bolton, Ct., was borne as a Deputy from Bolton, Ct., in a General Assembly of the Governor and Company of his Majesty's Colony of Conn.

He died at Bolton, Ct., Dec. 1, 1802, aged 99 years, 9 months, and 22 days. She died Dec. 10, 1790, aged 81 and both are buried at Bolton, Ct.

Elisha Webster was ordained Oct. 1, 1740 as the first minister of the town of Canaan, Ct. He was the first person from the limits of Southington to enter Yale College, which he did in 1734, and was graduated, 1738. He remained at Canaan, Ct., until Oct. 14, 1752. It is not known where he was, from the latter date to 1783, when he was made a freeman at Southington, Ct.

June 6, 1744, Elisha Webster of Canaan sold land to Aaron Webster of Southington where the land was located. April 17, 1752, Elisha Webster of Wethersfield sold to David Page of Branford, land in Southington. June 22, 1753, Elisha Webster of Wethersfield purchased land there of John Coleman of Bolton.

Elisha Webster served in the French and Indian War in the expedition to Havana in Capt. John Patterson's Co. (afterwards Capt. Roger Eno's Co.), Col. Lyman's Conn. Regt. as a private from March 20 to Dec. 5, 1762, 37 weeks and 2 days, receiving as his total wages, 18 pounds, 12 shillings and 10 1-4 pence. He was reported as in hospital New York from Nov. 23, to Dec. 5, 1762.

Elisha Webster died at Southington, Conn., Jan. 29, 1788, at the house of Capt. Samuel Pardee, and his widow, in 1789, aged over 80 years as shown by the church record. Her Will, dated Jan. 7, 1789, and exhibited in court, Feb. 11, 1789, is signed Sarah Webster. She gave all her property to Wm. Warner the 2d, of Wethersfield, and Wm. Warner was made the executor. The end.

2. Jerusha Webster, b. Jan. 8, 1714. No history.

3. Lieut. Aaron Webster, b. Feb. 24, 1716-17, at West Hartford, m. Lydia —————.

He held the military rank of Lieutenant. The Colonial Records of Ct. show that the "Assembly" of the Colony in Oct. 1761, "established Mr. Aaron Webster to be Lieut. of the 2d Company, or trainband, in the parish of Southington."

He became noted among athletes for various feats, among others for throwing a stone over the steeple of the old Church. His name frequently occurred in connection with the interests of the Congregational church.

In the Pension Claim of Asa Seymour it is alleged that Noah Webster, of Hartford, was a Capt. in the Revolutionary War, and went with his Co. to Fishkill, thence up the river to Livingston Manor, then back to Fishkill, and after two month's service was discharged. In the memoir of Noah Webster in the Dictionary it is said that, "Mr. Webster (Noah) volunteered his services under the command of his father, who was captain in the alarm list, a body comprising those of the militia who were above forty-five years of age, and who were called into the field only on pressing emergencies. In that campaign, all the males of the family, four in number, were in the army at the same time."

On a list of individual records, the name of N. Webster is borne as Captain with the militia at Peekskill, 1777. On the same kind of a list, Hartford Volunteers, it is shown that Noah Webster marched with the militia to oppose Burgoyne on the Hudson in September and October, 1777.

By will dated March 7, 1813, Noah Webster, Sr. gives as follows: to his wife Sarah, his son Charles, and to his children: Mercy Belden, Abraham Webster, Noah Webster, Jerusha Lord and Charles Webster.

Noah Webster's first wife, Mercy Steele, d. Oct. 5, 1794. He d. Nov. 9, 1813, aged 90 years, 7 months, 14 days. His second wife d. June 4, 1819, aged 78 years.

CHILDREN: (All by first marriage) Mercy, b. Nov. 8, 1749; Abraham, Sep. 17, 1751 (or Sep. 28); Jerusha, b. Jan. 22, 1756, bap. Feb. 1; Noah, b. Oct. 16, 1758, bap. Oct. 22; Charles, b. Sep. 2, 1762, bap. Sep. 5. Resumed in Chapter VIII.

2. Zephaniah Webster, b. June 1, 1724, at Hartford, Ct., m. Lydia Seymour, dau. of Bevil and Lydia (Dodd) Seymour of Newington, Ct.

Her name appears upon the West Hartford Church Record in 1754, but his does not appear in the list of members.

Zephaniah Webster served in the French and Indian War as follows: (1) In Capt. Nathan Whiting's Co., 2d Regt., as private, for 4 weeks from April 29, 1756, receiving as his total "wages" one pound, 12 shillings. (2) In Maj. Nathan Payson's Co., 1st Regt., as a private from March 29 to Nov. 30, 1757, 35 weeks and 2 days, receiving as total "wages" 14 pounds, 2 shillings, 3 pence, and 2 farthings. The roll was dated Ft. Edward, Oct. 17, 1757. Both were Conn. Regts.

Dec. 21, 1761: Administration of the estate of Zephaniah Webster late of Hartford, was granted to Noah Webster. Inventory of the estate taken Feb. 1, 1762.

April 12, 1762: His estate was represented insolvent and commissioners appointed to adjust claims of creditors. Commissioners: Benjamin Colton, Abraham Merrills, and Elisha Seymour. The Court allows Lydia Webster, widow of the deceased, 2 pounds, 3 shillings, and 11 pence, for necessities.

He died March 7, 1761, aged 36 years and 9 months, and since her name is not mentioned in her father's Will, in 1774, it is assumed that she died before that date.

CHILDREN: (Baptized in West Hartford church) Thankful, bap. July 7, 1754; Babil; Zephaniah, bap. July 1, 1756; Zephaniah, (again) bap. July 15, 1759. Resumed in Chapter VIII.

3. Abraham Webster, b. Jan. 17, 1727, at Hartford, Ct., of whom nothing is known except that Nov. 30, 1751, an inventory was taken of the effects of Abraham Webster, deceased, late of Hartford. The end.

4. Mirriam Webster, b. Oct. 21, 1729, at Hartford, Ct., m. (1) Elias Hopkins, May 10, 1751; and (2) May 14, 1761, William Sedgwick, born June 29, 1707, son of Samuel and Mary (Hopkins) Sedgwick. He died in 1771, and she mar. (3) Nov. 27, 1777, John Marsh, of New Hartford. Her husbands died as follows: Hopkins, 1756; Sedgwick, 1771; Marsh, 1805. She died at West Hartford, Ct., Sep. 17, 1819.

CHILDREN: (1st m., Hopkins) Mirriam, b. 1755. (2d m., Sedgwick.) Sarah, William, Timothy, Isabella. Resumed in Chapter VIII.

5. Deacon Daniel Webster, b. Sep. 4, 1731, at Hartford, Ct., m. Feb. 28, 1760, (Farmington records) although intentions were published at West Hartford in 1758, Azuba Judd, dau. of William and Ruth (Lee) Judd.

His name appears in the list of church members at West Hartford, in 1759, and again in 1770, at which latter date his wife's name also appears in the list. Daniel and Azubah Webster sell land in Farmington in 1760.

March 12, 1784: Inventory was taken of the estate of Capt. Daniel Webster, at Hartford, and March 26, 1784, administration on the estate of Daniel Webster, deceased, late of Hartford, was granted to Azubah Webster, and Daniel Webster. Aug. 15, 1787, estate distributed to widow Azubah, Daniel the eldest son, Asahel and Ruth.

He died Nov. 8, 1782 of palsy. She is recorded under the name of widow Zuba Webster, in West Hartford Church, in 1790.

CHILDREN: (All born and bap. at West Hartford.) Daniel, bap. March 29, 1761; Ruth, bap. July 25, 1762; Asahel or Asa, bap. Oct. 8, 1769. Resumed in Chapter VIII.

Second Division, showing the Great Grandchildren of Lieut. Robert Webster, by his son, Deacon Jonathan Webster, a merchant of Hartford, Ct., who m. Dorcas Hopkins, and Mary Judd.

SECTION 1.—Children of Jonathan (Dea. Jonathan, Robert, Gov. John) and Esther (Judd) Webster of Hartford and Glastonbury, Ct.

1. Jonathan Webster, a miller, b. Oct. 5, 1705, at Hartford, Conn., m. Feb. 1730, Mabel Risley, dau. of John and Mary (Arnold) Risley of Hartford. (Glastonbury records, p. 16.) John Risley was the son of Richard, the son of Richard Risley, one of the original settlers of Hartford. The name is sometimes improperly spelled Wrisley.

April 14, 1746, Jonathan Webster sold for 20 pounds, 20 acres of upland in the "Five Miles," to his son, Jonathan Webster of Glassenbury.

July 25, 1754, Jonathan Webster, Jr., of Glassenbury purchased land of Samuel Risley in the meadow at Hoccannum.

Jonathan Webster served in the French and Indian War in Maj. Nathan Payson's Co., 1st Regt., as a private from March 29, to Nov. 30, 1757, 35 weeks and 2 days, receiving as total "wages" 14 pounds, 2 shillings, 3 pence, and 2 farthings. The roll was dated at Ft. Edward, Oct. 17, 1757. A Conn. Regt.

April 25, 1767: Jonathan Webster, of Glassenbury gives to his son Jonathan, Jr., one half my mill lott in the Five Miles, bounded North by Elizur Webster, and South by Alexander King.

From Hartford Records of Deeds, Sept. 1, 1767: Jonathan Webster deeds to his son Ashbel one half of Grist Mill, mill lot, dam, house, barn, etc., situated on East side of river (Conn. river), and on the same date Jonathan Webster, Jr., gives a quit claim on same property to his brother Ashbel. And on the same date, Jonathan Webster, Sr., deeds to his son Elizur 200 acres of land on the East side of the river, situated in the "Five Miles."

At the October session of the General Assembly, 1777, provision was made that all freemen should take the oath of fidelity to the State and country. Jonathan Webster took that oath of fidelity at Glastonbury, in 1777.

Dec. 25, 1781, an inventory of the estate of Jonathan Webster of Glastonbury, deceased, was taken by Samuel Wells and Benjamin Porter, valued at 55 pounds, 5 shillings and 1 pence.

Both died at Glastonbury, Conn., she, Jan. 2, 1781, and he, Nov. 14, 1781, aged 76 years, 1 month and 9 days.

CHILDREN: (All born at Glastonbury.) Susannah, July 1, 1730, died Nov. 1, 1736; Ashbel, March 12, 1733; Mabel, July 29, 1735; Susannah, Sept. 21, 1737; Jonathan, Jany. 24, 1739; Asiel or Asahel, Oct. 28, 1740; Elizur or Eleazer, Sept. 30, 1743; Mary, May 8, 1745; John, May 12, 1747; Joshua, April 16, 1750. Resumed in Chapter IX.

2. Esther Webster, b. Feb. 25, 1708, m. about 1724, Timothy Smith, b. June 10, 1702, at Hadley, Hampshire Co., Mass., son of Deacon Samuel and Mary (Smith) Smith, his 2d wife. Deacon Samuel Smith was the son of Philip, the son of Samuel of Wethersfield, and later of Hadley.

Timothy Smith lived at East Hartford, Windsor and Goshen, Ct., (leaving E. Hartford 1753), and thence to Hanover, Grafton Co., N. H., in 1776, and is buried in the family yard just east of his old home.

Both died at Hanover, N. H., he Jan. 30, 1792, and she Mch. 9, 1793.

CHILDREN: (Born at East Hartford, Ct.) Edward, Nov. 25, 1727; Mary, 1728; Rebecca, 1731; Timothy, May 14, 1734; Esther, 1735; Abijah, Dec. 3, 1738; Jemima, Oct. 9, 1739; John, June or Sep., 1744; Hannah, 1748, bap. at East Hartford, Feb. 19, 1749; Aaron, bap. March 24, 1751. Resumed in Chapter IX.

3. Jemima Webster, b. Dec. 25, 1709, m. Samuel Risley, son of Samuel and Rebecca Risley, son of Richard, son of Richard, an original settler of Hartford, who was born, probably, in Oxon, County of Lancastershire, Eng., prior to 1615, as shown by the Risley Genealogy, entitled "The Risley Family History," Grafton Press, New York, 1909, by Edwin H. Risley, of Utica, N. Y.

Samuel Risley, Sr., died Feb. 6, 1756, in his 77th year, as shown in East Glastonbury church record. He left a Will dated May 9, 1752, in which he made bequests to his wife Rebecca, his sons Samuel, Richard, David, Job, Oliner, Thomas the youngest son; Rebekah Loveland, Ruth Hollister, Sarah Risley, daughters, and Abigail Risley, a grand-daughter. His son Thomas, named as Executor. 1756, April. 28, Inventory of Samuel Risley deceased was made and Thomas Keeney was one of the appraisers.

Thomas Risley referred to as the youngest son, and who was made Executor, died Jan. 1, 1813, in his 88th year, and Elizabeth Burnham, his wife, d. Aug. 29, 1801 in her 74th year, and both are buried in the Buckingham Cemetery.

Samuel Risley, Jr., who m. Jemima Webster removed to Greenfield, Franklin Co., Mass. The earliest real estate record there bearing his name is dated July 5, 1763 in which he is said to be of Hartford, Conn. He purchased 80 acres of John Severance of Bernardston, Mass. July 21, 1763, Samuel Wrisley of Hartford sells to Samuel Stoughton. The next year, May 5, Samuel Wrisley of Hartford, Conn., purchases in Greenfield of Nathaniel Dickenson, Samuel and Hannah Dickenson.

Samuel Risley, Jr., was evidently accompanied by his brother David in his removal from Glastonbury, Ct., to Greenfield, Mass., for March 5, 1764, David Risley of Greenfield sells to David Risley, Jr., his son; and Sep. 25, 1770, David Risley, Jr., of Greenfield sells 30 acres to Elijah Risley. An Elijah Risley of Gill, Franklin Co., Mass., who m. (1) Deborah, and (2) Polly Bancroft, may have been the above Elijah, and David Wrisley of Greenfield, b. 1740, who m. Hannah, may have been the David, Jr., above.

May 4, 1769, Samuel Wrisley of Greenfield sells to Timothy Bigelow. April 7, 1774, Samuel Wrisley of Greenfield sells to Noah Munn of Northfield.

The identity of the above Samuel is clearly established by the following real estate record in Glastonbury, Conn.: Oct. 11, 1774, Samuel Risley and Jemima Risley of Greenfield, and Stephen Webster of Bernardston, Hampshire Co., Mass. Bay Province, and Mehitable Smith of Hartford, Ct., quit-claim to Jonathan Webster of Glastonbury, land at west end of Jonathan Webster's lot, and the 20 acres sold by our honored father to Jeduthun Smith. Witnesses: Wm. Welles, Joshua Webster, Isaac Tubbs, Eunice Welles.

The last real estate record bearing his name is dated Aug. 23, 1787, in a sale of land to George Stoughton, son of Samuel Stoughton.

Undoubtedly some of the Risleys of that period, in and about Greenfield and Montague, were their children, although no birth list has been found. Oct. 8, 1788, Samuel Wrisley of Montague sells to Samuel Wrisley of Glastonbury, Conn., showing a continued relationship with the home town. Risleys from Bolton, Conn., and Coventry, Conn., all relatives, located in this region. We note the following names: May 5, 1775, Elijah, David Jr., Asahel Risley, all of Greenfield. March 9, 1782, Benjamin Risley, Jedediah Darling, David Risley, David Risley, Jr., Ithamer Allen, Solomon Denio, David Gaines, all of Greenfield. Oct. 4, 1783, Benj. Risley of Hartford, Ct., sells in Greenfield, Mass., to Ephriam Andrews. In boundaries are Merodock Smith, Elijah Risley and Elijah Risley, Jr., Zepaniah Thayer, Jacob Fox and Wm. Richardson. April 3, 1777, Gershom Wrisley of Coventry, Conn., buys in Greenfield of John Hawks of Deerfield. May 29, 1777, Gershom Risley of Greenfield buys more land of Abner Barnard of Northampton and Selah Barnard of Deerfield. June 20, 1780, Gershom Risley of Bolton, Conn., sells land in Greenfield, Mass., to Benjamin Risley of Bolton, Ct. The end.

4. Capt. Ezekiel Webster, b. June 12, 1712, m. Jan. 21, 1730, Rebecca Gaines, b. July 5, 1709. She may have been the dau. of Samuel Gaines who the year following sold land to Ezekiel Webster.

Ezekiel Webster was Collector in that part of the town of East Hartford which is now the town of Manchester, in 1746. One of the schools established in 1751 in what is now Manchester, was located near Ezekiel Webster's in the Five Miles, then a part of Hartford.

Ezekiel Webster was appointed guardian of Jerusha Sparks, a minor aged about 13 years, Feb. 11, 1752, and Anna Sparks, a minor six years old, May 11, following, both daughters of John Sparks, late of Glastonbury, deceased, and Aug. 7, 1753 he exhibited in Court an inventory of the estate of Susannah Sparks, late of Hartford, deceased.

Cap. Ezekiel Webster was killed by an Indian. Tradition in various branches of the family says in the French and Indian War. He died July 3, 1756. Mr. John G. Fitch of Olmstead, Ohio, writing under date of Jan. 31, 1887, says: "Thaddeus Fitch m. Nov. 27, 1788, at North Bolton, Ct., now Vernon, Rebecca Webster, dau. of Elijah. Her grandfather, Ezekiel Webster, was killed by the Indians near Syracuse, N. Y."

Scribner's History of the United States, Vol. III, p. 290, recites: "On the 3d of July, when Col. Bradstreet, who had been charged with the conduct of a convoy of provisions and stores down the Onondaga to Oswego, was returning to Schenectady, he was suddenly attacked about ten miles from Oswego, and had a sharp skirmish with a body of Canadians and Indians," etc. On the 8th of the previous September the battle of Lake George had been fought, war had been declared by the English, May 17, 1756, and by the French, June 9, following. The coincidence of time and circumstance gives confirmation to the tradition.

Stephen Webster, a younger brother, sixteen years the junior of Ezekiel, named one of his sons in honor of Cap. Ezekiel, his brother, and in his later life told of this older brother "of light curled hair and immense build and strength," who was killed at Quebec, the place, no doubt an error.

In the line of Ephriam Webster, a son, is the tradition that Cap. Ezekiel Webster was an officer in the Revolutionary war; that he was killed by an Indian who removed his heart before life was extinct, and ate it. The date of his death fixes the war in which he fell; it was too early for the Revolution.

Sep. 7, 1756, administration was granted on the estate of Cap. Ezekiel Webster, late of Hartford, deceased, to Jonah Olcott and Joseph Cowles. The inventory showed about 14 acres near Samuel Price's mill, with a mansion house. Thomas Pitkin, Jr., and Samuel Price, appraisers.

In his Will of Sep. 14, 1758, Jonathan Webster of Glastonbury makes a bequest to "the heirs of my son Ezekiel."

Nov. 5, 1761, the estate of Ezekiel Webster was declared insolvent, Samuel Weed, David Webster and Jonathan Webster being creditors, and 14 acres near Webster's grist mill were set out to said creditors.

Dec. 30, 1771, Rebecca Webster of Hartford sold to Samuel and Timothy Briant of Hartford, land in Orford Parish, Elijah Webster a witness. Feb. 13, 1773, Rebecca Webster, widow, deeds land in Orford Parish.

July 6, 1787, Elijah Webster, Alexander Keeney, Jun., and Sarah Keeney, all of East Hartford, sell land in Glastonbury to Joshua Webster.

June 9, 1789, Joseph McKee and Ruth McKee; Ephriam Webster and Eleazor Webster, unite in a deed for the transfer of the same land as the above.

For many years search was made in vain among all descendants for a birth list of the children of Cap. Ezekiel Webster. At last Mrs. C. A. Stevens of 53 Pine street, Waterbury, Conn., found one, and in a letter dated Sep. 18, 1904, she says: "The enclosed is a copy of an old paper I found not long since among old deeds, &c., taken from the garret of the 'mansion house' built by Ephriam Webster, on the banks of the Farmington river."

Capt. Ezekiel Webster d. July 3, 1756; Rebecca, his widow, d. June 28, 1796.

CHILDREN: (Born East Hartford, Parish of Orford.) Rebecca, b. Aug. 18, 1733; Ruth, b. June 3, 1736; Ezekiel, b. June 21, 1739, bap. June 24; Joseph, bap. Aug. 1741; Elijah, b. May 5, 1742, bap. May 22; Sarah, b. Aug. 8, 1744, bap. Aug. 26; Ephriam, b. Nov. 26, 1747, bap. Nov. 27; Eleazor, b. Jan. 4, 1749, bap. Jan. 28. Resumed in Chapter IX.

5. Mehitable Webster, b. Oct. 20, 1714, m. (1) a Morley, and and (2) John Smith, as shown by the following lease:

1770, July 15, I, widdow Mehitable Smith of Hartford, West Division, do for value received, lease unto my son, Timothy Morley (or Mosley) all my third part of the farm that was my last husband's, John Smith, deceased, the whole time and term of life after date hereof. Signed by X mark.

The following is given as a possible clew to John Smith. Farmington, Ct., Sep. 24, 1743: Mehitable Smith wife of John Smith of Rye, County of Westchester, Province of New York, and Hannah, wife of Thomas Smith of Highland, Orange Co., N. Y., buy of Mary Hart, John Bartlett and Sarah his wife of Guilford, New Haven Co., Ct., land in Newington of Farmington. Mary Hart was wife of Rev. John Hart. The end.

6. Dorcas Webster, b. Feb. 13, 1716-17, m. Feb. 12, 1739-40, Eliphalet Ensign. He was the son of David Ensign as note: Dec. 13, 1739, David Ensign of Hartford, Ct., gave Eliphalet, his son, land in New Hartford, where afterward Eliphalet resided, and where Eliphalet Ensign d. July 21, 1792, in his 75th year. She doubtless d. at Whitestown, Herkimer (afterward Oneida) Co., N. Y., as witness: 1797, Dec. 25, she gave power of att'y to her son Samuel to rent her farm in New Hartford, Ct., "on which my late husband, Eliphalet Ensign formerly lived," and describes herself as "late of New Hartford." Math. Hurlburt, Jutsice of the Peace, and Uriah Seymour are named in the paper. Eliphalet Ensign had a brother David who m. July 4, 1753, Elizabeth Stevenson. These brothers took the oath of freeman in New Hartford, Ct., Dec. 10, 1752.

Real Estate Note:—1777, Apr. 2, David Webster of Wethersfield; Eliphalet and Dorcas Ensign of New Hartford, Litchfield Co., Ct., quit-claim to Jonathan Webster of Glastonbury, land in Glastonbury. Witnesses, Zebulon Merrill of New Hartford, Aaron Austin, Sarah Kelsey, and Hepzibah Webster.

CHILDREN: (Ensign) (Born at New Hartford, Ct.) Datis, Dec. 23, 1739-40; Jerusha, Nov. 18, 1742; Samuel, Sep. 6, 1745; Eliphalet, Jr., Aug. 16, 1748; Elias, Dec. 26, 1750; Seth, Dec. 20, 1754; Seth (again), Apr. 10, 1755.

(1) Jerusha m. Jan. 25, 1770, Daniel Shepherd, Jr.

(2) Samuel m. Sep. 3, 1767, Mary Ives. CHILDREN: Samuel, b. Aug. 2, 1768; Bela, Feb. 13, 1770; Linus, Apr. 10, 1772; Seba, b. Mch. 20, 1774, d. May 2, 1774.

(3) Eliphalet, Jr. m. Nov. 20, 1777, Esther Dickinson. CHILDREN: Esther, b. July 31, 1778; Elias, Apr. 17, 1780, d. June 22, 1783; Polly, Jan. 29, 1782; Elias (again), Jan. 7, 1784; Anna, Mch. 12, 1786; Eliphalet, Jr., Nov. 25, 1788; Dorcas, Apr. 9, 1791; Lucy, July 10, 1793; Sally, Nov. 2, 1795; Susanna, b. Chemung, Tioga Co., N. Y., Jan. 15, 1798; Titus, b. Ulster, Luzerne Co., Pa., Feb. 13, 1801. (The above taken from town records at New Hartford, Ct.)

Linus Ensign of Whitestown, Oneida Co., N. Y., in 1802 purchased land of Peter Smith and Elizabeth his wife, of Utica, N. Y., probably in the town of Cazenovia. 1839, Thomas Ensign, Nelson, N. Y.

Nov. 20, 1777, Uriah Seymour, Jr., and Dorcas Ensign were married. (New Hartford, Ct., records.) Was she a dau. of Eliphalet not included in above list?

Eliphalet Ensign, Sr., who m. Dorcas Webster, was the son of David Ensign of Hartford, Ct., who in his Will, dated Nov. 6, 1759, named his wife, Sarah, his daughters Abigail, Hannah, Zerviah; his sons, David, Eliphalet, Datis, Ezekiel; his grandson, Ebenezer Price, and "my son," Solomon Ensign, for executor. The end.

7. Sarah Webster, b. Jan. 13, 1718-19, is mentioned in her father's Will of 1758, as Sarah Keeney. A deed is given in 1751 by John Keeney and Sarah his wife of Glastonbury, which may have been the above Sarah Webster and her husband. The Centennial of Glastonbury, p. 197, affirms that she married John Case. If she was twice married it is probable that John Case was her 2d husband. She had a niece, Sarah, dau. of Cap. Ezekiel Webster, who m. Alexander Keeney, Jr. The end.

8. David Webster, b. Jan. 29, 1720-21, a lawyer of Glastonbury, Ct., m. (1) June 20, 1750, Lydia Andrus, b. July 20, 1730, dau. of Caleb and Mary (Gillett) Andrus of Newington Parish in Wethersfield, Ct. He m. (2) Oct. 29, 1761, Zerviah Hart, b. Dec. 16, 1728, dau. of Hezekiah and Martha (Beckley) Hart, and widow of John Allis, who was b. Sep. 11, 1726 and died Jan. 17, 1786, son of William Allis. Zerviah Hart had one son by John Allis, namely Abel Allis, b. 1775, who m. Widow Thankful Gilbert, and d. July 3, 1816. David Webster m. (3) Nov. 22, 1786, Olive Smith, widow of Abraham Deming.

David Webster graduated at Yale in 1741; studied and practiced law at Farmington and elsewhere. Taught school in Newington from 1751 to 1759, all but two years, and there made the acquaintance of Lydia Andrews, who became his first wife. He also taught school in Great Swamp society. Lydia, his wife, was large and tall, he small. The children were large like the mother. He located on the hill near the line between the town of Farmington and Wethersfield, where Jonathan Webster, now (1868) lives. He died at the house on the hill where the late Philo Webster lived and in 1864 died.

The Will of David Webster dated Jany. 8, 1805, when his age is given: "Aetate Octavo Decimo Quatuor." He gives to his wife Olive; son Amos A.; son David; son John; his daughter the wife of William Steele; his daughter Mary, relict and widow of Jonathan Beckley; daughter Hephzibah, wife of Israel Deming; daughter Lydia, wife of Elijah Bevins; his granddaughters Lucy, Lydia, and Olive Deming, Zerviah youngest daughter of his son John. Will exhibited in Court June 6, 1806. Inventory taken May 29, 1806.

The estate was distributed Dec. 12, 1806, to the widow, Amos, David, John, Hannah, Lydia, Hepzibah, Mary, and Zerviah, a granddaughter.

He and his wives died in Newington, Ct., as follows: Lydia Andrus, April 13, 1761, in her 31st year; Serviah Hart-Allis, Jan. 17, 1786, aged 57 years and 1 mo., and he, May 12, 1806, in his 85th year, and his widow, Olive Smith-Deming, March 31, 1831, aged 92 years.

10. Stephen Webster, b. June 11, 1728, m. (1) Rebeckah Williams, dau. of Jacob and Rebecca (Hubbard) Williams. He

m. (2) Dec. 2, 1767, at Glastonbury, Ct., Widow Elizabeth Fox nee Kilbourne, widow of Thomas Fox, son of Abraham Fox. He m. (3) (intentions published June 8, 1788, at Northfield, Mass.) Patience Johnson of Hinsdale, N. H.

Stephen Webster probably removed from Glastonbury, Ct., to Bernardston, Mass., between 1771 and 1775, as his son Ezekiel was learning his trade at the former place during the early part of the War of the Revolution. He removed from Bernardston, Mass., to Northfield, Mass., in 1805.

May 16, 1771, Stephen Webster, in a deed given John Foster of Bernardston, Mass., for a house and 50 acres of land, signs himself as of "Glossenbury, Ct."

Feb. 13, 1773, Stephen Webster and Elizabeth his wife of Bernardston, Hampshire Co., Mass., sell land in Glastonbury, Conn., in Eastbury Parish, to Thomas Hunt, where said Hunt now dwells, 17 acres set out to said Elizabeth by her father, Abraham Kilborn, deceased. Abraham Kilborn, b. 1675, d. 1713, m. in 1699, Sarah Goodrich, dau. of John Goodrich.

April 4, 1777, Stephen Webster, of Bernardston, Mass., land there of Ebenezer Mattoon of Amherst, bounded by land of Stephen Webster and Job Wright. Witnesses, John Burke and John Burke, Jr. Two years later, April 10, a deed includes the names of his grandsons, Charles, Jacob and David Webster.

Aug. 11, 1779, a deed (Glastonbury records) states that Samuel and Jemima Risley of Greenfield, and Stephen Webster, of Barnardstown, Hampshire Co., Mass. Bay Colony, and Mehitable Smith, of Hartford, for 8 pounds, sell to Jonathan Webster. Allusion is made to "our said father, Jonathan Webster, Sr."

Jan. 15, 1782, Stephen Webster of Bernardston buys of John Hollister of Hartford. Witnesses, George and Elizur Talcott.

Stephen Webster's first wife was Rebeckah Williams. Her father, Jacob Williams of Hartford, Ct., left a Will dated July 14, 1750, in which he made bequests to his loving wife, Rebekah, his son, John, (if John or Jacob dye before they come of age) his sons Aaron and Israll, wright in the 5 miles; his dau. Rebekah Webster, his daughters, Zubah Keeney; Anneh Williams, Deborah Williams and Thankful Keeney. (Hartford Probate.)

Stephen Webster's second wife was Elizabeth Kilbourne, the widow of Thomas Fox of Glastonbury, Ct. Her first-born, June 15, 1740, was Thomas Hunt. By Thomas Fox she had the following children: Michel, a daughter, b. Apr. 27, 1743; Sarah, June 1, 1745; Abraham, July 4, 1747; Ruth, May 21, 1749; Isaac, March 8, 1751; Elizabeth, April 16, 1753; Jacob, Aug. 28, 1755; Nama, July 25, 1757; Gad, Dec. 5, 1759. Administration was granted on the Est. of Thomas Fox of Glastonbury, deceased, to Elizabeth Fox, the widow, and Jonah Fox, both of Glastonbury. They, with Thomas Hunt, gave bonds for 200 pounds. Abraham Fox, a minor, son of Thos. Fox, dec'd, chose his brother, Thomas Hunt of Glastonbury, for guardian, and Ruth Fox, a minor, dau. chose her uncle, Jonah Fox for guardian.

Stephen Webster's third wife was Patience Johnson of Hinsdale, New Hampshire.

It is said his children were not well pleased with his last marriage, as his son Ezekiel being then (1806) town clerk at Northfield tacked up the "Publishing Notice" on the rear of the Church, instead of the front where such notices were usually placed.

The Bible from which the record of Stephen Webster, Jr.'s family was obtained contains the following: "This bible was bought Oct. A. D. 1762 by Stephen Webster for his mother Ester Webster upon thes conditions that she will endors the price of it upon a certain noat she hath aganst sd Stephen and also that I Ester Webster do by thes Presense will and give this bible to my son Stephen Webster and his heirs after my death. Second. In Aug. 1776, volunteered in Capt. Archelaus Buel's Co., of militia, Col. Sheldon's Regt.; "marched to the Sound and there took shipping for New York City;" was there at the time when the city was taken by the British, retreated to Kingsbridge; was in skirmish with the British there; marched up the river and, after "shipping of the enemy," returned; was discharged at or near Kingsbridge, after a service of three months and ten days. Third. In Aug. 1777, was drafted in Capt. Eaton Jones Co., of militia, Col. Elisha Sheldon's Regt.; marched to North River and had quarters at "Fishkill Barracks and performed service up and down the river to protect the inhabitants from incursions of the enemy; marched up the river when the British shipping proceeded up the river to the relief of Burgoyne, to prevent their landing and making depredations, and down the river after Burgoyne was captured and the shipping returned down the river; was discharged at or near Fishkill after a service of three months and fifteen days. Fourth. In Aug. 1778, was drafted in Lieut. Ephriam Harrison's Co.; marched to North River and was at Kingston and vicinity for twelve days. Fifth. In Oct. 1779, was drafted in Capt. Zebulon Taylor's Co., of militia, Col. Sheldon's Regt.; marched to Horseneck, North River, N. Y., where the British and Tories were making frequent attacks; served about two months.

He was allowed a pension of $40.76 per annum.

Jan. 26, 1776, he receipted for a gun and bayonet, No. 63, at Litchfield, Conn., belonging to the Colony of Conn., which was drawn for use in the Colony's service.

At Utica, N. Y., is the following record of deeds: Edward Lewis, of Whitestown, Herkimer Co., N. Y., deeded land on Hugh Wallan's right, afterwards John Taylor's, on Sept. 19, 1792, to John and Simeon Webster. (Simeon probably the oldest son of John.)

Oct. 29, 1795, John Webster of Whitestown N. Y., sells land to Thomas Webster of Litchfield, Ct., "adjoining the farm this day sold to Chauncey Webster and Asa Webster.

Oct. 9, 1796, John Webster, of Whitestown, N. Y., gave a deed to Thomas Webster of Litchfield, Ct., and to Chauncey Webster, of Whites-town, and Asa Webster, of Litchfield, Ct. This land was on the road to "Anisga," or "Onisgo." Aug. 7, 1799, Anna, widow of John Webster, gave a deed.

He d. prior to 1799, as shown by preceding deed, and she was said to be living as late as 1832.

CHILDREN: (Born in Litchfield Co., Ct.) Simeon; Chauncey, b. Nov. 4, 1772; Thomas; Asa, b. June 11, 1775; William; John; Samuel. Resumed in Chapter IX.

Third Division, showing the Great Grandchildren of Lieut. Robert Webster, by his son Robert Webster of Hartford, Ct., who married as his first wife, Hannah Beckley, the mother of his children.

Fourth Division, showing the Great Grandchildren of Lieut. Robert Webster, by his son Ensign William Webster of Hartford, Ct., who married Sarah Nichols.

SECTION 1.—Children of Cyprian (Ensign William, Robert, Gov. John) and Elizabeth (Seymour) Webster of Hartford and Harwinton, Ct.

1. Elizabeth Webster, b. June 17, 1731, m. Jan. 31, 1787, at Harwinton, Wm. Haydon. (New Hartford, Ct., records.) She was from Wintonbury. The end.

2. Deacon Cyprian Webster, b. July 28, 1733, m. Feb. 25, 1768, Sarah Hayden of Harwinton, Ct., b. Nov. 21, 1743, at Harwinton, dau. of Joseph and Esther (Grant) Hayden. In Windsor is this record: Cyprian Webster m. Feb. 25, 1768, Sarah Nichols, b. Nov. 21, 1743, dau. of Joseph and Esther (Nichols) Nichols.

Cyprian Webster was a representative for Harwinton in the Conn. State Legislature in 1777. He was appointed Deacon of the Congregational Church in 1793. He was Town Clerk from 1766 to 1767. He was Selectman of the town for 1775 and 1809.

On the tombstone of Deacon Cyprian Webster, in the old South burying-ground, are the following inscriptions. "The first burial in this yard." "The first corpse in the new meeting-house."

"Let virtue guard thy narrow bead
Where virtue's image lays his head
Religion shed a sweet perfume
And angels watch around thy tomb."

He died at Harwinton, Ct., Apr. 12, 1809, aged 75 ys, 8 mos, 14 ds. His widow died March 11, 1828, aged 84 ys, 3 mos, 20 ds, and is buried in Goshen, Ct.

CHILDREN: Born at Harwinton) Cyprian, March 3, 1769; Sarah and Elizabeth, twins, born May 8, 1776. Resumed in Chapter XI.

SECTION 2.—Children of Sergeant William (Ensign William, Robert, Gov. John) and (1) Mary (Watson) Webster of Wintonbury in Windsor, Ct.

1. Sarah Webster, b. Jan. 8, 1735–6, m. June 2, 1757, Amos Lawrence of Kensington, Ct. A son, Joseph William Lawrence, b. Nov. 20, 1770, on Long Island, N. Y., settled first in Geneseo, N. Y., and then in Branch Co., Mich., Halls Corners, where he d. May 20, 1847. Henry N. Lawrence, a son, res. 1891, Lansing, Mich. The end.

2. William Webster, b. July 24, 1738, m. Edee Drake, b. July 6, 1737, at Windsor, Ct., dau. of Phineas and Deborah Drake, an Englishman, probably a deserter from the British Army.

Wintonbury, the home of William Webster, was at the corners of three towns, Windsor, Farmington, and Simsbury, and got its name from the first and last syllables of those three towns.

William Webster, Jr., was admitted to the Church at Wintonbury from the First Church at Simsbury, March 11, 1761. They were admitted to the Church at Wintonbury as husband and wife April 5, 1767.

April 9, 1783, Joseph Fitch and Prudence, his wife, both of Windsor; William Webster and Ede his wife, both of Farmington, unite in a deed to Thomas Eggleston of Windsor, conveying land which was their sister's share in the estate of their late mother, Deborah Drake, late of Windsor, deceased.

Sep. 18, 1784, Wm. Webster of Farmington, buys of David Weller of Wethersfield, land in Williamstown, Berkshire Co., Mass.

His descendants say that he removed to Washington, Berkshire Co., Mass., where he made a deed, Dec. 25, 1787. He sold his farm in Ct. Sept. 11, 1784. He removed later to Hartford, Washington Co., N. Y.

All of the above family lived for a time on the Hudson river near West Point, whence one of the family, Jehiel, is said to have started off one morning on horseback, saying that he was going to seek his fortune, and nothing was afterward heard of him until 1892. Another states that he left Ft. Ann, Washington Co., N. Y., then a young man without a family. A nephew says that just before Jehiel left home he (the nephew) remembers uncle Jehiel shooting into a flock of pigeons and killing 28 at one shot.

The Census of 1790 gives the name of William Webster of the town of Hudson, Columbia Co., N. Y.

A deed dated March 27, 1805, enumerates the following heirs of Phineas Drake late of Windsor, deceased: Roger Drake of Royal Grant, N. Y.; Joseph Fitch and Prudence his wife of Windsor; John Lewis and Hannah his wife of Suffield, Ct., Joseph Smith of New Haven, Ct., Ede Webster of Farmington, Ct., Benjamin Smith of Hartford, Ct., John Adams and Hannah his wife of Hambleton, N. Y., Fredeirek Wilcox and Eunice his wife of Cazenovia, N. Y., Polly Smith of New Haven, Ct., Joseph Smith, Jr., of Hanover, Vt., Deborah Owen of Westfield, Mass.

He probably died in Washington Co., N. Y., perhaps at Hartford, N. Y., but the date of his death or that of his wife is unknown.

CHILDREN: (All born at Wintonbury (Bloomfield,) Ct.) William, Dec. 29, 1766, bap. April 5, 1767; Asaph, born Dec. 6, 1767, bap. 3. Wealthean Webster, b. Jan. 4, 1764, m. Feb. 14, 1802, as his 2d wife, Thomas Shepard, Jr., bap. Nov. 29, 1764. His first wife was Mary Hoskins, who died Jany. 29, 1800, aged 35. Wealthean Webster died Jan. 11, 1809, and with her he buried a son and a daughter. Crazy with grief he cried out as the bodies were taken from his door, "come and get some more!"

His children by Wealthean Webster were Wealthyann, Mary and Lucy. All died young. It is said that Jason Shepard of West Hartford has a completer record of the family. The end.

4. Deacon and Maj. Hezekiah Webster, b. March 18, 1766, m. May 4, 1794, at West Hartford, Ct., Anna Goodwin, b. Jan. 5, 1776, dau. of Morgan and Mary (Hawley) Goodwin of Farmington, Ct. Hezekiah Webster removed from Wintonbury to Canaan, Ct., thence to Sennett, Cayuga Co., N. Y., where he arrived Oct. 7, 1821. He was a deacon in the Presbyterian church, as was also his son William, and a son of William, all in the same church.

In answer to an inquiry in regard to the correct name of the wife of Hezekiah Webster, Mrs. H. A. Vorce, his granddaughter says, "All I can tell you of my grandmother's name is, I have a small painting of her taken for my grandfather when he was in the War of 1812, and on it is written her name in full, Anna Goodwin Holly Webster, and I always understood from my mother that her mother's name was Anna Goodwin Holly before she married my grandfather."

Maj. Hezekiah Webster, who was familiarly known in later life as Maj. Ky Webster, was a farmer and resided at Wintonbury Parish, now Bloomfield, Windsor, Ct., until Sept. 1815, when he removed to Canton, Ct., where he remained until 1821, when he removed to Brutus (now Sennett) Cayuga Co., N. Y., where he arrived Oct. 7, 1821, and where he remained until his death. Previous to 1829 he was engaged for several years in selling clocks in North and South Carolina, in company with a man by the name of Stone, which venture proved a sad experience to him and led to his removal to New York State, which removal was then, 1821, considered a great undertaking.

He served as Capt. of a detached Co., of the Conn. militia in the War of 1812, in Col. Sterling's Regt., and was on duty at New London, Ct., from Sept. 13, to Nov. 1, 1813.

Cicero Webster says, Nov. 1, 1883, that Holley or Hawley was no part of his mother's name; that her maiden name was Anna Goodwin only; that Hawley was always a favorite name in the family but he cannot tell why. Later information shows that her mother's maiden name was Hawley.

Hezekiah Webster died in Sennett, N. Y., May 20, 1835, aged 69 ys, 2 mos, 2 ds, and his widow, May 20, 1841, aged 65 ys, 4 mos, 15 ds. She d. six years after he died, and on the same day of the month.

CHILDREN: (All born at Bloomfield, Ct., except the last, who was born at Canton, Ct.) Harriet Anna, born April 19, 1796, bap. Feb. 23, 1800; Hezekiah, born Oct. 1, 1798, died Nov. 15, 1798, aged six weeks; Hezekiah Goodwin, born Sept. 14, 1800, bap. Dec. 14, same year; William, born Sept. 25, 1802; David Hawley, born Nov. 21, 1805, bap. June 8, 1806, and died Jany. 29, 1809, aged 3 years; Julia Ann, born March 23, 1808; Wealthy Ann, born April 22, 1810, bap. Oct. 7, same year, died April 11, 1813, aged 3 years; Cicero, born Nov. 15, 1812; Samuel, born April 27, 1815, bap. Nov. 26, 1815; Sterling Edward, born at Canton, Ct., June 21, 1817. Resumed in Chapter XI.

1. Moses Webster, b. at Hartford, Ct., 1734, seems not to have mar., but the rolls show that he served in Capt. Aaron Hitchcock's Co., 1st Regt., of Ct., French and Indian War, as a private from June 4, to Oct. 15, 1756, 19 weeks and one day, at 12 shillings, per month, total "wages" being 7 pounds, 13 shillings, one pence, and 3 farthings. The roll was dated in Oct. 1756 at Ft. Wm. Henry, and he was reported "sick at Ft. Edward." The pay roll reported him "Died Oct. 15, 1756," which was evidently an error as the next item will show.

In Oct. 1764 his father represented to the Assembly that his son Moses, Jr., went into the campaign of 1756, and on his return was so worn out by hardship that his father was obliged to go to Albany to bring him home; that Moses, Jr., languished and after about five years died. The Assembly granted the father 25 pounds. Moses, Jr., died Feb. 20, 1761. The end.

2. Abijah Webster, born at Hartford, 1736, mar. March 27, 1760, Ann Smith, of Litchfield. He died June 30, 1762, and so far as we know without issue. The end.

3. Mary Webster, b. July 29, 1738. No history.

4. Amos Webster, born July 12, 1740, at Harwinton, Ct., mar. Nov. 19, 1767, Theodosia Bull, of Harwinton. Both died at Har-winton, he Oct. 12, 1827, aged 88 years, and she Feb. 14, 1817, aged 70 years.

CHILDREN: (All born at Harwinton) Mary, Dec. 21, 1768; Amos, Feb. 1, 1771; Abijah, Dec. 6, 1783.

The "Record of Conn. Men in the Revolution," has Amos Webster in the 3d Co., Capt. Joel Clark, of Farmington, of the 8th Regt. Col. Jedediah Huntington, of Norwich, from July 10, to Dec. 18, 1775. The Regt. was stationed on the Sound until Sept. 14, when it was ordered to the Boston Camps, and took part at Roxbury in Gen'l Spencer's Brigade. Resumed in Chapter XI.

5. Ozias Webster, b. Aug. 22, 1742. Wm. H. Webster says, "My father, Wm. B. Webster, affirms that this child must have died young as he never heard of him and never heard his father mention an uncle by the name of Ozias." The end.

6. Charles Webster, b. March 22, 1745, at Harwinton, Conn., m. there, Nov. 1, 1771, (Town records, 1772,) Hannah Phelps, b. April 20, 1753, at Burlington, Ct., dau. of Joshua and Hannah (Birge) Phelps.

Fragment of history on Phelps family from town records of Harwinton, Ct. Joshua Phelps m. at Litchfield, Ct., July 8, 1752, Hannah Birge. Among its first settlers (Harwinton) was Phelps, prob. Joshua or his father. In list of land owners at Windsor, Ct., in 1640, appear the names of Wm., Samuel, and Geo. Phelps.

CHILDREN: Hannah, b. Apr. 8, 1753; Mary, July 29, 1756; Rhoda, Jan. 31, 1758; Abigail, Dec. 25, 1759; Joshua, Aug. 29, 1762; Eunice, Aug. 30, 1766; Sarah, Aug. 29, 1769; Lynd, July 10, 1771; Lois, July 18, 1774.

Charles Webster was in the War of the Revolution with his brother Amos. They were out on duty for several months at a time at different periods of the War. As Charles Webster had then only an infant son, the women, with only the aid of a 16 year old brother of Mrs. Webster, were obliged to get in the crops, while, he, Charles, was in the service.

His grandson, Ozias L. Webster, claimed that Charles Webster, was one of the first to start out for service in the War of the Revolution, not even waiting to be summoned. He also stated that he knew of none of the family who served in any Indian War or in the War of 1812.

Official Records show, Charles Webster, private, 3d Regt., Conn. line, July 1, 1780, to Dec. 13, 1780. Also as fifer in Lieut. Chas. Seymour's Co., at Peekskill, April 21, 1777, to June 6, same year. Also as private in Capt. Foote's Co., Col. Hooker's Regt., at Peekskill, March 29, 1777, to May 20, following.

Aug. 5, 1840, Hannah Loomis, widow of Charles Webster, made her first application for a pension; her residence, Torrington, her age 87, and said he rendered four tours of service. Same date, George Jones of Harwinton certified that he served in Capt. Aaron Foot's Co., Col. Epaphras Shelden's Reg't. of Conn. troops; that he marched from Harwinton in Aug. 1776, to New York and was stationed there, and served at Harlem, York Island and other places in that neighborhood for one or two months, and that Charles Webster went with him, and served as waiter to Lieut. Jacob Hinsdale all that time.

Capt. Aaron Foot's Co. of Col. Noadiah Hooker's Regt. of Farmington, at Peekskill, Charles Webster, private, marched, March 29, 1777, dis. May 20, 1777.

The Comptroller of Conn. certifies that he finds the following on his records: "Pay roll of the short Levies who have served in Lieut. Col. Grosvenor's 3d Conn. Regt. in Campaign of 1780. Charles Webster commenced service July 1, 1780, expiration of service, Dec. 13, 1780. Amount of service, 5 mos. 13 ds. Wages, 10 pounds, 17 shillings, 4 pence.

March 4, 1847, Allen Cook and Eunice Phelps say they were near neighbors to Charles Webster; swear to his mar. prior to the war and to his service; she swears that she lived with Charles Webster at the time of the War of Revolution, and was with his wife during his absence in the service.

For Hannah Loomis, wid. of Charls Webster, private, was issued a pension certificate at $23.10 a year.

March 11, 1803, Charles Webster, late of Harwinton, son of Charles Webster, deceased, was appointed guardian of Martin Webster, age 13 years; Wyllys Webster, 11 years; Rhoda, ab. 20, and Nabby ab. 18, children of said Charles Webster, deceased.

He died at Harwinton, May 2, 1802, aged 57 years. She died at New Hartford, Ct., June 26, 1848. The Probate records at Harwinton certify that she died May 28, 1849, having m. 5. Micah Webster, of Wintonbury, Ct., bap. March 17, 1751. Was a soldier in War of Revolution, as shown in Stiles' Windsor and on Army roll.

Revolutionary muster rolls say, private Micah Webster enlisted May 25, 1777, for 8 months, in Capt. Abner Prior's Co., Col. Philip Burr Bradley's Regt., Conn. Foot, under Brigadier Gen'l. Huntington. He is borne on all the muster rolls from enlistment to his discharge, Jany. 8, 1778.

He lived, at least, during his latter days with his brother Aaron Webster. He never married. He died at his brother's in Henrietta, Monroe Co., N. Y., June 31, 1829, aged 78 years, and is buried in the Patterson Cemetery.

In a list of Windsor men, or those who enlisted there in War of Revolution, appear the names of Timothy, Zephaniah and Micah Webster; the latter enlisted in 1777 in 4th Conn. Reg't, Cap. Abner Prior's Co. And in a list of those who went out from Windsor in Oct. 1777, in a detachment under Ensign David Barber of Windsor, of Lt. Col. Willey's Regt. state militia, who started for Peekskill, Oct. 6, and were absent 38 days, appears the name of Corp. Zephaniah Webster. The end.

6. Aaron Webster, born Aug. 1753, and bap. Sept. 1, 1753, a farmer of Henrietta, Monroe Co., N. Y., mar. at Bloomfield (Wintonbury), Ct., July 1, 1778, Mary Sheppard, born Feb. 18, 1759, and bap. July 8, same year, same place, dau. of Thomas Sheppard.

In 1793, Aaron Webster removed to New Canaan, Columbia Co., N. Y., and July 5, 1822, removed to Henrietta, Monroe Co., N. Y.

He served in the War of the Revolution. He alleges service as follows, in his Pension Claim: 1st "Enlisted at Windsor, in 1775, for 7 months to go to Boston as a private under Capt. Humphrey in Col. Huntington's Regt. Served out the term and was discharged at Roxbury, Mass."

2d "Enlisted at Windsor in April 1776 for 7 months to go to New York as a Sergeant under Capt. Jonah Gillett, in Col. Gay's Regt., and Gen'l James Wadsworth's Brigade. He says that Col. Gay died in New York and that Col. Hart succeeded to the command on Long Island. He served out his term and was discharged at North Castle."

3d "Enlisted at Windsor for two months in Sept. 1777, to go to Rhode Island as a Sergeant under Capt. Jonathan Humphrey, in Col. McClellan's Regt. Thinks that this Regt. belonged to the "New Levies" and to the "State Line." He served out the term and was discharged at Providence, R. I. Was in the engagements at Flattush and on Long Island."

Besides above mentioned services he served in the militia of Ct. for 4 years during the Revolutionary period. He says that his house was burned Dec. 10, 1800 with all his papers including his Sergeant's Warrant signed by Col. McClannan (McClellan).

The "Record of Conn. Men in the Revolution," reports Aaron Webster served in the 3d Co., Capt. Jabez Thompson, of Derby, of the 1st Regt., Col. (Gen'l) David Wooster, of New Haven, as a private, from May 18 to Dec. 20, 1775. The 3d Co. served at the siege of Boston. In the latter part of June the Regt. marched to New York and encamped at Harlem, and a small detachment guarded stock on Long Island during the Summer. About Sept. 28, the Regt. marched to the Northern department, Gen'l Schuyler's, and took part in operations along Lakes George and Champlain. It assisted in the reduction of St. Johns in Oct. and afterwards was stationed in part at Montreal. There is nothing to show on the record whether the 3d Co. served with the Regt. at all.

In the History of Seymour, Ct. (1879) a list of guards for duty detailed at Horse Neck from Sep. 15 to 21, 1777, contains the name of Aaron Webster. He was allowed a Pension of $65 per annum.

Both died in Henrietta, N. Y., she July 26, 1833, and he June 4, 1843. Both are buried in the Patterson Cemetery, 1 1-2 miles from Fenner's near West Henrietta.

CHILDREN: (All born and bap. at Bloomfield, Ct.) Aaron, born May 26, 1779, bap. June 28, following; Samuel, bap. Aug. 25, 1782, and died at 6 years; Polly, bap. Oct. 14, 1792; Theron, born May 8, 1791, bap. Oct. 14, 1792; Almeron; Cynthia; Eliza. Resumed in Chapter XI.

7. Anne Webster, bap. Nov. 12, 1758, m. John Allen. Nothing further known.

8. Timothy Webster, born Feb. 9, 1761, bap. April 26, following, mar. at Windsor, Ct., July 1784, Sarah Allen, born Oct. 13, 1763, a relative (said to have been a cousin) of Gen'l. Ethan Allen.

Timothy Webster was a farmer and at one time owned a farm in Conn. which he lost by endorsing a friend, after which he removed to Columbia Co., N. Y. Dec. 17, 1784, Timothy Webster of Windsor and Sarah his wife sell to Elisha Allen of W. land in Wintonbury Parish.

It is alleged that he served as a soldier in the War of the Revolution but no record of his service has been found and no Pension was allowed to his widow. It is claimed that he served as a private in Capt. Griswold's Co., of Conn. militia and also as an Ensign in Capt. Parson's Co., of Ct. militia and that he first enlisted in 1778 or 1779. His widow was residing in 1839, at Sullivan, Madison Co., N. Y., then very poor and only kept out of the Poor House by her pride.

Stiles in his "Ancient Windsor," gives from old certificates of enlistment, etc., the name of Timothy Webster as one who went from Windsor in the War of the Revolution.

He died at Livingston Manor, Columbia Co., N. Y., June 9, 1813, and she at Sullivan, Madison Co., N. Y., July 31, 1841.

First Division, showing the Great Grandchildren of Thomas and Abigail Alexander Webster, by their eldest son, George Webster of Lebanon, Ct., who married Sarah Bliss.

SECTION 1.—Children of Samuel (George, Thomas, Gov. John) and Anna (Marsh) Webster of Lebanon, Ct.

1. Jerusha Webster, date of birth unknown, m. (1) June 25, 1754, at Lebanon, Ct., Joseph Martin, bap. Aug. 29, 1729, d. 1755, s. of Joseph, s. of William. She m. (2) as his second wife, William Hall of Guilford, Litchfield, and Lebanon, Ct., and Hanover, N. H.

CHILDREN: (Hall) (2d m.) Webster, Mercy, Joseph, Ithamar, Jerusha. Webster Hall and Ithamar Hall are named in the Census of 1790 in New Hampshire. The end.

2. Sarah Webster, b. ab. 1730, m. Abijah Martin of Woodbury, Litchfield Co., Ct., son of Joseph and Sarah (Harris) Martin, b. Oct. 16, 1720. He first married, July 13, 1741, Mary Terril, who d. in 1745. After her death he married Sarah Webster under an assumed name. Can this be it? 1748, April 14, James Jetson and Sarah Webster were married. (Lebanon, Conn. records.)

April 1, 1746, Abijah Martin for himself and his heirs does "resign up" certain lands to the proprietors. Oct. 1, 1746, sells to William Martin. July 8, 1755, Abijah Martin, Asahel Martin, Andrew Martin, Amos Martin (all begin with A.) sold to Benjamin Stiles land owned by their honored father, Joseph Martin, late of Woodbury, deceased.

Abijah Martin was a sea captain. Because of domestic troubles it is said that he changed his name. When this became known to his second wife, Sarah Webster, she refused to live with him. At length she relented and they were remarried under his true name. Their home was in Bethlehem, a hamlet of Woodbury, Ct. In the French and Indian War he was taken prisoner, and was given up by his friends as lost. Twice she married him, and twice mourned him as dead.

He had one son by his first marriage: Elijah Martin, b. April 15, 1744, who was reared by his step-mother with such care that she seemed partial to him.

They finally removed to Peacham, Caledonia Co., Vt., where she reached the age of nearly ninety years, so well-preserved and self-reliant that she drove spirited horses to near the end of her life. She died June 18, 1819, and was followed to the grave by sixty of her descendants, and it was said in the funeral sermon of her, "a saint who had sojourned awhile on earth." Three of her sons were in the Revolutionary War, two enlisting from Bethlehem, Ct.

CHILDREN: (Martin) Sarah, b. 1751; Abijah; (1749, Dec. 25, Abijah s. of Abijah Martin died,) (the following b. at Woodbury, Ct.) Andrew, bap. Sep. 5, 1756; Jerusha, bap. Oct. 8, 1758; Ashbel, bap. Nov. 27, 1760; David, bap. Aug. 11, 1763; Samuel, bap. May 11, 1766; Marsh, Aug. 27, 1769, probably died in infancy; Mary Ann, May 31, 1772.

(1) Sarah m. Elias Hand of Bethlehem, Ct., where he d. prior to 1800. She removed to Peacham, Vt., and d. in 1844, aged 93. Her farm adjoined her brother David's.

(2) Andrew was a soldier in the Revolutionary War; was twice married. Lived at Peachem, Vt. and Haverhill, N. H. Was 76 years old when he applied for a pension.

(3) Jerusha m. Seth Fairchild. She d. at Peachem, Vt., in 1838. Their daughter, Susan, m. Timothy Cowles of East Hartford, Conn. A granddaughter, Jane Elizabeth Cowles, resides, 1914, at 8 Sever Street, Plymouth, Mass., and has contributed much to the Cowles Genealogy which is being prepared for publication by Col. C. D. Cowles, retired, of the U. S. Army.

(4) Cap. Ashbel was in the Revolutionary War. He m. a Chamberlain. She d. at Peacham, Vt., at an advanced age.

(5) Captain David was in the Revolutionary War. He m. Olive or Sylvia Hard, and d. at Peacham, Vt., about 1840.

(6) Samuel m. (1) Chloe Stoddard, and (2) Ann Granger of Sheffield, Ct. He had a son and a grandson name "Webster" Martin. He d. at Stanstead, 1808.

(7) Mary Ann m. Nov. 20, 1795, Cap. James Chamberlain. She d. at Orwell, Vt., 1860, having survived her husband 56 years.

Tradition had it that Nathan Martin who took up land in Peacham, Vt., in 1784, was a son of Abijah and Sarah (Webster) Martin. (Furnished by Helen Guilford, 1820 Hawthorne Avenue, Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 25, 1902.)

3. Anne Webster, bap. July 26, 1740, m. George Smith of Lebanon, Ct. Nothing further.

1. Jonathan Webster b. Feb. 26, 1727, at Lebanon, Ct., m. (1) at Lebanon, Ct. May 25, 1748, Dorathy Hills, b. Nov. 20, 1730, dau. of Philip and Hannah (Cutting) Hills, who died April 3, 1762, and he m. (2) Nov. 24, 1763, Ruth Holdridge.

He was admitted to the church in Goshen, Ct., Aug. 23, 1741.

The Records of the Town of Sharon, Ct., show. "Nov. 13, 1744, Thomas Spafford, of Sharon, deeds a certain half right or allotment of land in Sharon, to Jonathan Webster, of Lebanon." Miss Talcott says she does not find the name of Webster on Family Records of Sharon at all and she thinks that they may have settled on the New York side of the line in Dutchess Co.

In an old Church Record of Exeter Parish, Lebanon, Ct., appears the following without date: The following are names of persons that subscribed for a building in Exeter to be used as a place of worship and schoolhouse called Brewster's Church. It (the Church) proved a failure and is now used as a schoolhouse, and called Church schoolhouse. In said subscription appear the names of David, Ruth, Jonathan, Benoni, Ruel, Gershom and Laban Webster.

Feb. 20, 1783, at Lebanon, David Webster, of Lebanon, and James Webster, same place, receipted for lands from the estate of their father, Jonathan Webster. Witnesses were Jonathan Webster, Jr., and Ruel Webster.

Williamantic Probate Records, April 23, 1783: Administration granted Ruth Webster and James Webster, (widow and son) on the estate of Jonathan Webster, late of Lebanon, deceased; and April 14, 1784, they were directed to sell some portion and give notice of the sale at Lebanon, and also, Exeter Parish; and April 21, 1785, they reported that they had sold to Rufus Lamb of Lebanon, and to Benoni Webster. June 19, 1783, an inventory was filed, taken by Daniel Abel, Jun., Israel Williams, and Elias Bliss.

April 21, 1785: Distribution ordered, viz: to widow, her thirds; to James Webster, administrator, to pay debts, 26 pounds, and remainder to be divided into 12 equal shares and distributed as follows; viz: to Jonathan, Israel, William, Benoni, Ruel, Gershom, Laban, Dorathy, Molly, Aaron and Ruth, equal shares to each, except Jonathan to whom a double share.

May 2, 1785: Distribution made to James Webster, administrator to pay a debt; to widow Ruth Webster, to eldest son Jonathan, to son Israel, to son William, to son Ruel, to son Benoni, to son Gershom, to son Laban, to youngest son Aaron, to eldest daughter Dorathy, to second daughter Molly, and to third daughter Ruth.

May 29, 1787: At Lebanon, Ruth Webster (the widow) receipted for 75 pounds, 19 shillings, 6 pence, in full for her dower. Witnesses, Ruel and Dolly Webster.

June 9, 1809: Claim allowed against estate of Jonathan Webster, who died in 1783, to the administrator, James Webster, and mentions that the widow had also been one of the administrators, but was then dead and refers to two sons who had become of lawful age before the widow died.

Oct. 10, 1809: Division of estate (widow's thirds) ordered, viz: to James Webster administrator, amount of his claim against deceased, widow's thirds, to eldest son Jonathan a double share, and to the other 10 children equal shares.

Oct. 31, 1809: Distribution of that part of estate which had been set to widow as dower, viz: to James Webster, administrator, for a debt; to eldest son Jonathan two shares; to Benoni, Ruel, Laban, Israel, William, Gershom; to Dorathy Webster, Molly Webster, Aaron and Ruth.

Dec. 16, 1809: Isaac Webster (probably should be Israel), William Webster, Benoni Webster, James Morgan and his wife Ruth, and Aaron Webster, appeal from the decision of the Court which allowed $40 to James Webster, one of the administrators.

In an old Co. roll of War of the Revolution, certified to by Capt. John Isham, and containing names of persons who enlisted at Colchester, Ct., and vicinity, appears the name of Jonathan Webster, "1776, New York City."

He died prior to April 23, 1783, at which date Administration was granted on his estate. His widow Ruth was in Hartland, Vt., Feb. 12, 1809, when she signed a lease for her property in Lebanon, Ct. She died in Hartland, Vt., Mch. 12, 1810.

CHILDREN: (Births at Lebanon; Baptisms at Goshen.) (1st m.) Jonathan, b. Feb. 23, 1748-9, bap. Feb. 26, same year; James, b. Dec. 22, 1751, bap. Jan. 26, 1752; David, b. 2. Mary Webster, b. Dec. 14, 1729, m. Jan. 3, 1745, David Roberts.

When her father's Will was written in 1746 she was not mentioned by her married name, but Jan. 1, 1747, she and her husband, David Roberts, sign a receipt. The end.

3. Israel Webster, b. June 18, 1735, d. at Lake George, Oct. 24, 1755, in the 21st year of his age, in the French and Indian War.

Original rolls on file in the State Library, at Hartford, Conn., show that Israel Webster served in Capt. Ebenezer Leach's Co. in the 4th Regiment of the Colony of Conn. in his Majesty's service; in the French and Indian War, as a private from Sept. 10 to Oct. 24, 1755 (6 weeks and 3 days) when he died. His "wages" amounted to 2 pounds, one shilling and 11 pence.

From Willimantic Probate Record, Lake George, Oct. 23, 1755, Israel Webster revealed his will to Joseph Hills and Samuel Hunt, that his sister Mary should have his mare and his brother Jonathan his best coat and jacket, and all the rest to go to his mother.

Jany. 15, 1756, Administration granted on estate of Israel Webster, late of Lebanon, deceased.

Hill and Hunt appeared in Court, at Lebanon, Ct., Dec. 31, 1755, and affirmed that Israel Webster declared his last will in their presence and that they committed the same to writing. The end.

SECTION 3.—Children of Pelatiah (George, Thomas, Gov. John) and Mrs. Joanna (Smith, nee Crofoot) Webster of Goshen Parish, Lebanon, Ct.

1. Rev. and Hon. Pelatiah Webster, a merchant and statesman of Philadelphia, Pa., b. Nov. 24, 1726, m. (1) Sep. 24, 1750, at Greenwich, Hampshire Co., Mass., Mrs. Ruth Kellogg of Suffield, Ct.

The town records of Greenwich, Mass., state that a purpose of marriage between Rev. Pelatiah Webster of Quobbin, Ct., and Mrs. Ruth Kellogg of Suffield, Ct., was given Sep. 8, 1750. After being posted three public days a certificate was issued Sep. 24, 1750.

He m. (2) Rebecca Hunt. In the Boston records, Commonwealth Report, Vol. 30 is this: 1785, Oct. 8, Pelatiah Webster, Esq., of Philadelphia, and Rebecca Hunt were married.

Rev. Pelatiah Webster was graduated from Yale College in 1746, studied theology, and preached at Greenwich, Mass., 1748-49.

From the ministry he turned aside to an active business career. His father, Pelatiah Webster, Sr., died Feb. 15, 1756, and the numerous real estate transactions occurring after that date, bearing the name of Pelatiah Webster, were necessarily his, as no other Pelatiah Webster of suitable age was living at that time. We append the following:

1756, Sep. 1, Pelatiah Webster became a land-owner in Stafford, Ct., but his name does not further appear there. He purchased of Noah Colton of Stratford, and his mother, Joanna Webster (by x mark) and Oliver Webster were witnesses.

1757, Aug. 25, Wm. Clark and Jonathan Webster of Lebanon, administrators on Estate of Pelatiah Webster, late of Lebanon, deceased, sell to Pelatiah Webster of Lebanon.

1759, March 8, Pelatiah Webster of Ashford, Windham Co., Ct., gentleman, buys land of Edward Goddard of Shrewsbury, Worcester Co., Mass., Gentleman, land in the westerly part of Hardwick, Worcester Co., Mass. Witnesses: Sarah Ward, Artemas Ward.

1759, April 12, Daniel Bascom of Lebanon sells to Pelatiah Webster of Ashford, land in Lebanon.

1759, Dec. 1, Pelatiah Webster of Windham sells to Jonathan Baker of Ashford, land in Coventry.

1760, April 2 and 7, Pelatiah Webster of Windham buys of, and sells to Silas Bingham.

1761, Oct. 1, Pelatiah Webster of Lebanon, buys of Joseph Mason of Willington, Ct., land in Windsor, Ct. Elizabeth Hill a witness.

1761, Nov. 30, Pelatiah Webster of Lebanon sells to Oliver Pomeroy, land in Coventry.

1762, Oct. 12, Pelatiah Webster of Lebanon, sells to Joseph Mason of Willington, Ct., land in Wintonbury (Windsor), Ct.

1763, May 30, Pelatiah Webster, late of Greenwich, Mass., now of Lebanon, Ct., has land siezed in Hardwick, Mass., by Daniel Goddard, Att'y, for Edward Goddard, to satisfy a judgment.

Some authorities have given 1755 as the year when Pelatiah Webster removed to Philadelphia which is a decade too early as shown by the real estate transactions, and confirmed by the next following:

1770, Jan. 10, Pelatiah Webster, late of Lebanon, now of the City of Philadelphia, Pa., sells to his two brothers, Shadrach Webster of Greenwich, Massachusetts Bay Colony, and Oliver Webster of Lebanon, land formerly owned (in Lebanon) by "my honored father, Pelatiah Webster, deceased."

Of him Noah Webster, LL. D., says: "Mr. Webster being dismissed from his pastoral charge, entered into trade, and settled in Philadelphia where he accumulated a handsome estate. He had attended a good deal to matters of finance, and during the Revolution it was customary for members of Congress, especially the Connecticut delegation, to pass evenings with him, and consult upon the money concerns of the United States. In 1783 he wrote a dissertation on the "Political Union and Constitution of the United States." In this he attempted to prove the necessity of vesting Congress with more power. Mr. Webster had one son who died in Philadelphia in the summer after the British troops left the city. He had two daughters who married in Connecticut. Ruth married John Perit by whom she had two sons, John and Pelatiah. John settled in Philadelphia, and Pelatiah in New York. After the death of Mr. Perit she married Mr. Leffingwell of Norwich. She is still living (1836) and a widow. Sophia Webster, the other daughter of Pelatiah married Thaddeus Perit and had one son, Pelatiah, who died in early life."

Drake's Dictionary of American Biography gives this summary: "A political writer. He studied theology and preached at Greenwich, Mass., in the winter 1748-49. He was afterwards a merchant in Philadelphia, Pa. He was an active Whig during the war of Revolution, and published a work on Political Economy. He succeeded David James Dove as teacher to the Germantown Academy, which was organized in 1760. In his "Political Economy" published in 1791, he gives an account (p. 187) of what he suffered by reason of the British occupation of Philadelphia. They threw him into prison in 1778 and detained him there 132 days."

A very interesting letter of Pelatiah Webster to Mr. Silas Dean, dated Philadelphia, Pa., April 2, 1774, is published in full in Hinman's "Connecticut in the Revolution."

An article entitled "Observations in Finance," dated Philadelphia, Oct. 4, 1776, was written by him.

The General Assembly of Connecticut granted permission, Sep. 20, 1777, to Pelatiah Webster to transport 5000 lbs. of sugar to Pennsylvania.

The splendor of Mr. Webster's career is becoming more and more apparent. Hon. Hannis Taylor, a former American minister to Spain, and a writer of wide repute on constitutional law, prepared and presented to Congress in 1908 a memorial setting forth the claim that Hon. Pelatiah Webster of Philadelphia was the real and original architect of the Constitution of the United States. That our form of Federal government is the product of his mind alone; that his "Dissertation on the Political Union and Constitution of the Thirteen United States of North America," written Feb. 16, 1783, and published that year, was the common source from which came the four "plans" presented to the Constitutional Convention four years later, known as "the Virginia plan," "the Charles Pinckney plan," "the Connecticut plan," "the Alexander Hamilton plan;" and that the Constitution, as finally written and adopted, embodied his ideals largely unchanged and with few rejected; that the greatest of modern governments sprang into life, full-orbed from his clear and mighty brain. If later, the Hon. Daniel Webster was the most illustrious expander of the Constitution, it should be remembered that Hon. Pelatiah Webster, an earlier native and product of New England, was its intellectual creator. One has fittingly said of the three great Websters; "Noah, Daniel and Pelatiah, but the greatest of these is Pelatiah." If out of the obscurity which has shrouded his memory for more than a hundred years should come at last a just estimate, it might go far toward establishing the above comparison.

Space cannot be given for the entire Memorial which is Document No. 461 of the Senate, presented by Mr. Carter, May 4, 1908, and may be had upon application to Senators or Representatives, but certain extracts follow:

"Pelatiah Webster needs the admissions neither of Madison nor Bancroft to establish his title to the authorship of the 'wholly novel theory' now embodied in the Constitution of the United States, because that title rests upon contemporary documentary evidence as clear and convincing as that upon which rests Jefferson's title to the authorship of the Declaration of Independence. If that be true, then he has made a larger personal contribution to the science of government than any other one individual in the history of mankind. Among our nation-builders he stands second to Washington alone.

"And yet among them all he only has been neglected and forgotten by his countrymen, not through any conscious omission, but because of a careless historical scholarship which has failed to present his great achievement in its true light. That conviction has impelled the undersigned—who has devoted more than thirty years to the special study of the origin and growth of our constitutional systems, State and Federal—to present to the Congress herein, very briefly, the historical data upon which Pelatiah Webster's right to immortality depends. He it was who first suggested the separate existence of the two Houses of Congress, when, in 1783, he said, 'That the Congress shall consist of two Chambers, an Upper and Lower House, or Senate and Commons, with the concurrence of both necessary to every act; and that every State send one or more delegates to each House: this will subject every act to two discussions before two distinct chambers of men equally qualified for the debate, equally masters of the subject, and of equal authority in the decision.'

(The italics in all the quotations from Pelatiah Webster's paper are his own.)

"Prior to that utterance no Federal Assembly, ancient or modern, had ever consisted of two chambers; no one had ever suggested such an idea. If after a careful examination of all the facts the Congress shall deem the architect of our Federal Constitution unworthy of a monument, the undersigned prays in his behalf that this humble memorial may be embodied in its records so that succeeding generations may determine for themselves whether or no his work has been justly judged."

Hannis Taylor.

The following is a partial account of the personal suffering which he endured in the struggle for American Independence.

"In the Spring of 1777 Mr. Webster's connections in trade were again disastrously affected, not only by loss of property, but also for a time loss of personal freedom. Having loaded a vessel of his own with a cargo of flour and iron he sailed for Boston and, on April 6th, was unfortunately taken on the passage by the English frigate Orpheus and carried into Rhode Island, where he writes, 'after one month's imprisonment I was released on exchange, having lost my whole vessel and cargo to the amount of about 2000 pounds hard money for which I had not the least compensation.' Upon his release from prison in Rhode Island he immediately returned to Philadelphia and remained in the City when it was taken Sept. 26th, 1777, by the British. Among other reasons for so remaining he had a child sick with the small-pox, who could not be removed; 'but,' he writes 'I did not enjoy the least friendly or confidential interviews with the British troops.' 'For three months my time was spent in visiting the American prisoners in the gaols of Philadelphia and in procuring for and carrying to their relief such food and clothing as I could collect, at a time when their distresses were beyond all description, and when it was deemed a crime to show compassion to them. On Feb. 6th, 1778, I was taken out of my bed at 11 o'clock at night by order of General Howe and committed to gaol. I was under great apprehension that my daughters—one a little under, one a little over twenty years of age—would go out of their senses with their fright and their unprotected condition. I suffered a most severe confinement and my property to a large amount was seized and conveyed into the King's stores. I could not obtain any knowledge of the causes for these acts; the presumption generally admitted was that my constant and careful attention on the American prisoners was thought to imply too strong an attachment to Americans to be compatible with the duty or protection of a British subject."

After the evacuation of the city 1778—June 18th,—Mr. Webster recovered liberty and a part of his property, but sustained a loss of 500 pounds hard money.

A writer in the Philadelphia Public Ledger, under date of April 5, 1908, makes the following contribution to the history of this remarkable man:

"It appears that some time before the Revolution, perhaps about the year 1770, Webster succeeded David James Dove as English teacher in the Germantown Academy. Dove it seems, became disgruntled with the management of the Germantown school and left, but he did not succeed very well with his school, which was established near the academy. Webster followed him, but how long he remained at the Germantown institution I do not know—probably only for a few years, since he is known to have been in business in this city about the time of the Revolution.

“The other fact, which I accidentally unearthed, was the burial of his wife. I do not remember to have seen stated anywhere that Webster was married, but it seems that he was. In the list of persons buried in the several churchyards in the city and Liberties from August 1 to November 9, 1793, under the caption “Second Presbyterian” appears the name of “Rebecca, wife of Pelatiah Webster.” The date is not given, consequently it is not known whether Mrs. Webster was one of the 4000 victims of the yellow fever or not. The fever did not rage during the whole of that period, and it was toward the end of August when it burst in its fury. It was very violent and secured many victims on Water street, and Webster, as is known, lived on that thoroughfare below Chestnut street.”

Nov. 11, 1793, Pelatiah Webster of the City of Philadelphia, merchant, made his Will, which was probated Sep. 9, 1795. The following are its bequests:

To my granddaughter, Alitheia Sparhawk, daughter of my late daughter, Alitheia, wife of Doct. John Sparhawk, lots on 4th Street, between Chestnut and Walnut Streets.

To my grandson, Pelatiah Perit, son of my late daughter, Sophia, wife of Thaddeus Perit of the City of New Haven, Ct., Merchant, land in New Haven that I bought of Jared Ingersoll, Esq.

To my two grandsons, John Webster Perit and Pelatiah Perit, sons of my son-in-law, John Perit, and my daughter, Ruth, his wife, my stock in the Company of Webster, Adgate and White.

To my granddaughter, Rebecca Hunt Perit,—devised to Maria Perit. My two granddaughters, Rebecca Hunt Perit and Maria Perit.

To such children of my son-in-law, Perit, and my daughter Ruth his wife, as shall be living at my death, a tract of land in Luzern County, lying on the waters of Wyalusing and Meschoping Creek, containing about 12,500 acres, which I bought of Samuel Wallis.

All my grandchildren, who are the above legatees, are infants under lawful age.

Executors: John and Ruth Perit.

Witnesses: Mordecia Wetherill, Joshua Lippencott, Charles C. White.

Pelatiah Webster and his son-in-law, John Perit, were buried in the Arch Street Cemetery, Philadelphia, one of, if not the oldest cemeteries in the city. It was subsequently abandoned, and the land condemned for business purposes. A section in Mount Vernon Cemetery, opposite Laurel Hill Cemetery was bought for the reinterment of removed bodies. The remains of Mr. Webster and Mr. Perit were accordingly taken from Arch street to Mount Vernon and placed side by side. A stone slab covers their graves, but the slab was erected for Mr. Perit and reads: “Sacred to the memory of John Perit, late of Norwich, in Connecticut, who departed this life, Jan. 12th, 1793, aged 56 years." Webster has no tombstone and his resting place is fixed by this slab only. The grave is located near the center of the northwest section which was purchased by the trustees of the old Arch Street Cemetery.

Dates of death have not been obtained of either wife, and his death occurred not long prior to the probating of his Will, Sep. 9, 1795. Descendants claim that there is no picture of Hon. Pelatiah Webster extant.

CHILDREN: (Record of Town of Greenwich, Mass.) Abethia, b. Oct. 24, 1751; Pelatiah, April 16, 1753; Ruth, Oct. 8, 1754, died Dec. 27, 1754; Ruth b. ab. 1755; Sophia, Jan. 9, 1761. Resumed in Chapter XII.

2. Ebenezer Webster, b. Sep. 15, 1729, no history. Not mentioned in his father's Will, April 2, 1760. The end.

3. Shadrach Webster, b. at Lebanon, Ct., Sept. 14, 1732, mar. at Greenwich, Hampshire Co., Mass., (Intentions published March 6, 1756.) Elizabeth Wright, both of Greenwich. He died prior to Sept. 18, 1770, probably at Greenwich, Mass., and she was living at that place Sept. 18, 1770. She m. (2) Dec. 23, 1772, John Hunt, Jr., at Hardwick, Mass.

From Hunt Genealogy: John Hunt, of Hardwick, Worcester Co., Mass., son of John, b. in 1749, mar. (1) Dec. 23, 1772, Elizabeth Webster, and (2) Sept. 23, 1784, Sarah Foy. W. H. W. says: This Elizabeth Webster was probably the widow of Shadrach Webster, and yet the following would indicate that she must have been separated from Hunt as he married (2) Sarah Foy in 1784. Elizabeth Webster Hunt was not dead in 1782 when Patience Hunt made her will, next following.

Will of Patience Hunt, of Hardwick, Mass., dated Oct. 28, 1782, proved in 1784, bequeathed to daughter Elizabeth, late wife of John Hunt. Codicil mentions the heirs of her daughter Elizabeth; Caroline (Wright) Webster, and Patience (Wright) Webster.

North Hampton Probate Records show Sept. 18, 1770: Inventory made of estate of "Sharach" Webster of Greenwich; Elizabeth Webster, administrator.

CHILDREN: Sarah, born Sept. 5, 1759; Elizabeth, born Oct. 11, 1761; Lavina, born March 7, 1764; Patience Wright, born May 15, 1766. (All born at Lebanon, Ct., except the first, the place of whose birth is unknown. There may have been a fifth child, or making at least five in all, named Caroline Wright.) Resumed in Chapter XII.

4. Oliver Webster, b. at Lebanon, Ct., May 6, 1735, mar. March 25, 1760, Patience Wright, of Greenwich, Mass. Bay. He was a resident of Lebanon, Ct., till about 1770, when he removed to Worthington, Mass. He died at Bennington, Licking Co., Ohio, about 1816, having previously followed his son Pelatiah to that State. She died in Delaware Co., Ohio.

Oliver Webster, Sr., served in the French and Indian Wars in Capt. Edmond Wells' Co. as a private from April 9, 1757, for 2 weeks and 4 days, receiving as his total "wages" 10 shillings and 3 pence,—a Co. of Conn. troops.

Oliver Webster served in the War of Revolution for 8 months in Capt. John McGreiger's Co., Col. John Durkee's Regt. Conn. Line. Enlisted Aug. 16, 1779, and discharged Jany. 15, 1780. Name on muster from Sep. 30, 1779 to Feb. 1, 1780. Muster of 1780 made at Morristown.

From Hunt Genealogy: Will of widow Patience Hunt, of Hardwick, Mass., dated Oct. 28, 1782, and proved 1784, bequeaths to daughter Patience, wife of Oliver Webster, of Worthington, Mass.; to daughter Elizabeth, late wife of John Hunt. Codicil mentions heirs of daughter Elizabeth; Caroline Wright Webster, and Patience Wright Webster.

1762, Feb. 8, Oliver Webster of Lebanon sells to Samuel Webster of Lebanon land there which did belong to my father, Pelatiah Webster dec'd. Boundaries mention land set out to my sister Abigail.

1772, Jan. 28, Oliver Webster of Lebanon sells to Beriah Southworth land set off to him from his mother Joanna's Est.

1791, June 24, Oliver and Constant Webster of Worthington, Hampshire Co., Mass., Sarah Wadsworth of New Britain, N. 7. Capt. Constant Webster, b. Dec. 7, 1741, at Lebanon, Conn., having lost his father when he was about 14 years of age, was bound out to a neighbor in Connecticut to learn the blacksmith trade, but ran away. He is said to have enlisted in the army when quite young (in war of Revolution), but remained in service only a few months, and on his return married Miss Kinne and lived in Connecticut. The first wife died and he removed with his children to Worthington, Mass., where he mar. (2) Mrs. Chloe Sackett, nee Atherton, dau. of James Atherton. He was captain of a militia Company at Worthington, owned a farm there, carried on blacksmith business, and was a member of the Congregational Church.

1763, April 19, Constant Webster late of Preston, New London Co., Ct., now of Windham, do. Co., Ct., sells to Beriah Southworth of Leb. land in Leb. laid out to my sister, Jerusha Webster, from the Est. of my honored father, Pelatiah Webster, deceased.

Constant Webster was a soldier in the French and Indian War and also the Revolutionary War.

His name is found on the fragments of old rolls of the French and Indian War, 1755-63 on file in the Conn. State Library, where he is credited with a service as private in Capt. Azel Fitch's Co., 2d Ct. Regt., from April 13 to Dec. 4, 1761, 33 weeks and 5 days, for which he received 16 pounds, 17 shillings and 1 pence. The Co. was mustered, in June 1761, at Albany, but probably also rendered service at other points; mention is made of some of the sick as left at "Crown Point Fort."

Constant Webster, Sergeant in Capt. Ebenezer Webber's Co., from Worthington; marched on Lexington Alarm April 20, 1775. Second Lieut., 11th Co., 2nd Hampshire (County) Regt., Commissioned April 5, 1776. Lieut.

in Webber's Co. on expedition to Stillwater Sept. 20, to Oct. 4, 1777. Lieut. in Christopher Bannister's Co. May 8, 1777 to July 8, 1777. Marched to Ticonderaga. Lieut. from Aug. 15, 1777, to Aug. 23, 1777; was in command of a company that marched from Worthington to Bennington to reinforce General Stark, returned home via Northampton conducting prisoners from Bennington.

The private named Constant Webster in Capt. Ebenezer Sheldon's Co. raised to reinforce the Continental Army, who served from Aug. 6, 1780 to Oct. 6, 1780, was no doubt the son of Capt. Constant Webster, in above list a Lieut.

The Probate Records of Northampton, Mass., show that Constant Webster, blacksmith, of Worthington, Mass., gave to his wife Chloe, and to his children (in the following order): to his son Constant; Shadrach; his daughters Mary, Lois, and Lydia; and to his sons Pilutack, James, Cyrus, Charles, Asahel, and Justus. His son Constant was appointed administrator.

He died at Worthington, Mass., about 1826, aged 85 years.

CHILDREN: (1st mar.) Constant, about 1760; Shadrach, ab. 1765; Pelatiah, lost at sea; Polly or Mary; Lois; Lydia, and three others who died young. (2d mar.) James Atherton, b. April 3, 1783; Justus, b. Nov. 10, 1786; Cyrus, b. Sep. 30, 1789; Asel or Asahel, b. Worthington, Mass., Feb. 17, 1785; Charles; Ebenezer, d. March 26, 1799, aged 8 ys.; Chloe, b. May 11, 1793; Betsey, d. Feb. 9, 1815, in her 18th year. The above deaths in Worthington, Mass. Resumed in Chapter XII.

8. Abigail Webster, b. May 31, 1745, and bap. June 6, 1745, m. May 22, 1766, at Amenia, Dutchess Co., N. Y., Gideon Osterhout, or Osterpont, of Shumway, Luzern Co., Pa.

CHILDREN: (Osterhout) (Amenia, N. Y. records.) Joanna, b. Sep. 20, 1767; Hannah, Mch. 18, 1770, "at Deacon Lotrup's"; Pelatiah Webster, Mch. 18, 1774. (These dates may be baptisms and not births). The end.

George Webster was admitted to full communion in the First Church, Lebanon, Ct., July 26, 1740.

1749, Aug. 5, George Webster of Oyster Bay, County of Jamaica, Long Island, N. Y., deeded land in Lebanon, Ct., which he had from his father, George Webster, late of Lebanon, deceased, to James Cushman of Woodstock, Ct.

1749, Aug. 26, George Webster, late of Lebanon, now of Oyster Bay, N. Y., deeds land which belonged to his father, to Samuel Webster of Lebanon.

1752, Oct. 7, George Webster, late of Lebanon, now of Essex Co., East New Jersey, deeds land in Lebanon, which had belonged to his father.

Bounded by * * * land laid out to my brother, Elihu, and partly on land laid out to Levi.

1757: George Webster served in the French and Indian war, as private, from Feb. 21, 1757, to Aug. 18, 1757, 25 weeks and 4 days, receiving total "wages," 10 pounds, 4 shillings, 7 pence. He was in Major Phineas Lyman's Co., 1st Conn. Reg't. The roll was dated, Fort Edward, Oct. 3, 1757.

In all the study given to this case no clew has been developed which has led to any clear results. It is hoped that in case he married and had issue, the line may yet be discovered, especially if there are living descendants. The end.

2. Levi Webster, b. May 5, 1733, at Lebanon, Conn., m. (1) unknown. He m. (2) Oct. 1809, at Colchester, Ct., Mrs. Mercy Robinson. A newspaper, dated Oct. 23, 1809, commenting on the marriage declared that the groom was then aged 80 (in fact, if this was the Levi, 76) and she, 86, and that he had been a widower about three weeks, and she a widow about six weeks.

The Census of 1790 shows the following Websters living in Norwich, New London Co., Ct.: Stephen, Elizabeth, Levi.

1754, June 13, Levi Webster of Palmer, Hampshire Co., Mass., deeds land in Lebanon, Ct., to Peleg Sanford Mason, which was set off to him from the estate of his father, George Webster, of Lebanon.

Levi Webster was in the French and Indian War on the following tours, in Connecticut troops:

1755: In Cap. Joseph Savage's Co., as a private, from Sep. 2, 1755 to Nov. 23, 1755,—11 weeks and 6 days—for which his wages were 3 pounds, 19 shillings, 11 pence.

1756: In Cap. Edmund Wells' Co., as a private, from May 3, 1756 to Nov. 26, 1756,—29 weeks and 5 days—at 1 pound and 12 shillings per month, the total "wages" amounting to 11 pounds, 17 shillings, 8 pence, 3 farthings. Roll dated, "Camp at Fort William Henry, Oct. 13, 1756."

1757: In Cap. Edmund Wells' Co., as a private, for two weeks and three days, from April 12, 1757, receiving as "wages" 9 shillings, and 9 pence.

1758: Jan. 19, Levi Webster of Lebanon, Ct., gave receipt to Samuel Webster, his late guardian, for 5 shillings, in full for his estate, real and personal.

1777: A Levi Webster is borne on the record of Connecticut Men in the War of Revolution, among the "Conductors of teams for transporting supplies from Connecticut to the Continental army in 1777," as a teamster, and his residence is given as Colchester. Whether it is the above Levi, or his son, is not clear.

The First Society Church of Colchester, Ct., has the record of the following baptisms: (The first three are given as "sons of Levi Webster," and the remaining three as "sons of the wife of Levi Webster.")

CHILDREN: Levi, bap. Oct. 14, 1759; Absalom, bap. May 31, 1761; George, bap. July 20, 1766; Stephen, Aug. 27, 1769; Elizabeth, Sep. 9, 1770; a daughter, name illegible, Sep. 4, 1774. Resumed in Chapter XII.

3. Elihu Webster, bap. Apr. 10, 1736. Undoubtedly, from notes which follow, it may be presumed that this Elihu Webster married, and the minor Elihu Webster who died in Coventry may have been his son. In the record of New York soldiers in the Revolutionary War appears the name of Elihu Webster in the 13th Regt. of Albany Co. Militia.

Like his brother George, Elihu Webster seems to have disappeared, and left no clew in the public records of his fate. We record only the following notes.

March 28, 1757. Samuel Webster and Ann his wife deed land in Lebanon which is described as lying partly on land of Elihu Webster.

Jan. 24, 1763. Elihu Webster, of Lebanon, deeds land in Lebanon, to Peleg Sanford Mason, viz.: all his right in real estate of his father, George Webster, of Lebanon.

Lebanon Town Records show: Feb. 26, 1787, Letters of administration on estate of Elihu Webster, late of Coventry, were granted to Ozias Hawkins, who, Aug. 8, 1787, represented that said Elihu Webster was his apprentice and died under age and had no estate save a recovery on a trial of 6 Pounds Continental, against one Palmer (said Elihu being or having been a soldier) who had run away. April 14, 1788, appears inventory of estate of Elihu Webster, a young man, a minor of Coventry, Conn., deceased. "Cash due from and received of Captain Chester Wells on account of said Elihu's services in the army." Dr. "To cash paid Mr. James Parker for the purchase and redemption of his said Elihu's time, to whom he was bound on said Elihu's earnest desire. The end.

4. Martha Webster, b. Jan. 21, 1741-2, m. Feb. 20, 1767, Richard Larabee of Coventry, Conn. The town records there give the name Mary instead of Martha.

A deed in Lebanon, dated Apr. 5, 1763, states that the land sold was one fifth of a tract which belonged to Mr. George Webster, late of said Lebanon, deceased, father of said Martha Webster. The end.

SECTION 5.—Children of Noah (George, Thomas, Gov. John) and (1) Katharine (Newcomb) and (2) Elizabeth (Jones) Webster, Lebanon, Ct.

1. Elijah Webster, b. Sep. 3, 1729, at Lebanon, Ct., mar. at Martha's Vineyard, March 28, 1757, widow Elizabeth Trapp. He died at Lebanon, Ct., 1767, she surviving him.

From Willimantic Probate Records: April 10, 1767, Jedediah Strong, of Lebanon, appointed administrator of estate of Elijah Webster, late of Lebanon, deceased. April 13, 1767, Inventory, no land mentioned. June 27, 1767, Administrator reported estate insolvent. Oct. 5, 1767, Return of creditors, and among them were Pelatiah Webster, and Oliver Webster. April 22, 1768, Court authorized sale of estate, saving widows thirds.

CHILDREN: (All born at Lebanon, and baptisms at First Church) Eddy, born Jany. 29, 1758; Betty or Elizabeth, born Dec. 18, 1759, bap. Oct. 25, 1761; Ransford, born Dec. 8, 1763, bap. May 6, 1764, and died Dec. 14, 1764; Ransford (again), born Dec. 5, 1765, bap. Dec. 26, same year. Resumed in Chapter XII.

2. Daniel Webster, b. Dec. 6, 1730, at Lebanon, Ct., m. Dec. 31, 1754, at Sheffield, Berkshire Co., Mass., Hannah Vosburgh. Real estate transactions show that he was also of Egremont, as see: "I, Daniel Webster, late of Sheffield, turner, now of Egremont, April 28, 1760." The latest real estate record in Egremont is dated Dec. 23, 1766. He thence removed to Chatham, Columbia Co., N. Y.

This Daniel Webster was in the French and Indian War; went out of Sheffield in a Hampshire Co., Reg't, under Maj. John Ashley, to Fort Edward in 1757, for the relief of Fort William Henry.

He died near Lee Centre, Oneida Co., N. Y., and is buried in the Hall Cemetery, north-west of the village about two miles. M. R. Webster, visited the spot, July 20, 1907, and read for himself the inscription: "Daniel Webster died Sep. 22, 1813, aged 82 years. A convert at the age of sixteen under Whitfield's preaching." He is buried beside his son David and six grandchildren.

CHILDREN: (First four born at Sheffield, Mass., as shown in the town records; the others elsewhere.) Ruth, July 20, 1755; Hannah, Oct. 2, 1756; Daniel, Jan. 10, 1758; Isaac Vosburgh, Oct. 1, 1759; David, 1763; Stephen, 1767; Ezekiel, March 6, 1770; * Rhoda, b. Aug. 7, 1773; Polly, 1774; Abigail; Asahel. Resumed in Chapter XII.

3. Submit Webster, date of birth unknown, but ab. 1735, m. Jan'y 15, 1755, Joshua Carpenter, son of Amos Carpenter of Coventry, Ct. Details of this family are lacking except what follows. The Carpenter Genealogy has fuller records.

CHILDREN: (Carpenter) Catharine, b. May 2, 1757; Deborah, Dec. 2, 1758; Joshua Augustus, Mch. 5, 1763; Amos, April 10, 1765; Roger, Apr. 12, 1767; John, April 30, 1769; Frederick, Nov. 13, 1771; Catharine (again), Mch. 28, 1774; Benjamin; Jeremiah.

(1) Deborah Carpenter probably m. Thomas Hancock, April 16, 1775, and settled in Somersworth, N. H.

*John B. Newcomb of Elgin, Ill., genealogist of the Newcomb family, obtained from Mrs. Mary (Webster) Norton, a daughter of the above Ezekiel Webster, a statement that Ezekiel was a son of Daniel Webster; that Ezekiel had a brother named Stephen, and gave the names of several of Stephen's children; and also that Ezekiel had a nephew, David, who m. Hannah Gifford, and lived in Fabius, Onondaga Co., N. Y., where Ezekiel died June 9, 1824. Stephen Webster of Murray, Orleans Co., N. Y., had a sister Polly Eggleston of Bloomfield, Ontario Co., N. Y.

- (2) Frederick m. Diana Heath and lived in Charlestown, Mass.
- (3) Benjamin was killed at Braxton, Va., in an Indian War.
- (4) Jeremiah was captured by the Indians when a lad and compelled to run the gauntlet, but escaped unharmed except the loss of one eye. The end.

4. Abraham Webster, b. Jan. 1, 1736-7, at Lebanon, Ct., m. Sep. 12, 1758, Margaret White of Coventry, Ct. She was an only child whose mother died when she was very young. The father soon married again and took up a grant of land where the Isaac Reid place now is, near the old Campbellite Meeting House, close to the Upper Hyde Village where he lived and died.

Abraham Webster served in the French and Indian War as follows:

- (1) In Cap. Edmund Wills' Company of Conn. troops, two weeks as a private, from April 15, 1757, receiving as his total "wages" 8 shillings.
- (2) In Captain Azel Fitch's Company, 2d Reg't of Connecticut troops, as Sergeant. (Dates of enlistment, discharge and length of service not given.) The muster-roll is dated, Lebanon, May 1, 1759.

He went alone to Cornwallis, Nova Scotia, in the year 1760, and sent for his wife and infant son in 1761. He was one of the original grantees of the township of Cornwallis, July 21, 1761. (See Yarmouth Herald, Nova Scotia, Jan. 28, 1902.)

1782, Sep. 20, Silas Clark and Abigail his wife of Lebanon; Abraham Webster of Cornwallis, N. S., and Hannah French of Coventry, sell to "our brother, Abner White of Coventry," their right in the estate of James White, late of said Coventry, deceased.

CHILDREN: Abraham, b. at Lebanon, Ct., April 13, 1759; (the rest at Cornwallis, N. S.) Daniel, Oct. 4, 1761; Margaret, Mch. 6, 1762; Isaac, July 28, 1763; Olive, Feb. 20, 1765; David, Dec. 20, 1767, d. Jan. 18, 1768, aged eighteen days; David (again), Jan. 11, 1768, died young; Cyrus and Darius, twins, Sep. 18, 1769. Resumed in Chapter XII.

5. Asahel Webster, b. Apr. 29, 1739, at Lebanon, Ct., mar. Mary Lawrence. He was recommended to Church at Vernon (formerly No. Bolton), by Rev. George Colton, of Bolton Centre. Church record of Vernon, Conn., shows that he and wife were admitted to Church there after 1762, date not given.

He served in the French and Indian Wars, as follows:

1. In Captain Edmund Wells Company, Connecticut troops, as a private for three weeks from April 8, 1757, receiving as his total "wages" 12 shillings.
2. In Captain Henry Champion's Company, 3d Regiment of Connecticut troops, as a private, from April 4, to Nov. 17, 1758, 32 weeks, and 4 days, receiving as his total "wages" 14 pounds, 13 shillings, and 2 pence. (The Company was called "A Company of Foot in his Majesty's service, raised for the reduction of Canada.")
3. In Captain Azel Fitch's Company, 2d Regiment of Connecticut troops, as a Corporal, from April 10, to Nov. 21, 1760, 32 weeks, and 2 days, receiving for his total "wages" 17 pounds, 9 shillings, and 6 pence.

From Bolton, Conn., Town Records: June 16, 1768, Benjamin Kilbourn of Bolton, deeds land there to Asahel Webster, of Bolton, and March 30, 1779, Asahel Webster of Bolton deeds land in Bolton to Ebenezer Gilbert, of Hebron, and Nov. 19, 1772, Jonathan Olmsted, of Hartford, deeds land in Bolton, to Asahel Webster, of Bolton, and April 6, 1779, Abel West of Bolton, deeds land in Bolton to Asahel Webster of Bolton, and Feb. 25, 1783, Josiah Whitney, of Bolton, deeds land in Bolton, to Asahel Webster, of Bolton, and Feb. 21, 1793, Asahel Webster of Bolton, deeds land in Bolton (that part of Bolton which is now Vernon, Conn.) to Nathaniel Hammond, of Bolton. It is probable that all of the land above referred to was situated in what is now Vernon, Conn.

The Bolton records show that Asahel Webster took the Oath of Fidelity at Bolton, Ct., Aug. 22, 1777, and again, Sept. 16, 1777.

The Probate records of Columbia, Tolland Co., Ct., show: Will of Asahel Webster, late of Vernon, dated Mch. 11, 1805, and exhibited in Court, May 1, 1810. He appointed his wife Executrix, and gave her all of his estate, and after her death, to Asahel W. Lawrence, and in case of his death before her, then to the heirs of Asahel W. Lawrence. Inventory, Apr. 19, 1810.

The Vernon Church record shows that he d. at Vernon, Mch. 28, 1810, aged 71 years; and a Hartford paper, dated Apr. 16, 1810, a notice of her death at Vernon, aged 71 years. No children. The end.

6. Elizabeth Webster, b. April 8, 1741, at Lebanon, Ct., received a portion of her father's estate, Feb. 1, 1765.

Intentions of the marriage of Elizabeth Webster and Oliver Pier were published at Great Barrington, Berkshire Co., Mass., July 10, 1762. The marriage was consummated, but we have not the date. A tomb-stone at North Egremont, Mass., has this inscription: "In memory of Mrs. Elizabeth, wife to Mr. Oliver Pier, died June 11, 1783, aged 43."

After her death Mr. Pier married (2) Phoebe Hayden Howard, a widow, who survived him. He lived at Great Barrington, Mass., and New Haven, Addison Co., Vt., where he died Jan. 11, 1805, and where he is probably buried. He was a soldier in the Revolutionary war from Mass., and a member of the Vermont Constitutional Convention in 1791. He was a farmer, b. May 9, 1741.

CHILDREN: (Pier) Oliver, Jr.; Moses, b. Feb. 28, 1767; Justus; Lydia; Roselina; Calvin, Feb. 22, 1780; Ira Webster, May 19, 1783, at Egremont, Mass. Calvin was born at Great Barrington.

(1) Oliver Pier, Jr., was a soldier in the Revolutionary War, from Mass. He lived at Vergennes, Vt., 1794-5; New Haven, Vt., 1796; Waltham, Vt., 1806. Married and had a family.

(2) Moses m. (1) prior to Aug. 23, 1787, Abigail Benjamin of Egremont, Mass., dau. of Nathan Benjamin of same place. He m. (2) Mercia field, and which Elizabeth is sister and one of the legal heirs of Wm. Bennett, the younger, late of s'd Mansfield, said to be deceased, sell to Thos. Peck of Willington, 1-4 of said William's double share of the real estate of said Wm. Bennett's, now deceased.

From a Memoir kept by Isaac Webster, of Nova Scotia, son of Moses Webster, the following is taken:

"Noah Webster, the father of Moses Webster, and grandfather of Isaac Webster, removed from Lebanon, to Mansfield, with his family, consisting of Elijah Webster, Daniel Webster, Abraham Webster, Asahel Webster, Moses Webster (my father), and George Webster, a next younger brother also two daughters, Submit and Rhoda. I cannot give any dates.

A grandson of Noah John Webster says that, there was another son Abraham, who went to Nova Scotia and was a practising physician there. He says, "I am in possession of a Bible which this Abraham Webster gave to my grandfather, Noah John." This Abraham's son also graduated as a physician.

From Willimantic Probate Records: June 26, 1783, Moses Webster, of Mansfield, Conn., appointed guardian of John Carpenter, a minor of Lebanon, (probably son of his sister, Submit) in room of Jedediah Strong.

via must have married a Webster, or a daughter of Abigail Fish or one of the other two, in case there was not a son, or other children. The end.

1. Benajah Webster, Jr., a farmer, b. Oct. 2, 1740, in Lebanon, Ct., m. at Dunstable (now Nashua), Hillsborough Co., N. H., Rachel Lovell, b. there about 1740.

She is said to have been a woman of excellent character and rendered many valuable services during the Revolutionary war. She encountered many bitter experiences with the Indians when her husband was a prisoner of war in Quebec. Her history was the subject of eulogy by the Mayor in an address in City Hall at Nashua, and Delia Webster, a descendant was introduced amid applause.

He served in the French and Indian War. In a list of those who served in Gen'l Phineas Lyman's Co., war of 1760, from Windsor and Suffield, appears the name of Benajah Webster, private, enlisted March 15. He was first in Captain Gideon Wolcott's Company, 1st Regiment; from April 13, to Nov. 15, 1758, 31 weeks, for which he was paid 13 pounds, 19 shillings; and served in Captain Edward Barnard's Company, 1st Regiment, from April 10, to Dec. 14, 1759, 35 weeks and 4 days, for which he was paid 16 pounds and 2 pence. It is alleged by his descendants that he also served in the Revolutionary War, and that his wife was noted for her efficient service to the army during that war. It is said that his grandson, Jared, has a part of the diary that Benajah kept while a prisoner at Quebec. Mrs. Mary Jane Bard, Ferrisburg, Vt., says E. H. Webster of Ticonderoga, N. Y., has the diary.

Mrs. Mary Jane Bard, a granddaughter, says, "My grandfather Benajah Webster, was busily engaged in his grist mill when he was taken prisoner and carried to Quebec. They burned his house, killed his pigs, and ravaged the premises. His wife and a neighbor in similar condition fled by boat to Whitehall, N. Y., Mrs. Webster rowing the boat. He built the first brick house and shop in Vergennes, Vt., and in 1900 it was still standing at the corner of Water Street, owned by Dr. Willard."

Among the "Windsor Men in the War," Stiles in his "History of Ancient Windsor," (Conn.) enumerates private Benajah Webster as borne on the muster roll of Gen. Lyman's Company in camp at Montreal, Sep. 4, 1760. The men were from Windsor and Suffield, Conn.

In an old Pension case of Josiah Kellogg, (File No. 41,722) dated July 12, 1820, mention is made of certain debts which he owed to Benajah Webster and Isaac Webster. At that date he lived at Ferrisburg, Vt., but removed about 1834 to Cayahoga Co., O., probably near Cleveland.

Dec. 10, 1762, Benajah Webster of Windsor, Conn., purchased land in Westfield, Mass., of John Barber of said Westfield, "laid out" to David Moseley, Esq.

In the town of Ferrisburg, Addison Co., Vt., Benajah Webster finally settled, and when, Dec. 11, 1788, he purchased for 90 pounds, one hundred acres of Isaac Gage of Ferrisburg, in the first division of Lot 129, in the west end of the lot, he was already a resident of Ferrisburg. He and his family were members of the Congregational Church. He died in Ferrisburg Feb. 8, 1791. His widow, Rachel, m. ——— Stockman. She died April 15, 1813, aged 73 years. Land note: 1810 Charles Stockman and Lucy his wife.

CHILDREN: (Recorded in Ferrisburg, but place of birth not indicated) William Wolcott, b. March 15, 1771; Eunice, b. March 22, 1773; Rachel, b. Dec. 4, 1775; Benajah, July 13, 1779; Hannah, Nov. 10, 1781; Jonathan Lovell, b. Dec. 7, 1787; John Champlain, b. July 2, 1789; Sally Fox, dau. to Rachel, wife of Benajah Webster, b. April 23, 1769.

It is said that Eunice was the first white child b. in Ferrisburg, Vt., and that all the others were born in Ferrisburg, except William who was born in Dunstable (Nashua), N. H. Resumed in Chapter XII.

2. Cloe Webster, b. April 11, 1742, at Coventry, Ct., m. Ichabod Wadsworth of Ellington, Tolland Co., Ct.

Aug. 20, 1767, Chloe Webster of Windsor buys of Ichabod Wadsworth of Ellington Parish. Wit's: Aaron and Dorothy Bissell.

Nov. 23, 1788, at Glastonbury, Ct., Cloe Webster and Nathaniel Windship were married. (Was this the same, or another?) The end.

3. Eunice Webster, b. Aug. 15, 1743, at Coventry, Ct., m. Moses Loomis, Jr., of East Windsor, Ct., b. Dec. 24, 1734.

Moses Loomis, Sr. was born June 24, 1696, and d. Feb. 16, 1761. He m. Elizabeth Bidwell, b. 1706, dau. of Daniel Bidwell, b. Oct. 19, 1682, and d. Aug. 24, 1765, of Hartford, Ct., and his wife, the widow, Esther Buckland, whom he m. Dec. 17, 1729. The children of Moses Loomis, Sr. and Elizabeth Bidwell, his wife were: Rebecca, b. June 4, 1726; Elizabeth, b. Dec. 30, 1732; Moses, Jr., b. Dec. 24, 1734; Submit, b. Oct. 20, 1736; Zerviah, b. Nov. 10, 1738, d. Dec. 10, 1740; Roxelena, b. Oct. 1, 1741, was living in 1761; Justus, b. Aug. 25, 1745.

The estate of Moses Loomis, Sr., was ordered distributed, Apr. 5, 1761, —"late of Windsor, deceased,"—to Moses Loomis of Windsor, eldest son, double share; with single shares to Justus, Rebecca, Mabel, Submit, Rose-lene.

Moses Loomis, Jr., sold his farm in Windsor and purchased in Bolton in the year 1765. He died about 1783.

In the East Windsor Probate Records is found the following: July 16, 1783, administration was granted on the estate of Moses Loomis, late of East Windsor, deceased, to Eunice Loomis and Cyrenius Webster, both of East Windsor.

CHILDREN: Reuben, b. Dec. 23, 1773; near Litchfield, Ct.; Orilla.

Stiles' Supplement, p. 91, gives the name of Erele or Ercle, b. 1760, and d. Dec. 21, 1794. Whether this was a child of Moses, Jr. and Eunice Webster has not been satisfactorily shown. Resumed in Chapter XII.

4. Samuel Webster, b. Feb. 21, 1744-5, in Coventry, Ct., m. Nov. 15, 1770, Jerusha Smith.

This has been one of the most difficult cases to trace and prove that we have found, but the excerpts given below remove all reasonable doubt as to the identity of this Samuel Webster.

1772, June 4, Samuel Webster of Coventry, Windham Co., Ct., cordwainer, sells to Thomas Harvey of Surry, Cheshire Co., N. H., husbandman, land in Surry. Witnesses: Benjamin Bellows and Samuel Wright.

On the same date Samuel Webster personally appeared at Walpole, Cheshire Co., N. H., and acknowledged the above deed.

1774, Feb. 5, Samuel Webster, Jerusha Webster, and Mary Smith, all of Coventry, Ct., sell land there to Timothy Brown.

1772, June 26, Samuel Webster of Hartford, Vt., shoemaker, for 6 pounds buys of Abel Marsh, yeoman, same place, 100 acres on lot 17 in first division.

1776, June 24, I, Samuel Webster of Hartford, Cumberland Co., Province of New York (Hartford, Vt.), shoemaker, for 20 pounds, sell to Joseph Williams of the same place, two "sertain" undivided wites of land, belonging to the original wright (right) of John Seymour and Solomon Allen, as may appear by the Charter of records of the township of Hartford. Witnesses: Simeon How, Joel Marsh. Acknowledged at Gloucester, N. Y., before Joel Marsh, J. P. Recorded, Jan. 25, 1782.

1779, Jan. 21, Samuel Webster and Jerusha Webster, his wife, of Hartford, Cumberland Co., Vt., sell to Nathaniel Root of Coventry, Ct., land in Coventry.

1800, Mch. 11, Samuel Webster of Hartford, Windsor Co., Ct., sells for \$15, Pine lot 63, containing  $7\frac{1}{4}$  acres. Original right of Gideon Bingham, to Daniel Marsh. Witnesses: Daniel Hazen and William Strong.

1810, May 31, same to Joseph Paine of Hartford, Vt. Witnesses: Ebenezer Brown and Benjamin Durkee.

1812, July 1, same for $333, to William Webster of the same place. Witnesses: Reuben Webster and Freegrace Leavitt.

1814, July 24, same to "my son, William Webster." Witnesses: Jeah Strong, and John Strong.

1814, July 24, William Webster of Hartford, Vt., released the use and improvements of thirty acres of land, given this day to him by his father, Samuel Webster, during the natural lives of his father and mother, and "quit-claimed" all his right in his father's estate for the benefit of said William Webster's brothers and sisters. Witnesses: Jedidah Strong and John Strong.

1817, Nov. 29, Samuel Webster of Hartford, Vt., sells to William Webster of the same place; and on the same day, William Webster executed a paper declaring that he (William) was firmly bound to his father and mother, Samuel and Jerusha Webster of Hartford, Vt., to care for them during their natural lives.

1818, Jan. 14, William Webster of Hartford, Vt., to Perry Green Gardner of Randolph, Orange Co., Vt.

1819, The voting list at Hartford, Vt., included, William Pixley, Asa Pixley, Samuel Webster, Reuben Webster.

1819, June 19, Elisha Smith of Washington, Orange Co., Vt., by Will gives to his wife, Sarah Smith, and to "my nephews and nieces:"

1. William Webster,
2. Mary Wood,
3. Reuben Webster,
4. Reuby Webster,
5. Jerusha Gardner,

all of Hartford, Windsor Co., Vt.

1822, Aug. 26, William Webster of Hartland, Vt., sells to John Fletcher of Pomfret, Vt., "land which I have occupied, and on which I have lived for twenty years past."

1838, Mch. 27, William Webster of Hartford, Vt., buys of Andrew Tracey of Woodstock, Vt., land in Hartford, and on the same day sold it back again. (to Tracey.)

1880, July 17, Alma P. Webster of Hartford, Vt., buys of Frank W. Shattuck and Marinda A. Shattuck, his wife.

1886, Feb. 1, Frank D. Webster of Hartford, Vt., buys of Osie F. Barron, blacksmith, same place, a shop in Quechee Village.

1889, June 29, Charles A. Webster was appointed administrator of the estate of Frank D. Webster, late of Hartford, Vt., deceased.

1906, July 28, the Postmaster of Quechee, Vt., in a letter to M. R. Webster, said: "No Websters here now. F. D. Webster died here ten or fifteen years ago. Widow left town; can't tell where she went."

CHILDREN: William; Mary; Reuben; Reuby; Jerusha. We place Isaac, b. 1771, at the head of this list, as the oldest son of Samuel and Jerusha (Smith) Webster. It is not proved, but it is a fair presumption. Resumed in Chapter XII.

5. Cyreneus Webster, b. July 18, 1747, at Coventry, Ct., mar. Prudence Skinner, of East Windsor, born March 20, 1755, and took her brother Benjamin as an apprentice.

Cyreneus Webster was a farmer, tanner and shoemaker. His father Benajah died in 1751 and in his Will directed that all of his children should be "put out to good trades at the age of 14 years." On Jan. 20, 1751-2, Cyreneus was placed under the guardianship of his uncle Pelatiah Webster, who having died, Cyreneus was, on July 27, 1756, placed under the guardianship of Nathaniel Strong, of Windsor, Ct., and when about 16 years of age he was put out to learn the trades of tanner and shoemaker with a Mr. King, of East Windsor, (now South Windsor), Ct. After serving out his apprenticeship he commenced business for himself in that town near the line of East Hartford, and on the Main Road from East Windsor Hill to Hartford, where he remained for about 11 years, when he bought a farm a few miles to the Northeast, but still in the town of East Windsor where he spent the remainder of his life carrying on the business of farming and shoe-making.

1777, June 7, Prudence Webster buys land of Nathaniel Porter of East Windsor.

He died at East Windsor, June 26, 1830, aged 84, and his wife, Prudence, same place, Jany. 24, 1846, aged 91 years.

CHILDREN: (All born at East Windsor, Ct., now South Windsor.) Chloe, born March 8, 1772; Eli, born Dec. 28, 1773; James, born May 7, 1776; Theodosia, born Feb. 26, 1778; Sally, born Jany. 16, 1780; Naomi, born April 24, 1782; a child bap. Feb. 15, 1784; Prudence, born about 1786; Betsey, born about 1788; Wareham, born Nov. 19, 1790, bap. Feb. 27, 1791; Cynthia, born about 1796. Resumed in Chapter XII.

6. Justus Webster, b. Dec. 16, 1747-8, at Coventry, Ct., has not been located. In the early part of 1775, a Justus Webster settled at New Haven, Addison Co., Vt., (See Vermont Quarterly Gazette, No. 1, p. 70.)

7. Abdial Webster, b. at Coventry, Ct., Jany. 5, 1749-50, mar. Martha Churchill, born in Ct., in 1748.

Abdial Webster, a farmer, removed from Ct. in 1775, to Hubbardton, Rutland Co., Vt. He was one of the first settlers of that town and was one of the nine families which constituted the whole population of the town at the time of the battle of Hubbardton, in 1777, when all the settlers fled before the English and Indians. He returned to the town about 1780 and settled on the farm which has since remained in the family passing from him to his son Benajah, then to Benajah's son Lyman, then to Lyman's daughter, Mrs. Mariette Ganson, who now (1892) resides on the farm. The rose bush which Mr. Abdial Webster brought from Ct. still blooms every year by the side of the place where their first log house stood.

He died at Hubbardton, Vt., March 20, 1820, and she at the same place, Feb. 20, 1828.

CHILDREN: Samuel, date of birth unknown, a farmer, died without issue; Benajah, born in 1774; Persis, date of birth unknown. Resumed in Chapter XII.

SECTION 8.—Children of Joseph (George, Thomas, Gov. John) and (1) Martha (Adams) and (2) Hannah (——) Webster, of Lebanon, Bolton, Windsor and Stafford, Conn.

1. Joseph Webster, Jr., date of birth unknown, assumed to be the oldest of the children of Joseph and Martha (Adams) Webster, m. Azubah ———.

1779, Aug. 9, Jos. Webster, Jr., of Stafford, of Samuel Gager.

1787, April 28, Joseph Webster of Stafford buys of Simeon Webster of Tolland. 1788, Sep. 12, Jos. of Stafford.

1790, Mch. 22, Joseph Webster of Stafford sells to Daniel Webster of Windsor. "My son Daniel."

1800, Sep. 13, Joseph Webster of Windsor buys of Noah Burr of Windsor, land there.

1800, Sep. 13, Jos. Webster of Tolland buys of Solvin Converse of Stafford.

He died at Springfield, Hampden Co., Mass., and Feb. 2, 1813, Ira Webster was appointed administrator of the estate. The widow's name was Azubah. Boston Centennial, Aug. 19, 1812, reported: "Died in Springfield, Mr. Joseph Webster."

CHILDREN: Daniel; Joel; Ira, b. 1785; Porter, 1786; Joseph; Roswell. Resumed in Chapter XII.

2. Simeon Webster, b. Feb. 13, 1760, a farmer, m. Oct. 17, 1784, Sybil Converse, (spelled Sibel on tomb-stone) b. in Gilead, Ct., 1762. He lived in Stafford, Ct., having purchased land there in 1780 of Nathan Webster, his brother, and sold it in 1787 to Joseph Webster, probably his father, and removed to Tolland, the next town south, where both died; she, April 12, 1837, aged 75, and he, July 28, 1842, aged 82.

He was a soldier in the Revolutionary War. "Ran away from home," says one of his descendants, "and enlisted when he was only sixteen years old; was wounded in the foot, one toe being shot off while he was on a horse."

In his application for a pension, May 4, 1818, he says that he enlisted at Stafford, Ct., under Lt. Blodget, in Cap. Walbridge's Co., late of Stafford; Col. Chas. Webb's Reg., Conn. Line, Continental establishment, in May, 1777, to date from Feb. 1777, as a private for three years. Joined his Co. and Reg. in the spring of 1777 at Stamford, Ct., Lt.-Col. Isaac Sherman then having command of the Reg.; was the 2d in the line, and soon marched to White Plains, thence to Penn. Was in several hard skirmishes, and also in the battle of Monmouth. Served three years without furlough or absence. Was discharged at Morristown, N. J., ab. Feb. 1, 1780. Sent his discharge for arrears of pay and lost it. Is 58 years old and has a deranged wife 56 years old and a weakly child.

June 26, 1820, he applies for restoration alleging a service in 1776 of seven months in Cap. Pease's Co. of Col. Wolcott's Reg., Conn. line, at Ft. Trumbull, in addition to service formerly alleged; also that he was in the battle of Chestnut Hill in 1777, and that in the battle of Monmouth he was in a detachment of 40 of whom 17 were killed.

A pension seems to have been obtained with some difficulty on the apparent ground that he had reduced his property by distribution among his children to a point which would permit it. Hence he petitioned Congress, Hon. Alvin Willey certifying his good character. A certificate was finally re-issued at $8 per month.

Summary of his Will made July 24, 1842, and recorded at Tolland, Ct.: gives to his daughters, Polly who m. Roswell Russell; Lucia who m. Parley Johnson; Menda (the name of whose husband I have forgotten), and Ruth who m. Samuel Charters, deceased, $40 each. To his grandchildren, being children of his son Joseph Webster, deceased; of his daughter, Marcia, deceased, who m. Sylvanus Baker; of dau. Minerva who m. Timothy Benton of dau. Lucy who m. Elizur Hurlbut, said Minerva and Lucy, deceased, $10 each to each grandchild. To his grandchildren, being the six youngest children of his son Samuel, deceased, $20 each. To Samuel P. and William Webster, two eldest sons of his son Samuel, deceased, he gives nothing. All the residue to his son Milton Webster, whom he made executor, and his heirs.

CHILDREN: Polly, b. Oct. 3, 1780; Joseph Barnes, b. June 17, 1786; Lucia, ab. 1788; Marcia, 1789; Minerva, March 3, 1794; Samuel, 1796; Milton, 1798; Ruth, 1800; Amanda, 1802; Lucy, Aug. 25, 1804. Resumed in Chapter XII.

3. Anne Webster, b. Nov. 18, 1761. It is suggestive that in Fairfax, Vt., where Samuel Webster, a brother of Anne settled, that the name Anne Gladding frequently appears in family transactions. There were Gladdings in Stafford, Conn., and it is possible that she married a Gladding and removed to Fairfax, Vt.

4. Amos Webster, date of birth illegible in the Stafford, Conn., records. The real estate records of Stafford make clear the identity of this son of Joseph Webster, as note:

Nov. 21, 1777, Joseph Webster of Stafford deeds "to my son, Amos Webster of said Stafford," land in the S. W. part of town. Witness, Mary Sikes.

Oct. 3, 1780, Amos Webster of Stafford buys of Samuel Gager of same place. March 14, 1781, he sells the land to Alex. Glass of Stafford. Nathan and Betsy Aldrich, witnesses. Sept. 13, 1782, he buys of Amos Torry of Stafford in N. W. part of township. Witnesses, Isaac Foot, Mary Foot and Josiah Fuller.

October 14, 1785, he purchased a farm in Pittsford, Rutland Co., Vt., on which he lived several years, and owned the entire plot of land on which the village of Pittsford now stands, and built the second house in said village. He was a strong, ambitious man of high character, an excellent citizen and neighbor. He was supposed to be a brother of Nathan Webster who came from Burlington, Vt., and Nov. 7, 1785, also purchased a large tract in Pittsford. The Town Clerk, 1907, wrote that he had searched the entire records and found that they were residents of Pittsford from 1784 to 1788, when they sold their property and departed. There is no record of any birth, marriage or death in their families, and no Webster name has since been on the books.

1800, Nov. 1, Amos Webster of Cazenovia, N. Y., sold a tract of land called Newpetersburg, County of Shenango, N. Y., to Asa Dana of Westmoreland, Oneida Co., N. Y., lot 49. (Chenango Co. notes.)

Much research has failed to identify any descendant, or make clear the later history of this man. The end.

5. Nathan Webster, b. date unknown, at Stafford, Ct., m. (1) Nov. 28, 1782, "when about 24 years of age," Sarah Russell, (2) Elizabeth. A deed given March 17, 1812, by Amos B. Fuller and

Catharine his wife of Madison, N. Y., was to Nathan Webster and his wife Elizabeth. Another deed given at Pomfret, Chautauqua Co., N. Y., Dec. 17, 1825, suggests that he had a second mar. It is signed, "Elizabeth."

His parentage is clearly shown by a deed given July 3, 1779, by Joseph Webster of Stafford, Ct., to "My son Nathan Webster of Stafford." May 20, 1783, he buys of Samuel Kent, both of Stafford, land in the West Society. June 5, 1786, Timothy Torry of Hartford sold to Nathan Webster, "late of Stafford but now of Vermont," bounded by heirs of the late Elijah Russell.

He was a soldier in the Revolutionary War. Jan. 6, 1825, he (writing a fair hand) made application for a pension, from Fredonia, Chautauqua Co., N. Y. Says he enlisted when ab. 17 years of age at Stafford, Ct., Apr. 21, 1777, into service of U. S., in Cap. Amos Walbridge's Co., Col. Charles "Web's" Reg., Gen. Huntington's Brigade. Joined his Co. at once and served till ab. Dec. 7, 1777, when he was wounded at the battle of White Marsh, near Schuylkill, Pa., in left arm, by a musket ball which passed through his arm at the elbow joint and shattered the bone in such manner that he has never recovered the use of his arm. Remained with the army in a wounded and helpless condition until the 25th of Dec., when he with others, whose terms of service would expire on the last day of the month, was discharged and sent home. He returned to his father's at Stafford, with whom he resided until he was ab. 24 years old.

His father was a shoemaker, and Nathan rendered him some assistance in his shop. By fastening the wrist of his wounded arm to his thigh, and "using the strength of his thigh to pull the thread," he could do some light work himself.

When he was about 24 he married and removed to Pittsford, Rutland Co., Vt., where he kept a small tavern in a new country for ab. four years. He then formed a connection with a brother of his in a small country store. Carried on that business about three years and then failed and they became poor.

He then went to St. Johns, Lower Canada, and kept a tavern about eleven months, when he removed to Vergennes, Addison Co., Vt., and supported himself till 1809 by coarse shoe making and cobbling. 1795, Jan. 1, New Haven, Vt., bought; 1796, May 16, sold above.

Then he went to Pultney (Poultney, Rutland Co.), Vt., and after six months to Granville, Washington Co., N. Y., where he resided ab. two years; thence to Madison, Madison Co., N. Y., supporting himself for four years by cobbling and such other work as his poverty compelled him to do.

Thence he removed to Phelpsstown, Ontario Co., N. Y., remaining four years, and thence to Fredonia, Chautauqua Co., N. Y., where he resided about five years, his poverty, lameness and misfortunes following him.

Two physicians certified to his disability by reason of a gun-shot wound which had caused a shortening of the os lumeri, and partial ankylosis.

Jan. 6, 1825, Elijah Webster, in a fair hand, of Fredonia, N. Y., certifies that he is the son of Nathan Webster, aged ab. 40, and has a family of his own to support.

Feb. 14, 1825, Nathaniel Cushman of Hancock, Addison Co., Vt., certifies that he was a soldier of the same Co. of Nathan Webster, and in detail corroborates Webster's allegations as to service, wounding, etc.

Feb. 11, 1825, Isaac Pinney of Royalton, Windsor Co., Vt., certifies the same as Cushman, preceding.

He was pensioned at $8 per month.

July 22, 1833, he asked the transfer of his pension to the Pittsburgh Agency, as he had removed to Huron Co., O. (Perhaps Norwalk or Milan.) But on the 15th of December, 1834, he requests its re-transfer to the New York City Agency, as, on account of fever and ague, he has been compelled to return to New York state to live with his children.

April 2, 1835, he wrote a letter to the Pension Office, dated Sardinia, Erie Co., N. Y.

CHILDREN: Elijah, b. Stafford, Ct., Aug. 25, 1783. Resumed in Chapter XII.

6. Samuel Webster, b. Sep. 2, 1768, at Stafford, Ct., a merchant, m. in Sep., 1790, Lavina Hopkins, b. Mch. 1, 1772, at Nine Partners, N. Y. He d. about 1845.

He settled first in Bennington, Vt. 1792. Thence removed about 1802, to Fairfax, Franklin Co., Vt., where he spent the remainder of his life. He d. about 1845.

1792, Feb. 14, Samuel Webster of Bennington, Vt., buys of Joseph Hall of Bennington, land there "below Silas Walbridge's saw mill."

1792, June 22, Samuel Webster of Bennington sells to Isaac Webster of Bennington, "a certain dwelling, mill and potash," below Silas Walbridge's saw mill. Witnesses: William Allen, Jonathan Robinson.

1797, Mch. 19, Samuel Webster of Bennington, Vt., sells to Isaac Webster of Bennington land there, bounded by Silas Walbridge, and witnessed by Jonathan Robinson and Samuel Way, 34 acres of land set to Jerusha Dewey, Clarisa Safford, Lavina Webster, and Horace Hopkins, of the estate of Benjamin Hopkins, late of Bennington, deceased.

1801, Feb. 19, Samuel Webster of Bennington buys of Zanish Hopkins of Fairfield, Franklin Co., Vt., bounded by David Walbridge and Ephriam Smith. Witnesses: Rudd Hopkins, Samuel Webster.

1801, Sep. 29, Samuel Webster of Bennington sells to Timothy Harvey. Bounded by David Walbridge and Ephriam Smith.

1803, Mch. 1, a Town Meeting was held at the house of Josiah Safford, Fairfax, Vt., and the name of Samuel Webster appears as one of the highway officers.

1804, Feb. 15, "I, Samuel Webster, of Bennington, Bennington Co., Vt., to Moses Norton of Bennington, Vt." (Fairfax records.)

1807, Oct. 12, "I, Samuel Webster of Fairfax, Vt., to William I. Staell and Alfred S. Pell of the City of New York."

1845, April 22, The Will of Samuel Webster of Fairfax, Vt., was presented for probate. The following are mentioned: My sons, Joseph and Samuel; my daughters, Emeline Merrils and Aura Lowell, and my son, Theron Webster. His son Samuel Webster, Executor.

1893, Sep. 4, Mrs. Addio L. Allen of St. Albans, Vt., wrote to M. R. Webster, "I find in the family record of my father, Theron Webster that his father Samuel was born as given above, and d. in Fairfax, Vt., in 1845. Theron's grandfather, Joseph Webster, d. in Conn. (town not given) Feb. 28, 1784."

CHILDREN: (Born, Bennington, Vt.) Hopkins, b. Apr. 5, 1790; Hiram B., b. Mch. 12, 1793; Samuel, b. Dec. 25, 1794 (Fairfax Town records state that this Samuel was born in Bennington, Vt., and moved with his parents to Fairfax when he was six years old—1800); Joseph, March 20, 1797; Isaac A. (Adams?), Feb. 15, 1799; Aura (also given Ora and Anna), Feb. 24, 1801; (Born, Fairfax) Emeline, March 25, 1803; Theron, March 12, 1805; Clarissa or Clara, Feb. 20, 1807, d. Feb. 25 following; Betsey, Jan. 21, 1809; George Washington, July 8, 1811; Henry Carlton, June 8, 1813; Harrison Bemon, June 12, 1817. Resumed in Chapter XII.

7. Isaac Webster, b. ab. 1755, parentage unknown. It is assumed that he was the son of Joseph Webster of Stafford, Ct. The fact that Samuel Webster and Isaac Webster both settled in Bennington, gives some coloring to the belief that they were brothers. Isaac seems to make his first purchase of Samuel. It is a matter of regret that no conclusive fact has been obtained to remove all doubt, but the presumption is sufficient to put this here even with the possibility that he belonged to some other branch of the numerous Webster families.

Isaac Webster m. July 6, 1780, at Bennington, Vt., Anna Robinson, b. Oct. 4, 1759, youngest daughter of Cap. Samuel Robinson, Sr., b. in Cambridge, Mass., 1705, but who resided and died in Bennington, Vt.

Isaac Webster died at Bennington, Vt., Jan. 28, 1827, aged 72 years. Anna Webster his widow d. there, Jan. 29, 1842, aged 82 years and 3 months. "I shall be satisfied when I awake, in thy likeness," is on her tomb-stone, and Prov. 27:1 on his. M. R. Webster visited their graves, Aug. 21, 1900.

Isaac Webster was a soldier in the Revolutionary War. Jan. 11, 1819, he applied for a pension. Wrote in a good hand, was 64 years old, and resided at Bennington, Vt. Declared that he enlisted with Col. Seth Warner, and went into Canada; was in the taking of St. Johns, Chamblee, Montreal, and Sorrel.

After this campaign was ended, and in 1776, he engaged with Col. Heman Swift, and served a number of months, and in March, 1777, he enlisted in Col. Seth Warner's Regt. of Continental troops, in Cap. Wait Hopkins' Co. for the term of three years and faithfully served out the whole time. Was in the battle of Huberston; was severely wounded, and had his arm broken by two musket balls, which disabled him for service for several months. By leave of his Col. he returned to his friends and hired a physician, and after his arm was in some degree restored, joined his Regt. and was in the battle of Bennington, and at the taking of Burgoyne at Saratoga. He continued to serve with his Regt. till the summer of 1779, when the Regt. was ordered to Fort George, where he was taken by the Indians and carried to Canada. After a few months, not being redeemed, he made his escape through the wilderness. It was 19 days before he arrived at the American Settlements, and "six long days without any provisions." On his return home he rejoined his Regt., and served out his three years, and in March, 1780, was legally discharged by Col. Seth Warner, in writing, but said writing was lost. In the year 1798, or thereabouts, he was placed on the pension list at $30 per year, and by a late Act has been raised to $48 per year. He makes this application to obtain the pension of $96 per year.

Jacob Safford, an officer of Col. Warner's Regt., confirms Webster's statement in regard to his two services in Warner's Regt., also stating that Webster was in the retreat from Ticonderoga. He spells the place where the battle was fought, "Hubborton."

Jonathan Robinson, a neighbor, also corroborates Webster's statements in regard to his service, and says that after he was wounded at Hubborton he retreated to Bennington and employed a surgeon, whom he himself paid between $40 and $50, and boarded himself, and "as soon as he was able to bear arms he was in the battle of Bennington, although not able to carry a gun." On his return to Bennington "he married an amiable but very feeble wife, who for 35 years has been very sickly." He has a "considerable" large family of girls; his only son, on whom he leaned for support in his old age, he has buried. He has been unfortunate in being bail, which has subjected him to considerable loss.

Feb. 13, 1819, he was pensioned at $8 per month.

It appears that his pension was subsequently discontinued on account of the amount of property he possessed, but he was again put on the rolls in 1820, at $4 per month.

1792, June 22, Isaac Webster buys of Samuel Webster, both of Bennington, a certain dwelling, mill and potash." (See Samuel Webster preceding.)

1797, Apr. 10, Isaac Webster of Bennington, Vt., buys land there of Moses Robinson. Witnesses, Elijah and Jonathan Robinson. Bounded by Stephen Hopkins.

1797, Nov. 29, sells to Joseph Robinson, 2d, bounded by Ephriam Smith, and David Walbridge.

1800, Jan. 31, Isaac sells to Silas Walbridge. Witnesses, Silas Merryfield, Jason Sibley. Bounded by Benjamin Hopkins.

1805, Mch. 28, Isaac Webster buys of Samuel Thayer in the east part of Bennington, on the road from Gen. Safford's mill. Witnesses, Thomas Wilder and Seth Dodge.

1810, Mch. 13, Isaac Webster buys of Thomas Wilder in the east part of Bennington. Bounded by Stephen Dewey, John Richmond and Paul House.

1815, March 14, Isaac Webster and Odiah Loomis of Windsor, Ct., buy land of Henry Allyn of Bennington, land in Bennington. Bounded by David Walbridge, Samuel Safford, Stephen Pratt.

1816, May 22, Isaac Webster sells to Thomas Wilder land in east Bennington, bounded by George Godfreys and Stephen Pratt.

1817, Jan. 13, Isaac Webster sells to Henry Allyn land which he bought of said Henry Allen. Witnesses, Olivia Norton, Martin Norton.

1828, Feb. 20, Mercy Webster, of Bennington, Vt., sold to David Weeks, "that part of my father's estate set out to me."

1838, May 8, Anna Webster (by mark) of Bennington, Vt., aged 78 the previous October, says that when her husband escaped from the Indians, a fellow-prisoner escaped with him. She says she was married to him on the 6th of July, 1780, and that he died in January, 1827.

The last Will of Isaac Webster, dated Jan. 6, 1826, gives to his wife, Anna, his daughters, Anna Wilder, Sarah Dewey, Persis Hubbard, and to her two sons, Edwin Safford and Albert Bruce, and to her son now in life by her present husband, Theophilus Hubbard. Also to his other daughters, Ruth Allen, Mercy Webster and Harriet L. Weeks. Executors, Stephen Dewey and David Weeks, Jr.

Pension, Continued: Pension was allowed Mrs. Webster at $120 per annum, and the office seems to have given Mr. Webster credit for two years' service as a Sergeant in Warner's Regt. of the New Hampshire Line.

1842, Oct. 14, the widow's dower of Anna Webster, relict of Isaac Webster, was divided as follows: To Sarah, wife of Stephen Dewey; Anna, wife of Thomas Wilder; Persis, wife of Theophilus Hubbard; Ruth, wife of Henry Allyn; Mercy, wife of Randolph Beaumont; Harriet L., wife of David Weeks.

CHILDREN: (Born Bennington, Vt.) Anna, March 22, 1781; Sarah, Nov. 28, 1782; Joseph, July 20, 1784; Persis, Nov. 11, 1785; Ruth, March 20, 1790; Mercy, April 18, 1792; Isaac Robinson, March 8, 1795; Harriet L., Jan. 18, 1797; Isaac R., June 26, 1801. Resumed in Chapter XII.

8. Mary Webster, b. about 1753, m. Serg't John Gaylord. She d. Apr. 1, 1821, aged 68. She had a brother Isaac, and a brother who had an insane wife. John and Mary (Webster) Gaylord had three children: John who m. Sarah Phinney; Mary who m. Benj. Loomis; Betsey, who m. Roswell Miller. Simeon Webster (No. 2 in this family) certified May 4, 1818, in his pension application that he had a "deranged wife 56 years old, and a weakly child." We have no conclusive proof that Mary was a dau. of Joseph and a sister of Isaac, but the coincidences are strong. The end.

9. Martha Webster, b. probably prior to 1750, m. William Reade.

CHILDREN: (Reade) Martha, b. Oct. 31, 1771, in Enfield, Conn., and d. there, June 26, 1850, m. Dec. 24, 1794, Isaiah Allen, b. July 8, 1774, in Enfield, where they resided, and he died May 7, 1845. CHILDREN: (Allen) There were nine. The end.

Second Division, showing the Great Grandchildren of Thomas and Abigail Alexander Webster by their son, Capt. John Webster, who married Elizabeth —, and Grace Loomis.

1. Mary Webster, b. June 6, 1725, of Lebanon. No record.

2. John Webster, b. Nov. 29, 1727, of Exeter Parish, Lebanon, Ct., m. about 1747, Mary Bliss. He d. May 10, 1750. The Dewey Genealogy gives it 1753 which contradicts facts which are given below.

After the death of John Webster she m. (2) May 6, 1752, Joseph Barstow and had ten children by Barstow. Dr. J. W. Barstow of New York City states (1899) that Joseph Barstow removed about 1735 from Pembroke, Mass., to Lebanon, Conn., and that May 6, 1752, he married the widow, Mary Webster.

CHILDREN: (Webster) John, b. about 1747; Polly, b. about 1749. (We have the record of a John Webster b. July 17, 1751. Could it have been a second son John, b. to John and Mary (Dewey) Webster, and given the name of his older brother, John, who died May 10, 1750? Resumed in Chapter XIII.

5. Aaron Webster, born at Southington, Ct., Feb. 2, 1755, mar. Phoebe Winston, of Burlington, Ct.

They appear to have resided during the early part of their married lives at Southington, Ct., and to have spent the latter part of their lives at Bristol, Ct. The Records of Deeds in Southington show that he deeded land there in the early part of 1782, adjoining land of his father, Lieut. Aaron Webster. The records of Deeds of Bristol, Ct., show that he was in that town as early as 1787. The Records of admission to the Church at Bristol, Ct., are missing for the period from April 1782, to Oct. 1792, but Mrs. Phoebe Webster appears to have been admitted to Church there during said period. They probably moved to Bristol about or soon after 1782.

From Probate Records of Farmington, Ct. Will of Aaron Webster, of Bristol, Ct., dated March 25, 1797, and proved June 5, 1797. Witnesses, Joseph Byington, Ezra Ray, and Joel Barnes. Gave to wife Phebe, sons Addison and Aaron, and daughters Phebe, Laurana, Mercy, Jerusha and Betsey. Executor, his wife. Inventory made May 29, 1797, amount $1145.69. No date to distribution, but it was made to the widow, sons Addison and Aaron, and daughters Mercy, Jerusha and Betsey.

Will of Phebe Webster, dated Aug. 11, 1804 and proved Oct. 2, 1804. Witnesses, Israel Barnes, Lurana Barnes and Elijah Barnes. Gave to daughters Phebe, Jerusha and Betsey, to son Aaron and to daughter Lurena. Executors, son Addison and Bliss Hart. Inventory made Sept. 26, 1804.

March 12, 1804. Addison Webster appointed guardian to Aaron Webster, a minor, and Bliss Hart appointed guardian to Betsey Webster, a minor, Oct. 2, 1804.

April 27, 1802, administration was granted to Addison Webster, on the estate of Mercy Webster of Bristol (daughter of Aaron and Phebe Webster). Inventory taken April 26, 1802, amount $90.71. Distribution made April 4, 1803, to eldest male heir, Addison Webster, and to heirs Phebe Webster, Laurana Webster, Jerusha Webster, Betsey Webster, and Aaron Webster (her brothers and sisters).

Above mentioned records show that 1799, Joel Barnes was appointed guardian to Lucretia and Jerusha Webster. Were these not Lurena and Jerusha, daughters of Aaron and Phebe Webster? Joel Barnes was made guardian of Lucretia (Lurena) June 12, 1799, and of Jerusha, Nov. 25, 1799.

Both died at Bristol, Ct., he, Apr. 17, 1799, and she, Aug. 28, 1804.

CHILDREN: (Three and perhaps four born at Southington, the others probably at Bristol, as follows): Addison and Mercy, twins, bap. Sept. 17, 1780; Phoebe, bap. Sept. 2, 1781; Laurena or Lurena or Lorena; Jerusha, b. March 21, 1787; Betsey, b. April 26, 1791; Aaron, b. Dec. 29, 1794. Resumed in Chapter XIV.

6. Jerusha Webster, born at Southington, Ct., Dec. 14, 1756, mar. Jany. 13, 1779, Lieut. Daniel Barnes. He married, Nov. 23, 1785, Sarah Webster, her sister, which see.

The record of this marriage and the births which follow are from the Farmington Town Records. She d. at Bristol, Ct., Feb. 20, 1785.

(1) Lauren Barnes an att'y at Bristol, Ct., d. May 28, 1811, unmarried.

(2) Horace Barnes was lost at sea, according to family tradition, when young and unmarried.

7. Elisha Webster, b. Nov. 22, 1758, m. Martha ————, as shown by the following deeds.

Aug. 13, 1783, Elisha Webster and Martha his wife of Southington, Ct., deed a piece of land lying in Farmington, in the town of Southington, butting east on the land of Lois Pond, and south on the land of widow Martha Pond, to Moses Pond.

Oct. 6, 1778, Elisha Webster of Farmington deeds land to Isaac Lewis of Farmington, butting in land of Jared Lee and Jonathan Barnes.

April 3, 1780, Elisha Webster of Southington, deeds land to Asa Allcox of Farmington, butting on land of Jared Lee and Jonathan Barnes.

May 1, 1782, Aaron Webster deeds land to Elisha Webster, Jr., "on account of love and near relationship" to his son, Elisha Webster, Jr., butting on land of Philologus Webster, Timothy Clark, and Chaney Merri-man.

One or more of these notes may refer to Rev. Elisha Webster who lived until 1788. Elisha Webster, son of Lieut. Aaron, b. Nov. 22, 1758, is said by some to have died May 17, 1764, in which case all the notes should be referred to Rev. Elisha Webster, a brother of Aaron. The end.

8. Sarah Webster, b. Aug. 7, 1767, m. Nov. 23, 1785, Capt. Daniel Barnes, whose first wife was Jerusha Webster, above, sister of Sarah. (This marriage and the births are taken from the Bristol Town Records.) She d. June 10, 1830, at Weymouth, Medina Co., Ohio. He d. Feb., 1814.

2. Philologos Webster, b. at Southington, Ct., April 24, 1759, mar. Feb. 11, 1784, at Cheshire, New Haven Co., Conn., Sarah Scott.

He resided first in Southington, Ct. (probably in the parish of Farmingburg), but soon after 1803 must have removed to Simsbury, Ct., to a neighborhood known as Bushy Hill, where he remained until after 1812, when he removed with his family to Cazenovia, N. Y. He remained there only a short time, and removed to Ohio and settled on a large farm in Franklin Co., north of Columbus. He and his children died and are buried on this farm. All of the members of this family were very large in build. The Conn. Courant, of Hartford, Ct., Aug. 24, 1784, contains the following notice: "The house of Philo (Philologos?) Webster in Southington was destroyed by a terrible gale of wind, but none of the family were killed."

Philologos Webster was a soldier in the Revolutionary War. (His name appears as Philo—an abbreviated form of Philologos). He served in Cap't Asa Bray's Co. He arrived in camp April 3 and was discharged May 15, 1777. His name appears on the payroll of the company, May 10, 1777. He served one month and twenty-two days. On his monument in Greenlawn Cemetery, near Columbus, Ohio, appear the words: "Philologos Webster, member Connecticut Militia, Col. Hooker's Reg't, Cap't Asa Bray's Co. of the Colonial Army."

Philologos Webster's name appears quite frequently on the records of deeds of the towns of Southington, Bristol and Simsbury, Ct., from 1780 to 1812.

Dec. 6, 1780, Robert Webster (probably a cousin) deeded land in Southington to him, adjoining land that he already had, and on the same day he deeded land in Southington, which adjoined land belonging to his sister, Ursula Webster, to Lemuel Clark.

April 19, 1782, Aaron Webster, Jr. (a cousin) deeded land in Southington to him.

Aug. 21, 1782, he deeded land in Farmingburg parish, Southington, to Joseph Dutton, Jr. (his brother-in-law, husband of his sister, Hannah Lewis Webster).

April 28, 1783, Elisha Webster, Jr. (his cousin) deeded land to him in Southington, adjoining land which he already owned.

Nov. 3, 1785, he deeded a saw-mill, one half of which he had previously bought of his sister, Hannah Lewis Webster, before her marriage, and which was situated about a mile and a half from the "meeting house" in Southington, to Joseph Dutton, Jr. (his brother-in-law).

March 29, 1787, James Beckwith, Jr. deeded 144 acres of land on Fall Mountain, in Bristol, Ct., to him.

Jany 23, 1804, Chauncey Case, of Cazenovia, N. Y., deeded land in Simsbury, Ct., to him (describing him as of Southington). (From Simsbury records.)

April, 1805, he deeded land in Simsbury to a resident of Southington. (Simsbury records.)

Jany. 26, 1808, he had land deeded to him at "Bushy Hill" in Simsbury, which adjoined land already owned by him. (From Simsbury records.)

Oct. 19, 1809, Philologos Webster had more land, near that already owned by him in Simsbury, deeded to him. (From Simsbury records.)

Aug. 3, 1812, Philologos Webster and Philo Peter Webster of Bushy Hill, Simsbury, Ct., had a piece of corn deeded to them in payment of a debt, and Harvey Webster signed as one of the witnesses.

Nov. 4, 1812, Philologos Webster purchases land in the town of Nelson, Madison Co., N. Y. Again in 1812, he, and Sarah his wife of Simsbury, Ct., buy land in town of Nelson, (Cazenovia) N. Y. Philo Webster a witness.

He died at Clintonville, Franklin Co., Ohio, May 28, 1824. She died July 28, 1822, aged 66 years.

CHILDREN: (Probably all b. in Southington, Ct.) Philo Peter, b. May 28, 1785; John, b. Jany. 11, 1787; Harvey, b. July 15, 1788; Levi, b. Feb. 13, 1790; Rhoda, b. March 15, 1792; Elihu, b. Sept. 6, 1795. Resumed in Chapter XIV.

SECTION 4.—Children of Osee (Capt. John, John, Robert, Gov. John) and Mercy (Beckwith) Webster of Southington, Ct.

1. Osee Webster, b. Feb. 20, 1763, at Southington, Ct., mar. Ruth King, daughter of Ebenezer and Phebe (Dakin) King, of Dutchess Co., N. Y., in which she was b. Oct. 30, 1773.

He is said to have served against the "cowboys" in the War of Revolution, having run away from home when only 14 years old to enter the service. He is also said to have served in the battle of Plattsburgh, but this is doubtful as he was then 51 years old. He was a mill-wright and removed with his family about 1819 and settled on the line between what are now Monroe and Orleans Counties, N. Y.

March 27, 1787, deeds to Samuel S. Squire, butting on land of Capt. Joel Potter, David Smith, and Eleazer Peck.

April 2, 1787, Osee Webster of Southington, Ct., deeds land to John Woodruff, Jr., butting on Job Lewis, and Thomas and Josiah Andrews. Same date, to Abel Carter, butting on Carter, Samuel Pratt, and Daniel Carter. Also, same date, to Stephen Grannis, butting on Joel Grannis, and Abel Carter, with new dwelling house and barn.

The Vital Statistics of Granville, Mass., show the baptism of the following children of Cyrus Webster and wife: June 24, 1804, Rhoda, William Holland, Sarah; and, May 15, 1808, Mercy. Also the following marriages: Feb. 24, 1829, Rhoda Webster and Lewis Chapin of Springfield. Dec. 16, 1829, Mercy Webster and William Gaines of Granby, Ct. Resumed in Chapter XIV.

3. Sarah Webster, b. May 6, 1767, at Southington. No record.

4. John Webster, b. Aug. 14, 1769; at Southington, Ct., mar. Jany. 22, 1793, Thankful Hazzard, b. March 25, 1774. She was the daughter of a soldier of the Revolution, and her mother (Miss Stewart) was a sister of the mother of Commodore Perry.

John Webster carried on a mechanical, mercantile and milling business and aided generally in building up a new country.

Nov. 19, 1802, John Webster of the town of Hartford, Ontario Co., N. Y., purchased land in township No. 3, range 2, of James Wadsworth of Geneseo, Ontario Co., N. Y., lying west of the Genesee River, 2 parcels, in what was known as the town of Fairfield. Hartford included what are now the towns of Rush and Avon. Oct. 15, 1810, John Webster of Avon, N. Y., buys of James Wadsworth of Geneseo, land for a mill dam on Honeoye Creek in Avon. Witness, John Stanley.

John Webster died at Rush, N. Y., with his son, Hazzard, Nov. 29, 1840, and she at Hinesburg, Orleans Co., N. Y., with her daughter Betsey, Aug. 26, 1841. A tombstone in an old cemetery at East Rush, Monroe Co., N. Y., reads thus: "John Webster, born in M'ss., Aug. 14, 1769, d. at Rush, Nov. 29, 1840, aged 77 years and 3 mos. T. 5. Seth Webster, b. Feb. 6, 1774, at Southington, Ct. This family has eluded all search, and we record a few confused facts and recollections. They may lead to further discovery.

Mrs. Mercy Donalson thinks that Emily Webster, who is said to have mar. a man who lost a leg, perhaps named Wilson, a tailor by trade, who lived near Oswego, N. Y., could tell of "Uncle" Seth's family. She believes that Emily was Seth's daughter, that she m. a man named Herman of Oswego; that Emily was an only child. She also speaks of Dr. Wm. Webster of Batavia, N. Y., as probably a son of Cyrus, at least of a different family from Emily. His father wanted him to study for the ministry. He preferred medicine, and aided by his grandfather, became a doctor. John Holbrook Webster gives the date of birth of Dr. Wm. H. Webster Dec. 12, 1841, and says he was an own cousin of his father, Milton Webster. (Milton was a son of John of Rush, N. Y.)

The Genesee County, N. Y., records furnish the following: May 20, 1835, William H. Webster of Batavia purchases of Chauncey and Angeline Kirkham a lot in Batavia. 1836, William H. Webster in Batavia. Aug. 5, 1837, William H. Webster of Batavia, N. Y., purchases of John Webster of Rush, Monroe Co., N. Y. Sep. 15, 1841, Wm. H. Webster of Batavia sells to Samuel N. Oothout.

Wm. H. Webster of Batavia, N. Y., made a Will, dated Dec. 5, 1841, which was presented to the Court, Jan. 3, 1842. In it his wife, Ruth Victoria, his dau. Frances Elizabeth, and his sons, William Cyrus, Charles Abram, and James Graves, are mentioned.

April 16, 1851, William S. Mallory appeared as special guardian of Frances Elizabeth, Wm. H., Charles A., infants under 21 years of age, and Ruth V., all of Batavia; sells to Ruth V. Webster and William Blossom of Batavia, N. Y. The end.

6. Anne Webster, b. Oct. 8, 1775, at Southington, Conn. No record.

6. Charles R. Webster, (the R. is supposed to stand for Richard), b. at Hartford, Ct., Sept. 30, 1762, a twin brother of George, mar. at Hartford, Ct., Monday, Feb. 17, 1787, Rachel, daughter of Ashbel and Rachel (Skinner) Steele, b. at Hartford, in 1763. Her father, Ashbel Steele, died at Albany, July 8, 1790, aged 59, and her mother Rachel (Skinner) Steele died at Albany, May 21, 1804, aged 66. Charles Richard Webster, mar. (2) at Albany, April 2, 1796, Cynthia Steele, a sister of his first wife, who was b. Sept. 19, 1770.

Charles R. Webster had some part in the Revolutionary War as shown by the following. In the year 1818, at Albany, N. Y., he certified that he was a printer; that in 1778 and 1779, he lived in Hartford, Ct., and was a member of an artillery company, raised in Hartford, Capt. Samuel Mattock. This company performed guard duty to Gen. George Washington and French officers at Hartford and Wethersfield when the interview took place prior to Arnold's treason. Was one of the firm (1818) keeping a book store in Albany.

When the militia of Conn. was called out in 1781, Charles R. Webster, then 19 years of age, became one of the members of Capt. Hezekiah Wyllys' Co., and went with the Co. to New Haven, Ct., where he served for 15 days.

Charles R. Webster was known as the Father of Printing at Albany, N. Y., where he and his twin brother George Webster carried on the Printing and Book Publishing Business for many years, having associated with them for a large part of the time, three of the sons of their sister, viz: Elisha W., Hezekiah and Daniel Skinner.

The father of Charles R. became surety for a stranger, an Englishman, and was compelled to make good the amount of his endorsements, by which means he lost all his property, being compelled to sell even his cow, and Charles R. then at the age of seven, was apprenticed to Hudson and Goodrich, printers of the Connecticut Courant, at Hartford, Ct., to remain until he should be 21 years of age.

In 1782, he removed to Albany and entered into partnership with Solomon Balentine, whose printing material (as Webster often said) consisted of as many types as a squaw could carry in her bag. He at once established a printing office at Albany, it being the first one started on the Hudson higher up than Fishkill. As Balentine was not a congenial partner, Webster separated from him in 1783 and went to New York City, before the city was evacuated by the British, where he commenced the publication of the New York Gazette, but after the close of the war, Balentine having left Albany, and Webster's friends there urging his return, he again established himself in Albany. Soon after, his twin brother George united with him in the business, and not long after that, the three nephews, (Skinners) above named, were taken into the partnership.

In 1784, the firm issued the first number of the Albany Gazette, which paper continued its existence to 1845, when it was the oldest paper in the State. In Nov. of the same year they published the Webster Calendar or Albany Almanac, which has since been annually issued, and about the same time they published the New England Primer. In 1788 they published the Albany Journal, or Montgomery, Washington and Columbia Intelligencer. They also published the first Albany Directory, which was for the year 1813.

When he first went to Albany the Yankees were not generally liked by the old Dutch and other residents of that place, but Webster at once became quite popular, and was ever after prominent in almost every business and benevolent enterprise of that city. He was one of the originators of the Albany Mechanics' Society, of which he was President from 1799 to 1824, and later he was prominent in originating the Lancastrian School and the Apprentices' Library. He was also a member of the Washington Benevolent Society. He was a Trustee of the Albany Savings Bank, a Director of the Albany Insurance Co., was one of the Board of Commerce and Improvement, was a Trustee of the Presbyterian Church, and his wife Cynthia was one of the managers of the Albany Ladies' Society. He was Capt. of the Albany Independent Art'ly Co., of which his brother George was a Sergt. and he tendered the service of his Co. to President Adams, at the time of the anticipated war with France.

Through all the great political convulsions, amid the hurry of an increasing business, and under the burden of continual and engrossing cares, he retained all his early habits. He rose at four and came home at nine, and laid down before ten; his diet was plain; he was strictly temperate, remarkably laborious and of unwearying activity. No day found him so busy that it prevented him from reading, before breakfast, a chapter in the Bible, and uniting with his family in prayer.

He was said to be 6 ft. in height, erect and easy in manner, a high forehead, fair complexion, black hair, which turned silver gray in later life, eyes a light clear gray and lively and full of intelligence. He was dignified and full of courtesy and benevolence. His conversation was interesting, instructive, and pure. He died at Saratoga Springs whither he had gone for his health. His last words were, "The aim of my life has been to have my heart right with God and my trust in the merits of my Redeemer." (See the Annals of Albany for a full Biography and many references to Charles R. Webster.)

He died at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., July 18, 1834, and is buried at Albany, N. Y. His wife Rachel died at Albany, March 31, 1794, aged 30 years and 10 months, and his widow at Albion, N. Y., Dec. 22, 1848, aged 78.

CHILDREN: (All b. at Albany, N. Y.) (By first mar.): Rachel, Sept. or Oct., 1789, and died aged 15 days; Eliza, Nov. 4, 1790; Charles, April 4, 1793. (By second mar.): Ashbel Steele, Feb. 17, 1797; Benjamin, April 25, 1799, died Aug. 31, 1800, aged 1-4-6; Lucy, April, 1802, died Dec. 24, 1802, aged 8 months; Matthew Henry, Nov. 22, 1803; Benjamin, 1805 or 1806, died Sept. 11, 1808; Edward, July, 1809, died Nov. 9, same year, aged 4 months; Richard, July 14, 1811. Resumed in Chapter XV.

7. George Webster, b. at Hartford, Ct., Sept. 30, 1762, twin brother of the foregoing Charles Richard, mar. (1) Apr. 3, 1799 (reported in Providence, R. I. Journal.) Rachel Bush, and (2) at Sheffield, Berkshire Co., Mass., Nov., 1810, Sarah Bush, sister of his first wife, whose parents were Jonathan and Rachel (Steele) Bush, of Sheffield, Mass. Notice of this marriage was published in papers at Hartford, Ct., Nov. 12, 1810. George Webster was a printer and publisher, of Albany, N. Y., with his brother Charles Richard. See foregoing record of Charles R. Webster which includes much that is common to both.

He died at Albany, N. Y., Feb. 21, 1823. His first wife died (place unknown) 1809. His widow died at Albany, June, 1843.

CHILDREN: (All b. at Albany, N. Y.) (1st m.) George Bush, 1800; Samuel, b. 1802; William, b. July 3, 1804; John, b. in 1805; (2d. m.) Horace Bush, b. Feb. 11, 1813; Matthew Howard, b. July 4, 1816; Rachel, b. Aug. 3, 1820, died unmarried at Detroit, Mich., 1869. Resumed in Chapter XV.

SECTION 2.—Children of Capt. Medad (Ebenezer, John, Robert, Gov. John) and Elizabeth (Holten) Webster of Hartford, Ct.

1. Samuel Webster, a farmer, b. at Hartford, Ct., in Sept., 1749, mar. at Hartford, about 1770, Huldah Skinner, daughter by his first wife, of Jonathan Skinner.

Sept. 19, 1805, Samuel Webster, of Hartford, deeded land partly in Hartford and partly in Wethersfield, to Ezekiel Atwood.

Letters of administration on the estate of Samuel Webster, Sr., were granted Sept. 21, 1813, to Menzies Webster. Inventory was taken Oct. 4, 1813. The administrator representing the estate insolvent was empowered, Oct. 13, 1814, to sell it for the benefit of the creditors.

Both died at Hartford, Ct., he March 25, 1813, aged 63 years and 6 months, and she April 1, 1813, aged 59 years and 4 months.

Dec. 26, 1802; Charles, b. 1794, bap. Dec. 6, 1795. Resumed in Chapter XV.

2. Joseph Webster, a farmer, b. in 1751, at Hartford, Ct., mar. Nancy Bunce. They lived at Rocky Hill (Wethersfield) Ct. He died at Rocky Hill, Ct., Dec. 22, 1801, aged 50 years and she Feb. 12, 1831, aged 76 years. The Hartford Courant of Dec. 28, 1801, says: "Died on Tuesday (Dec. 22) last very suddenly, Mr. Joseph Webster of this town, aged 50 years. Mr. Webster went into the woods that afternoon for the purpose of cutting some hoop poles and not returning at his usual hour the family were alarmed and search was made for him. He was found lifeless lying on his back with some hoop poles across him. It is thought his death was caused by his falling. He leaves a wife, six children and an aged mother to lament his untimely fate." His wife outlived him some 30 years, dying Feb. 12, 1831, aged 76.

From the Probate Records of Hartford, Ct.: May 28, 1805, Letters of Administration on the estate of Joseph Webster, late of Hartford, Ct., were granted to Roderic Sheldon, of Hartford.

Aug. 31, 1808, William Webster, aged about 17; Frederick Webster, aged about 19; and Nancy Webster, aged about 14, made choice of Joseph Webster, of Hartford, to be their guardian, and the Court appointed Joseph Webster to be guardian to Jerusha Webster, aged about 11 yrs., all minors, being children of Joseph Webster, late of Hartford. The guardian must have been the brother of his wards.

CHILDREN: (All b. at Rocky Hill, Ct.) Eunice, b. Oct. 17, 1784; Joseph, July 24, 1787; Frederick, Sept. 13, 1789, bap. May 8, 1791; William, b. Oct. 28, 1791, bap. Third Division, showing the Great Grandchildren of John and Sarah (Mygatt) Webster, by their son, Captain Daniel Webster of Hartford, Ct., who married Mirriam Kellogg.

1. Mercy Webster, b. at Hartford, Ct., Nov. 8, 1749, mar. at West Hartford, Ct., Sept. 18, 1769, John Kellogg Belding (Belden), b. May 19, 1740, son of John and Sarah (Kellogg) Belding, of Hartford. He died Nov. 22, 1815, and she Aug. 12, 1820.

CHILDREN: (Belden) (Probably all born at West Hartford, Ct.) Mercy, b. March 26, 1771, died April 18, 1777; Lucinda, b. Feb. 10, 1772; John, b. Jany. 14, 1774; Rachel, born Aug. 5, 1776, died Sept. 9, 1777; Ebenezer, b. Sept. 19, 1778; Mercy, b. May 2, 1782; Betsey, b. March 18, 1786. Resumed in Chapter XVI.

2. Abraham Webster, b. at Hartford, Ct., Sept. 17 or 28, 1751, mar. (1) at New Hartford, Ct., Jany. 11, 1775, Rachel Merrill, b. 1752, who died in childbed at West Hartford, Jany. 19, 1776, in her 24th year. The intentions of marriage were published in West Hartford, Jany. 1, 1775. The date of Mrs. Rachel Webster's death as given on her tombstone at West Hartford, is Jany. 18, 1776, "in ye 24th year of her age." He mar. (2) at West Hartford, Feb. 17, 1778, Dorothy (Dolly) daughter of Moses and Rachel (Goodwin) Seymour, of West Hartford, born Oct. 13, 1746, and bap. Oct. 19, following. Moses Seymour, her father, was the son of John and Elizabeth (Webster) Seymour, b. Feb. 17, 1710-11. Rachel Goodwin her mother was dau. of Nathaniel Goodwin, and she was bap. Jan. 22, 1715-16. Moses Seymour and Rachel Goodwin were mar. March 14, 1737-8.

Abraham Webster enlisted for service in the war of Revolution, at Hartford, Ct., Feb. 1, 1776, for one year, in Capt. John Stevens' Co., of Col. Charles Burrell's Regt., Conn. line. He joined his company at Canaan, Ct., whence they marched to Albany, N. Y., thence to Ft. George, thence to Ticonderoga, and thence to Montreal, where their orders were countermanded and they proceeded to the Cedars, on the river in Canada, where there was a small fort, commanded by Maj. Butterfield, who was beseiged by the British Canadians and Indians. Here he was surrendered to the British and held by them as a prisoner for a short time. After his release he returned with the army to Ticonderoga and remained in service until Feb. 1, 1777, when he was discharged at Ft. Independence, opposite Ticonderoga. In 1829 Webster owned about 86 acres of land at Lebanon, N. Y., valued at $810, and personal property of the value of $171, but he claimed to be then in debt to the amount of nearly $780.

He was allowed a pension of $8 per month.

The "Record of Conn. Men in the Revolution," has Abraham Webster's name on "Lexington Alarm List," for a service of 2 days in April 1775, from Hartford, Ct., a private in Capt. Abraham Sedgwick's Co.

It also has him, in Capt. John Steven's Co., Col. Charles Burrall's Regt., raised on Continental establishment, 1776, from Feb. 5, (the end of his term is not given, but the term of the Regt. expired Jany. 19, 1777.) The Regt. was raised to serve in the Northern Department, under Gen'l Schuyler. It reinforced the troops beseiging Quebec under Arnold, and after the retreat from that position in April 1776 was stationed at Ticonderoga and vicinity. Stevens' Co. and one other was engaged in the affair at the Cedars, 40 miles above Montreal, and nearly all were made prisoners.

His name and the name of his first wife appear upon the church record at West Hartford, in 1775, and his second wife appears as a member in 1778.

The census of 1790 shows Abraham Webster of the town of Bethlehem, Berkshire Co., Mass.

1803, Abraham Webster of Hamilton, Chenango Co., N. Y., purchased land there of Sir Wm. Pulteney of England.

Abraham Webster was a brother to Noah, author of the Dictionary. He was doubtless the Abraham Webster who served in Capt. John Stevens' Co., in the War of Revolution, and who was surrendered with his Company to the Canadians and Indians at the Cedars in Canada, and who, in 1829, was residing at Lebanon, N. Y.

Dolly Webster, his 2d wife died at Lebanon, Madison Co., N. Y., June 5, 1819. He mar. (3) at Vernon, Oneida Co., N. Y., Feb. 19, 1822, Eunice W. Childs, of Deerfield, Franklin Co., Mass. (The History of Deerfield has this: Ezekiel Webster mar. Eunice Childs, b. Aug. 17, 1778, and she mar. (2) Giles Hubbard.)

Abraham Webster died at Sullivan, Madison Co., N. Y., Aug. 4, 1831, having removed from Lebanon, N. Y., a few years before. He is buried at East Boston, Madison Co., N. Y. His widow and third wife d. at Sunderland, Franklin Co., Mass., April 24, 1844.

4. Noah Webster, the distinguished author of Webster's "American Dictionary of the English Language," b. at West Hartford, Ct., Oct. 16, 1758, mar. Oct. 26, 1789, at Boston, by Rev. Peter Thatcher, Rebecca Greenleaf, of Boston, Mass., with whom he became acquainted in Philadelphia while teaching in an Academy. She was daughter of William Greenleaf, the first High Sheriff chosen by the people of Boston in the Revolution, and who at a public meeting of the citizens of Boston, on the 18th day of July, 1776, first read in part, at least, the Declaration of Independence to the people of Boston then and there assembled. Judge William Cranch, who was in 1801 appointed Associate Judge of the Circuit Court of the District of Columbia by his uncle, John Adams, President of the United States, and in 1805 was appointed Chief Justice of the same Court by Thomas Jefferson, mar. Nancy, another daughter of William Greenleaf. William Greenleaf's wife, the mother of the two daughters named above, was Mary Brown, of Plymouth.

The following is a summary of the ancestry of Noah Webster in the female lines which appeared in the New York Times, and is dated Sep. 30, 1908.

Susanna Treat, wife of Robert Webster, was the daughter of Capt. Richard Treat of Wethersfield. Capt. Richard Treat was one of the original proprietors of Wethersfield, and was commissioned Captain in Richard Lord's First Connecticut Cavalry in 1658.

Sarah Mygatt, wife of John Webster, was the daughter of Jacob Mygatt of Hartford and Sarah Whitney. Jacob Mygatt was the son of Deacon Joseph Mygatt, one of the original proprietors of Hartford, who came from England in the Griffin in 1633.

Sarah Whitney was the daughter of the Hon. William Whitney, one of the original proprietors of Hartford, and Treasurer of the colony in 1641 till his death, 1647.

Miriam Cooke Kellogg, wife of Daniel Webster, was the daughter of Noah Cooke of Northampton, Mass., and Sarah Nash. Noah Cooke of Northampton was the son of Capt. Aaron Cooke of Dorchester, Mass., who was born in England.

Sarah Nash was the daughter of Joseph Nash, an early settler of Hartford, Conn.

Mercy Steele, the mother of Noah Webster, the lexicographer, was the daughter of Eliphalet Steele and Catherine Marshfield. Eliphalet Steele was the son of Samuel Steele and Mercy Bradford. Samuel Steele was the son of John Steele, Jr., of Hartford, and Mercy Warner. John Steele, Jr., was the son of John Steele, one of the original proprietors of Hartford, and Secretary of the colony in 1634-1639. He was born in Essex County, England.

Mercy Warner was the daughter of Andrew Warner, one of the original proprietors of Hartford.

Mercy Bradford, wife of Samuel Steele, was the daughter of Major William Bradford of Plymouth, Mass., Commander in Chief in King Philip's war, and Alice Richards, his wife. Major William Bradford was the son of Gov. William Bradford of Plymouth, who came over in the Mayflower, and Alice Carpenter Southworth, his wife.

Alice Carpenter was the daughter of Alexander Carpenter, a Pilgrim, who was born in Wrentham, England, but afterward lived at Leyden.

Alice Richards, the wife of Major Bradford, was the daughter of Thomas Richards of Plymouth.

Of the Marshfield family the writer has no knowledge. From the above it will be observed that Noah Webster came from sturdy stock, and that Connecticut may rightly claim him as one of her most distinguished sons.

In a sermon preached by Rev. Henry B. Roberts, at West Hartford, Ct., on Thanksgiving Day, 1888, devoted to the Life and Work of Noah Webster, and published in The Connecticut Courant, Dec. 6, 1888, he says:

"We have an interest in him because he was born in this place, was brought up under the nurture of this church, and received his training for college just across the way. He came of substantial stock. His great-grandfather was one of the first settlers in Hartford, and governor of Connecticut. His mother was a descendant of William Bradford the Plymouth governor. His father was justice of the peace, and for many years deacon of this church. He died at the great age of ninety-one. You may see his tombstone in our oldest burying ground, and underneath his epitaph is that of his wife, Mercy, described as "his consort, equally respected for her piety and virtues."

"Noah Webster, the son, was born October 16, 1758, in a house still standing here. He told the lady who now occupies the house that he probably first saw the light in the front parlor, for the best room in the house was thought in those days none too good for such an event. The place is not changed much since the days of the Revolution. The farm of eighty acres around it has been divided and sold. A row of Lombardy poplars that once stood before the house has been cut down, and a little shop in the front yard has been torn down.

"When Noah was twelve years old his pastor, still a young man of thirty-three, died, and the Rev. Nathan Perkins succeeded him. His ministry lasted for the remarkable period of sixty-six years, and in that time he fitted more than one hundred and fifty men for college and instructed some thirty candidates for the ministry. Noah Webster was one of the first young men whom he prepared for college. In 1774 he entered Yale, probably going on foot from his father's house to New Haven. The father was deeply interested in his son's career, for he mortgaged his farm to pay the college expenses, and more than once rode horseback to New Haven to bring his boy home, walking back and letting his son ride, saying he was best able to walk.

"Yale college had then about one hundred and fifty students, and a faculty consisting of two professors and three tutors. The four years were spent in the acquisition of Latin and Greek and a smattering of mathematics, logic, rhetoric and metaphysics. The students lodged in the dormitories and boarded at commons.

"Young Webster entered college (1774) at an extraordinary time, when the political agitations without must have interfered seriously with scholastic quiet. He had been but a few months in college, when the thrilling story of Lexington and Concord came, followed soon by Bunker Hill. General Washington and his staff passed through New Haven on his way to take command of the Revolutionary forces gathered in Cambridge. They lodged there, and in the morning were invited to see the drill of a company of the students, who finally escorted General Washington as far on his way as Neck Bridge. Webster had the honor of leading the way blowing a fife.

"In the third year of his course, (1777) on account of the war, college life in New Haven was broken up, and the classes were dispersed to various towns. Webster's class went to Glastonbury. That summer New England was stirred as never before by the tidings of the invasion of Burgoyne from Canada. General Howe was advancing from the south to meet him; thus they hoped to strike a fatal blow at the rebellious colonists. Burgoyne, with his British forces, accompanied by large bands of savage Indians, came ever nearer. When he reached Albany he planned to send out those Indians over Connecticut to burn, to pillage, to ravage, and to kill. He succeeded in reaching Lake Champlain and the banks of the Hudson.

"The alarm of our Connecticut people may easily be imagined. Men were hurried into the field to meet the invading army. A company went from West Hartford, commanded by Deacon Webster, and in that company went his three sons, Noah among them. All the male members of the family were away. Whether Mrs. Webster and the girls did the haying that summer, I know not. This West Hartford company took part in the brilliant victories which ended in Burgoyne's surrender. The British with the tune of Yankee Doodle in their ears laid down their arms at the feet of these New England farmers. Our towns' people came home from the brief campaign as heroes. But not all; for Dr. Perkins has recorded in the "Bill of Mortality" for that year, the name of Lewis Stanley as dying in captivity. Very likely he was taken by the Indians and put to death by torture. John Hooker and Lyman Gillette died of camp distemper, and William Henry died of wounds. Deacon Webster, however, and his three boys came home safe and sound.

"The following year, (1778) Noah finished his college course. His father gave him an eight-dollar bill of the Continental currency, worth about four dollars in silver, and sent him forth to win his own way in the world. He taught school for a living; read law as he could, and gained admittance to the bar, (in the year 1781)."

Noah Webster was a prodigious worker. He touched many lines of activity and all with ability. Methodical and tireless, he accomplished a life work astonishing in its variety and extent. Rising half an hour before sunrise daily, but never using lamp light for his studies, he husbanded his strength and preserved his health, which was never robust, to an advanced old age, working to the last.

His wish, we are told, was to be a lawyer, but his aptitudes led him steadily toward philology and his monumental work was "The American Dictionary of the English Language."

He taught a Classic School at Goshen, in Orange Co., N. Y., 1782, and here began to formulate his Institutes of the English Language, the first part of which was the basis of his famous spelling book, the sale of which, up to 1876, exceeded 70,000,000 copies.

In 1787 he was principal of an academy in Philadelphia, and upon the urgent wish of many of the founders of the new Constitution (the Constitutional Convention was in session that year), he wrote a valuable summary of its provisions and urged its adoption by the states. Previously (1785) he had written "Sketches of American Policy," which foreshadowed the character of the forthcoming Constitution. He had also, in 1786, delivered lectures in the principal cities along the Atlantic seaboard, on the English Language.

He located in New York and established, in 1788, The American Magazine, which he published a year at a heavy financial loss. The following year, 1789, he returned to Hartford, and took up the practice of law. On the 26th of October that year occurred his marriage. His law practice became large and profitable, but upon the urgent solicitation of friends of President Washington's administration, the young lawyer dropped his briefs and went to New York City (fall of 1793) and founded "The Minerva," a daily, and "The Herald," a semi-weekly newspaper, since changed to "The Commercial Advertiser" and "The New York Spectator," respectively. In the year 1798 he settled in New Haven, having resigned editorial charge of his papers, but not his proprietorship.

Still voluminous in his authorship he published (1799) two volumes on Epidemics, inspired by the recent ravages of yellow fever. In 1802, "Origin and State of Banking Institutions and Insurance Offices," and "Rights of Neutral Nations in Times of War," and in 1807, "Philosophical and Practical Grammar of the English Language."

All this, however, seemed but a prelude to the larger work to which he was drawn—the master passion and purpose of his life—the production of an American Dictionary. To accomplish this, he removed to Amherst, Mass., where he became one of the founders of the college, and president of its first board of trustees, in the meantime representing the town in the Legislature as he had also done several times in New Haven, where also he had been Judge of one of its Courts. Returning to New Haven, in 1822, he was honored the following year with the title of LL.D., conferred by Yale College, his Alma Mater. For 36 years he labored in the production of his Dictionary and in his 70th year (1828), he brought it to completion and published its first edition in 2 volumes. This had required a trip to Europe in June, 1824, with two months in Paris at the Royal Library, and eight months at Cambridge University, England. He finished the work in Jan. 1825, and says of it:

"When I arrived at the last word, I was seized with a tremor that made it difficult to proceed. I, however, summoned up strength to finish the work, and then walking about the room I soon recovered."

From the revised edition of 1841 we have selected parts of his own narrative as there given in the preface, which we reproduce largely in his own words, as follows:

"In the year 1783, just at the close of the Revolution, I published an elementary book for facilitating the acquisition of our vernacular tongue, and for correcting a vicious pronunciation, which prevailed extensively among the common people of this country. Soon after the publication of that work, I believe in the following year, that learned and respectable scholar, the Rev. Dr. Goodrich of Durham, one of the trustees of Yale College, suggested to me the propriety and expediency of my compiling a Dictionary, which should complete a system for the instruction of the citizens of this country in the language. At that time, I could not indulge the thought, much less the hope, of undertaking such a work; as I was neither qualified by research, nor had I the means of support, during the execution of the work, had I been disposed to undertake it. For many years, therefore, though I considered such a work as very desirable, yet it appeared to me impracticable; as I was under the necessity of devoting my time to other occupations for obtaining subsistence."

He then narrates how, to remedy these defects in the language, and supply the new words "which recent discoveries in the physical sciences had introduced into use," he published his Compendious Dictionary in 1806.

His original plan did not include "the origin and progress of our language, much less of other languages." "I limited my views to the correcting of certain errors in the best English Dictionaries, and to the supplying of words in which they are deficient. But after writing through two letters of the alphabet, I determined to change my plan."

Laying aside his manuscripts, and all books treating of language, except Lexicons and Dictionaries, he sought in about twenty languages the primary sense of words, and affinities between the English and many other languages.

"I spent" he says, "ten years in this comparison of radical words and in forming a Synopsis of the principal Words in twenty Languages, arranged in Classes, under their primary Elements and Letters."

Before this was finished he visited Europe and gained what he was able in the matter of pronunciation and grammatical construction.

In all this is apparent the conviction which he expresses, that the people of this country needed an American Dictionary of the English Language, for while England and this country had much in common, there had sprung up on this side of the Atlantic another class of institutions and ideas which needed a new class of definitions to express them. The same words in the two countries did not mean the same thing.

And he adds this lofty utterance: "The United States commenced their existence under circumstances wholly novel, and unexampled in the history of nations. They commenced with civilization, with learning, with science, with constitutions of free government, and with that best gift of God to man, the Christian religion. Their population is now equal to that of England; in arts and sciences, our citizens are very little behind the most enlightened people on earth; in some respects they have no superiors; and our language, within two centuries, will be spoken by more people in this country than any other language on earth, except the Chinese, in Asia, and even that may not be an exception."

In concluding his prefatory history and the explanation of his great task, he modestly declares: "It satisfies my mind that I have done all that my health, my talents and my pecuniary means would enable me to accomplish. I present it to my fellow citizens, not with frigid indifference, but with my ardent wishes for their improvement and happiness; and for the continued increase of the wealth, the learning, the moral and religious elevation of character, and the glory of my country."

"To that great and benevolent Being, who, during the preparation of this Work, has sustained a feeble constitution, amidst obstacles and toils, disappointments, infirmities and depression;—who has borne me and my manuscripts in safety across the Atlantic, and given me strength and resolution to bring the Work to a close, I would present the tribute of my most grateful acknowledgments. And if the talent which he intrusted to my care, has not been put to the most profitable use in his service, I hope it has not been 'kept laid up in a napkin,' and that any misapplication of it may be graciously forgiven."

NOAH WEBSTER.

New Haven, 1840.

Noah Webster died in New Haven, Ct., May 28, 1843, and his widow, June 25, 1847, and they are buried there in the Grove Street Cemetery.

CHILDREN: Emily Scholten, b. at Hartford, Ct., Aug. 4, 1790; Frances Juliana (always called Julia), b. at Hartford, Ct., Feb. 5, 1793, bap. in private on account of sickness, Feb. 18, 1793; Harriet, b. in New York City, April 6, 1797; Mary, b. at New Haven, Ct., Jan. 7, 1799; William Greenleaf, b. Sept. 15, 1801; Eliza Steele, b. at New Haven, Ct., Dec. 21, 1803; Henry Bradford, b. Nov. 20, 1806, and died when about 10 weeks old; Louisa, b. at New Haven, Ct., April 12, 1808. Resumed in Chapter XVI.

5. Charles Webster, b. at West Hartford, Ct., Sept. 2, 1762, mar. (1) Dec. 11, 1783, according to Farmington Church Record, Betsey Woodruff. (2) Jan., 1811, Mrs. Joanna Wilkinson, nee Darling, widow of Jonathan Wilkinson.

Charles Webster, Sr., was a merchant of Hartford, Ct., who mar. (1) Elizabeth Woodruff, daughter of Darius and Elizabeth Woodruff, and (2) Mrs. Joanna Wilkinson, of West Hartford, formerly of Cumberland, R. I., a daughter of Peter and Amy Darling. Peter Darling was a magistrate and a large land holder.

Charles Webster, of Hartford, mar. Elizabeth Woodruff, of Farmington. The intentions were published at West Hartford, Nov. 30, 1783. Notice of his second marriage was published in Hartford papers, Jan. 7, 1811. West Hartford Church Records give date of death of first wife, April 19, 1810, but notice of death published in a Hartford paper, dated Monday, April 23, says she died on the previous Monday, which would be the 16th of April, and gives her name as Elizabeth, wife of Charles Webster.

His, and his first wife's names appear as members of the Church at West Hartford, in 1787.

Charles Webster's first wife died at West Hartford, Monday, April 16, 1810, aged 51. He died Feb. 23, 1817, same place, aged 59, and his widow Joanna at Waterbury, Ct., in 1841.

CHILDREN: (All b. and bap. at West Hartford.) (By first mar.) Charles, bap. May 23, 1787; Nelson, bap. Feb. 18, 1788; Samuel Woodruff, b. 1791; (By second mar.) Elizabeth Amey, b. Oct. 14, 1811; Jonathan, b. Jan. 19, 1816, whose name was changed early in life to John Wilkinson, at the request of his uncle, Noah Webster, who wished to perpetuate the name of John in the family. Resumed in Chapter XVI.

1. Thankful Webster, bap. July 7, 1754. No record.

2. Bavil Webster, a printer, b. at West Hartford, date unknown, mar. Amna Catlin, who was born in 1758. After his death she mar. again, John Van Norden.

CHILDREN: None by either marriage.

Feb. 8, 1773, Bevil Webster, a minor, son of Zephaniah Webster, late of Hartford, deceased, made choice of his mother, Lydia Webster, to be his guardian.

Bavil (or as usually spelled, Bevil) was in business in Hartford from at least 1778 to 1781. He advertised "Indigo" in 1778 and in 1781 the "Psalms of David, by Dr. Watts," the "New England Primer," etc. "Printing and Book Binding carried on," "a few rods Southeast of the Court House."

March 25, 1778, Thomas and Experience Ensign, of Hartford, deeded land in Hartford, to Bavil Webster. March 25, 1778, Bavil Webster, of Hartford, deeded land in Town Commons of Hartford, to John and Elisah Dod.

Dec. 24, 1782, notice was published that Trumbull's Poem of MacFingle would come out soon, to be published by Bavil Webster.

Sept. 25, 1783, Bavil Webster, of Hartford, deeded land in Hartford, to Susa Dod wife of Edward Dod.

In a pay abstract of Capt. Jonathan, Wadsworth's Co., Col. Cook's Regt. of militia from the state of Conn., Corporal Bevil Webster marched Aug. 26, and was discharged Nov. 3, but the year is not given. (If the word "state" is correct, it was probably after the Rev. war.) The end.

3. Zephaniah Webster, probably a printer, bap. at West Hartford, Ct., July 15, 1759, mar. at Scotland, Windham Co., Ct., July 21, 1784, Huldah Drake, both of Hartford. CHILDREN: (See below).

1756, May 10, Zephaniah Webster of Hartford sells land in New Hartford, Litchfield Co. Ct., to "my honored father, Cap't Daniel Webster of Hartford."

Stiles, in his "Ancient Windsor" gives from old certificates of enlistment, etc., the names who served in the War of Revolution, who were natives of Windsor or enlisted there, and among them he has the name of Zephaniah Webster, who he says served in the Continental Army and who was at Boston and Fishkill.

Wm. H. Webster says, the following is furnished by me by George E. Hoadley, Hartford, Ct., "died at Philadelphia the 12th ultimo, Zephaniah Webster, aged 15, son of Zephaniah Webster, printer; the 19th ultimo, died, Mr. Zephaniah Webster, printer, and Mrs. Huldah Webster his wife. (Hartford Courant, Oct. 1, 1798.) They probably died of yellow fever."

The Revolutionary rolls have the following: Zephaniah Webster enlisted in the 4th Troop of Sheldon's Dragoons, 2d Regt., as a Corporal, in place of Elias Hopkins of Hartford, on Jan. 1, 1778. He (Webster) is described as of Hartford, Ct., 5 ft., 9 in. high, light complexion, grey eyes, light hair, and a farmer. His final disposition is not shown. He probably served to the close of the war and was mustered out of service with his Regt.

Sept. 28, 1785. Zephaniah Webster, of Hartford, deeded to John and Elisha Dodd of Hartford, land in "Town Common," in Hartford, "laid out to my grandfather, Daniel Webster, lately deceased."

The Record of Conn. Men in the War of Revolution shows that Zephaniah Webster served as a Private in Capt. John Harmon's Co., Col. Erastus Wolcott's Regt. of State Troops, at Boston, Mass., for about 6 weeks, Jany. and Feby. 1776. His Regt. was a part of the detachment which occupied Boston after the enemy evacuated the town.

Also that he served as a private at Peekskill, N. Y., from April 6 to May 23, 1777, in Capt. Abel Pettibone's Co., Col. Erastus Wolcott's Regt. The End.

1. Mirriam Hopkins, b. 1755, m. Joseph Gilbert, b. 1748, and they removed in 1811, from Litchfield, Ct., to the town of Richmond, Ontario Co., N. Y., where he died Nov. 11, 1812, in his 64th year. She died at Lima, N. Y., Jan. 20, 1839, in her 84th year.

CHILDREN: (Gilbert) Lucy, b. Aug. 28, 1774; Elias, Nov. 29, 1776; Joseph, Nov. 2, 1778; Merriam, June 3, 1780; Clara, June 30, 1783; Luman, April 24, 1785; Theodotia, April 28, 1787; Truman, May 13, 1790; Orin, Dec. 30, 1792; Almira, June 28, 1794; Chloe, April 21, 1796; Edwin, Feb. 12, 1798; Caroline, Sept. 8, 1799. Resumed in Chapter XVI.

2. Sarah Sedgwick, m. Oct. 10, 1784, probably at New Hartford, Conn., Maj. James Benham, a farmer, b. there Aug. 14, 1764. He d. at Bridgewater, Oneida Co., N. Y., Jan. 6, 1809,—or near that year.

CHILDREN: (Benham) (All b. at Bridgewater, Oneida Co., N. Y., except the first two and possibly the two following, at Hartford or New Hartford, Ct.) Polly, Mar. 15, 1786; Miles, Dec. 10, 1787; Harriet, Oct. 20, 1790; Huldah, Feb. 10, 1793, d. Dec. 28, 1797; Sedgwick, Mar. 26, 1795; George, Apr. 9, 1798; Ansel, Sep. 19, 1800; Sophronia Webster, Oct. 2, 1802; Henry, Aug. 17, 1805; James, Dec. 31, 1808. Resumed in Chapter XVI.

3. Timothy Sedgwick, m. Lucy Sedgwick.

CHILDREN: Pamela, b. Feb. 28, 1798.

(1) Pamela m. Dec. 24, 1823, Horace Welles, b. Aug. 11, 1795, son of Levi and Hannah (Welles) Welles. He d. Nov. 21, 1865. The End.

SECTION 4.—Children of Deacon Daniel (Capt. Daniel, John, Robert, Gov. John) and Azubah Judd, West Hartford; Ct.

1. Daniel Webster, bap. at West Hartford, March 29, 1761, mar. at Wethersfield, Ct. Mch. 18, 1790, Betsey Waterbury, of Wethersfield, Ct. Intentions published at West Hartford, Feb. 28, 1790.

Feb. 6, 1805, Daniel Webster of Hartford deeds land there to Asahel Webster of Dummerston, Windham Co., Vt.

Inventory of Daniel Webster, of Hartford, deceased, taken Oct. 18, 1806, by Lemuel Hurlburt and Asahel Porter.

March 21, 1807, Levia Webster, a minor, about 15 years old and Elizabeth B. Webster, a minor about 13 years old, daughters of Daniel Webster, late of Hartford, deceased, made choice of Lemuel Hurlburt to be their guardian.

Letter of administration on estate of Daniel Webster, late of Hartford, deceased, granted to Elisha Mix, Aug. 18, 1806. Distribution of his estate ordered June 13, 1808, viz.: to Levia Webster and Betsey Webster, daughters of said deceased, to each an equal share.

May 7, 1816, Levia Webster and Elizabeth Webster sell to Elisha Mix, all of Hartford land bounded by said Mix.

Betsey Webster died at West Hartford, Feb. 23, 1806, in her 44th year, and he at the same place, Aug. 10, 1806, aged 45.

CHILDREN: Levia, b. 1792; Elizabeth, b. West Hartford, Ct., 1794. Resumed in Chapter XVI.

2. Ruth Webster, bap. July 25, 1762, at West Hartford, Ct., m. there, Feb. 24, 1786, Simeon Merrills.

Oct. 21, 1800, Elizabeth Webster deeds land to Ruth Merrills, all of Hartford.

In 1805, Ruth Merrill, alias Ruth Webster deeded to Elisha Mix, of Hartford, land in Hartford, bounded in part by land sold the same day to Daniel Webster and in part on land of Azubah Webster, as her dower, as widow of Daniel Webster, deceased.

Feb. 10, 1809, Asahel Porter, conservator to Ruth Merrills otherwise called Ruth Webster, sells to Elisha Mix, land bounded by West Hartford Street, by Josiah Huntington and Asahel Webster. We have no record of children or deaths. The end.

3. Asahel Webster, a blacksmith, sometimes called Asa, bap. at West Hartford, Oct. 8, 1769, married but the name of wife not secured.

Dec. 1, 1786, Asahel Webster, a minor son of Daniel, aged about 17 years made choice of Elisha Mix to be his guardian.

Feb. 6, 1805, Daniel Webster, of Hartford, deeds land in Hartford, to Asahel Webster, of Dummerston, Windham Co., Vt. Also land in Farmington.

He removed to Dummerston, Windham Co., Vt., where he purchased a tract of 60 acres of land near the Conn. river. The deed is date May 29, 1797. The house which he built on this land (in 1892) is owned and occupied by Deacon Adin A. Dutton, and the farm and buildings are among the best in the town. He sold the place in 1805 to Giles Alexander, and removed to Bennington, Vt. On his way over the Green Mountains to his new home he stopped on the heights of land that overlooked the Conn. valley and gave a long lingering look at the region he was viewing for the last time. A person who passed him at that time reported that he was seated on a log shedding tears abundantly. 1797, May 29, Asahel Webster of Dummerston, Windham Co., Vt., a blacksmith, of Cornelius Jones of same Dummerston, land in D. part of lot 10, 60 acres—more or less, bounded north by Wm. Miller, east, Aaron Brooks, southerly, Col. Wm. Boyden, Jesse Hildreth, and Chas. Davenport, Jun., and westerly by Aaron Brooks.

CHAPTER IX.

Sixth Generation—Great Grand Children of Dea. Jonathan and Dorcas Hopkins and Mary Judd Webster of Hartford and Glastonbury, Ct., in the Line of Robert the son of Gov. John Webster.

---

FIRST GENERATION, GOV. JOHN AND AGNES WEBSTER.—SECOND, LIEUT. ROBERT AND SUSANNAH TREAT WEBSTER.—THIRD, DEACON JONATHAN AND DORCAS HOPKINS AND MARY JUDD WEBSTER.—FOURTH, CHILDREN OF DEACON JONATHAN AND DORCAS HOPKINS AND MARY JUDD WEBSTER NAMED IN THE DIVISIONS OF THIS CHAPTER.—FIFTH, GRANDCHILDREN OF THE SAME NAMED IN THE NUMBERED SECTIONS OF THIS CHAPTER.—SIXTH, GREAT GRANDCHILDREN OF THE SAME NAMED IN THE NUMBERED PARAGRAPHS OF THIS CHAPTER, PRINTED IN HEAVY FACE TYPE.

First Division, showing the Great-Grandchildren of Deacon Jonathan and Dorcas Hopkins Webster, by their son Jonathan Webster of Hartford and Glastonbury, Ct., who married Esther Judd.

SECTION 1.—Children of Jonathan “the miller” (Jonathan, Dea. Jonathan, Robert, Gov. John), and Mabel (Risley) Webster of Glastonbury, Ct.

1. Ashbel Webster, a miller, b. at Glastonbury, Ct., March 12, 1733, mar. about 1753, Rachel Price, b. 1737, whose mother's maiden name was Blinn. His father, Jonathan, owned a grist mill at Hartford (afterward East Hartford) Ct., which was bequeathed to Ashbel, who carried it on for some years, and then sold out, removing to Washington Co., N. Y., where he settled within the limits of what afterwards became the town of Hampton. Part of his family was born at Glastonbury, Ct., and part at Hampton, N. Y.

Ashbel Webster, Sr., served in the French and Indian War in Capt. Elizur Goodrich's Co., 2d Ct. Regt., as a Corporal from April 15 to Sept. 12, 1755, 21 weeks and 3 days, at one pound, 8 shillings, per month, his total “wages” amounting to 7 pounds and 10 shillings. The roll does not show where his Co. served, but since most of the Companies at that time were on duty at or in the vicinity of Ft. William Henry at the head of Lake George, it is not unlikely that he was at that place. The battle of Ft. William Henry and Ft. Edward was fought Sept. 5, 1755, 7 days before his discharge.

Who was Rachel Price, wife of Ashbel Webster?

Samuel Price of Glastonbury, Ct., m. (1) April 7, 1714, Dorothy Fox, b. 1693, dau. of Richard and Beriah (Smith) Fox. She d. Feb. 10, 1727-8, and he m. (2) May 22, 1729, (Hebron Records) Sarah Perrin.

CHILDREN: (Price) (1st m.) Samuel, b. June 19, 1715; John, b. Oct. 24, 1716; Dorothy, May 31, 1718; Zachariah, Oct. 13, 1719; Sarah, Sep. 25, 1722; Ebenezer, Apr. 20, 1726. (2d m.) Robert, b. Feb. 10, 1729-30; Elizabeth, b. March 13, 1731-2.

Rachel Price, b. 1737, whose mother's maiden name was Blinn, m. about 1753, Ashbel Webster, b. March 12, 1733; and Hannah Price of Glastonbury, m. May 5, 1760, Asiel Webster, a younger brother of Ashbel, b. Oct. 28, 1740.

John Price, b. Oct. 24, 1716, was drowned, March 31, 1737, and he left a widow, Rachel, and a son Elizur, b. July 1, 1736. May 3, 1737, administration was granted on the estate of John Price, dec'd (estate insolvent), to Samuel Price and Jeduthan Smith, all of Glastonbury; and

July 5, 1737, Samuel Price, his grandfather, was made guardian of Elizer Price, a minor one year old, son of John Price, deceased.

Rachel Price, who was born 1737, may have been the posthumous daughter of John Price, named for her mother Rachel. If not, then it is probable that she was the daughter of Samuel Price, Jr., b. June 19, 1715, and Hannah Price, who m. Asiel Webster, may have been a sister—otherwise, perhaps a cousin.

Was Samuel Price, Sr., who m. Dorothy Fox, of the Deerfield, Mass. family? Note that Feb. 15, 1715-16, Robert Price, "sometime of Deerfield, Mass.," has a land transaction. Again, July 15, 1735, Samuel Price, "only son and heir of Robert Price, formerly of Deerfield, deceased, which Robert was one of the soldiers in the Falls fight," (Turners Falls, May 10, 1676, with the Indians). Fallstown, now Bernardston, Mass., was set apart as pension land for those and their families who were in the "Falls" fight.

John Fox, b. 1688, a brother of Dorothy Fox, who m. Samuel Price, m. Dec. 15, 1709, Susannah White, dau. of Henry White of Deerfield. May 12, 1715, John Fox and Susanna Fox his wife of Glastonbury, Ct., sell land in Deerfield, Hampshire Co., Mass., to Samuel Barnard of Deerfield, land which came from Henry White, late of Deerfield, dec'd, father of said Susanna Fox. (Hampden Co. records.)

These facts are suggestive of relationship between the Deerfield, Mass., and Glastonbury, Ct., families, but nothing conclusive has yet been discovered.

April 15, 1783, Ashbel Webster of Hartford, deeded all his real estate, lands, mill, house, barn, etc., in the Parish of Orford, in Hartford, to John Willis, of Glastonbury, Ct. Also July 11, 1783, Ashbel Webster of East Hartford sells to John Couch, 24 acres, for 65 pounds.

The father and mother of this Ashbel Webster died as follows: Mabel (Risley) Webster, Jany. 2, 1781, and Jonathan Webster her husband, 10 months later in Nov. of the same year, at 72 years of age. Disencumbered of the care of the "old people" Ashbel the son prepared to leave Ct., selling the land mentioned in the notes above, April 15 and July 11, 1783.

The tax lists of Poultney, Rutland Co., Vt. show that he paid taxes in that place in the years 1785 and 1787. Five of his children at that time were of age and may have been married when he departed for Vt., perhaps in 1783. His son Ashbel followed him from Conn., a few years later as will be seen when his name is reached.

Both died at Hampton, Washington Co., N. Y., he, Aug. 1, 1801, in his 69th year, and she, May 8, 1813, in her 76th year.

CHILDREN: (Born probably in Orford Parish, East Hartford) Samuel, b. May 1754; Ashbel, b. Aug. 8, 1756; Susannah, b. about 1758; Benjamin, bap. July 6, 1760; Abijah, b. about 1762; Allen, about 1765; Rachel, about 1768, bap. at Bolton, Aug. 26, 1770; Rosetta, about 1769; Abel, Feb. 11, 1773; Aaron, Aug. 28, 1775; Miner, 1776. Resumed in Chapter XVII.

2. Mabel Webster, b. July 29, 1735. No record.

3. Susannah Webster, b. Sep. 21, 1737, died Sep. 27, 1755, probably unmarried.

4. Jonathan Webster, b. Jan. 24, 1739, at Glastonbury, Ct., mar. Agnes ———.

Jonathan Webster served in the French and Indian War, in Major Nathan Payson's Co., 1st Ct. Reg't, as a private from Mch. 29 to Nov. 30, 1757—35 weeks and 2 days, receiving as total wages 14 pounds, 2 s., 3d. and 2 far. Roll dated Ft. Edward, Oct. 17, 1757.

Nov. 10, 1762, Joannah Ruscoe (signed Risco) of the township of Southampton, Suffolk Co., N. Y., sold land in the 5 miles to Jonathan Webster of Glastonbury, Ct., joiner. Signed also by David Hand. Witnesses, Job Pierson and Chloe Mulford.

That Jonathan Webster died early in life, at about 31 years of age, will appear in the following notes.

June 5, 1770, administration was granted on the estate of Jonathan Webster, Jr., unto Agnes Webster, of Hartford, widow of said deceased and to John Webster of "Glassenbury." Bonds were given by John Webster, William Densmore, Agnes Webster.

May 20, 1772, an account of administration on estate of Jonathan Webster, Jr., late of Hartford, deceased, was presented by John and Agnes Webster, administrators, by which account they have paid in debts and charges and supporting children under four years of age, the sum of 54 pounds, 15 shillings, 8 pence.

Dec. 11, 1772, Agnes Webster and John Webster were authorized by the Court to sell real estate as administrators of the estate of Jonathan Webster, deceased.

April 19, 1795, Agnes Webster, Samuel Fox, Mabel Fox, Elijah Keeney, Mary Keeney, Benjamin Brown, Dorinda Brown and Jonathan Webster, all of East Hartford, sell to George Hall, of Glastonbury, 25 acres for 144 pounds. These were daughters and their husbands, and one son, as will appear later.

CHILDREN: (Probably born in the Parish of Orford, East Hartford, or Glastonbury) Abigail, b. about 1759 or 60; Anna, 1761; Mabel, b. June 3, 1763, bap. June 12, 1763; Mary, bap. Jan. 27, 1765; Jonathan, b. 1767; Dorinda, b. 1769. Resumed in Chapter XVII.

5. Asiel Webster, a farmer, (also spelled Asahel) b. Oct. 28, 1740, at Glastonbury, Ct., m. there, May 5, 1760, Hannah Price of Glastonbury.

Asahel Webster, Sr., served in the French and Indian War, as follows: (1) as Asael Webster, in Capt. Eliphelet Whittelsey's Co., of 1st Conn. Regt., as a private from June 17 to Nov. 15, 1758, 32 weeks and 3 days, receiving as his total "wages" 14 pounds, 11 shillings, 10 pence and 2 farthings. (2) as Asahel Webster, in Capt. Eliphelet Whittelsey's Co., 1st Ct. Regt., as a private from March 28 to Dec. 24, 1759, 38 weeks and 6 days, receiving as his total "wages" 17 pounds, 9 shillings and 9 pence.

He removed from Glastonbury to Mass., soon after his marriage. Oct. 18, 1765, Asahel Webster of Hartford, Ct., purchased land of Timothy and Mary Child of Greenfield, Mass. He is said to have owned and kept a tavern on the Connecticut River at Turner's Falls, Mass., when nearly all of the transportation in that neighborhood was by boats on the river.

Nov. 15, 1785, Asahel Webster of Greenfield, Mass., bought of Gideon Sage of Greenfield, land there, bounded by Asahel Webster, Joseph Barnard and the "Great River." Wit's: Seth Field, Richard Cary.

Nov. 15, 1795, Asahel Webster of Greenfield, buys of Gideon Sage, same place, land there, "running by G. Webster." (He had a son George and also a son Giles.) He lived in that part of the town of Greenfield known as Gill until his death.

The Records show that Asahel Webster bought land May 2, 1791, at Cheapside, now Gill, Mass. The Records also show that in 1808, Hannah Webster, widow, quit claimed to Chester Webster land willed to her by her late husband, and also April 18, 1794, an Asahel Webster sold land and signed by himself, no mention being made of a wife. It is said by a descendant that after the death of Asahel, Sr., his sons, Price and Chester, lived on the farm for several years, and then sold out and went West. The records show that March 29, 1810, Price Webster sold a piece of land in Gill "the same being land willed to William, Price, Jonathan and Chester, by their father Asahel." Again March 18, 1818, Price Webster, of Northfield, sold Real Estate to Ezra Purple of Gill. Both deeds are signed by Price and Polly Webster. If Price Webster lived at Northfield it could have been only for a short time as he was not taxed there between 1815 and 1820.

From North Hampton, Mass., Probate Records: Will of Asahel Webster, of Gill, Mass., dated Dec. 2, 1799, bequeaths to wife Hannah Webster, and to his "five sons;" to the three eldest, Giles, William and Jonathan, and to the two youngest, Price and Chester, and to daughter Lucy Darby and daughter, Hannah Webster, and to three grandchildren, Sally, George and Polly. Executors, Hannah (wife) and son William. The Will was exhibited in Court, Jan. 7, 1800. Inventory dated Sep. 9, 1800. Witnesses, Eliphas Alexander, Samuel Janes, Job Goodale.

Both died at Gill, Franklin Co., Mass., he just prior to 1800, and she prior to 1810.

CHILDREN: Asiel or Asahel, bap. Oct. 1, 1760; George, bap. Dec. 27, 1761, prob. d. y.; Giles, b. 1763, bap. May 20, 1764, by Rev. Simeon Backus of Hadley; Hannah, bap. May 25, 1766; William, bap. 6. Elizur Webster, a farmer, b. Sep. 30, 1743, at Glastonbury, Ct., mar. probably at East Hartford, Ct., Ruth Densmore, who was b. Aug. 24, 1747.

Elizur Webster served as a teamster in the War of Revolution and at the close of that war, or soon after, removed from Conn., probably going, first to Poultney, Vt., and later to Whitehall, Washington Co., N. Y., although some of his descendants claim that he went direct from Conn. to Whitehall with many other settlers from Ct.

April 12, 1783, Elizur Webster, of Hartford, deeded to Stephen Bidwell, land on the East side of river in Society of Orford, third tier of lots from Bolton.

March 11, 1791, Eleazer Webster, sold land to John Treat. (See East Hartford Record of Deeds.) Same Records show that Eleazer Webster of Hartford, deeded land in East Hartford to Elisha Trayne, of East Hartford, viz: about 7 acres near the Powder Mills South of Hockanum river and two thirds of a dwelling house, except a life lease to Elizabeth Evans. Deed dated at Hartford in presence of Chauncey Goodrich and Israel Patten.

The descendants of Elizur Webster give his date of birth they say from an old Bible record, as Oct. 1745, which must be an error, as Mary, his sister, was born May 8, 1745.

He died March 26, 1791, and she June 27, 1829.

CHILDREN: (All born in East Hartford, Ct., except possibly two or three of the youngest, who may have been b. at Hampton, N. Y.) Elizur, b. Aug. 24, 1767; Obadiah, b. Sept. 27, 1769; Wait, b. Russell Sage, youngest child of Elisha and Prudence (Risley) Sage, became one of the most distinguished financiers of his time. From poverty and obscurity he wrought his way into life. He left home at 14 to engage in business, and to tireless industry he added work in night schools and general evening study. Mercantile business in Troy, N. Y., soon led him to transportation by land and water. He was twice elected to Congress and was potent in the purchase of Mt. Vernon as a perpetual memorial to George Washington. In 1863 he removed from Troy to New York City and became one of the foremost financial magnates of the world. He m. (1) 1841, at Troy, N. Y., Maria Winnie, whose death occurred in 1867, and he m. 9. Joshua Webster, b. April 16, 1750, at Glastonbury, Ct., m. (1) at Glastonbury, Nov. 9, 1772, Beriah, daughter of Job and Beriah (Fox) Risley, of Glastonbury, b. Nov. 21, 1749, and (2) at Glastonbury, July 14, 1790, Prudence Smith, of Glastonbury, b. Dec. 31, 1756; and (3) at Stamford, Delaware Co., N. Y., Feb. 20, 1812, Elleanor Squires.

Joshua Webster was a soldier in the Revolutionary War. He was appointed 1st Sergt. in Capt. John Barnard's Co. of Col. Samuel Wyllys Regt. of Conn. forces in the war of Revolution, Feb. 24, 1777, having enlisted for the war about the 10th of Jany. 1777. He was discharged from the service May 2, 1779, on account of sickness. While absent sick at Glastonbury, he was at one time reported as a "deserter," but the record was corrected on the next return. His sickness was caused by an injury to his "Testacles," received in jumping from a barge to the shore, in which (barge) he had just made a trip from West Point to Robinson House (then Gen'l. Washington's Headquarters). He claimed to have been in the battle of Long Island with Lord Sterling, when the latter was taken prisoner, also to have been in an engagement with the British at Brunswick, N. J., where they drove the enemy to Amboy, on board their shipping, and there "I lost a part of my hair, shot by a musket ball." He also claimed to have enlisted in 1775, and to have served then 7 months at Boston. Also to have served with the militia at N. Y. City and Long Island in 1776. In the latter part of the war he claims to have served as a Capt. of ten teams for about one year. Also at the last to have commanded a State Privateer to the close of the war. He drew a pension from the General Government.

In 1818 and 1820 he was residing at Harpersfield, Delaware Co., N. Y., and he probably removed to that county about 1792.

The Record of Conn. Men in the War of Revolution gives: Joshua Webster a Sergeant in 10th Co., Capt. Oliver Hanchett, 2d Regt., Col. Joseph Spencer, enlisted May 3, 1775, and discharged July 3, 1775. The Regt. took part at Roxbury in the siege of Boston.

The same Record gives: Joshua Webster, a Sergeant, in Capt. John Barnard's Co., 3d Regt. Conn. Line, Col. Samuel Wyllys, enlisted Feb. 24, 1777, for the war, was discharged March 5, 1779, rejoined April 4, 1779, and again discharged May 2, 1779.

Joshua Webster removed from Glastonbury, Ct., to Delaware Co., N. Y., about 1792.

His first wife, Beriah, died Feb. 9, 1790; his second wife, Prudence died at Stamford, Delaware Co., N. Y., May 3, 1811. The date of his death and last wife not obtained.

CHILDREN: (1st mar.) (All born at Glastonbury) Roxie, b. March 13, 1773, died April 14, same year. (This Roxie, according to the Glastonbury Record, was b. March 17, and bap. 9. Hannah Smith, b. 1748, and bap. at East Hartford, Ct., Feb. 19, 1749, m. Isaac Walbridge—the first marriage in Hanover, N. H. Rev. Grant Powers, pastor at Haverhill, N. H., as was his father before him, in his history of the Coos Country, (variously spelled), a name given by the Indians for the valley of the Upper Connecticut, gives an account of it. Her parents were opposed to the marriage. They removed to Royalton, Vt. When the Indians burned that place their house escaped, it being the first as the Indians approached and they could not stop for one house. She d. there July 2, 1801. No children. C. B. Walbridge of Sharon, Vt., might know their history.

10. Aaron Smith, bap. March 24, 1751. No record.

NOTE: Roswell Timothy Smith of Nashua, N. H., says: The three branches of Edward, Rebecca and John Smith remained in Hanover, N. H. There is hardly a northern state which has not felt their influence to a notable extent for good, as teachers, preachers and leaders.

The Parish east of Hanover was settled by Connecticut men. It was a farming community. At the 89th anniversary of the first settlement it was found that 89 educated men—one for each year—had gone forth from that parish. The descendants of Esther Webster were not second in this. They include Prof. J. K. Lord of Dartmouth, Prof. E. S. Parsons of Columbia. Dr. Kendrick, once President of Hamilton College, was a descendant. Rev. Nathaniel Wright, apostle to the Five Nations (Indians) called her "mother," for she adopted him when a little child.

SECTION 3. Children of Capt. Ezekiel (Jonathan, Dea. Jonathan, Robert, Gov. John) and Rebecca (Gaines) Webster of East Hartford, Conn., in what is now the town of Manchester.

1. Rebecca Webster, b. Aug. 18, 1733, m. William Simons. Nothing further.

2. Ruth Webster, b. June 3, 1736 (on tombstone, Ruth M.) m. Apr., 1761, Joseph McKee, b. Nov. 8, 1729, son of Andrew McKee (wife unknown since Mary, who survived him, was his second wife and may not have been the mother of Joseph).

Andrew McKee, b. 1691, d. Sep. 24, 1765, was the father of the following children: (McKee) Robert, b. 1726; Nathaniel; Joseph, b. Nov. 8, 1729; Betty; Jerusha; Miriam; Margaret; John.

The following inscriptions are from tomb-stones in the Manchester, Ct., Centre Cemetery: Mrs. Ruth M. McKee, wife of Joseph McKee, d. Feb. 6, 1803, in the 68th year of her age. Joseph McKee (grave marked as a Revolutionary soldier), died June 15, 1808, in his 78th year.

CHILDREN: (McKee) Joseph, b. Sep. 20, 1758, bap. Oct. 29; Elijah, b. July 26, 1762; Betty, May 19, 1764; Bille, b. Aug. 15, 1766, bap. Aug. 19, 1766, lived five days; Eleazor, b. June 27, 1767, bap. (5) Jerusha McKee, and her sisters, Miriam and Margaret McKee, are named in their father's Will of 1765. No further record.

(6) John McKee m. Feb. 20, 1766, Elizabeth Wardwell (Somers records), spelled McKay. No further record.

The following groups some of the above McKees: Oct. 1, 1795, John McKee and Martha his wife; Alexander McKee and Persis his wife, all of East Hartford, Ct.; Samuel Marther and Olive his wife, in Molbury, Windsor Co., Vt. (now Marboro, Windham Co.) sell to Deliverance Cooper of Chatham, Ct. Witnesses, Richard Pitkin and Robert McKee.

The following Wethersfield, Ct., inscription suggests that a part of the family resided there. "Here lyeth ye Body of Robert ye son of Mr. Robert and Elizabeth MeccKee who died Apraill ye 11, A. D. 1736, in ye 4 year of his age."

3. Ezekiel Webster, b. June 21, 1739, m. Esther Smith. A baptism at East Hartford, Conn., June 30, 1765, of "Ezekiel, son to Ezekiel and Esther Webster," seems to confirm the above. But later it is clearly shown by Oneida County, N. Y., real estate records that Esther was the wife of Elijah Webster, a brother of Ezekiel. It is possible therefore that Ezekiel Webster died and Elijah, his brother, married his widow. No data yet found settles the matter, aged descendants being divided in their recollection. Unless the two brothers, Ezekiel and Elijah, married each an Esther, the above is probably the true solution. The end.

4. Joseph Webster, bap. Aug. 1741. No record.

5. Elijah Webster, b. May 1, 1742, m. Jerusha, possibly Jerusha Sparks.

This marriage is affirmed as a tradition and rests on the recollection of descendants. It is certain that he also married Esther, as shown by this deed dated Jan. 29, 1806, which reads: Elijah Webster and his wife Esther of the town of Vernon, Oneida Co., N. Y., and late of New York, to Perry Hubbard of the same place, etc. In the acknowledgment it is said that Elijah Webster signed for himself and wife. Aug. 12, 1802, Elijah Webster sold to Rosel Fitch, both of Vernon, and deed is signed, Elijah Webster and Ester Webster. A deed was signed Jan. 29, 1807, by Ebenezer, Eli, Joseph, Seth, Elishar and Roiace (Horace) Webster to Abner Darling. In the meantime Elijah Webster died and Oct. 2, 1810, Widow Esther Webster, Joseph Webster and Olive his wife; Elisha Webster and Caty his wife (signed Catharine), Horace Webster, Ebenezer Webster and Roxy his wife; Eli Webster and Jerusha his wife, and the Widow Chloe Webster, all of the town of Vernon, Oneida Co., N. Y., deeded land on lot 229 to Hewitt Hills. Russell Webster and Ebenezer Webster in the boundaries.

The following transactions in Connecticut are of interest:

1783, Mch. 19, Elijah Webster of Hartford (Ct.), sells to Samuel Benjamin of Hartford, land in the Parish of Orford.

1785, Sep. 1, Aaron Tryon of East Hartford sells to Timothy Bryant of East Hartford, and Elijah Webster of East Windsor, land in Orford Parish, East Hartford, joining Bolton, bounded by land of Samuel Benjamin, Elijah Webster, Noah Foot, Timothy Cheeney.

1797, Feb. 1, Elijah Webster and Alexander McKlen of Bolton buy land there of Eleazer Webster of Southwick, Hampshire Co., Mass.

1798, Nov. 30, Samuel Evans, Obadiah Wood and Elizabeth Wood his wife of East Hartford, sell to Elijah Webster of Bolton, land in Orford.

1800, Feb. 20, Elijah Webster of Bolton sells to Converse Fitch of East Windsor, land in Orford, b. north by East Windsor line. Thaddeus Fitch mentioned in the boundaries.

Resuming the New York state transactions, note the following:

1799, Sep. 14, Jedediah Darling of Augusta, Oneida Co., N. Y., sold to Elijah Webster.

1800, Apr. 7, Samuel Ensign of Whitestown (a relative, see Ensign), sold to Elijah Webster of Augusta, N. Y. (Act for better support of Oneida, Onondaga and Cayuga Indians, passed Apr. 9, 1795, mentioned.)

1803, Nov. 7, Elijah Webster of Vernon, Oneida Co., N. Y., sold to Russell and Allen Webster of same place, land in Oneida Reservation.

1807, Jan. 29, Ebenezer, Joseph, Eli, Seth, Elisha and Horace Webster, all of Vernon, sell to Monroe Darling, land in Vernon.

1811, Esther, Joseph, Olive, Elisha, Horace, Katy, Ebenezer, Roxy, Eli, Chloe and Jerusha unite in a deed.

Elijah Webster died between Jan. 29, 1807, when he signed a deed, and Oct. 2, 1810, when his wife signed a deed as "Widow Esther Webster," the exact date not determined. Esther the widow lived with her son, Eli, and died at his home in Pomfret, Chautauqua Co., N. Y., aged 90 years, probably about 1835.

In the deed given in 1811, the name of Ezekiel Webster does not appear, but the name of his widow, Chloe (Ellsworth) does. He died in Vernon, N. Y., of small-pox prior to the removal of the family to Chautauqua county.

CHILDREN: (Born in the Parish of Orford, East Hartford, Ct., East Windsor, and in or near Bolton) Rebecca, b. Sep. 10, 1766, said to have been born in that part of Bolton which in 1808 was set off as Vernon; Ebenezer, March 16, 1767; Eli, 1777; Ezekiel; Elisha; Joseph, July, 1783; Horace, June 10, 1786; Seth, Jerusha. Resumed in Chapter XVII.

6. Sarah Webster, b. Aug. 8, 1744, m. Alexander Keeney, Jun. This marriage is confirmed by a deed given July 6, 1787, by Elijah Webster, Alexander Keeney, Jr., and Sarah Keeney, all of East Hartford, for land in Glastonbury to Joshua Webster.

It is said that Sarah Keeney removed from East Hartford to Farmington about the same time (1792) that her brother Ephriam Webster did. In the Webster plot in Farmington is a tombstone erected to Levi Keeney who died May 12, 1805, aged 25 years.

July 6, 1768, Alexander Keeney of Hartford, sold to Alexander Keeney, Jr., 30 acres, "and is one-half of the farm that I bought of Timothy Cole and Samuel Wells which formerly belonged to William Burnham, and is one-half of the farm on which said Alexander Keeney, Jr., now liveth."

Jan. 12, 1770, Alexander Keeney sells to Alexander Keeney, Jr., land in the five miles. Witnesses, Richard Pitkin and Joseph McKee.

CHILDREN: No record. The end.

7. Ephriam Webster, b. Nov. 26, 1747, m. (1) at East Hartford, Ct., Hopeful Olcott, b. June 25, 1756, and bap. July 1, 1756, dau. of Josiah and Penelope (Beckwith) Olcott. She d. at East Hartford about one year after marriage and he m. (2) Apr. 3, 1778, Prudence Smith of East Hartford, b. Aug. 1758, daughter of Jonathan and Miriam Smith* of North Bolton, Ct., now Vernon. She d. Jan. 12, 1799, aged 41, and he m. (3) Jan. 1, 1800, at New Haven, Ct., Mrs. Eunice Olmsted, nee Kingsbury of Andover or Bolton, Ct., b. Apr. 30, 1755, being the widow of Nathaniel Olmsted, and mother of Dennison Olmsted, a professor in Yale College. Ephriam Webster d. May 17, 1833, aged 87, and she, Jan. 6, 1846, aged 91.

Ephriam Webster was a soldier in the Revolutionary War. He was a private in Cap't Nehemiah Rice's 3d Co. Lt. Col. Isaac Sherman's 5th Conn. Reg't. Joined July 24, 1782, probably to serve to Jan. 1, 1783. On musters from July 29, 1782, to Oct. 13, 1782. For Sep. and Oct. he was noted as "on command," Quarter Master's general service. On a book of Conn. soldiers he is reported as in Cap't Selden's Co., Col. S. B. Webb's Reg't, and discharged Dec. 9, 1782.

NOTE: Jonathan Smith died Aug. 11, 1814, and his widow, Miriam Smith, died Jan. 13, 1828, aged 99 years. In his Will, dated June 21, 1805, he gave "to the legal heirs of my dau. Prudence Webster, deceased, five shillings each." His children were: Johanna who m. McLean; Miriam who m. Tucker and died May 3, 1790; Prudence who m. Ephriam Webster; Levina who m. (1) Williams, and (2) Sherman, and she d. July 20, 1843; and Orrin who m. Dart.

From the record of Connecticut Men in the Revolution, Ephriam Webster is borne as a private on the Lexington Alarm List for six day's service in Cap't Timothy Cheney's Co. in April, 1775, and was from the town of Hartford.

He appears in a list of persons who signed a petition in 1772 for the formation of a new Society, which was set off from East Hartford and called the Parish of Orford, now Manchester, Ct. (From "The One Hundredth Anniversary of the First Church of Manchester.")

He was made elector at East Hartford, Apr. 12, 1784.

Deeds on East Hartford land records:—1782, Apr. 12, Ozias Bidwell (Bissell?) to Ephriam Webster, and same date, Ephriam Webster to Allen Olcott, Theodore Pitkin and Robert McKee.—1789, Joseph McKee is mentioned in one of Ephriam Webster's deeds.—1791, Nov. 25, Ephriam Webster and the Selectmen of Orford Parish exchange lands.—1791, Nov. 25, Ephriam Webster to Nathaniel Olcott and Robert McKee.—1793, Feb. 25, Ephriam Webster to Zebulon Bidwell, land in Fourth tier from Bolton, Orford Parish, Asahel McKee, witness.—1793, March 22, Ephriam Webster to George Griswold, bounded east on Bolton line.—1793, Apr. 13, Ephriam Webster to Robert McKee, Jr., of Orford.

He removed from Vernon, or East Hartford to Farmington with an ox team in April, 1792, and lived in the Romanta Porter house on the right bank of the Farmington river, just above the bridge of the New Haven and Northampton Railroad.

He purchased a farm in the West District of Farmington, consisting of about 200 acres and on the banks of the river. This must have been about the time slavery was abolished in Conn., for he had in his family an old colored woman, Aunt Chloe by name, an ex-slave, and the authorities of Farmington objected to his bringing her into the town fearing she might come upon the town for support, so Ephriam built a basement room to his house which Aunt Chloe occupied until her death.

He was a great worker and a good provider for his family. Not being able to read or write he always "made his mark," but he could count money and always correctly.

He always had morning prayers, his wife reading the scriptures and he offering the prayer which never varied; he went to evening service at the school house and offered the same prayer.

J. Erskin Webster, Fredonia, N. Y., July 16, 1893, writes: There were five brothers besides Ephriam Webster, who was not a brother (an uncle as it now appears), who settled on the Holland Purchase, New York state, within two miles of each other. The road took the name, "Webster Street." Ephriam lived here until his house burned, and everything he had; then he went back to Oneida Co. His wife is remembered as the introducer of penneroyal into this part of the country. She brought the seed from Oneida Co."

He returned to Connecticut where he died May 17, 1833, in Farmington.

Last Will and Testament: Proved June 13, 1833, and Inventory exhibited Sep. 28, 1833, showed real estate $4,237.42, and personal, $1,985.08. Ezekiel Cowles, executor. Nov. 19, 1834, allowance was made for support of the widow. Distribution, Dec. 8, 1834, to eldest son, Russell, son Allen, daughter, Rachel Porter, Ephraim Webster, legatee; heirs of Chester Webster, Harvey Webster and the widow, Eunice.

Eunice Webster's will is dated New Haven, Ct., Oct. 10, 1835. Names her children by former marriage: Nathaniel Olmsted, Denison Olmsted, and her dau. Sarah, wife of Russell Richards of Farmington, and her aged sister, Lydia Kingsbury. She describes herself as "being far advanced in age." Appraisers appointed Feb. 17, 1846.

CHILDREN: (All b. at East Hartford, or Vernon, Ct., except youngest possibly at Farmington.) (First mar.) A child, d. early. (Second mar.) Russell, May 31, 1779; Allen, Nov. 1, 1780; Rachel, Jan. 1, 1783; Ephraim, May 29, 1785; Nathaniel, Aug. 29, 1787; Harvey and Chester (twins), June 14, 1790; Martin, May 13, 1793, bap. at Vernon, Ct., Apr. 4, 1797. Resumed in Chapter XVII.

8. Eleazor Webster, b. Jan. 4, 1749, m. Uranah Dewey. The Dewey Genealogy says that Urania Dewey, b. Dec. 2, 1769, at Westfield, Mass., dau. of Gad Dewey and Deidamia Wood his wife (son of Joseph Dewey), m. Eleazer Webster.

After Eleazor Webster's death in 1819 she married as his 2d wife, David Phelps of Green River, Columbia Co., N. Y., b. July 11, 1752, at Simsbury, Ct. His first wife was Ruth Ward, whom he married in 1773. She died in Austerlitz, N. Y., May 26, 1825, after which he m. the Widow Urania (Dewey) Webster. She was killed by lightning, April 2, 1841, while riding in a carriage, and remained sitting as though not injured, the lightning melting her gold beads which were found in her shoes. She was in her 71st year.

Eleazer Webster was a soldier in the War of Revolution. 1777, from May 22 to Dec. 10, Eleazer Webster, a private, served in 2d Co. of Col. Benj. Hinman's Reg't. (See Conn. Men in the Revolution.)

Invalid File, No. 33,890, shows: April 18, 1818, Eleazer Webster says he was formerly of East Hartford, Ct., but now of Northampton, Mass., in the County of Hampshire,—age not given. Enlisted in May 1775 in Cap't George Pitkin's Co., of Col. Enos's Reg't, in the Conn. Line, and served until Jan. 1776 when he was discharged. Immediately enlisted again in Cap't Bissell's Co., of Col. Huntington's Reg't, in the Conn. Line, Continental Establishment, and served until Jan. 1777, when he was discharged at "Peekskiln," N. Y. Had lost his discharge.

Nov. 14, 1818, Ozias Bissell of Vernon, Tolland Co., Ct., testified that in Dec. 1775, he having been commissioned a Cap't in order to enlist men to serve in the Continental Army for one year, enlisted Eleazer Webster in his Co. in Dec. 1775, and marched him with the Co. to Roxbury, Mass., and joined the Reg't of Col. Jedediah Huntington of the Conn. Line and Continental Establishment, where he served until the month of Dec. when he (Bissell) was taken prisoner by the enemy on Long Island, and being detained a prisoner one year could not testify as to Webster's discharge.

Oct. 15, 1818, Stephen Gibbs of East Windsor, Ct., testified that on Jan. 4, 1776, he joined the Co. of Cap't Ozias Bissell of Col. Jedediah Huntington's Reg't at Roxbury, Mass. After he had been absent from the Co. about twenty days on furlough, and when he so joined the Co., he found Eleazer Webster there as a private in said Co., and that Webster continued with said Co. at Roxbury and New York until the taking of Ft. Washington on York Island, which was about Nov. 1, 1776. When affiant left New York for southward, he saw said Webster no more in service. Pensioned at $8 per month. Signed his own name.

From vouchers in the 3d Auditor's office at Washington, D. C., it appears that on Sep. 23, 1819, Justin Wright and Lyman Fowler of Northampton, Mass., testified that Eleazer Webster of Northampton died Aug. 11, 1819. Administration granted to Joshua Curtis, who, Oct. 4, 1819, appointed Daniel Hinckley of Boston his att'y to receive the pension money at the Boston Agency. On Mch. 6, 1819, Eleazer Webster himself had appointed David (or Daniel) Hinckley of Boston his att'y to collect his pension. He then signed in a fair hand. No Elizur Webster was found on the records of the 3d auditor's office.

1789, June 9, Joseph McKee and Ruth (her X mark) McKee, Ephriam Webster and Eleazor Webster unite in a deed to Joshua Webster, quitclaim, to land in Glastonbury, at the west end of the home lot of Jonathan Webster, late of Glastonbury, dec'd, bounded north and south by land of s'd Jonathan Webster dec'd, and west by Wethersfield and Glastonbury, being on Keeney's Point, and on the east by land owned by Jeduthan Smith.

1791, Feb. 13, William Corning of East Hartford sells to Eleazer Webster of same place, land in Orford Parish. Robert McKee mentioned in boundaries.

1792, Oct. 25, Eleazer Webster of Hartford sells to Elijah Trayne of East Hartford, land there near the Powder Mill. Boundaries: John Olds, Timothy Steadman, Samuel Flagg, the Hockanum River, George Keeney, excepting the use by Elizabeth Evans for her natural life. Benjamin Stacy Evans her son.

1791, Mch. 11, Eleazer Webster of East Hartford, Ct., sells to John Teel. (Northampton, Hampshire Co., Mass., records.)

1797, Feb. 1, Eleazer Webster of Southwick, Hampshire Co., Mass., sells to Elijah Webster and Alexander McKlen of Bolton, Ct., land in Westfield lately owned by Noah Ashley of Westfield, near Little River.

1809, June 6, Joshua Mills and Experience Mills his wife, sell to Eleazer Webster of Westfield, land there. Mentioned in boundaries, Josiah Kellogg, Ashbel Fowler, Martin Stiles, Charles Watherbee—15 acres. Experience Mills is described as heir of Josiah and Abigail Watkins, both late of Westfield. Witnesses, John Ingersoll, James Wright.

1810, Feb. 7, Eleazer and Uranah Webster of Westfield, Mass., and the following: Elijah Dewey and Rachel Dewey; George Weaver and Beulah Weaver; Roger Dewey and Ethan Dewey of Southwick, Mass., Salmon Stiles and Anna Stiles of Westfield; Benoni Veits and Esther Veits of Granby, Ct., sell to David Lounsbury of Southwick, Mass., 1-2 of a tract of land in Southwick. Bounded by Gad Dewey, Josiah Kellogg and Charles Wetherby.

1817, Jan. 15, Eleazer Webster of Southwick, Mass., bids in real estate owned by Roger Dewey of Southwick who had mortgaged it to s'd Eleazer Webster. Boundaries: Salmon Stiles, Asahel Fowler, Silas Kellogg, Wm. King, Deputy Sheriff.

Probate records of Northampton, Mass.: 1819, Sep. 22, Joshua Curtis, Levi Lyman, Zenas Joy, all of Northampton, give bond to Hon. Samuel Hinckley, Esq., Judge of Probate, $500, as ex's and admin's on the estate of Eleazer Webster. Same date estate reported insolvent. Court ap. Oliver Warner and Julius Phelps, both of Northampton, Commissioners to receive, examine and allow claims.

1819, Aug. 11, estate of Eleazer Webster inventoried at $34.50.

1819, Widow of Eleazer Webster, without giving her name, was paid $24.50.

1820, June 6, Joshua Curtis makes a final accounting and includes $21.55 on account of pension. Same date Commissioners report and it is ordered put on file. Clarissa Webster is mentioned as a creditor—probably Clara, the adopted daughter.

Eleazer Webster died at Northampton (Easthampton), Aug. 11, 1819, as testified to in Pension Case. His widow, Urania m. David Phelps of Green River, N. Y., as above shown.

CHILDREN: Clara or Clarissa was an adopted daughter. Some have claimed that it was Clara who m. David Phelps and not her foster-mother, but descendants of Ethan Dewey, a brother of Urania, disclaim this. No record of Clara. The end.

SECTION 4. Children of David (Jonathan, Dea. Jonathan, Robert, Gov. John) and (1) Lydia (Andrus) and (2) Zerviah (Hart-Allis) Webster of Glastonbury and Newington, Ct.

1. Hannah Webster, b. July 10, 1751, at Glastonbury, m. Jany. 31, 1770, William Steele, son of William and Lydia (Seymour) Steele, b. at New Hartford, Ct., May 27, 1742. SECTION 5. Children of Stephen (Jonathan, Dea. Jonathan, Robert, Gov. John) and Rebeckah (Williams) Webster of Glastonbury, Ct., Bernardston and Northfield, Mass.

1. Jacob Webster, b. Feb. 12, 1748, at Glastonbury, Ct., m. May 13, 1770, at Wethersfield, Ct., Abigail Goodrich.

He was a soldier in the Revolution, was taken sick while in the service, and died while absent from home. He was a private from Bernardston, in Capt. Taylor's Co., Nicholas Dyke's Reg't, Sep. 17, 1776.

He lived in Conway, Mass. After his death his widow m. Coats, a brother of her dau. Anna Webster's husband.

Jacob Webster died Oct. 3, 1776, probably in the army.

April 10, 1779, Hezekiah Newcomb of Bernardston sells to Stephen Webster's grandsons, Charles, Jacob, and David Webster, all of Bernardston.

CHILDREN: Charles, b. July 23, 1770; Jacob, July 23, 1772; David Williams, Aug. 8, 1774; Anna, Sep. 25, 1776. Resumed in Chapter XVII.

2. Jemima Webster, b. Feb. 16, 1750, at Glastonbury, Ct., m. Feb. 22, 1769-70 (Bolton records) at Bolton, Ct., Reuben Keeney, b. 1746, son of Thomas Keeney of Hartford.

A deed was given June 12, 1761, in which occurs the words: "The land that Thomas Keeney gave to his son Thomas, about 11 acres; to his son Joseph, about 10 acres, with ye house; land given to Reuben and Isaac Keeney, about 32 1-2 acres." The record is at Broad Brook, Ct., and after careful study it appears that Reuben and Isaac were intended to be understood as "sons," although that is not stated.

Reuben Keeney removed from Bolton, or East Hartford to Bernardston, Mass., but purchased land Aug. 27, 1787, in Greenfield of Mérodach B. Smith of Greenfield. Keeney was of Bernardston.

Aug. 7, 1797, administration was granted on the estate of Reuben Keeney, deceased, to Stephen Webster, Jr., at the request of the widow and son.

Dec. 4, 1798, Stephen Webster, Jr., was appointed guardian of Ephriam Keeney, aged 20; Stephen Keeney, 18; Lovica Keeney, 15; Lucinda, 12 years.

Oct. 17, 1800, Richard Gains releases all of his claim in the real estate of Reuben Keeney, the honored father of Lovica Gaines, who before her decease was "my lawful and wedded wife," to Jemima Keeney of Gill, Mass., widow, and mother of Lovica Gaines, late of Gill, deceased. Witnesses, Job Goodale and George Goodrich.

Reuben Keeney d. Feb. 26, 1797, in his 51st year, and Jemima, his widow, d. June 9, 1829, aged 79. Both are buried in the old cemetery at Bernardston, and both have headstones.

CHILDREN: (Keeney) (All b. in Greenfield, (Gill) Mass., except first two at Bolton, Ct.) Reuben, 1772; Charity, 1776; Ephriam, 1778; Stephen, 1781; Lovicy, 1782; Lucinda, 1786.

(1) Reuben Keeney, Jr., a farmer, m. March 11, 1799, Mary (Polly) Nightengale. They lived and died in Gill, Mass., he, Dec. 22, 1853, and she, Dec. 19, 1861, aged 81 years.

(2) Charity, Stephen, and Ephriam all died at Gill, Franklin Co., Mass., April 23, 1799, June 7, 1851, and March 31, 1852, respectively, unmarried. Stephen and Ephriam were farmers.

(3) Lovicy m. March 4, 1800, Richard Gaines. (See notes above.) In the old Cemetery at Bernardston is this inscription, "Lovicy, wife of Richard Gaines, died Aug. —, 1800, in the 17th year of her age."

(4) Lucinda m. (intentions, Feb. 16, 1805) Wm. Stevens. She d. at Montague, Franklin Co., Mass. The end.

3. Nathan Webster, b. Aug. 29, 1752, at Glastonbury, Ct., m. (1) in New Hartford, Conn. in Aug. 1775, Mary Andrus, (2) in Aurelius, Cayuga Co., N. Y., Mrs. Elizabeth Fish, nee Pitcher, widow of Nathan Fish.

He resided at New Hartford, Conn., in early life, real estate records showing that he purchased and sold land there from 1775 to 1781; at Orford, Grafton Co., N. H. from 1783 to 1802; from 1804 to 1811, Lisle, Broome Co., N. Y.; 1813 to 1822, at Aurelius, Cayuga Co., N. Y. In 1832 he was residing at Parkman, Geauga Co., O., but the next year returned to Venice, Cayuga Co., N. Y. He died at Scipio, Cayuga Co., N. Y., about 1838, aged 85 years. His first wife, Mary Andrus, was living in Lisle, N. Y., Sep. 16, 1811, as shown by her signature upon a deed. But in 1813 a deed was signed by his second wife, Betsey (Elizabeth) showing approximately the date of the first wife's death and his second marriage. The date of the death of his second wife is not ascertained.

Nathan Webster was a soldier in the war of Revolution. In his pension claim he alleged that in 1775, he enlisted at New Hartford, Conn., in a company of Light Infantry or Cavalry, commanded by Uriah Seymour in Col. Noah Phelps' Reg't, an independent Reg't designed to act as minute men; that he remained a member of that Co. during the war, except for about seven months in which he was engaged in Capt. Hubbell's Co. of militia. Also that he served six different tours in Seymour's Co., viz.,

(1) When the Co. was ordered out at the Lexington Alarm ab. Apr. 20, 1775,—to Lexington, Concord, etc., the Co. arriving after those places were destroyed, but remaining in service about one month.

(2) When Co. was called out in June 1776, and ordered to New York City, where it arrived in the latter part of the month, and where it was stationed on the day that the Declaration of Independence was promulgated, and whence it retreated with the main army to White Plains where it was engaged in the battle of that place, and in the vicinity of which the company remained until it was dismissed after about three months' service.

(3) When the Co. was ordered to Danbury in Apr. 1777, where it arrived a few hours after the place was burned, and was afterward engaged in the battle of Ridgefield, where he saw Gen. Wooster after he was mortally wounded, and remained in service about one month.

(4) When the Co. was ordered to White Plains in June or July, 1777, where it was stationed for about three months, watching the "motions" of the enemy.

(5) When the Co. was ordered to Fairfield, Green Farms, Norwalk, etc., in July 1779, arriving soon after those places were burned, and remaining in service about three or four weeks. And,

(6) When the Co. was ordered to New London in Sep. 1781, where it arrived immediately after that place was burned, and remained in service about one month, on which tour he "was at Groton soon after Col. Ledyard was massacred."

He also alleges that in the month of June, 1775, he enlisted at New Hartford, Conn., for six months in Capt. Hubbell's Co., Col. Chas. Webb's Reg't of Conn. militia, which marched to Horseneck, remaining there about two weeks, then sailed to New Haven and from there marched to Boston and remained in that vicinity, being quartered on Winter Hill, a few rods in the rear of Gen. Lee's headquarters, until one month after the expiration of his service, at request of his officers, making the total service of this tour seven months.

He made application for the pension, Aug. 10, 1832, and gave his age at that time as 79 years, and his residence as Parkman, Geauga Co., O., and alleged that he resided at New Hartford, Conn., during the period of the Revolution; that from 1812 to 1832 he resided at Aurelius, Cayuga Co., N. Y., and that in June of the latter year he removed to Parkman, Ohio. In Sep. 1833, he rem. to Venen (Venice), Cayuga Co., N. Y. He was allowed pension at the rate of $55.66 per annum. No documentary evidence of service found.

Hiram Webster, his grandson, says that Nathan Webster was known as Cap't Webster, that he rem. from Conn. to New Hampshire, near Haverhill or Concord; from N. H. to Broome Co., N. Y., thence to Cayuga Co., N. Y., three miles from Auburn.

From "Connecticut Men in the Revolution." (Certified.) Nathan Webster is borne on Lexington Alarm List, for three days,—from New Hartford,—Apr. 1775. Capt. Seth Smith's Co., same name, served in 8th Co., Capt. Wm. G. Hubbell of New Fairfield—other officers from Danby and Torrington.

SECTION 1.—Children of Isaac (Captain Stephen, Dea. Jonathan, Robert, Gov. John) and Ame (White) Webster of West Hartford, Ct.

1. Stephen Webster, bap. July 31, 1743, at West Hartford, mar. (1) May 9, 1765, Ann McCloud, of Wethersfield, Ct. Intentions were published at West Hartford, April 28, 1765. He mar. (2) June 1, 1806, Hannah, widow of Seth Kilborn, whose maiden name was Churchill, b. Jany. 11, 1749. He was admitted to Church at New Britain, Ct., July 5, 1807. Was a farmer and lived on the farm of his second wife after he mar. her, which farm was in 1867 owned and occupied by Levi S. Wells. The family removed to the West.

His grandson, Edward Webster, son of Stephen, Jr., says that Stephen Sr., served in the War of Revolution.

It is stated that Ann McCloud, wife of Stephen Webster, was of Scotch origin from Aberdeen, Scotland, and that she was b. on the ocean while her parents were on the way to this country.

Stephen Webster and wife are recorded as members of the Church at West Hartford in 1787.

A grandson of Stephen Webster says there were five Webster farms on the public road in West Hartford adjoining each other, in the following order: Stephen Webster, Sr.; his brother Isaac Webster; his brother Gideon Webster; Theodore Webster son of Stephen; and Stephen Webster, Jr.

His first wife died probably at West Hartford, Ct., March 10, 1805, in her 63d year. He died at Hartford, April 11 (or Sept. 11), 1819, aged 73. His widow died Jany. 25, 1838.

4. Gideon Webster, bap. June 16, 1751, at West Hartford, m. Dec. 30, 1779, Sarah Cadwell, b. Nov. 14, 1755, probably a dau. of Samuel and Elishabe (Brace) Cadwell of West Hartford. If this be true, either her date of birth should be 1754, which harmonizes with the date of baptism, Nov. 24, 1754, or the date of baptism may have been copied wrong. Intentions of marriage were published Nov. 15, 1779.

Gideon Webster is borne on the Lexington Alarm List, as a private for two days from the town of Hartford, Cap. Abraham Sedgwick's Co. As above, Col. Chester's reg't of Conn., Oct. 1, to Dec. 20, and 4 days to travel home. No year. Again, same Co. Jan. 19, to Feb. 28, 1776, Reg't went to N. Y. under Gen. Lee.

Gideon Webster and wife are recorded as members of the Church at West Hartford, in 1787.

Both died and are buried in the cemetery at West Hartford, he June 6, 1820, aged 69, and she March 27, 1830.

CHILDREN: Ira, bap. May 23, 1787. Resumed in Chapter XVIII.

1. Timothy Webster, b. Jan. 12, 1747, in Litchfield, Ct., m. Aug. 23, 1770, Mabel Bidwell, b. March 15, 1748, dau. of Stephen and Anna (Rossiter) Bidwell of Northfield and Litchfield, Ct. Timothy Webster was an early settler of Acra, Greene Co., N. Y.

He was a soldier in the Revolution. Muster roll data: Private Timothy Webster, Capt. Barnard's Co., Col. Samuel Wyllis (3d) Battln., Conn. forces. Enlisted Feb. 28, 1777 to serve to Jany. 1779 (for three years says another roll). On muster from July 21, 1778, to Jan. 3, 1779, when noted, "Disch'd Jan. 1, 1779." Muster of Aug. 4, and Sep. 1, 1778 at White Plains, and for Oct. 3, 1778, at Fredericksburg, and for Nov. 4, 1778, at New Milford, Second Hills, and for Dec. 12, 1778 to Jan. 5, 1779, at Reding. On muster of Nov. 4, 1778, noted as, "On Command Infantry." Conn. Men in the War of Revolution has: Timothy Webster enlisted as a private in Capt. Edward Ell's Co., of the 3d Regt. Conn. Line, Col. Samuel Wyllis, Feb. 28, 1778 for 8 months and was discharged Jany. 1, 1779. A letter from him to his wife dated at Norwalk, Aug. 18, 1776, shows that he and his brothers, Elijah and James, were then in the service at that place, but does not give the Co. and Regt. in which they were serving.

May 4, 1853, Huldah Buel, of Newbury, Orange Co., N. Y., testifies that her five brothers, Timothy, Michael, Elijah, Reuben and James, then of Litchfield, Ct., were all in the service of the United States about the year 1776.

The following, an ancient looking letter, appears in the case for pension of James Webster's widow, addressed, "Mrs. Mabel Webster, at Litchfield,"—"this with care"—dated—"Norwalk, Aug. 18, 1776," and reads—"these lines are to let you know that throu goodness of god I am well as I hope they may finde you. I have no grate matter of nuse to write you we are all and got here well we shall set out to Day it is said fur Kingsbridge giveing duty to myne and your parents and love to brothers and sisters tell father and mother that Elijah and James are well I should be glad that you would write to me by the poste if you can find out when he comes down this morning the cannon was heard to goe very brisk but we have not heard any thing further I would have you keep Sumbody with you so as not to be alone and take good care of the children So I must bid you farwell while I remain your loveing husband"

"Timothy Webster"

"tell sister patiens that hur husband is well and would have hur send his mare Down to live Sanfords to pastur till he Cums back"

Both died at Catskill, Greene Co., N. Y., he, date not found, she, between 1846 and 1850. She lived with her brother, Timothy Bidwell at the time of her death.

CHILDREN: Timothy, b. Nov. 10, 1772; Norman, b. at Litchfield, Oct. 18, 1774; Abner, b. Jany. 13, 1777; Dennis, b. Aug. 29, 1779; Mabel. Resumed in Chapter XVIII.

2. Michael Webster, of Litchfield, Ct., b. May 8, 1748, a farmer of Litchfield, Ct., Freehold, Green Co., N. Y., Franklin, Delaware Co., N. Y., and of Jefferson, Ashtabula Co., Ohio, mar. July 10, 1774, at Middletown, Ct., Elizabeth Clark, of that place, and removed from Litchfield, Ct., to Ohio, as above.

He was a soldier in the War of the Revolution. He probably lived for a while at Northfield, Litchfield Co., Ct. He removed to Franklin, N. Y., soon after 1785, and about 1808 to Jefferson, Ohio, removing with ox teams through the wilderness, finding only three white families when he reached Jefferson, but plenty of Indians.

Michael Webster in his Pension Claim, made in 1832, signs his name, Mical Webster, and gives his residence then as Jefferson, Ashtabula Co., Ohio, and says that he enlisted in the fore part of June, 1776, at Litchfield, Ct., into Capt. Abraham Bradley's Co., as a Private for six months, and that he belonged to the Regt. of Col. Gay, of Farmington, Ct., and to the Brigade of Gen'l Wadsworth. He marched to New York City where the Regt. was quartered for some time, and then crossed over to Long Island, and was he thinks under the command of Gen'l Green. Was quartered for some time near Brooklyn Ferry. Was in action near Brooklyn, and after that retreated to New York City and went into quarters on East River and was there when the city was taken, after which his Division retreated to Harlem, near Kingsbridge, where he was taken sick and sent to New Jersey. Was absent sick about six weeks, when he rejoined his Co. on the Hudson, where he was quartered until his term of service was expired, and he was discharged about the last of Dec. 1776. Says he resided at Litchfield when he enlisted. He was pensioned at $20.00 per annum. He was one of five brothers in the war. (See Timothy.)

He died at Williamsfield, Ashtabula Co., Ohio, Feb. 27, 1850, aged 101 years, 9 months, 19 days. She died in Kingsville, Ashtabula Co., Ohio, Oct. 15, 1842.

3. Sarah Webster, b. Sep. 24, 1751, no record.

4. Elijah Webster, of Litchfield, Ct., b. Mar. 29, 1755, mar. Oct. 18, 1780, Martha Clark. He was a soldier in the War of the Revolution. He appears to have been a resident of Ashtabula Co., Ohio, in 1832. He removed there soon after 1814, after the death of his father and mother.

Elijah Webster in an affidavit in his brother Michael's Pension case, says that while his brother was in the service, he was drafted and taken to New York and there saw his brother. He does not give his Co. or Regt.

An Elijah Webster served in Cap't Amos Barnes Co., Col. Noadiah Hooker's Reg't of Farmington, from Apr. 12 to May 20, 1777, at Peekskill and vicinity.

1806, Nov. 26, Elijah Webster gives land to his son Smith Webster.

6. James Webster, b. at Litchfield, Ct., Aug. 17, 1759, of Cairo, Greene Co., N. Y., mar. Mollie Rossiter, (pension papers give name Mabel) of Litchfield, Ct. He was a soldier in the War of Revolution.

In a paper published Oct. 10, 1859, it is stated that the five Webster brothers held a reunion at about that time at the house of Mrs. William Carpenter, of Saratoga, N. Y. She was the daughter of Russell. The brothers were all members of the Baptist Church.

James Webster's Revolutionary service as alleged by his children. Probably not very reliable as to length of service, etc. It is alleged that he rendered several tours of duty, amounting in all to about two years, all of the service being rendered as a private, that he served for about six months in and about New York City, being there when the British took the city in Capt. Ephriam Carpenter's Co., of Lieut. Col. Obediah Hosford's Regt. Also that he served in Cap. Archelaus Buel's Co., also that he served for about six months in Col. Sheldon's Light Horse, also that he served in Capt. Grant's Co. and that in 1777 he was drafted in Capt. Phineas Baldwin's Co., for three months and marched through Dutchess Co., N. Y., when he saw the smoke from the burning of Kingston, which was fired by the British army. Pension was not allowed.

1785, Oct. 29. Millicent Rossiter,—James Webster, Millicent Webster, Moses Sanford, Jr., Anne Sanford, Jonathan Rossiter sell land b. by Timothy Webster, Jr.

Fourth Division, showing the Great Grandchildren of Dea. Jonathan and Dorcas Hopkins, and Mary Judd Webster, by his son, Deacon Benjamin Webster of Litchfield, Ct., who m. Elizabeth Peck.

SECTION 1.—Children of Benjamin (Dea. Benjamin, Dea. Jonathan, Robert, Gov. John) and Lucretia (Buell) Webster of Litchfield, Ct.

1. Elijah Webster, b. March 19, 1761, at Litchfield, Ct., m. about Jan., 1783, Lois Coe, b. March 24, 1762, dau. of Thomas and Mrs. Mary (Keyes, nee Goodell, widow of Zachariah Keyes) Coe.

He removed to the Mohawk country in 1791, and died at Whitesboro, Oneida Co., N. Y., Oct. 26, of that year while building a house in the (then) wilderness and preparing for the removal of his family, which he had left at Litchfield, Ct.

To illustrate the newness of the country and the imperfect communications of that date, it was three weeks before the news of his death reached his family at Litchfield. His wife, Lois, was a woman of great energy and spirit and completed the settlement he had begun in the face of great difficulties. She made three journeys on horseback between Litchfield and Whitesboro (a distance of more than 100 miles) and finally removed there about 1795. Mr. Charles A. Webster, of Galesburg, Ill., a descendant of Lois has in his possession a part of the saddle tree upon which she rode in making these journeys. He also has two of the tablet bricks which had been built into the chimney of his ancestor's Conn. house, one of which is marked "E. W." and the other "1784." After the death of Elijah Webster, his widow mar. Robert Sennet, but the marriage not being a happy one they soon separated. It is believed there was no issue by this marriage with Sennet.

He died at Whitesboro, N. Y. (now Whitestown), Oct. 26, 1791, and she same place, Sept. 24, 1841, aged 79 years and six months, and was buried beside her first husband, Elijah Webster. A headstone, in part illegible, marks their resting place. One reads, "Died Sep. 24, 18—, Lois, wife of Elijah Webster and late wife of Robert Sennett, aged 79 years and 6 months." The inscription on the other stone, evidently that of Elijah Webster, cannot be read.

CHILDREN: (All b. at Litchfield, Ct.) Uri, b. Nov. 30, 1783; Clara; Guy, Dec. 7, 1787; Miles, Aug. 20, 1789; Lois, May 10, 1792. Resumed in Chapter XIX.

2. Chauncy Webster, b. Nov. 4, 1772, at Litchfield, Ct., a farmer, mar. Jany. 1, 1799; Lyndia Hills, b. April 28, 1780. After his death she mar. (2) Oct. 26, 1834, William Hathaway. He died June 24, 1831, and she May 13, 1853.

CHILDREN: (Born at Lenox, Madison Co., N. Y.) Philena, Feb. 16, 1800; Cynthia, Aug. 5, 1801, died Feb. 16, 1804; Benjamin Franklin, Jany. 23, 1803; Platt, April 27, 1805; Malinda, April 23, 1807; Chauncey, Jany. 17, 1809; Palmer, Oct. 17, 1811; Caroline, Sept. 14, 1813, died at Clockville, Madison Co., N. Y., June 19, 1826; Harris, March 17, 1815; Ledyard Palmer, March 25, 1817; Randolph Streeter, Feb. 29, 1820; Harmon Le Roy, Nov. 3, 1822; Joseph Palmer, Jany. 10, 1824.

It is to be noted that Nov. 29, 1804, Chauncy Webster and Linda his wife of Western, Oneida Co., N. Y., sold land to Albon Comstock, so that the first three children were probably born in Western instead of Lenox. Resumed in Chapter XIX.

3. Thomas Webster, b. in Litchfield, Ct., date unknown, purchased land of his father, John Webster, of Whitestown, N. Y., Oct. 29, 1795, in Taylor's Patent of 1792, divided into four lots, 50 acres of lot No. 3. Adjoining farms the same day were sold to Chauncey and Asa Webster. The tradition in the family is that Thomas Webster moved to Ohio, "and the last heard of him he had gone 700 miles further west."

In some genealogical inquiries we find this: "Please give ancestry of Thomas Webster who came to Cincinnati early in 1800, or thereabouts. He was a widower with six children, viz.: Clarissa, Harriett, Sallie, Havilah, Levi and Mary, whom he left in New York state with her grandmother. I think they came from Albany. Thomas had a brother William who remained East." We have not had time to search this matter and leave to others its solution. The end.

4. Asa Webster, b. June 11, 1775, at Litchfield, Ct., a farmer, mar. Aug. 15, 1802, Elizabeth Douglass, daughter of Rev. Caleb Douglass, a Baptist minister.

Asa Webster was a soldier in the War of 1812. He was granted a bounty land warrant and in his claim therefor he alleged service as follows: In Capt. Edmund Fuller's Co., New York militia from about Oct. 8, 1814, to about Nov. 12, same year; was at Sacketts Harbor, and put in a substitute, James Blake, on the latter date and went home on account of sickness in his family. No record of his service was found, but James Blake's name was found on the rolls. Webster's claim was, however, allowed. He signed his name in poor handwriting and gave his residence in 1850 and in 1855 as Western, Oneida Co., N. Y.

Last Will of Asa Webster, Aug. 1, 1857: My wife, Elizabeth; my sons, Caleb and James; Robert, Elizabeth and Susan, children of my son, Samuel, deceased; my son, Albert; Adonirum, Simeon and Clinton, children of my dau. Eliza Grems; Diana and Lavina, children of my dau., Susan Putnam; my daughter Sarah Ann Adams, wife of Asahel Adams; Webster Wilson, son of Seth Wilson and Emily Wilson, also Martha and Emily their daughters; my dau. Rebecca Le Clear, wife of John B. LeClear; my dau. Hester Owens, wife of Owen Owens; Milton, Wesley, and an infant brother, children of my son George, deceased. Harry Grems and Archibald Hames, executors.

Last will of Elizabeth Webster of Western, dated Aug. 16, 1869, mentions Robert Webster, my grandson, my granddaughter, Elizabeth Webster, minor children of Samuel Webster, deceased. Owen Owens, executor.

Both died at Western, Oneida Co., N. Y., she Dec. 11, 1837, aged 55-7-19, and he Sept. 27, 1857.

CHILDREN: (All b. at Western, N. Y.) Elizabeth, April 7, 1803; William Ryley, April 3, 1805; Sarah Ann, Feb. 16, 1807; Susan Elvira, Nov. 30, 1808; Caleb Douglass, Nov. 20, 1810; Rebecca, May 21, 1812; James, May 1, 1814; Emily, June 19, 1816; Albert, Aug. 1, 1818; Esther Maria, Nov. 17, 1820; George Henry, June 3, 1823; Samuel, Jany. 2, 1826. Resumed in Chapter XIX.

5. William Webster, b. in Litchfield, Ct., date unknown. Nothing is known of this son.

In Rockland, Venango Co., Pa., settled a William Webster, whose widow was born in 1784. April 7, 1855, she applied for a pension on account of his services in the War of 1812. She had no record of his services but says he was drafted at Caledonia, Genesee Co., N. Y., in Capt. Wm. Pennock's Co., Militia, and served about 6 weeks, about July 1, 1813, and was again drafted to go to Buffalo, and served about 2 months. She affirmed that she, Roxie Ann Hill and William Webster were m. Sep. 30, 1802, at New Durham, Greene Co., N. Y., and that he died in Venango Co., Pa., March 28, 1845.

The name of this William Webster's father was John. He came from Connecticut, and settled in Rockland, Pa., about 1820.

This William had 11 children, all of whom lived to marry, and none was living in 1900.

CHILDREN: John, Maranda, William, Sally, Mary Ann, Lambert, Alfred, Harriet, Adeline, Warren, George.

- (1) John m. Sally Maitland of Rockland, Pa.
- (2) Maranda m. John Ford of Rockland, Pa.
- (3) William m. Mary Ann Collingwood of Rockland, Pa.
- (4) Sally m. James Hagerty of Rockland, Pa.
- (5) Mary Ann m. John Jolly of Rockland, Pa.
- (6) Lambert m. Jane Wood. No residence given.
- (7) Alfred married but who is not known.
- (8) Harriet m. John Stroup of Rockland, Pa.
- (9) Adeline m. John Kellerman of Rockland, Pa.
- (10) Warren m. Sally Ann McMillen, Apr. 8, 1847.
- (11) George m. Mary Jane Ross of Rockland, Pa. The end.

6. John Webster, b. in Litchfield, Ct., date unknown, is buried in the old cemetery in Rome, Oneida Co., N. Y. He evidently had no headstone. The remains of those in the old have recently, 1910, been removed to the new cemetery. The end.

7. Samuel Webster, b. in Litchfield, Ct., the youngest of the family, was drowned in New York, apparently unmarried. The end.

CHAPTER X.

Sixth Generation—Great Grand Children of Robert and Hannah Beckley Webster, in the Line of Robert, the son of Gov. John Webster.

THE SEVENTH AND EIGHTH GENERATIONS ALSO APPEAR IN A SUPPLEMENT WITHIN THIS CHAPTER, CLOSING THE RECORD IN THIS LINE.

First Division, showing the Great Grandchildren of Robert and Hannah Beckley Webster by their son, Robert Webster of Hartford, Ct., who married Lois Stanley.

1. Rebecca Webster, b. at Litchfield, Ct., Sept. 7, 1751, mar. Sept. 16, 1773, Stephen Plant.

E. N. Sheppard says, Stephen Plant and Rebecca Webster had: Jerusha, Naomi, Orpah, Stephen, Reuel, Rebecca, Ammi, and Isaac.

2. James Webster, evidently married, because April 19, 1804, John Stoddard and Levi Coe were appointed by the Probate Court to distribute the estate of James Webster, late of Litchfield (Conn.), deceased, to Clarissa Webster, a minor daughter.

1794, May 8, James Webster of Litchfield, sold to John Webster of said Litchfield, "out of my father's estate," bounded by Jonah and Obed. Webster. (John 2d, in index.)

1795, he sells his right to estate of David Stoddard.

1797, Aug. 4, he sells to John Webster, 2d, " $\frac{1}{2}$  part of the land descended to me from my honored mother, Jerusha Webster, deceased, from her father, Moses Stoddard."

1806, Ama Webster to Levi Coe (This may have been wife of James.)

1778, he was ap. guardian of John Webster, a minor of about eight years. The end.

3. Obed Webster, b. July 23, 1761, at Litchfield, Ct., a carpenter and joiner, m. (1) July 24, 1785, Betsey Lake, of Derby, New Haven Co., Ct., who was b. Dec. 2, 1762. He mar. (2) April 15, 1805, Charity Johnson, b. Sept. 18, 1774. He mar. (3) April 11, 1813, widow Lucy Hall, of Johnstown, Fulton Co., N. Y., who was b. at Great Hill (Derby), Ct., Aug. 16, 1771 or 1773. She was daughter of George Beard, a blacksmith, who died at Johnstown, N. Y.

Obed Webster was a soldier in the Revolution, in Capt. Harrison's Co., Conn. troops, and in Capt. John Stoddard's Co., Col. Beebe's Reg't., Conn. line. Also on same roll with Michael Webster, evidently the 17th Regt., commanded by Col. Sheldon. Private Obed Webster is on the roll of Capt. James Smith's Co., Col. M. Mead's Regt. No length of service given. Again was appraised at a certain sum, Nov. 24, 1779. On the back of the roll "Obed Webster and 30 others beg to be furloughed for reasons that they can render."

In 1832, Obed Webster of New Haven Co., Conn., was on the roll of pensioners.

Feb. 14, 1789, Obed Webster of Derby, Ct., buys land there. (Now Seymour, Ct.)

He died at Derby (Great Hill), Oct. 31, 1837. His first and second wives same place, Betsey, March 13, 1804, in childbirth, and Charity, Oct. 4, 1810. His widow died at Bethany (Beacon Falls), Ct., Jany. 18, 1858.

Three still born children, respectively, Aug. 3, 1801, Oct. 1, 1802, March 13, 1804. (By second mar.) Clark, Sept. 23, 1805; Aaron, April 6, 1807. (By third mar.) Charles, Jany. 1, 1814. Resumed in this Chapter in a Supplement, page 239.

4. Jonah Webster, b. 1766, at Litchfield, Ct., probably did not marry. In 1778 the estate of Justus Webster was distributed, among others, to Jonah Webster a minor about 11 years, to Stephen Plantz, guardian to said Jonah Webster. 1794 he is mentioned in the land boundary of his brother James.

Sept. 2, 1841. Jonah Webster's estate was distributed to John Webster, heirs of Rebecca Plants, heirs of Obed Webster, and heirs of James Webster. The end.

5. John Webster, b. June 4, 1770, at Litchfield, Ct., a farmer, m. Dec. 24, 1795, at Goshen, Litchfield Co., Ct., by Rev. Mr. Hooker, Mary Bartholomew, dau. of Samuel and Mary (Lucas) Bartholomew, b. there Feb. 28, 1771. Her father settled there in 1766, having come from Branford, New Haven Co., Ct.

1794, May 8, John Webster purchased of James Webster, both of Litchfield, Ct., land out of their father's estate. He is called John 2d to distinguish him from John of another family.

1778, James Webster is appointed guardian of John, aged about eight years. Their parents died of small-pox.

1796, Jan. 3, John Webster sells to Daniel Stoddard his right to the estate of David Stoddard.

1809, Dec. 18, John Webster of Winchester, Ct., yeoman, sold to Geo. Minor of Loudon, Mass.,  $\frac{1}{4}$  of a saw-mill known as Owen's saw-mill in Loudon.

1814, Mch. 17, same Bartholomew to John Webster of town of Hillsdale, N. Y.

He also lived at Great Barrington, Mass., and spent his final years at Green River (town of Hillsdale), Columbia Co., N. Y., where both died, she Dec. 9, 1841, aged 70 ys, 9 mos, 11 ds, and he Nov. 25, 1851, aged 81 ys, 5 mos, 21 days.

CHILDREN: Asa, b. Litchfield, Ct., Oct. 28, 1796; Ari, Feb. 1, 1799; Mary, Dec. 19, 1810. Resumed in Supplement to this Chapter, page 242.

Second Division, showing the Great Grandchildren of Robert and Hannah Beckley Webster, descendants by their dau., Hannah Webster of Hartford, Ct., who married Ebenezer Webster, son of John and Sarah (Mygatt) Webster. (See Ebenezer Webster for this line.)

Third Division, showing the Great Grandchildren of Robert and Hannah Beckley Webster, descendants by their son, Caleb Webster of Hartford, East Hartford, and Wethersfield, Ct., whose wife is unknown in this book.

SECTION 1.—Children of Joshua (Caleb, Robert, Lieut. Robert, Gov. John) and Abigail (Booth) Webster of Farmington and Berlin, Ct.

1. Leonard Booth Webster, bap. July 14, 1782, at New Britian, Ct., m. Frances ———, whose name in deeds is given as "Fanny."

In the year 1805 Leonard B. Webster of Southwick, Hampden Co., Mass., and Abigail Webster deeded land previously sold by Wadsworth to Joshua Webster.

1809, April 29, Leonard B. Webster buys lands in Lisle, Broome Co., N. Y. of Joel Warren and Peggy, his wife, all of Lisle, N. Y.

1809, Dec. 16, Leonard B. Webster and Fanny, his wife, of the town of Plymouth, Chenango Co., N. Y., sell to Timothy Clark of Lisle, N. Y., land in Lisle.

April 30, 1813, Leonard B. Webster buys land of Joseph Adams and Mary his wife, of the town of Sherburne, Chenango Co., N. Y., land there, and on the same day he with Fanny his wife sold the land to Tilly Lynde.

George Nelson Webster, a grandson, is authority for the fact that Leonard Booth Webster was a school teacher and died at Ithaca, N. Y.

CHILDREN: Norman Stanley, b. Feb. 28, 1810, at Sharon, Chenango Co., N. Y.; Walter Nelson, b. April 7, 1814, at Ithaca, N. Y. Some have suggested that there was a daughter. Resumed in this Chapter (Supplement), page 244.

Second Division, showing the Great Grandchildren of Ensign William and Sarah Nichols Webster by their son Sergeant William and (1) Mary Watson, and (2) Anna Case Webster of Windsor, Ct.

SECTION 1.—Children of William (Sergt. William, Ensign William, Robert, Gov. John) and Edee (Drake) Webster of Wintonbury and Farmington, Ct.

1. William Webster, (Mary Watson line) b. Dec. 29, 1766, at Wintonbury, Ct., m. (1) June 28, 1789, Lydia Cone, b. Sept. 18, 1768, and (2) in Cayuga Co., N. Y., June 12, 1813, widow Jane (Garrison) Van Amburgh, b. at Torbut, Northumberland Co., Pa., Feb. 19, 1783. His first wife died in Cayuga Co., April 6, 1813. He died in Richland Co., Ohio, Feb. 4, 1840, and his widow, Jane, April 2, 1848, place not given.

William Webster was a farmer and removed with his father from Ct. to Hartford, Washington Co., N. Y., between 1785 and 1789, his father having sold his farm in Ct., Sept. 11, 1784; and then in the spring "of 1795" he removed to Onondaga Co., N. Y., and 1797 to Locke, Cayuga Co., N. Y., locating on a leased farm, or tract of wild land, where he remained until 1815, and then removed to Mansfield, Richland Co., Ohio.

Resumed in Chapter XXI.

2. Deacon Elijah Drake Webster, (Mary Watson line) b. at Wintonbury, Ct., Dec. 6, 1769, a farmer and preacher, mar. (1) at Poultney, Vt., by William Ward, Esq., Oct. 5, 1795, Mrs. Esther Miles, a widow, daughter of Peter and Mary (Munson) Mallory, of Ct., b. Aug. 4, 1760. He mar. (2) at Poultney, Vt., Rev. Clark Kendrick officiating, April 20, 1812, Miriam Atwater Mallory, a niece of his first wife, b. at Hamden, Ct., Oct. 26, 1787. She was a daughter of Calvin and Miriam (Atwater) Mallory. Miriam's mother, wife of Calvin Mallory, died Nov. 4, 1787, and Mr. Calvin Mallory removed in 1788 to Poultney, Vt., with his widowed mother, Mrs. Mary Munson Mallory, who cared for Miriam, his infant daughter.

Deacon Elijah Webster removed to Vt. prior to 1793. An order appears on the Church records at Milton, Vt., dated Oct. 14, 1793, to pay him for preaching. A license to preach was issued to him at Fairfax, Vt., Oct. 22, 1793. He was then a Congregationalist, but at about that time united with the Baptist Church at Fairfax, Vt. He is supposed to have settled at Poultney about July, 1794.

All died at Poultney, Vt.; his first wife Esther Miles, Feb. 9, 1812, in her 52d year; he Jany. 17, 1823, in his 54th year; and his second wife Miriam, Nov. 8, 1869, aged 82. His tombstone reads thus: "The memory of the just is Blessed." "Here lies the mortal part of Deacon Elijah Webster, whose talents and piety gave him an elevation in society and in the Baptist Church of which he was a member."

CHILDREN: (All b. at Poultney, Vt.) (1st m.) Amanda, Feb. 9, 1797; Laura Rowley, Nov. 9, 1798; Julia Ann, April 1, 1801; Armenia, June 28, 1805, died April 29, 1814. (2d m.) Resumed in Chapter XXI.

5. Jehiel Webster, (Mary Watson line) b. at Wintonbury, Ct., in 1777, and bap. Oct. 10, 1779. This is an interesting case as the following facts will show. According to tradition in the family, Jehiel left the family home, then on the Hudson river near West Point, when a young man without a family of his own, and has not since been heard of by the family. He started off one morning on horseback, stating that he was going to seek his fortune. Some of the family think that he went to sea.

M. R. Webster, in 1892, found a Jehiel Webster, of Preble, Cortland Co., N. Y., who answered the description. Replying to a letter of Aug. 9, 1892, W. H. Webster returned several Jehiels, among them this one b. at Wintonbury, Ct., 1777. Members of the family wrote that the coffin plate reads, "Died April 20, 1858, being 81 years and 6 months old." This so nearly agrees with the dates given that it seems certain that he was the Jehiel in question. But an additional proof is to be found in the following real estate record, Book O, page 35, Cortland Co. Records: April 16, 1820, Jehiel Webster, of Preble, late of Cooksackie (Coxsackie), Greene Co., N. Y., bought of Jacob Ostrander 20 acres of land in Preble for $1,000.

1824, Dec. 18, Jehiel Webster of Coxsackie, Greene Co., N. Y., and Phoebe his wife, to Henry Wolf, same place, land there.

1828, Apr. 16, Jehiel Webster of Preble, N. Y., late of Cooksackie, N. Y., land in Preble.

4. Israel Webster, b. May 25, 1756, at Lebanon, Ct., (mother, Dorathy Hills) m. there Mch. 13, 1781, Mary Sophia Carpenter, dau. of Ephriam and Sophia (Wheeler) Carpenter, b. about 1762. They removed to Hartford, Windsor Co., Vt., about 1789, and to Ascot, Lower Canada, about 1811, where he died May 3, 1838, and she, April 5, 1854, aged 94 years.

Israel Webster was a soldier in the Revolutionary war, and alleges that he enlisted, first, for one year, at Lebanon, Ct., in April or May, 1776, in Capt. Daniel Tilden's Co., of Col. John Durkee's Regt., Conn. Line, on the Continental establishment, and served his full term as a Private and was discharged in New Jersey. He alleges and the muster rolls confirm as to dates and places, that he enlisted, second, for three years, May 10, 1777, as a corporal, in Capt. Jedediah Hyde's Co., of Col. John Durkee's Regt. (4th Conn. Regt.) The Company was subsequently commanded by Capt. Robert Hallam, then by Lieut. Col. John Sherman, and still later by Col. John Durkee. He says that he enlisted this time at Norwich, Ct., and the company rendezvoused at New Haven, Ct., and marched thence to Robinson's Farm on the Hudson River, and thence to Morristown, New Jersey. The rolls show that the Company was at Valley Forge, April to June, 1778, at White Plains in Sept. 1778, at Reading, January to May, 1779, at the Highlands, New York, June to Nov., 1779, at Morristown, Jany., 1780, and at Westfield, March and April, 1780. Webster was promoted to a Sergt. Nov. 20, 1778, and to 1st Sergt. about July, 1779. In May, 1779 all of his superior officers being absent he was in command of his Co. He was absent from his Co. on a furlough for 28 days from Dec. 28, 1778, and for four days in Sept. 1779. In March and April, 1779, he is reported as "on command at the lines"—and in Feb., 1780, as "on Detachment." He was discharged from this service April 20, 1780. He alleges that he was in the battles of Germantown, and Monmouth.

He alleges that in April, 1782, he was commissioned by Gov. Jonathan Trumbull as an Ensign, in Capt. Mills Co., Col. Samuel Canfield's Regt., of Conn. Militia, to serve one year, that they were stationed at Horseneck in Stamford, Ct., to protect the inhabitants from the outrages of the Tories, that he assisted in building a fort at Stamford, and was out on several scouts, in one of which a company of the enemy's dragoons surrounded the house where they were, killed and wounded many, and took their Capt. and Lieut. prisoners. At the expiration of his year the news of peace arrived, and he was discharged. He was pensioned at $180 per annum, and after his death, his widow was allowed the same rate.

Frances, wife of Hon. Aaron Matson, Member of Congress from New Hampshire, was a sister of Mrs. Webster. Their father, Ephriam Carpenter, kept a public house in Lebanon, Ct.

Israel Webster served in the Company of Cap. Jedediah Hyde of Norwich, 4th Reg't Conn. Line, Col. John Durkee of Norwich. Enlisted April 20, 1777; promoted Sergeant Nov. 20, 1778, and dis. Apr. 20, 1780. Reg't recruited mainly in New London and Windham Counties.

Israel Webster, Orderly Sergeant, says he enlisted in Continental army for the war and served to its termination, at which time he was an Orderly Sergeant in Cap. Robert Holland's Co., 4th Reg., Conn., Line. Signs poorly, Nov. 7, 1829, at Ascot, Province of Lower Canada. (No. 1773, Act of 1828.)

1789, Jan. 27, Israel Webster of Hartford, Vt., for 60 pounds, buys of Ephriam Carpenter of same place, estimated 25 acres on highway that leads to Woodstock. Boundaries, Christopher Pease. Witnesses: Melissa and Fanny Carpenter.

1793, Nov. 12, Israel Webster of Hartford, Windsor Co., Vt., purchased land there of Amos Robinson of the same place. Witnesses: Thos. Holbrook and Jonathan Wright.

1796, June 6, same to Thos. Holbrook for $500. Witnesses: Jeddediah Strong, James Strong, all of Hartford, Vt.

1808, Apr. 23, Israel Webster of Hartford, Windsor Co., Vt., and Mary Sophia Webster his wife; Elias Hull of Charlestown, N. H., and Cynthia Hull his wife; Aaron Matson of Stoddard and Fanny Matson his wife, to Ephriam Carpenter of Charlestown, N. H. One witness: Chester Webster.

1808, Apr. 25, Israel Webster of Hartford, Windsor Co., Vt., and Mary Sophia his wife; Elias Hull of Charlestown, Cheshire Co., N. H., and Cynthia Hull his wife; and Aaron Matson of Stoddard, Cheshire Co., N. H., and Fanny his wife; by virtue of last will and testament of Phineas Wheeler, their—Mary Sophia, Cynthia and Fanny—grandfather, late of Lebanon deceased, sells to Elijah Mason of Hartford, Vt., aforesaid, their right in said estate.

1810, Apr. 25, Israel Webster of Hartford, Vt., sells land in Lebanon "of my honored father Jonathan Webster" and set out to his widow Ruth Webster for her thirds.

CHILDREN: (First two b. at Lebanon, Ct.; others at Hartford, Windsor Co., Vt.) Israel, b. Mch 15, 1782; Harry, b. 1785; Sophia; Harriet; Chester; Horace, b. Aug. 27, 1798, at Hartford, Vt.; Mary Sophia. Resumed in Chapter XXIV.

5. William Webster, b. Aug. 1, 1758, at Lebanon, Ct., (mother, Dorathy Hills) m. Oct. 27, 1785, at Glastonbury, Ct., her home, Anna Hodge, b. Feb. 11, 1758, dau. of Benjamin and Lydia (Wells) Hodge. They removed, about 1789, to Canaan, Grafton Co., N. H., and to Hartland and Woodstock, Vt., about 1795. Later he removed to North East, Erie Co., Pa., but came back, four years later, to the town of Ellicott, Chautauqua Co., N. Y., where he died Jan. 10, 1841, and she at North East, Pa., Nov. 25, 1861, aged nearly 104 years.

William Webster was a soldier in the Revolutionary war, and alleges seven tours of service of about two months each, in the Conn. Militia.

1st, was drafted in Sept., 1776, at Lebanon, Ct., served in Capt. Ephriam Carpenter's Co., of Col. Hosford's Regt., marched to New Haven, Ct., thence to Rye, N. Y., and thence to Froge Point, near New York. The main army then marched to White Plains but Hosford's Regt. retreated to Rye, and thence to the Saw Pits, near Byram River, where they had a skirmish with a force of British and Tories in which some of the enemy were killed and wounded, and Gen'l Parsons coming up with a Brigade dispersed the enemy. His Regt. remained at the Saw Pits a short time, when he was discharged and got back to Lebanon in Nov.

2d, in April or May, 1777, he was drafted on an Alarm, and served for two months at Ft. Trumbull, New London, Ct., in Capt. John Skinner's Co. of Col. Samuel Chapman's Regt.

3d, about June, 1777, was drafted on an Alarm, and served for two months at Ft. Griswold, Groton, Ct., in Capt. Bush's Co., of Col. Jones' Regt., and while there frequently saw the British fleet, three ships of which lay at anchor off there for about three weeks at one time.

4th, in Sept., 1777, he was drafted to go to the North, served under Capt. John Skinner, in Col. Jonathan Lattimore's Regt., "marked to the taking of Gen'l Burgoyne," and was there at the surrender. His brigade was then under the command of Gen'l Poor. Served in this expedition two months, served from Aug. 25, to Nov. 2, in Poor's Brigade of Arnold's Div.

5th, in March, 1778, was called out on an Alarm, and served two months at the Fort in New London, in Capt. Daniel Clark's Co., of Col. Mason's Regt.

6th, in Sept., 1778, was called out on an Alarm, and served two months at Fort Griswold, Groton, Ct., in Capt. Azariah "Right's" Co., of Col. Eliphalet Buckley's Regt.

7th, in Nov., 1778, he with four others, under command of Sergt. Clark, at the particular request of Gov. Trumbull, went to Stamford, and Fairfield, Ct., in pursuit of Tories, who were supplying provisions to the British on Long Island. They arrested three of them and took them to Lebanon, Ct., where they were held as prisoners for several months. Was gone from home one month, and marched 100 miles. He was allowed a pension of $43.33 per annum, and after his death his widow was also allowed one.

1785, July 11, William Webster of Lebanon sells to Rufus Lamb, land in Lebanon set out to said William from his father's estate. Boundaries mention Israel Webster and Ruel Webster.

1810, March 24, William Webster of Hartford, Windsor Co., Vt., sells to Israel Webster of said Hartford, 34 acres—his right in the estate of Jonathan Webster, and the thirds of Ruth Webster in Lebanon, Ct.

2. Shadrach Webster, b. ab. 1765, (by 1st m.). Rev. William Henry Webster, D.D., of Danville, Ill., writing under date of July 20, 1891, says: "My father was Shadrach Webster, son of Capt. Constant or Constance Webster. I well remember my father saying that his father was a Captain in the Revolutionary war, and was wounded.

My father also told me, as I sat on his lap, of going as a soldier to Plattsburg, N. Y., to repel the British if they attempted to land from Lake Champlain."

He also says, "According to my best calculations, my father died about Jan. or Feb., 1845. He was about seventy-two at his death. I remember hearing him spoken of as seventy-two. That would bring his birth in 1772 or 1773. I was nine years old, Sep. 26, 1844, and remember that my father died from having taken a severe cold. He walked from home (Orangeville) to Warsaw and back, on a very cold day, and although, often in poor health, he was quite active at times. He was not married until late. My mother was much younger, I think from twenty to twenty-three years his junior. She died before I was ten years old and I heard her speak of fifty as though that was about her age."

Shadrach Webster m. Elizabeth Beach, often called Betsey, born in Connecticut where the marriage also occurred.

He died at Orangeville, Wyoming Co., N. Y., about 1844.

Third Division, showing the Great Grandchildren of George and Sarah Bliss Webster, by their son, George Webster, of Lebanon, Ct., who married Martha Taylor.

SECTION 1.—Children of George (George, George, Thomas, Gov. John) and wife unknown, Lebanon, Ct. This line has disappeared. If there be descendants it is hoped that they may yet be discovered.

1. Levi Webster, bap. Oct. 14, 1759, at Colchester, Ct.

1775: Private Levi Webster, enlisted July 8, 1775, marched Aug. 7, 1775, in Capt. Abijah Rowlee's Co., Conn. troops. Allowed 12 shillings and 6 pence for billeting in 1775. No further data. (If this were Levi the father, he was a veteran of the French and Indian War, aged about 42 years. If it was Levi the son he was 16 or 17.) Data from a Muster roll or Pay Abstract.

1776: Levi Webster, Cap. Hyde's Co., Col. Wyllys' Reg't, convicted by Court Martial, of which Col. Malcolm was President, of desertion, and sentenced to receive 39 stripes. Published in orders from Head Quarters, New York, Sep. 7, 1776. The sentence was approved by the General, and ordered to be executed on the Regimental Parade at the usual hour in the morning. Parole given for the day, "Temple." Counter-sign, "Liberty."

1777: Nehemiah Wadsworth, in a/c with Teamsters employed by him in 1777, has this: "Levi Webster, Teamster, of Colchester, Dr. and Cr. charges run from April 1, 1777 to Aug. 19, 1777."

1777: On an old memorandum kept by John Jefferys, probably connected in some way with the Teamster's Co., dated June 19, 1777: "Also Levi Webster, 3/6—stop it out of his wages for D———." "Webster's is stopped." This was probably money which Levi Webster owed Cap. Isaac Goodrich, judging from another item in the same charge.

1777: Aug. 19, "I am to pay Isaac Goodrich 3/6 for Levi Webster who is already charged with it." The end.

1. Ruth Webster, b. July 20, 1755, at Sheffield, Berkshire Co., Mass., m. Jan. 1, 1781, at Chatham, Columbia Co., N. Y., Robert Parke, a farmer, b. 1757-8, in the town of Salisbury, Litchfield Co., Ct., son of Nathan and Mary (Walton) Parke. A Justice of the Peace named Beebe officiated at their marriage.

Robert Parke d. Sep. 18, 1812, (another says Sep. 16, 1813) near Hall's Corners, (Seneca,) Ontario Co., N. Y., and she at Benton Centre, Yates Co., N. Y., about 1850. He settled in township No. 9, (now Stanley's,) Ontario Co., N. Y., his farm adjoining one owned by his brother, Squire Parke, where both brothers died.

Robert Parke was a soldier in Revolutionary War. Ruth, his widow, July 11, 1846, then of Benton, Yates Co., N. Y., aged "84 and upwards," says that Robert Parke, her late husband, was a soldier in the war of Revolution, and resided at Brimfield, near Boston, Mass., at the commencement of the war; that he served eight months in 1775, in Cap. Walbridge's Co., Col. Brewer's Regt. of Mass. Militia. Also that he served during most of the war, but does not remember in whose Company, but thinks, under a Cap. Morgan, a Col. Sheppard, and a Col. Mason; also among the New York troops. He was in the battle of Germantown, and Ft. Stanwix. Says that she married him Jan. 1, 1781, at Chatham, Columbia Co., N. Y., a Justice of the Peace, named Beebe, officiating; that her maiden name was Ruth Webster, and that her husband died at Seneca, Ontario Co., N. Y., Sep. 18, 1812, and that she was never previously nor subsequently married.

On the same date—July 11, 1846—Percis Chase, a resident of Benton, Yates Co., N. Y., aged 65 years on Oct. 24, 1846, says that she is the eldest child of Robert and Ruth (Webster) Parke, and was b. Oct. 24, 1781, at Chatham, Columbia Co., N. Y., and when about six years old, removed with her parents to Oneida Co., N. Y., where she remained until she was 21 years old, and for the last 27 years she has lived at Benton, Yates Co., N. Y., and further says that her parents removed to Seneca, Oneida (now Ontario) Co., N. Y. in 1804.

Mass. records show Parke's service in 1775, in Cap. Amos Walbridge's Co., Col. David Brewer's Regt., Mass. troops. But no other time in other Regiments is alleged. He was out for two tours in 1775. Nathan, Oliver and Squire Parke enlisted together in the 17th New York Regt., Albany Co., N. Y. Oliver, Squire and Robert were brothers.

CHILDREN: (Parke) (The first one and some others b. at Chatham, Columbia Co., N. Y., and the others in the town of Paris, Oneida Co., N. Y.) Persis, Oct. 24, 1781; Ann; Margaret; Nathan, b. Whitestown, Oneida Co., N. Y., June 7, 1787; Mary; Ruth; Fanny, b. 1796. Resumed in Chapter XXVI.

2. Hannah Webster, b. Oct. 2, 1756, at Sheffield, Mass. No record.

3. Daniel Webster, b. Jan. 10, 1758, at Sheffield, Mass., "was several times married," writes a descendant, Mrs. Mary L. (Webster) Mudge, April 16, 1900, of Maple Rapids, Clinton Co., Mich., "and had thirteen or fourteen children, among them, two or three pairs of twins." One wife was Martha Vaughn, b. Feb. 11, 1759, daughter of John Vaughn, "late of the town of Westmoreland, Oneida Co., N. Y."

Daniel Webster was a soldier in the Revolutionary War. He enlisted at Montreal, Canada, April 1776, as private, for one year, in Cap. Lathrop Allen's Co., Samuel Elmore's Regt. of Conn. troops. The first Lieut. was from Branford, and Col. Elmore from Sharon, Ct. Service from July 1, 1776. End of service not stated, but the Regt. broke up in the Spring of 1777. It took the field under Gen. Schuyler, and in August marched from Albany into Tryon County. During the remainder of its term it was stationed at Fort Stanwix and vicinity. This Company was in garrison at Fort Dayton (German Flatts), also.

Daniel Webster, Aug. 19, 1825, of Bloomfield, Ontario Co., N. Y., aged 67 (b. 1758), applied for a pension, and certified that he enlisted for one year, on the 15th day of April, 1776, at Montreal, Canada, in Cap. Lathrop Allen's Co., of Col. Samuel Elmore's Regt. of the Conn. Line, Continental estate, and continued in service until May, 1777, when he was discharged at Herkimer, N. Y. Household property valued at $37.26. Says that there was no one living in his family except himself and wife, the latter 55 years old. Signs in a good clear hand.

May 3, 1825, Samuel Doty of Canaan, Columbia Co., N. Y., and Jonathan Peak of Chatham, Columbia Co., N. Y., testified of Webster's services from April 15, 1776, to May 1, 1777, and that they served with him. Pensioned at $8 per month.

Oct. 10, 1795, Daniel Webster of Westmoreland, Herkimer Co., N. Y., buys of Robert Parke of Paris, Herkimer Co., N. Y., (his sister and brother-in-law). Witnesses: Asahel Webster, (s. of David and Susannah (Bliss) Webster) Daniel, Jr., his own son, and Justin Webster, (son of David and Jerusha (Berge) Webster.)

Aug. 18, 1804, Daniel Webster of the town of Westmoreland, Oneida Co., N. Y., sells to Reuben Hecox of Paris, for $2,000, 55 acres in Cox's Patent, lot 13, 5th Division, reserving 20 acres. He mentions Ruel Pelton and Capt. John Vaughn's lot, and "my lot purchased of Robert Parke."

Capt. John Vaughn was the father of a large family, and Daniel Webster married his dau. Martha. Real estate transactions and legal procedure outlined in the following, bring together the names of many in and related to the family.

March 8, 1821, Stephen Webster, and Ruth his wife of Vernon, Oneida Co., N. Y., sell to Eliphalet Bailey of Westmoreland their right and title to land owned by John Vaughn, late of Vernon, deceased.

July 16, 1821, James Parmele and Martha Parmele; Betsey Beach, wife of Ambrose Beach; Oliver G. Daniel Webster was living Aug. 19, 1825. (See Pension Application.) His wife, Martha Vaughn, was not living when the Will of her father, Capt. John Vaughn was made, May 16, 1812. But the last wife of Daniel Webster, b. 1770, was living with him in Bloomfield, 1825, when he applied for his pension. Dates of death not found.

CHILDREN: (By 1st m.) Justus, b. 1781, at Whitestown, Herkimer Co., N. Y. (By Martha Vaughn) Martha; Betsey; Pamela; Daniel, Jr., b. Dec. 7, 1793, at Westmoreland, Herkimer Co., N. Y.; Zilpah. Resumed in Chapter XXVI.

4. Isaac Vosburgh Webster, b. Oct. 1, 1759, at Sheffield, Mass., m. (1) Clarissa, no doubt at Chatham, Columbia Co., N. Y., and (2) Clarinda. He resided at Chatham and Wayne, N. Y.

Isaac Webster was a soldier in the Revolutionary War. In the year 1832, Sep. 21, he applied for a pension from Chatham, Columbia Co., N. Y., where he was then residing, and gave the following summary of his services: Enlisted, June, 1776, as Sergeant, under Cap. George Dawson, Lieut. Samuel Bailey, Lieut.-Col. Ten Eyck, Col. Van Dyck's Regt. Marched to Albany and lay there about three weeks; thence by Fort Miller and Fort Edward to Kingsbury, where he was employed in making a road and bridges from Kingsbury to Fort Ann; then up and down Wood Creek from Fort Ann to Skensborough (now White Hall) and remained till about November; then went to Fort Edward where he was dismissed in November, after a service of five months.

In April, 1777, he volunteered "on an alarm," under Cap. Josiah Warner, and Lieut. Ebenezer Cady, in Col. Whitney's Reg't, Lieut.-Col. Asa Waterman. Marched by the way of Albany, Stillwater, Fort Miller and Fort Edward to Fort George; remained there a few days, and then returned, guarding baggage, provisions and munitions of war, which were at that time brought away from Fort George. Arriving at Fort Edward, a part of the militia was dismissed, but he voluntarily remained in that neighborhood till sometime in July following, when he was dismissed, having served three months. While at Fort George the Brig on Lake George was burned by the American troops.

About August 1, 1777, he volunteered under Cap. John Smith, Lieut. Perry and Ensign Perry; marched by Albany to Stillwater and was put into Col. Shepherd's Regt., in Col. Glover's Brigade, and remained until the battle was fought with Burgoyne at Stillwater, in which he was engaged. General Gates commanded, assisted by Generals Arnold, Glover and others. Soon after this he fell sick, and was sent to Troy to hospital, and there remained until about Nov. 7, when he was dismissed, during which time, on October 17, Burgoyne surrendered.

Says he was called out at various other times on alarms,—once, up the Mohawk against the Indians; once at Palmerston, and once at Esopus, and he thinks, at other times, but cannot remember the particulars, in all about three months.

Says he was born at Sheffield, Mass., Oct. 1, 1759,—the date copied from his father's Bible. He lived in King's District—the part called Chatham, N. Y.,—when he enlisted, and has lived there ever since.

Two comrades,—Joseph Miller and Simeon Beeman,—corroborate his statements.

Pensioned at $45.60 per year for 13 months and 20 days service as private in Cap. Darrow's Co., Col. Shepherd's Reg't., New York Militia.

1834, Feb. 4, Isaac Webster and Clarissa, his wife, of Chatham, Columbia Co., N. Y., sell to James Valen of Stockport, Columbia Co., N. Y., land in Chatham, bounded by Benedict Westcott, Simon Bemon, James N. Parks (should be Parke), Joseph Wilbor, John Woods.

Hiram Webster of Hinsdale, Allegany Co., N. Y., is authority for the statement that "Isaac Webster, father of David, died at Wayne, Steuben Co., N. Y. He lived finally with his son, Enoch.

Aug. 22, 1834, Isaac Webster of Wayne, Steuben Co. (now Schuyler Co.) N. Y., purchased land in Wayne of Henry S. Williams and Margaret his wife of Tyrone, N. Y. Again, April 13, 1835, of David Lang and Mary his wife, of Tyrone.

May 1, 1838, Isaac Webster and Clarinda his wife, of Tyrone, N. Y., sell to Charles Whitehead.

March 23, 1849, David Webster of Hinsdale, Allegany Co., N. Y., and Abigail his wife; and Lydia Gerow and Clarissa Carlisle, heirs at law of Isaac Webster, sell to Edwin D. Tompkins and Reuben Compton of Tyrone, N. Y.

Isaac Webster, by the above, died prior to 1849, between 80 and 90 years of age. Dates of death of his wives not obtained.

CHILDREN: David, b. March, 1783; Enoch, b. 1787; Clarissa; Lydia. Resumed in Chapter XXVI.

5. David Webster, b. about 1764, at Egremont, Berkshire Co., Mass., m. Susannah Bliss, b. March 21, 1764, dau. of Stephen and Catharine (Burt) Bliss. (Stephen Bliss was of Wilbraham, Mass., and Catharine Burt of Springfield, Mass.)

Both died in the town of Lee, Oneida Co., N. Y., she, Dec. 25, 1832, aged 68 years, and he, Sep. 20, 1850, in his 86th year. They are buried in the Hall Cemetery, near Lee Centre, N. Y.,—at least he is.

David Webster, was a devoted member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and a great reader of the Bible. He was remarkably well preserved, his teeth even remaining unblemished to the last.

1794, June 26 and June 30, David Webster was of the town of Westmoreland, Herkimer Co. (now Oneida), N. Y. (Cayuga Co. records.)

SECTION 3.—Children of Samuel (Benajah, George, Thomas, Gov. John) and Jerusha (Smith) Webster, of Coventry, Ct., and Hartford, Cumberland (now Windsor) Co., Vt.

1. Isaac Webster, b. 1771, of Fairfax, Franklin Co., Vt., m. Lucy Whitcomb, b. 1772, at Cambridge, Lamoille Co., Vt. Both died at Fairfax, Vt., she, Mch. 7, 1848, and he, Mch. 25, 1858.

As a reason for placing Isaac Webster at the head of the list of Samuel Webster's children the following facts were given in a letter to a descendant, written by M. R. Webster, Feb. 5, 1907, as follows:

"Last summer I took two trips through New England, the first of which included Fairfax, Vt., and the second, Coventry, Conn. A year before I searched New Hampshire on the west as it borders Vermont. Out of the three trips I gathered material which throws light on many of my Webster problems, and yours in particular. Enough to say I found that Samuel Webster of Hartford, Windsor Co., Vt., was of Coventry, Conn. That he married Jerusha Smith, Nov. 15, 1770. That the census of 1790, recorded Hartford, Vt., as having in it two Websters, namely Samuel and Isaac. The last deed which Samuel gave at Coventry, Conn., was dated Feb. 5, 1774. That is signed by his wife Jerusha, and Mary Smith, "all of Coventry." He had evidently moved back from Vermont, temporarily for June 26, 1772, he buys land in Hartford, Vt., of Abel Marsh, and gives his residence as Hartford, Vt. Quite likely his family had not removed from Coventry. He was a shoemaker—"cordwainer." But Jan. 21, 1779, he and his wife, Jerusha, "of Hartford, Cumberland Co., Vt.," sell land in Coventry, and this appears to be the end of their relations with Coventry."

1804, Aug. 14, Isaac Webster of Fairfax, Vt., buys land of Gamaliel Hopkins of same place. Same date of Moses Norton. Samuel Webster and Anna Gladding witnesses.

1805, Feb. 20, Isaac Webster of F. was drawn as a petit juryman.

1805, Apr. 30, "I, Isaac Webster of Fairfax, Vt.," to Benjamin Gale of the same place, land there. Samuel Webster and Anna Gladding, wits.

War of 1812: Isaac Webster, a private, Sep. 2, 1857, of Fairfax, Vt., aged 86 years, signed by mark, stated that he entered the service at Fairfax, Vt., in the Company of Captain Joseph Beeman, Vermont militia, and served at the invasion of Plattsburg in September, 1814. (W. H. W. thinks that he was mistaken in the Co.; that probably it was that of Captain Josiah Grout.)

He was living, as above shown, Sep. 2, 1857. Date of death, or of his wife, not obtained.

SECTION 4.—Children of Daniel (John, Capt. John, Thomas, Gov. John) and (1) Bridget (Holdridge), and (2) Temperance (Culver) Webster of Lebanon, Ct., Green River, Columbia Co., and Ames, Montgomery Co., N. Y.

1. Abigail Webster, (mother, Bridget) b. Sep. 25, 1766, at Lebanon, Ct., mar. 1786, at Canaan, Columbia Co., N. Y., Elder Aaron Baxter, an Evangelist minister of the Free-Will Baptist Church, a land agent and farmer, b. at Hebron, Tolland Co., Ct., 1766, son of Aaron and Hannah (Burrows) Baxter.

He was ordained at New Berlin, Chenango Co., N. Y., Feb. 8, 1810. He was called from the church at Plainfield, Otsego Co., N. Y. Prior to this, in 1806 or 1807, he had removed from Canaan, N. Y., to Green or Smithville, N. Y., and in 1824 removed to Addison, Steuben Co., N. Y., where he spent the remainder of his life, residing with his son Ira. In 1828 he built a new house near the Pennsylvania state line, at what is now known as Tuscarora, and there lived. The church which he built and where he preached is about two miles from the state line.

He was a soldier in the war of Revolution, enlisting at Spencertown, N. Y., in March, 1782, as a private in Cap. Henry's Co., Col. Willett's Reg't, and served nine months, and was discharged at Fort Plain, N. Y. He enlisted a second time, May, 1783, as a substitute for Samuel Hosford, in Cap. Peter B. Leonard's Co., and served until Jan. 1784.

It is probable that his father was the Aaron Baxter who rendered four tours of service in same war in Conn. Regiments. (See "Connecticut Men in the War of Revolution.")

Both d. at Tuscarora near Addison, N. Y., she Feb. 19, 1833, and he Dec. 6, 1836.

CHILDREN: (Baxter) (Born Canaan, N. Y., and four after the first born, d. there in infancy) Ira, June 29, 1787; Ralph, 1789; Temperance, 1791; Hannah, 1793; a dau.; Lydia, 1797; Betsey, 1799, d. at Smithville, N. Y., 1813; Lucy, 1802, d. same place, 1820; Sally, Sep. 17, 1804. Resumed in Chapter XXIX.

2. Ezekiel Webster, b. at Lebanon, Ct., Dec. 3, 1768, (mother, Bridget) mar., but his wife died in childbirth, leaving no issue, and he did not marry again. He lived at one time at Canajoharie, N. Y. Was there at least until 1835, when he went to visit his sister in Ohio.

Nora Baxter says that Ezekiel Webster came to Addison (now Tuscarora), Steuben Co., N. Y., in 1835, to settle the accounts of his father who must have died not long before. Ezekiel came from Canajoharie, N. Y., but had lived in Schoharie Co., N. Y. As Ezekiel was a bachelor she thinks that he probably had lived with his father. After staying at Addison several weeks he went to Ohio to visit his sister Lydia, after which he was not heard from. She also says that her aunt, who was 15 years old when Ezekiel visited them, thinks that Ezekiel had a brother who must have been younger than he, and she thinks that Ezekiel had lived with the brother on the old homestead of their father, and perhaps for many years, before he came to Addison and then came for the purpose of settling up the estate of his father.

The above Ezekiel, b. Dec. 3, 1768, in fact married twice, and the name of one wife was Lydia. By his first mar. he had three sons—Noah, Mason, and Daniel Eliot,—the “Eliot” for his mother’s relatives. By his second mar. he had two children: Esther and John Daniel. The latter died unm. in 1871 or 1872, and Esther died a number of years prior to 1904 in St. Ansgar, Mitchell Co., Ia. She mar. and had five children: (Surname unknown) James, who d. in infancy; Joanna; Peter Webster; Edwin and Esther—the last m. Fritcher or Tritcher.

Mrs. Celinda Eckert of Frankville, Iowa, says: “Uncle Ezekiel’s wife d. before I can remember. After his wife’s death he lived with my father, and after my father’s death he lived with my brother Daniel, and when Daniel moved to Iowa he took Uncle Ezekiel with him. Ezekiel d. near Frankville, Winneshiek Co., Ia.” The end.

6. Daniel Webster, b. June 13, 1772, at Hebron, Ct. No record. The end.

7. Aaron Webster, a tanner and shoemaker, b. Nov. 2, 1774, at Hebron, Ct., mar. at Lindley, Tioga Co., Pa., Mary Campbell, b. about 1779, at West Stockbridge, Mass. She mar. (2) about 1819, William Babb, by whom also she had children.

It is said that when Aaron Webster removed from Connecticut, he started with a team and wagon load of leather, and at some place in New York State, sold the outfit to a man for part cash and the balance on time, and that the man went to Canada without paying the balance.

The lack of exact data has left this case in obscurity. Aaron Webster's death while yet a young man, and his children still young, left them without reliable information. Among the traditions is that a peddler from Connecticut, by the name of Chamberlain, asked if his name was Webster, declaring that he resembled a family of that name which Chamberlain knew in Conn. and told of an uncle of Aaron by the name of Thomas Webster who was in the mercantile business in Albany, N. Y.; that another brother went to Mich., and that Aaron's father and grandfather were tanners by trade, and their names were Aaron. Much of the detail of the tradition is obviously inexact, but the certainty that he was from Conn.; that Thomas was a family name, and tanning was a trade in the family, are strong points. No other Aaron, b. Nov. 2, 1774, has been found, and this clearly is so near his age, as shown by all the circumstances, that it seems proper to place his name here.

He settled in Tioga Co., Pa. It is said that he was from New London, Ct. (probably County).

Aaron Webster's wife was Mary Campbell, who was b. at West Stockbridge, Mass., in 1779, and d. in August, 1846, aged 67 years. She removed to Pennsylvania with a family by the name of Buckley, and afterwards mar. Aaron Webster, at Lindley, near Lawrenceville, Tioga Co., Pa.

Aaron Webster d. at Westfield, Tioga Co., Pa., about 1811, and she, Aug., 1846, aged 67 years.

CHILDREN: (All b. at Athens, Bradford Co., Pa., except last b. at Westfield, Tioga Co., Pa.) Sarah Maria, July 7, 1807; Sylvester, March 17, 1804; Lyman, b. about 1809; Ethen. Resumed in Chapter XXX.

Present whereabouts of neither son nor daughter is known. The end.

4. Eunice Webster, b. Dec. 12, 1786, mar. Feb. 9, 1806, Isaac Ward Adams, b. at Shutesbury, Franklin Co., Mass., Jan'y 4, 1799, a farmer, and son of Asa Adams, who was of the 5th generation in line of descent from Henry 1st, of Braintree, Mass., and a son of Thomas 4th, one of the early settlers of Amherst, Mass., and of Grace Ward, second wife, who was a relative of General Artemas Ward, of Revolutionary fame. Both died at Oneida, Madison Co., N. Y., he Dec. 21, 1860; and she Aug. 4, 1874, or Sept. 5, 1876. A newspaper published following summary of her life:

"Mrs. Adams was the widow of Mr. Isaac Adams, whose death at the age of eighty-two years, took place in our village, in 1860. In 1795, when she was but nine years of age, her father, Deacon Abram Webster, a brother of Noah Webster, LL. D., removed from Hartford, Ct., to the town of Lebanon, in this county, where, as we believe, he afterward spent the remainder of his life, living on the road leading from Eaton to Lebanon village. Here he was visited by his brother, celebrated even at that early day as lexicographer and author. At the period in which Deacon Webster removed to that portion of the county, it was almost entirely a wilderness, the township not being laid out and named, until 1807. Mr. Webster is credited in the early annals with having introduced the first wagon that was brought into the town.

"In 1806 she was married to Mr. Isaac Adams, then a resident of the town of Vernon, whither he had removed some five or six years previous, being himself a native of Massachusetts. Immediately upon her marriage, she came with her husband to Vernon, where, with the exception of some three years spent in Lysander, Onondoga county, forty-five years of married life were passed. In 1856 Mr. Adams removed to this village, where he died in 1860, Mrs. Adams continuing to reside here until her death, last week. A family of six children, four sons and two daughters, with one exception are still living. Rev. Seymour Webster Adams died some ten years since, after having served for a considerable term in the Gospel ministry, his pastorate over the First Baptist Church, at Cleveland, Ohio, having extended over a period of eighteen years. Mr. Silas Adams and one sister are residents here, the remaining portion of the family living at the West.

"With the blood of the Websters and Bradfords, of Colonial days, Mrs. Adams inherited the puritanic principles of those earlier times, chastened, however, with the enlarged charities of Christian grace. For she was indeed a Christian, living the principles she professed, alike inculcating by precept and example, the faith upon which she was grounded. Experiencing religion at the age of fifteen, she had ever after maintained a godly life, her church relations for a long number of years being with the Baptist denomination."

She was buried at Oneida Castle.

2. Frances Juliana Webster (always called Julia), b. Feb. 5, 1793, mar. Oct. 1, 1816, Rev. Chauncey Allen Goodrich, b. Oct. 23, 1790, then of Middletown, Ct., son of Elizur and Anne Willard (Allen) Goodrich, of New Haven, Ct. He was graduated from Yale College in 1810; became Prof. of Rhetoric and Oratory at Yale College in 1817. In 1839 he accepted the chair of "Pastoral Charge" in the Theological Seminary at New Haven, Ct. He was the author of Latin Lessons and a Greek Grammar, extensively used in schools. In 1827 he superintended the abridgement of Webster's Quarto American Dictionary. In 1829 he established the Quarterly Christian Spectator, which he edited for nearly ten years. In 1846-7, he prepared with great labor and care "Revised Editions of the Unabridged and Abridged Dictionaries of Webster." In 1859 he prepared an Appendix, for the pictorial editions, of ten thousand new words, with a very full and complete Dictionary of Synonyms, which is esteemed the best in the language. In 1852 he published his admirable work on British Eloquence. In fact, it would not be easy to state the amount of his literary labor. His father was the Hon. Elizur Goodrich, of New Haven, Ct., who was a lawyer, and representative of the town in the State Legislature, Clerk and Speaker of the House, and 1799 a member of the United States Congress, and was present at the last session of that body in Philadelphia, and at its first session in Washington. He was Chief Judge of the County Court of New Haven Co., Ct., for 13 years, Judge of Probate for 17 years, was Mayor of New Haven City from Sept., 1803 to June 1822, when he resigned his office. He was Professor of Law in Yale College, and Secretary of its Corporation for 28 years, indeed it was a striking circumstance that he was uninterruptedly connected with that institution for 71 years. The mother of Chauncey Allen Goodrich was Anne Willard Allen, of Great Barrington, Mass. (For his Genealogy see Goodwin, p. 308.)

Both died at New Haven, Ct., he Feb. 25, 1860; and she Aug. 7, 1869.

CHILDREN: (Goodrich) Chauncey, b. at Middletown, Ct., July 20, 1817; the following at New Haven, Ct. Edward Cobb, Feb. 14, 1820, died Nov. 14, 1822; William Henry, Jan'y 19, 1823; Julia Webster, Sept. 30, 1828; Frances Louisa, March 26, 1832. Resumed in Chapter XXXVII.

3. Harriet Webster, b. April 6, 1797, mar. (1) May 22, 1816, Edward H. Cobb, a shipping merchant, of Portland, Me., in partnership with his father and brother, Richard. He died in the second year after their marriage, of consumption, when three days out at sea from Portland on a voyage in one of his ships en route to Havanna for his health.

She mar. (2) July 21, 1825, Rev. William Chauncey Fowler, LL. D., b. at Killingworth, now Clinton, Ct., Sept. 1, 1793. He was a son of Reuben Rose and Catharine (Chauncey) Fowler. He was graduated from Yale College in 1816, and at the time of his marriage was a settled minister at Greenfield, Mass. Later he became Professor of Chemistry in Middlebury College, Vt., and still later Professor of Rhetoric in Amherst College, Mass. He also served as State Senator in the Connecticut Legislature. He was the author of Books on Philology and Antiquarian subjects.

Edward H. Cobb died at sea in 1818. Rev. William C. Fowler died at Durham, Ct., on the old Chauncey place, Jan'y 15, 1881, of Gastric Pneumonia. She died at Amherst, Mass., March 30, 1844.

CHILDREN: (Cobb) (1st m.) Harriet Webster, died at about six months of age. (2d m.) (Fowler) Emily Ellsworth, b. at Greenfield, Mass., Aug. 26, 1826; Charles Chauncey, b. at Middlebury, Vt., Oct. 8, 1829; William Worthington, same place, June 24, 1832; Webster Winthrop, same place, March 3, 1835, died at Amherst, Mass., Sept. 1, 1842, of peritonitis. Resumed in Chapter XXXVII

4. Mary Webster, b. Jan. 7, 1779, mar. May 18, 1818, Horatio Southgate, a lawyer, of Portland, Me. She died Feb. 28, 1819.

CHILDREN: (Southgate) Their only child was, Mary Webster, b. at Portland, Me., Feb. 5, 1819. Resumed in Chapter XXXVII.

5. William Greenleaf Webster, b. Sep. 15, 1801, mar. at Christs' Church, Frederick Parish, Winchester, Va., by Rev. J. E. Jackson, May 5, 1830, Rosalie Eugenia Stuart, youngest daughter of Dr. David Stuart, of Va., a gentleman of high literary attainments; a graduate of Edinburgh University, Scotland, an intimate confidential friend of Gen'l Washington; and married to Mrs. Washington's daughter-in-law, the widow of her only son, John Park Custis, who had died of camp fever at the close of the war of Revolution. Soon after his death, the beautiful young widow, who was a daughter of Gov. Calvert, of Maryland, mar. Dr. David Stuart, and their youngest daughter became the wife of the only son of Dr. Noah Webster. The grandfather of Dr. David Stuart was the Rev. David Stuart, a Church of England divine, who came to America in 1715, after the Scotch rebellion and settled in King George's Co., Va., and was given charge of St. Paul's Parish, which he served faithfully until his death. He was from Inverness, Scotland. His wife was a daughter of Sir John Gibbon, Gov. of Barbadoes, who was brother of Sir William Gibbon, an English Baron. Their eldest son, William Stuart, studied for the ministry, was ordained in 1745, in London, by Bishop Edmond, returned to America and took charge of St. Paul's Parish, where the fine old brick church, now standing, was built for him. He had a neat parsonage and extensive glebe lands. He remained pastor of this church for many years and until age and ill health forced him to resign. Dr. David Stuart was the eldest son of this Rev. William Stuart, and after being educated at Edinburgh University, Scotland, attended Medical lectures in Paris for a year. On his return to America he at once joined the Revolutionists. He was several times a member of the House of Burgess, at Richmond, Va., and after the war practiced his profession at Alexandria, Va. From this stock was descended the wife of William Greenleaf Webster.

William Greenleaf Webster was divorced from his wife, by decree of Supreme Court of New Haven, Ct., in Sept., 1864, and he mar. (2) at Roxbury, Mass., Apr. 26, 1866, Sarah Joanna Appleton, of Boston, aged 27, daughter of Samuel and Elizabeth Appleton, the family with whom he boarded after his separation from his first wife. He had no children by this second wife, who since his death has again married a Mr. Adams.

It appears by the Preface to Webster's Dictionary that William Greenleaf Webster was engaged with his father in 1840-1, in getting out the second edition of the Dictionary, and in 1847, he assisted the Rev. Chauncey A. Goodrich in getting out another edition, and in 1856 his name appears among the publishers of that work.

He died at New York City, Jan'y 1, 1869. His first wife was living in Baltimore, Md., in 1882.

CHILDREN: (By first marriage) William Eugene, b. in New Haven, Ct., Aug. 28, 1831; Calvert Stuart, same place, Nov. 4, 1832; Eleanor Rebecca, b. at Cincinnati, Ohio; Washington Calvert, b. at New Haven, Ct. The last two died in early childhood. Resumed in Chapter XXXVII.

Henry Jones, b. at Hartford, Ct., Oct. 15, 1801, son of Major Daniel and Rhoda (Mather) Jones, of Hartford, Ct. He was graduated from Yale College, 1820; Andover Theological Seminary, 1824; settled at New Britain, then a parish of Berlin, Ct., Oct. 12, 1825, as the third pastor of the church there. He was dismissed from this charge in Feb., 1831, and turned his attention to teaching, at which occupation he spent the remainder of his life. He first established a school for girls at Greenfield, Mass., where he taught with great success until 1838, when he established a school for young men and boys at Bridgeport, Ct., which became widely known as "The Cottage School on Golden Hill," where many young men were prepared for Yale. He and his wife and all the members of his family were members of the North Congregational Church at Bridgeport, Ct. She was admitted to the church at New Britain, Ct., by letter from the Church at New Haven, Ct., Oct. 1, 1826, and dismissed from the New Britain

CHAPTER XVII.

Seventh Generation—Great Grand Children of Jonathan and Esther Judd Webster in the Line of Robert the son of Gov. John Webster.

FIRST GENERATION, GOV. JOHN AND AGNES WEBSTER.—SECOND, LIEUT. ROBERT AND SUSANNAH TREAT WEBSTER.—THIRD, DEA. JONATHAN AND DORCAS HOPKINS AND MARY JUDD WEBSTER.—FOURTH, JONATHAN AND ESTHER JUDD WEBSTER.—FIFTH, CHILDREN OF JONATHAN AND ESTHER JUDD WEBSTER NAMED IN THE DIVISIONS OF THIS CHAPTER.—SIXTH, GRANDCHILDREN OF JONATHAN AND ESTHER JUDD WEBSTER NAMED IN THE NUMBERED SECTIONS OF THIS CHAPTER.—SEVENTH, GREAT GRANDCHILDREN OF THE SAME NAMED IN THE NUMBERED PARAGRAPHS OF THIS CHAPTER, PRINTED IN HEAVY FACE TYPE.

The Keeney Valley, New York. At the organization of Onondaga County, March 5, 1794, from Herkimer County, this valley, an unbroken wilderness, was a part of the town of Pompey, and was wholly in Onondaga County. In due time the town of Fabius was set off from Pompey, and its first Town Meeting was held April 3, 1798, at the house of Joseph Tubbs. Timothy Jerome was elected Supervisor of the election; Josiah Moore, Town Clerk; Benjamin Brown, Timothy Walker, and Elijah St. John, Supervisors. The first settlers of the town of Fabius were Josiah Moore and Timothy Jerome who came from Stockbridge, Berkshire Co., Mass., in 1794, and were entirely alone the first year.

Cortland County was taken from Onondaga, April 8, 1808, and the dividing line of the two Counties bisected the Keeney Valley at right angles, leaving the northern half in the town of Fabius, Onondaga County, and the southern half in the newly erected town of Truxton, and Cortland County. These lines have remained unchanged except that the town of Truxton was divided Nov. 18, 1858, and its eastern portion, which included the southern section of the Keeney Valley, was set up as a separate town and named Cuyler.

The rather high but undulating hills on either side of the Keeney Valley run north and south. At the head of the valley looking northward, rises an abrupt and gigantic hill locally known as "Wilson's Heaven," which deflects the valley slightly to the northeast, and narrows the western passage to something like a ravine. Coursing through the valley from north to south on its way to the Susquehanna is a stream of pure water, rivaling "Abana and Pharpar, rivers of Damascus."

First Settlers, 1795. How this particular spot was located is not known. But the history of its occupation and settlement is well authenticated. Five men from Orford Parish, East Hartford, Connecticut, closely united by marriage, came in the early summer of 1795 with axes upon their shoulders, and such needful things as they could carry, and selected a place for a house, cleared away the timber, and built of logs the first house in the valley. They planted the space surrounding the house with potatoes, and the next spring, when they returned with their families, they were dug from the hill for food.

The five men above mentioned who came from Connecticut, were Simon Keeney, Jr., Benjamin Brown, Gurdon Woodruff, Samuel Fox and Jonathan Webster. Three of the men had married sisters of Jonathan Webster, and Webster had married the sister of Simon Keeney, Jr., so that the community of interest was close. Simon Keeney, Jr., had married Polly Bates; Benjamin Brown, Dorinda Webster; Gurdon Woodruff, Anna Webster; Samuel Fox, Mabel Webster, and Jonathan Webster, Thankful Keeney.

Before launching their enterprise in the New York wilderness, each had sold his land in Connecticut, and the deeds, duly recorded in Connecticut, all show the same date, April 1, 1795. They came by the way of Albany and followed the Mohawk to Utica, and probably to Fort Stanwix, now Rome, and when they reached Manlius, whether by the Fort Stanwix route, or a shorter one from Utica, they deflected to the southwest, and by marked trees, or marking them as they went, found their way to the valley in question, and began a settlement which for nearly a century and a quarter has been known as "the Keeney Settlement."

After completing their task they returned to Connecticut over the route by which they came. The journey was made in nineteen days. Two nights before arrival, Jonathan Webster was taken sick with "camp distemper," and soon died. He is buried in the Centre Cemetery at Manchester, Ct., a portion of East Hartford set off as a town, in May, 1823, and the inscription on his tomb-stone reads, "In memory of Jonathan Webster who departed this life Sep. 18, 1795, in the 29th year of his age."

The next February the remaining four men with their families, and some others, with ox teams, made their way over the snow to the log house in the wilderness, and temporarily twenty-eight persons occupied it until others could be built, living in part upon the unharvested potatoes that were planted the summer before, and which were dug from underneath the snow.

The widow of Jonathan Webster did not accompany them, but later came and married as his second wife Nathaniel Bacon, and lived in the valley which her first husband had helped to prospect and prepare. She and Nathaniel Bacon are buried in the Old Cemetery at the Baptist Church at Fabius, and the inscriptions read, "Thankful, wife of Deacon Nathaniel Bacon, died Aug. 17, 1835, aged 65 years and 6 months," and "Nathaniel Bacon, died August 21, 1855, aged 82 years." His first wife, Orral, died and is buried in Keeney Settlement, and the tomb-stone reads, "Mrs. Orral Bacon, wife of Nathaniel Bacon, died April 2, 1806, in the 29th year of her age." Albert Bacon, a life-long citizen of Fabius, N. Y., was a son of Nathaniel Bacon and his second wife, Mrs. Thankful Webster, nee Keeney.

With the families which came in February, 1796, were two sons of Samuel and Margaret (Keeney) Webster, Samuel Webster, Jr., and Salmon Webster. Their mother was also a sister of Simon Keeney, Jr., and they spent a part of their time in his employment. They were however to select a location for a farm and a site for building a house against the coming of their parents and the rest of the family. One day exploring the woodland on the west side of the river they came upon a knoll somewhat level at the top, and agreed that it was a proper place to build a house, which was done, and the place was long the home of Deacon Eli and his son, Francis Strong Webster, and is now known as "the Holl farm" and the hill on which the house stands is practically the same as when the spot was selected. As soon as it was agreed to build there, Salmon Webster the younger of the two brothers, raised his ax to cut the first tree, when Samuel said, "Stop! Don't you know that I am the older? Let me strike the first blow." To this Salmon graciously yielded, and so Samuel, the first-born son struck the first blow that felled the first tree on the original Webster farm.

African slavery existed for a time in that first colony. Simon Keeney, Jr., brought with him "Joy," a human chattel to whom he promised freedom at a given date. But the maple sugar season intervened and "Joy" partook too freely of maple sugar and lost his life. His was the first grave in Keeney Settlement, and there was buried in it not only an African, but human slavery in that community.

The original settlers were reinforced by others from East Hartford, Glastonbury, and Eastbury Parish in Glastonbury, and became a strong body devoted to education, religion, and industry in a remarkable degree. The large number of names appearing in this chapter and which will appear in subsequent chapters who were either born in this historic valley, or descended from those who were so born, make it fitting that this preliminary sketch be inserted here.

First Division, showing the Great Grandchildren of Jonathan and Esther Judd Webster by their son, Jonathan Webster, "the miller," of Glastonbury, Ct., who married Mabel Risley.

SECTION 1.—Children of Ashbel (Jonathan "the miller," Jonathan, Dea. Jonathan, Robert, Gov. John) and Rachel (Price) Webster of Orford Parish, East Hartford, Ct.

1. Samuel Webster, b. May, 1754, a farmer, m. Jan. 24, 1775, in Orford Parish, now Manchester, Ct., where he was born if not in Glastonbury, Margaret Keeney, b. May 16, 1756, dau. of Simon and Margaret (Keeney) Keeney.

Samuel Webster was a soldier in the War of Revolution. His widow alleged service as follows:

(1) Volunteered at East Hartford in Feb., 1776, under Lieut. Richard Pitkin and marched to Boston, where the company joined Col. Wyllis' Regt., stationed at Roxbury. Served two months and was discharged in April, 1776.

(2) Volunteered in July or Aug., 1776, in Capt. Timothy Cheeney's Co. (Lieut. Richard Pitkin), marched to New York City, and remained there until the city was evacuated and then after "peeping over King's bridge" and remaining near by a short time, was discharged in Oct., 1776, having served two months.

(3) Volunteered in Aug. or Sept., 1777, under Capt. Zebulon Bidwell, of East Hartford, with whom he participated in the battle of Saratoga, where Capt. Bidwell was wounded, and died, after having a leg amputated. After the battle Webster was detached with a party to guard prisoners to Albany, from whence he returned home, where he arrived about Nov. 1st, having been out nearly three months.

(4) In July or Aug., 1778, he was drafted under Capt. Richard Pitkin (Lieut. David Little), marched to Fairfield, remained there a few weeks and then marched to Rhode Island, where he was put under Ezekiel Olcott, in Col. Chapman's Regt. Served there more than a month, was in Sullivan's retreat and was in the rear of the army, which was conducted from the island by Gen'l La Fayette, and was discharged in Oct., 1778, at a place below Providence, after a service of more than two months with the rank of Sergeant. Pension was allowed.

Both died at Keeney Settlement, Cortland Co., N. Y., he Dec. 11, 1834, aged 80 yrs. and 6 mos.; and she May 20, 1839, aged 83 yrs.

CHILDREN: (Probably all b. at East Hartford, Ct.) Margaret, born Dec. 30, 1775, bap. at Eastbury, Ct., Jan'y 16, 1776; Samuel, Jr., b. Sept. 26, 1777; Salmon; Lovice, b. May 17, 1783, bap. Eastbury, Ct., June 29, following; Polly, b. June 24, 1787; Eli, Dec. 10, 1789; Adin, Aug. 9, 1792; Jeremiah, Aug. 4, 1793; Marvin, Feb. 1, 1800. Resumed in Chapter XXXVII.

2. Ashbel Webster, b. Aug. 8, 1756, probably in Orford Parish, East Hartford, Ct., a farmer and miller, mar. at Bolton, Ct., Sept. 7, 1777, by Rev. Elder Colton, Pastor of the Presbyterian Society, of Bolton, at the Pastor's house, Mercy, daughter of Israel and Dorcas (Dewey) Swetland, of Hartford, Ct., b. 1761. "She was small in stature and a great worker; would knit a pair of striped woolen mittens in an evening." They resided at East Hartford, Ct., until 1789, when they removed to Poultney, Vt., and thence in 1792 or '93 to a place called Union near Cazenovia, Madison Co., N. Y. This is taken from one of his statements in his pension case. In another he gives the date of his removal to Poultney as 1793, and to New York State, as 1796. In Dec., 1836, they were residing at Cuba, N. Y., and he was then said to be suffering from a stroke of paralysis. They settled at Cuba, May 17, 1831. "The November following the snow fell, and never thawed in forty days."

Military history of Ashbel Webster. He alleges in his pension claim that, while living with his father in East Hartford, Ct., he enlisted about May, 1775, under Lieut. Samuel Wright, of that town, in the State troops for eight months, was mustered at Suffield, and marched by way of Springfield and Concord to Roxbury, where they were stationed the whole season and he was discharged and got back to East Hartford about Jan'y 1, 1776. Hanchett of Suffield was his Capt., S. Wright, his Lieut., and King, of Suffield, his Ensign; was in Col. Pitkin's Regt., and Meigs was his Major; was under Gen'l Putnam until Washington arrived. "Staid to guard Boston neck on the day of Bunker Hill fight."

Again in Jan'y, 1776, engaged in the State troops and went to Providence and was there when the British went to Rhode Island. "Staid two months."

Again in latter part of April, 1776, volunteered in the State troops for eight months, in Glastonbury, under Capt. Samuel Wells, of that town; Thomas Hollister was Lieut., and Kibbe of Somers was the Ensign; they marched to New Haven; went thence by water to New York. They were stationed there and on Long Island until after the battle of Long Island; was "drove" out of New York, and retreated to White Plains, where he was discharged Dec. 25th, and returned to East Hartford. Gay of Farmington was his Col. until he died of sickness in New York, and his Gen'l was Huntington, of Conn.

Again in latter part of Summer of 1778, was on a two months' tour at New London, during which time he helped convey 29 prisoners, British and Hessians taken in a ship near New London, to Hartford. Cone or Coun of Bolton was his Capt.

Again in 1779 or 1780 was hired by a class at East Hartford, for eight months, went to West Point and was there put into a company. Thought that he was under Gen'l Huntington; was on duty near West Point, first on one side of the Hudson and then on the other. At the expiration of the eight months was discharged and returned to East Hartford. Was out, in all of his tours, about 29 months.

His services as above alleged are only in part confirmed by any records yet found. The records of the Comptroller of Ct., show his service in the 10th Co., 2d Regt. of Troops raised by the Colony of Ct., as a Private from May 15 to Dec. 17, 1775, 7 months and 14 days in Co. of Capt. Oliver Hanchet and the Regt. of Col. Joseph Spencer. Col. Fisher Gay's Regt. was ordered raised in June, 1776, to serve to Dec. 25, 1776, but the rolls are charged to the United States. No record has been found of the other services alleged.

He was pensioned at $28.20 per annum for a service of eleven months and 14 days.

The Atty. who prosecuted his pension claim, spoke of him as "a man of easy circumstances but not rich."

In Conn. Men in War of Revolution it is shown that Private Ashbel Webster served from May 3 to Dec. 17, 1775, in Capt. Oliver Hanchett's Co. (Lieut. Samuel Wright and Ensign Eliphalit King) of 2d Regt., Col. Joseph Spencer (of East Haddam); Maj. Return Jonathan Meigs (of Middletown); Joshua Webster was one of the Sergeants of the Co. No other record of his service is found in Conn. Men in Revolution.

The British occupied Rhode Island in Dec., 1776. It seems probable therefore that he has not got time of service correctly stated in 1776. It was probably rendered in Jan'y and Feb., 1777, when Generals Spencer and Arnold planned an attack on the British in Rhode Island, but did not carry out their intentions.

A Battalion raised by Col. Fisher Gay, of Farmington, in June, 1776, to reinforce Washington at New York, served at Brooklyn front just before and during battle of Long Island (Aug. 27, 1776), was in the retreat to New York, Aug. 29-30, and in retreat from New York, Sept. 15, and with main army at White Plains. Time expired Dec. 25, 1776. It was the 2d Battalion of Wadsworth's Brigade. The 7th Co. of the Battalion was commanded by Capt. Samuel Welles (of Glastonbury); (Lieut. Thomas Hollister, of Glastonbury, and Ensign Reuben Phelps, of Hebron). Men of W. are not given Lieut. Jared Cone, of Bolton rendered a service at the Lexington Alarm, April, 1775, but there is no record of a service by him in 1778. Sullivan's expedition was in Aug. and Sept., 1778.

Mercy Swetland the wife of Ashbel Webster was descended from William and Agnes Swetland, who were residents of Salem, Essex Co., Mass., in 1676. Their son John Swetland, b. July 1, 1681, married Sarah Davis, and lived near Lebanon, Ct.

Their second son, Joseph Swetland, b. April 3, 1710, married Nov. 9, 1732, Hannah Lyman, a descendant of Richard Lyman one of the original proprietors of Hartford, Ct. They settled at Bolton, Ct.

Their second child, Israel Swetland, b. Jan. 12, 1736, m. (1) Dorcas Dewey, dau. of Thomas Dewey who was a grandson of Joshua Dewey of Westfield, Mass.; and (2) Mary Miner of New London, Ct. Israel Swetland was a soldier of the Revolution, under the name in the public records of Israel Swetlin. (See Connecticut Men in the Revolution.)

By the first marriage of Israel Swetland, Mercy Swetland, wife of Ashbel Webster, was born in 1761.

1812, Mch. 15, Ashbel Webster, of Cazenovia, Madison Co., N. Y., buys land in the Road Township of Cazenovia, Lot 43½, of John Linklean and Helen his wife, of Cazenovia.

1816, Feb. 14, Ashbel Webster and Mercy his wife sold land on Lot 43 to Eliphalet Elmore.

1818, Ashbel and Mercy sell to Caleb Smith and Stephen Card.

1829, Jan. 1, Ashbel and Mercy sell to Daniel Webster.

Both died at Cuba, Allegany Co., N. Y., he Nov. 13, 1838; and she Sept. 16, 1843.

CHILDREN: (First three b. in East Hartford, the following six at Poultney, Rutland Co., Vt., and the remaining two at Cazenovia, Madison Co., N. Y.) Plumley, Jan'y 8, 1779; Jesse, Sept. 19, 1780; Ashbel, Feb. 15, 1783; George, April 12, 1786; Jason, Jan'y 12, 1789; Hannah, Feb. 4, 1791; Daniel, Dec. 2, 1793; Jared, Feb. 17, 1795; Mercy, March 16, 1798; Israel Swetland, Aug. 29, 1801; Eliza, April 10, 1804. Resumed in Chapter XXXVIII.

3. Susannah Webster, b. about 1758, m. Jan. 25, 1774, in Bolton, Conn., John Couch, b. 1744, son of John and Mary (Scott) Couch.

John Couch, Sr., was born Aug. 5, 1713, son of Simon and Rebecca (Strickland) Couch, both of Glastonbury, Ct. Simon Couch, b. 1669, was the son of Thomas and Hannah Couch of Wethersfield, Ct.

Thomas Couch of Wethersfield was a brother of Simon Couch of Fairfield Co., Conn., ancestor of Hon. Edward I. Couch of (1898) Ridgefield, Ct.

John Couch, the father of John, b. 1744, married Mary Scott. Nov. 3, 1761, Charles Andrews and Mary Couch, widow of John Couch, reported the debts on the estate of John Couch, late of Hartford, deceased, and Apr. 26, 1763, they were appointed administrators. Jan. 26, 1762, John Couch, a minor, son of above, aged 18, chose Charles Andrews for his guardian. Dec. 30, 1762, Elijah Woodruff, Oliner Risley, and Benjamin Damon, Jr., were appointed to "set out" to Mary Couch, widow, etc., her dowry. Dec. 20, 1770, Stephen Couch, a minor, son of John Couch, deceased, chose Thomas Drake of East Windsor for his guardian. March 1, 1774, Elisha Couch, a son of John, deceased, aged about 19 years, chooses his uncle, Zebulon Scott for his guardian.

The entire list of John Couch's children, living at the time, is obtained by the following order, Apr. 22, 1776, for the distribution of the Estate of Susannah Couch of East Windsor, Ct., to her brothers and sisters, namely: John Couch, Elisha Couch, Stephen Couch, Mary Buckland, Martha Fox, Prudence Couch, Ann Couch.

John Couch and David Buckland were administrators.

John Couch and his wife, Susannah Webster were living Jan. 14, 1803, when their son Russell made a Will. Nov. 21, 1808, the estate of John Couch of East Hartford was appraised. No record of her death. He died Oct. 11, 1805, aged 60 years, and is buried at South Manchester, Ct., Centre Cemetery.

CHILDREN: (Couch) (All b. at East Hartford.) John, Sept. 6, 1775; Elijah, Jan'y 25, 1777; Russell, Sept. 2, 1779; Susannah, Sept. 10, 1781; Chester, Dec. 19, 1783; George, Jan'y 21, 1789. Resumed in Chapter XXXVIII.

4. Benjamin Webster, bap. July 6, 1760, at East Hartford, Ct., a farmer, m. Sep. 30, 1786, at Shaftsbury, Bennington Co., Vt., Esq. Wright officiating, Lydia Kingsley, b. ab. 1762. He resided respectively at Glastonbury, Ct., Poultney, Vt., Westfield, Washington Co., Truxton, Cortland Co., and Caneadea, Allegany Co., N. Y.

Benjamin Webster was a soldier in the War of Revolution. Lydia Webster, widow of Benjamin, Oct. 30, 1832. Benjamin Webster (by mark) of Caneadea, Allegany Co., N. Y., aged 72, says: Enlisted in April, 1777, under one Sergt. Day, in Capt. Abijah Sargent's Co., Lieut. Kimbly, in Col. Sherman's Regt., at East Hartford, for 8 months. Marched to a place called Dugaltown, on the East side of Conn. river, thence to Kings Ferry, on East side of North River, thence to Hurly on North River, remained there a short time, thence to East Chester, near White Plains, thence to West Point, where the Regt. was stationed until Dec., when it was dismissed.

Col. Webb and Col. Meigs, were in command of regular troops which belonged to the same detachment he was in, and Gen'l Putnam was there and he thinks in command of that station. Lived at East Hartford when he enlisted.

In Aug., 1778, he resided at East Hartford, and the Militia in that part of the country was ordered up "en masse," to repel the invasion on Rhode Island. He was in Capt. Richard Pitkin's Co., not attached to a Regt. until they reached Rhode Island, and he does not remember the name of the Col. to whose command they were assigned; was in the battle of Rhode Island under command of Gen'l Sullivan; after the battle retreated to Tiverton, where he was dismissed, he thinks in Oct., about two months after he was ordered out.

In the Spring of 1779, enlisted under Capt. Buckley, who commanded the American Armed Brig called the "Brig Dean," and served as a marine on said Brig during two cruises, in one of which they were South of the equator and took some prizes. Was in this service about two months (in another paper he says four months, and his brother says four months) and was dismissed at New London; Lieut. Olmstead was second in command on this Brig.

At time Col. Ethan Allen commanded at Ticonderoga he was employed with a number of others to escort a party of Tories from the American to the British lines under a flag of truce, commanded by Lieut. Ebenezer Hyde. On arrival at enemy's camp he, with others of the party was arrested and confined on board one of the enemy's armed vessels for 30 days, during which they suffered much from close confinement and harsh treatment. After discharge from the arrest he returned to Pultney, Vt., where he resided at the time he was employed by Col. Allen. This was in the latter part of the Summer.

He was in the Militia service at the time they were called out by the alarm at the time of the massacre by the Indians of the inhabitants of Cherry Valley; was in Lieut. Ebenezer Hyde's Co. Company marched in pursuit of the enemy to Mt. Independence, then crossed the Lake to Ticonderoga, then marched to Crown Point, then to Gillener's Creek, when they learned that the Indians had escaped into Canada, and the Co. returned to Pultney and was dismissed, were out 8 or 10 days.

He removed from Pultney to Westfield, Washington Co., N. Y., where he resided a number of years, then went to Truxton, Cortland Co., N. Y., where he resided about 30 yrs., and then removed to Caneadea.

Oct. 30, 1832. Ashbel Webster (in a poor hand) of Cuba, Allegany Co., N. Y., aged 72 the March previous, says he is a brother of Benjamin Webster. Testifies in regard to his brother's service, substantially corroborating his brother, but gives name of his brother's first Capt. as Abijah Savage (instead of Sargent), and says that he was himself in service a part of the time in that war, was then 20 yrs. of age.

Pension of $30.00 per year was allowed for 9 mos. service as a Private, Capt. Sergeant's Co., Col. Sherman's Regt., Conn. Militia. The Department could find no record of such a Brig as the Dean, and concluded that it must have been a private armed vessel.

Dec. 15, 1843. Lydia Webster (by mark) of Caneadea, N. Y., aged 81, says she was mar. to Benjamin Webster, at Shaftsbury, Vt., by Esq. Wright, Sept. 30, 1786, and that her husband died Nov. 19, 1840, at Caneadea, N. Y. Has no family record.

Perez Kingsley, who says that Mrs. Webster is his sister, testifies to the marriage as alleged by Mrs. Webster. The town clerk of Shaftsbury found no record of the marriage.

Feb. 7, 1845. Sophia Webster (by mark) of Caneadea, aged 50, says that she, and Phiana Cole, wife of Hezekiah Cole, of Caneadea, and Asahel Webster, of Truxton, N. Y., and Lucy Gardner, wife of Seth Gardner, residence unknown, and Laura Hurlburt, wife of Erastus Hurlburt, of the Territory of Wisconsin, county and town unknown,—and Lydia and Lovica Webster, of Caneadea, are all and the only heirs of Benjamin and Lydia Webster, that were living at the time of the death of their mother Lydia. She alleges that her mother was mar. to Benjamin Webster, Sept. 30, 1784, that her father died Nov. 19, 1840, and her mother died Nov. 21, 1844, at Caneadea.

May 17, 1845. George Webster (signs in fair hand) of Cuba, N. Y., aged 59, says he is the son of Ashbel Webster and Mercy Webster, who were both pensioners, testified to the fact of his uncle, Benjamin Webster and Lydia, living as man and wife, etc.

Same date. Plumley Webster (in a fair hand), a brother of the last above named, of Cuba, N. Y., aged 67, corroborates the statement of his brother.

The Atty. claimed all the money for Sophia on the ground that the mother had lived with and been cared for by her.

Third Aud. reports (1884) that Phiana Cole, Lydia Webster, and Lovisa Webster, were at Rushford, Allegany Co., N. Y., in Dec., 1847. "There were four other children, but the papers on file in this office do not give their whereabouts."

Both died at Canadea, Allegany Co., N. Y., he Nov. 19, 1840, and she, Nov. 21, 1844. He is buried in Belfast, N. Y., Riverside Cemetery, beside his son, Sylvester.

His Will, made Jan. 21, 1826, was probated Dec. 19, 1845, at Angelica, Allegany Co., N. Y.

CHILDREN: Phiana; Lucy; Laura; Asahel, b. Oct. 7, 1789; Chloe; Lydia; Lovisa; Cynthia; Sylvester, 1788. Resumed in Chapter XXXVIII.

5. Abijah Webster, b. about 1762, at East Hartford, Ct., m. (1) according to Mrs. Simeon Stowell of Pontiac, Mich., a daughter of Chester Webster, some one to Mrs. Stowell unknown, but by that marriage a girl was born, and after the early death of her mother she was brought up by her mother's relatives and mar. a man by the name of Curtis in New York state. He mar. (2) Sarah Warren, b. 1769, dau. of Gideon Warren, and (3) March 5, 1814, widow Olive Ward, nee Kingsley, dau. of John and Anne (Salsbury) Kingsley.

Abijah Webster was a soldier in the War of Revolution. Olive Webster, widow of Abijah. Sept. 23, 1856, Olive Webster (in a fair hand) of Cazenovia, Madison Co., N. Y., aged 76, says Abijah Webster entered the service in the War of Revolution, at Hartford, Ct., as a substitute for John Wallace and continued in service for 6 months, and was in the battle in which Gen'l Burgoyne was taken prisoner, his captain was killed in said battle, but she does not remember his name. Abijah Webster was about 15 yrs. old when he served. She was mar. to him March 5, 1814, and he died Sept. 8, 1832.

The Comptroller of the State of Conn. reported in 1856 that he was unable to find the name of either Abijah Webster or John Wallace on his rolls, but said that many of the rolls had been lost. (Pension was not allowed.)

June 9, 1855, Mrs. Webster made application for Bounty Land, alleging service exactly as in the pension claim, and marriage on same date, but adding that the ceremony was performed by Mr. Cole, a Justice of the Peace, and that her name before said marriage was Olive Ward, and that her maiden name was Olive Kingsley, and that her husband died at Cazenovia, Madison Co., N. Y.

June 18, 1855. Benjamin Brown, of Truxton, Cortland Co., N. Y., swears that he was a neighbor to Abijah Webster, in Hartford, Ct., and remembers to have heard that he was in the war of the Revolution, and knows that he was absent from home at the time of the taking of Burgoyne, and heard it reported that Capt. Bidwell (thinks his first name was Zebulon) was wounded in that battle, and had his leg amputated and died before he got home. Thinks Webster was in Bidwell's Co., as they both went from the same town, Hartford. Also says that Webster came with his family to the same town in Cortland Co., N. Y., where affiant resided "about fifty years since."

A sworn copy of the record from the family Bible in the Bounty Land case, is as follows: "Abijah Webster and Olive Ward were married March 5, 1814, by Esquire Cole."

Warrant No. 36,559, for 160 acres of land, Act of 1855, was issued to Mrs. Webster.

His second wife, Sarah Warren, died Sep. 3, 1813, and he at Union, four miles from Cazenovia, N. Y., Sep. 8, 1832, and is buried there without a tombstone. Death of Olive Ward Webster not learned.

CHILDREN: (Places of births unknown, but prior to 1800, probably Hampton, Washington Co., N. Y., after that, Cazenovia, N. Y.) (By Sarah Warren) Abijah, Apr. 21, 1789; Clarissa, usually called "Clarry," Aug. 22, 1790; Lydia, Dec. 29, 1791; Olive, July 18, 1793; Chester, Jan. 13, 1795; Alonson, June 9, 1797; Hyrum, May 23, 1799; Harry, March 6, 1801, died Dec. 13, 1835, unmarried at Cazenovia, N. Y.; John, July 4, 1804; Sarah, May 2, 1806; Eliza, May 30, 1812. (By Olive Ward, nee Kingsley) Anne, Feb. 19, 1815; Lorra, July 6, 1818, d. March 5, 1820; Alfred, Feb. 27, 1821, d. at 5 years. Resumed in Chapter XXXVIII.

6. Allen Webster, b. about 1765, at East Hartford, Ct., m. (1) June 20, 1820, Rebecca, surname unknown, b. about 1773, and (2) Mrs. Blackman.

Allen Webster was a soldier in the War of Revolution. Rebecca Webster, widow of Allen. Sept. 29, 1832, Allen Webster (signs illegibly) of Truxton, in Cortland Co., N. Y., aged 67, enlisted on last of June or first of July, 1780, for 6 mos., in Capt. Hinkley's Co., Col. Hoyt's Regt., Gen'l Huntington's Brigade, Conn. Militia, enlisted at East Hartford. Lieut. Parson, Ensign Booth, and Samuel Darrowby belonged to the same Co. Went to Peekskill on North River, thence to "Toppon" and while there saw Maj. Andre hung, thence with a party of 30 men, under a Lieut. to repair roads and bridges for the main army to march to Morristown, N. J., after which rejoined his Co. at a place called "Musqueto Hill," thence to Peekskill, and thence to the Highlands, where he was discharged, Jan' 1, 1781.

Again, was "draughted" for three months, at East Hartford, in Capt. Stephen Robert's Co., Conn. Militia; marched to New London, Ct.; was stationed at Ft. Trumbull and Ft. Griswold the whole time, and was discharged at Ft. Trumbull. Went on said "draught," Sept. 1, 1781, and was discharged Dec. 1, 1781.

Was born in East Hartford, in 1765. Moved from there to Hampton, Washington Co., N. Y.; from there to Underhill, Vt.; from there to Poultney, Vt.; from there to Hampton again; from there to Fair Haven, Vt.; from there to White Hall, N. Y., and from there to Truxton, N. Y., where he now resides.

June 28, 1832. Samuel Webster (by mark), of Cortland Co., N. Y., swears that he knows that Allen Webster served six months in 1780, and three months in 1781.

Aug. 10, 1832: Isaac Bellows of Preble, Cortland Co., N. Y., claims to have served in same Regt., but in a different Co., with Allen Webster, and corroborates Webster's statements in detail.

Oct. 31, 1853: Rebecca Webster of Cortland Village, Cortland Co., N. Y., aged 80, says she was mar. to Allen Webster, June 20, 1820, (place not given or her maiden name) and that her husband died Dec. 27, 1851. Furnishes no proof of her marriage, only proves cohabitation, by one witness for 10, and by another for 30 yrs.

Soldier pensioned at $25.32 for 9 mos. service in Capt. Hinkley's Co., Col. Hoyt's Regt.

Third Aud. reports (1884). Last paid (widow's Pension) Aug., 1854, to Jan'y. 23, 1855, to L. Jenkins, Atty., for Polly Webster, only child, who then resided at Cortlandville, Cortland Co., N. Y.

Allen and his sister Rachel remained with their parents at Hampton, N. Y., while the rest of the family moved on to Cazenovia, Truxton, and elsewhere. Ashbel, the father of Allen, died Aug. 1, 1801; and Rachel, his wife, May 8, 1813. Just prior to his mother's death, March 15, 1813, he sold his farm to John Lawrence, described as on the "main road from Poultney to Whitehall." Price Blinn Webster says that Allen lived at Whitehall, N. Y., in the Winter of 1818, and "tended" a grist mill, he being a miller. This may be so or it may have been at an earlier date.

CHILDREN: Polly; Alvin; Sally; Hiram. Resumed in Chapter XXXVIII.

7. Rachel Webster, bap. at Bolton, Ct., Aug. 26, 1770, m. Caleb Warren, son of Col. Gideon and Unice Warren of Hampton, Washington Co., N. Y.

Col. Gideon Warren of Hampton, N. Y. (from Brimfield, Hampden Co., Mass.) made his Will, March 15, 1802, and had at that time, "My beloved wife, Unice"; my sons, Comfort who is insane; David B., Caleb, Asa, Ebenezer; my daughters, Mary Reynolds, Sarah Webster, Elizabeth Webster, heirs of my daughter, Phoebe Sharp, namely, Frederick Sharp and Phoebe Sharp; my daughter, Clorinda Warren, a single woman; my son, Ammi Warren, and my son, Gideon Warren, "provided he has arrived to the age of 21 within two years of my decease." Unice, the widow, and Samuel Hooker, were the Executors.

Col. Gideon Warren d. Apr. 4, 1803, in the 73d year of his age.

Rachel Webster, with her brother Allen Webster, remained at Hampton, N. Y., with the "old folks," her parents, after the other children had removed westward to Cazenovia, N. Y., and elsewhere. In due time, after the death of both father and mother, Ashbel and Rachel Price Webster, Allen also left, while Rachel and her husband, Caleb Warren, remained, rearing a large family, and the old Warren homestead was still in the possession of their descendants in 1913.

Both died in Hampton, N. Y., she, March 29, 1844, aged 75 years and 5 mos., and he, Sep. 5, 1846, aged 83. "They lived together 60 years."

His Will, dated March 28, 1844, mentions "My beloved wife, Rachel Warren; my daughter, Polly Newell; my daughter, Diana. Ethen Warren, Executor."

CHILDREN: (Warren) (Probably all b. in Hampton, N. Y.) William; Ethan, b. March 6, 1786; Abel; Rachel, b. March 10, 1792; Lucy; Harris; Plinney R.; Russell; Benjamin; Asa; Diadamah (or Diana), 1812; Polly; Amanda. There seems to be a daughter Elvira, b. in 1808, and a son, Ebenezer. Resumed in Chapter XXXVIII.

8. Rosetta Webster, b. about 1769, at East Hartford, Ct., m. Silas Haskins, of the town of Fabius, N. Y., son of Benoni and Mehitable Haskins. Mehitable Haskins died May 2, 1823, in the 76th year of her age, and is buried in Keeney Settlement, south of Fabius four miles. This Benoni Haskins was probably from Great Barrington, Berkshire Co., Mass., where Sep. 14, 1770, a document was dated as belonging to him. He may have been the son of Daniel Haskins, who purchased land there, Feb. 19, 1762.

Benoni Haskins of Fabius, N. Y., was the father of four sons: Silas who married Rosetta Webster; Zelotus who m. Polly; Hutton, as he was called, but William Hutton, in fact, who m. Lydia; Leander who m. Sally, in Smyrna, N. Y.

Rosetta Webster, wife of Silas Haskins, died Jan. 25, 1843, and is buried in the cemetery back of the Baptist church in the village of Fabius, N. Y. Date and place of his death and burial not obtained.

CHILDREN: (Haskins) Minerva, b. Sep. 4, 1786; Ira; Price; Benoni; Philo; Milo; Silas, b. July 10, 1810; Milley; Adency; Lucinda; Leafy, b. 1807; Calvin. There were 19 children in all. The above grew up. The others died in infancy or early life. Resumed in Chapter XXXVIII.

9. Abel Webster, b. Feb. 11, 1773, a farmer, removed from Poultney, Vt., (or Hampton, N. Y.) to Fabius, Onondaga Co., N. Y., in 1795. He was a member of the Baptist church. He mar. Nov. 30, 1797, Lydia Keeney, b. 1779, in Conn., dau. of Simon and Margaret (Keeney) Keeney. Abel Webster and Lydia Keeney were the first persons married in Fabius, N. Y. Both died at Fabius, N. Y., she May 25, 1837, in her 58th yr.; and he, Jan'y 29, 1858, aged 85 yrs, and are buried at Keeney Settlement, N. Y.

CHILDREN: (All b. at Keeney Settlement, Cortland Co., N. Y.) Achsah, Oct. 31, 1798; Henry Keeney, Nov. 25, 1800; Melvin Almeron, Jan'y 22, 1803; Tryphena, May 21, 1805; Anna, July 7, 1807, died at four years, killed by falling into a pail of hot water; Abel, Sept. 17, 1809; Mansel, Jan'y 7, 1812; Lewis Howell, Feb. 22, 1814; Miner H., b. Dec. 20, 1816; Martin Luther, July 22, 1819; Isaac Newton, Aug. 20, 1821. Resumed in Chapter XXXVIII.

10. Aaron Webster, b. Aug. 28, 1775, at East Hartford, Ct., m. about 1796, Sarah Norton, b. Aug. 12, 1778, probably in Vermont, dau. of Solomon Norton.

Aaron Webster was a farmer, inn-keeper, lumberman and miller, running both grist and saw-mills. Soon after marriage he removed to Sacketts Harbor, N. Y.; in 1812, to Auburn, N. Y.; 1820, to Mich.; and located in Oakland Co., naming the town, Auburn, after his place of residence in New York state. He first followed farming, then kept a hotel, and after removing to Michigan, engaged in lumbering, and finally built and carried on a grist and saw-mill. He served as a "minute man" in the War of 1812, at the engagement at Sacketts Harbor, N. Y.

May 8, 1820, Aaron Webster and Sarah his wife of Aurelius, Cayuga

Co., N. Y., sold land on Lot 80, to Abraham Dunning. William Price, witness.

In the years 1820-'22, Aaron Webster, with others, purchased land in the town of Troy, Oakland Co., Mich.

Both died at Auburn, Oakland Co., Mich., he Aug. 17, 1823, in his 48th yr.; and she, Aug. 18, 1823. A family tradition among the eastern relatives is that he died one hour before his wife, which could only be by his dying just before midnight, and she just after. They died with typhoid fever.

CHILDREN: (All b. at Sacketts Harbor, N. Y., except the last, b. at Auburn, N. Y.) Luther Norton, b. Aug. 29, 1799; Calvin Price, Feb. 10, 1802; Rachel, Mch 15, 1804; Eliza, Oct. 31, 1806; Mariah, July 1, 1809; William Aaron, Jan'y 12, 1812; George Blinn, May 15, 1818. Resumed in Chapter XXXVIII.

11. Miner Webster, b. 1776, at East Hartford, Ct., mar. (1) 1799-1801, Lydia, daughter of Solomon and Lydia (Buckley) Savage. Solomon Savage, the father of Miner Webster's wife, was a soldier in the War of Revolution, and did duty at Middletown, Ct. He mar. (2) at Poultney, Vt., about the last of Jan'y or first of Feb., 1820, a widow, Mrs. Jane Bingham. After his death she returned to Vermont with her two young children by her former husband, the youngest of whom was Belden Bingham, aged 8 yrs. in 1820.

Miner Webster became the owner of the farm on which he was born and lived there until 1818, when he removed to Covington, Genesee (now Wyoming) Co., N. Y., into the woods a mile and a half from any neighbors, reaching there in the month of March. He and his wife died soon after, leaving a family of six children in the forest, the eldest of whom was only 16 yrs. of age. About 20 yrs. prior to his removal from Hampton, N. Y., he served as Fife-major in the militia. Both died at Covington, N. Y., she in Feb. 1819; and he, Aug. 13, 1820.

CHILDREN: (By first marriage) (All b. at Hampton, N. Y.) Solomon Savage, Dec. 14, 1803; Price Blinn, March 22, 1807; Emily, April 11, 1809; Abel, Oct. 13, 1812; Otis Warren, Sept. 2, 1815; Charles Lockwood, Aug. 11, 1817. (2d m.) None. Resumed in Chapter XXXVIII.

SECTION 2.—Children of Jonathan (Jonathan, "the miller"; Jonathan, Dea. Jonathan, Robert, Gov. John) and Agnes Webster of Parish of Orford, East Hartford, Ct. He died at 31, leaving wife and orphan children.

1. Abigail Webster, b. about 1759 or 1760, at East Hartford, Ct., m. Stephen Couch, a brother of John Couch, who mar. Susanah, daughter of Ashbel Webster. (See.) A singular fact is, that Sept. 18, 1777, John Couch and Abigail Webster were married at Bolton, Ct., and Sep. 8, 1778, Gurdon Woodruff and Anna Webster were married. It seems evident that this should be Stephen Couch, instead of John, but it is not so on the books. They lived and died in Keeney Settlement, Cortland Co., N. Y.

Probate Records, Cortland Co., N. Y.: Stephen Couch made a Will, Jan'y 20, 1824, probated July 7, 1834, in which he names "my dear and beloved wife Abigail;" my sons Aaron and Noah; my daughters, Anna, Polly, Phebe, Elma, Laura, Abigail. Benjamin Brown, his brother-in-law, was named as executor. Signed in the presence of Jehiel Dart, Dorinda Brown, and Benjamin Brown.

Stephen Couch, Sr., died April 5, 1834, aged 76; and his son, Noah, died Aug. 15, 1837, aged 35 yrs. and 5 mos., both of whom are buried at Keeney Settlement. If Abigail is buried there she has no tombstone.

CHILDREN: (Couch) Stephen, Jr., b. 1778; Anna, b. Feb. 27, 1780; Polly, b. 1785; Phoebe; Elma, b. Aug. 6, 1789; Laura, b. May 21, 1792; Abigail, May 2, 1793; Hannah; Aaron, b. May 21, 1798; Noah, b. March, 1802. Resumed in Chapter XXXVIII.

2. Anna Webster, b. 1761, at East Hartford, Ct., m. Sep. 18, 1778, at Bolton, Ct., Gurdon Woodruff, b. 1755, son of Simmons and Sarah (Smith) Woodruff, of Bolton, Ct. She was a dau. of Jeremiah Smith.

Simmons Woodruff was b. Jan. 5, 1710-11, and lived in Farmington, Ct. The name is sometimes incorrectly spelled Simeon. With his brother Elijah, Simmons removed from Farmington to the "Five Miles," near the Bolton line, and there reared his family.

He made his Will, March 6, 1767, but did not name his widow or children, although he made bequests to his wife while she remained his widow, and to his three sons, and "my daughter Sarah," giving her "a cow which she brought up." In another place he mentions, "my son, Martin."

Jan. 2, 1770, his Will was offered for Probate, "by Sarah the widow, and Asa, a son." As there was named no Executor, the Court appointed William Wallis.

Their children were in fact, Asa, b. Dec. 10, 1745; Mary, b. Jan. 5, 1751; Martin; Gurdon; Sarah.

The father of Simmons Woodruff was John Woodruff, b. 1669, of Farmington, whose estate, March 2, 1752, was distributed to his three sons, Joseph, b. March 5, 1709; Simmons, b. Jan. 5, 1710-11; Elijah, b. Nov. 23, 1718.

The mother of the foregoing, and wife of John Woodruff of Farmington, was Elizabeth Thompson, daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth (Smith) Thompson.

John Woodruff, b. 1669, father of Simmons Woodruff, was the son of John Woodruff of Farmington, who married Mary. This John Woodruff, Sr., whose Will is dated Apr. 8, 1692, was the son of Matthew Woodruff of Farmington, the settler.

Gurdon Woodruff (Simmons, John, John, Matthew the settler) was one of the five men who walked from Connecticut to the Keeney Valley, Onondaga Co., N. Y., in 1795, where he and his wife spent godly lives and are now buried. He was a soldier of the Revolutionary War, but not a pensioner.

Both died at Keeney Settlement, N. Y., he, April 6, 1830, in his 75th year, and she, July 29, 1849, aged 88.

CHILDREN: (Woodruff) Gurdon, Jr.; Joseph; Leonard, b. March 31, 1798, the second child born in Keeney Settlement; Anna; Esther, b. July 26, 1794; Amanda; Agnes Ruth, b. Sep. 14, 1804; Orrin, b. Aug. 29, 1805; Asenath; Sarah. Resumed in Chapter XXXVIII.

3. Mabel Webster, b. June 3, 1763, at East Hartford, Ct., Orford Parish, m. Samuel Fox, b. Oct. 6, 1756, son of Samuel and Eunice (Wright) Fox, of Glastonbury, Ct.

He was born soon after the death of his father who was lost at sea, and was the youngest of three children: (1) Esther, b. 1751, who married May 1, 1771, Ichabod Hollister, b. 1747, son of Charles and Prudence (Francis) Hollister, of Glastonbury, Ct., who lived and died at Five Forks in the town of Genoa, Cayuga Co., N. Y. (2) Eunice, b. 1754, m. Dec. 7, 1788, as his second wife, Samuel Buck of Wethersfield, Ct., b. June 10, 1738, son of Samuel and Sarah (House) Buck. His mother, Sarah House was the dau. of John and Eunice (Fox) House, and Eunice Fox the dau. of Richard and Beriah (Smith) Fox. Samuel Buck had no children by Eunice Fox, sister of Samuel.

Samuel Fox, the father of Samuel who married Mabel Webster, was the son of Joseph Fox, b. Aug. 7, 1695, d. May 21, 1733, and Esther Sparks, his wife. Their children were: Esther, b. 1718, unmarried at nearly 53 years of age; Hosea, b. 1718, who m. Janet Hollister; Beriah, b. 1721, who m. Job Risley; John (of Middletown, Ct.), b. 1725, who m. Mary Waterman; Noah, b. 1728, who died June 5, 1749, in his 21st year; Samuel, b. about 1731, who m. Eunice Wright; Joseph, b. 1733, d. March 25, 1756, in his 23d year. Joseph Fox, Sr., is buried in the cemetery in the south part of the village of Glastonbury and has one of the few well-preserved ancient tombstones.

Joseph Fox, b. Aug. 7, 1695, was the youngest of ten children of Richard and Beriah (Smith) Fox of Glastonbury, Ct.

Beriah Smith was the daughter of Richard Smith of Wethersfield, Ct. Her sister, Bethia Smith (also spelled Berthia) m. Aug. 15, 1680, Joshua Stoddard of Wethersfield, b. there, Sep. 12, 1648, son of John and Mary (Foote) Stoddard. His estate, Aug. 2, 1726, was ordered distributed to his brothers and sisters, but her estate was ordered distributed, July 13, 1725, to her brothers and sisters, as follows: Samuel Smith, Joseph Smith, Benjamin Smith, Beriah Fox, and heirs of Hester Strickland.

Esther Sparks, who m. Joseph Fox, was the dau. of John Sparks of Hartford. She was bap. March 29, 1695-96, at the First Church, Hartford.

Sep. 8, 1693, John Sparks of Podunk in Windsor, buys land of Richard Burnham and Sarah, his wife.

The estate of John Sparks of Windsor was inventoried May 20, 1710, and July 3, following, Dorothy Sparks, his widow was appointed administratrix. She m. (2) John Parsons and died prior to June 7, 1714.

May 4, 1713. The following were minor children of John and Dorothy Sparks. The baptisms which we have added were in First Church, Hartford. Esther, aged 18, bap. March 29, 1696, (married Joseph Fox); Martha, aged 16, bap. May 1, 1698; Ruth; John; Anne; Dorothy; Thomas. Noah the eldest, who was of age when this list was made, was bap. March 4, 1694.

Samuel Fox who married Eunice Wright, was born about 1731, and was lost at sea, prior to the birth of his son, Samuel, who was born Oct. 6, 1756. The confirmation of this fact is found in the Probate records at Hartford, that an inventory of the estate of Samuel Fox of Glastonbury, deceased, dated Dec. 2, 1756, was made by Samuel Talcott and Samuel Wells.

After his death his widow, Eunice (Wright) Fox, b. July 4, 1729, dau. of Daniel Wright, married, May 7, 1761, as his 2d wife, Comfort Stancliff, b. Oct. 18, 1731, son of James and Abigail (Bevin) Stancliff. They settled in Chatham, Ct., and had at least these children: (Stancliff) Christopher and Timothy, twins, b. March 1, 1762; Lemuel, b. April 9, 1764; Margaret, b. June 9, 1766. She became the widow of Comfort Stancliff and died Aug. 20, 1807.

The Samuel Fox, b. Oct. 6, 1756, who married Mabel Webster, was the son of Samuel and Eunice (Wright) Fox.

Samuel Fox was a soldier in the Revolutionary War who saw long and hard service.

He first enlisted at Glastonbury, Hartford Co., Ct., in May, 1775, and was stationed at Roxbury, Mass., for the siege of Boston, under Capt. Hanchett and Col. Joseph Spencer. He served seven months. Again in 1776 he served two months in the militia on Long Island, and was doubtless in the fight on Long Island, and the retreat of Washington to White Plains. In Feb., 1777, he for the third time enlisted, this time "for the war." His Capt. was Barnard; his Col., Wyllys. In July, 1780, he was appointed Corporal, a position he held till his discharge in June, 1783. In July, 1780, he was detached as Light Infantry under Major J. P. Wyllys, and sent to the command of La Fayette in Virginia, where he was in the battle at the mouth of the James River, the siege of Yorktown, and the surrender of Lord Cornwallis, Oct. 19, 1781. Thus he put seven years and one month into the service of his distressed country.

Before leaving Connecticut he united in the following deed: March 9, 1782, Samuel Fox, Ichabod Hollister, Esther Hollister, all of Glastonbury, sell to Job Risley. These were the three children of Samuel and Eunice (Wright) Fox.

Samuel Fox became a resident of Dryden, N. Y., about 1810, he having sold his farm at Keeney, Jan'y 16, 1810. They spent the remainder of their lives at West Dryden, N. Y.

Both died at West Dryden (Fox's Corners), N. Y., she, Jan. 1, 1844, aged 80 years and 7 months lacking two days, and he, Oct. 10, 1844, aged 88 years and 4 days.

CHILDREN: (Fox) Edmund, b. at Glastonbury, Ct., March 31, 1788; Polly, Aug., 1789. (In the East Hartford or Glastonbury Records is this entry: March 4, 1791, Polly, daughter of Samuel and Mabel (Webster) Fox, was bap. in private.) Anne, Dec. 23, 1790; Samuel, March, 1792; Julius Webster, Dec. 17, 1793; (the following b. at Keeney Settlement, N. Y.) Jonathan, June 12, 1796; Eunice, Dec. 22, 1797; Chester, 1799, died 1801; Asa, April, 1801; Chester Webster, June 7, 1803; Elijah, date unknown, died Mar. 14, 1844. Resumed in Chapter XXXVIII.

4. Mary Webster, bap. Jan. 27, 1765, m. Elisha Keeney, b. 1768, son of Thomas and Sarah (Gerald or Jeralds) Keeney. They remained in East Hartford, Conn., and are buried in the Manchester Centre Cemetery. He d. June 15, 1807, in his 39th year, and she Mch 4, 1851, aged 87.

1805, Feb. 27, administration was granted on the estate of Thomas Keeney, late of East Hartford, father of Elisha, and May 20, 1806, distribution was made as follows, viz., to Sarah, the widow, and these children: Sarah (afterward married McKee); Samuel (the oldest son); Cap't Ashbel, Elisha (above), Noah, Abigail, Nancy.

1898, Sep. 24, Alice E. Strong of 486 Boylston St., Boston, a granddaughter of Noah Keeney in the above list, wrote concerning the family.

1795, Apr. 1, Agnes Webster, Samuel Fox, Mabel Fox, Elisha Keeney, Mary Keeney, Benjamin Brown, Dorinda Brown, and Jonathan Webster, all of East Hartford, Ct., sell 25 acres of land for 144 pounds to George Hale of Glastonbury.

CHILDREN: (Keeney) Phila, b. 1790, d. Jan. 21, 1864, aged 74; Walter S., b. 1792, d. Mch. 6, 1798, aged 5-6-0; Watson, b. 1796, d. Feb. 29, 1832, aged 36 years; Gurdon, b. 1798, d. Mch. 1, 1844, aged 46 years; and Polly.

(1) Phila outlived her mother. "She lived alone, a strange shut-in life, for years refusing proper clothing, wearing an old cloak for a gown, and rarely combing her hair.

(2) Polly was the only one who married. She m. Eleazer Keeney of Glastonbury, s. of Hosea and Mary Keeney. They had two daughters, Samantha and Charlotte. Samantha Keeney m. Henry Munsel Fish of Manchester. Both were dead in 1900, but left two children, Jane and Alphonzo Henry, born May 17, 1849. Jane Fish m. Isaac N. Blinn of Vernon, Ct., and res. 1900 at East Hartford. They had three children, one of whom was living then, DeForest Blinn, who was married. Alphonzo Henry Fish m. Ellen Ford of Manchester and, 1900, they had two children. Charlotte Keeney m. Henry Chalmer Cushman. They d. at Meriden, Ct., where their one son, Ira, married and probably resides. The end.

5. Jonathan Webster, b. 1767, at East Hartford, Ct., m. Thankful Keeney, b. Feb. 11, 1770, dau. of Simon and Margaret (Keeney) Keeney, of East Hartford.

In the Center Cemetery, Manchester, Ct., the inscription on his tombstone reads: "In memory of Mr. Jonathan Webster, who departed this life, Sept. 18th, 1795, in the 29th year of his age."

The importance of this date grows out of the fact that Jonathan Webster was one of the five men who came into the Fabius wilderness in the Summer of 1795, which see at the beginning of this chapter.

He died in the part of East Hartford which is now Manchester, Sep. 18, 1795, in the 29th year of his age, and is buried in the Manchester Centre Cemetery. After his death his widow m. (2) May 1, 1806, Nathaniel Bacon, b. March 6, 1774, of Fabius, N. Y., where she died, Aug. 17, 1835. One son by Bacon, Albert Bacon.

CHILDREN: (Webster) Jared, b. Aug. 24, 1788; Jemima, b. Jan. 16, 1790. Resumed in Chapter XXXVIII.

6. Dorinda Webster, b. 1769, at East Hartford, Ct., Orford Parish, m. Aug. 26, 1787, Benjamin Brown, b. Aug. 20, 1767, son of Benjamin and Sarah (Keeney) Brown.

In the East Hartford, Ct., Town Records may be found the following record of the family, to which the above Benjamin Brown belonged: Married, Sept. 4, 1763, Benjamin Brown to Sarah Keeney. Their children: Sarah, b. Aug. 13, 1764, died Dec. 17, 1785; Benjamin, Aug. 20, 1767; Abigail, Aug. 17, 1769; Edmond, March 2, 1772; Esther, June 6, 1774; Achsah, Aug. 23, 1778, died May 24, 1795; Ireanus, Oct. 23, 1780; James, April 5, 1783; Sarah, Dec. 26, 1784.

In the Manchester, Ct., Centre Cemetery, are buried the parents of the above children with the following inscriptions: Benjamin Brown died March 27, 1809, in his 69th year (born 1740). Mrs. Sarah Brown, relict of Benjamin Brown, died July 3, 1815, in the 70th year of her age (b. 1745).

The above Benjamin Brown, Sr., was born in Coventry, Ct., and was the son of Abraham Brown who died July 29, 1749, and his wife Abigail. Their children as shown in the town records were, Benjamin, b. Sep. 16, 1740; James, b. Apr. 25, 1743; Elisha, b. Apr. 14, 1745; Stephen, b. March 9, 1749.

Deeds recorded in Coventry show that Nov. 1, 1720, Ephriam Brown of Rehoboth, Bristol Co., Mass., purchased land in Coventry of James Smith of Suffield, Ct., and Nov. 20, 1728, Ephriam Brown of Coventry, sold land in Coventry to Josiah Brown of Reddin, Middlesex Co., Mass.

Jan. 3, 1728-9, John Brown of Mendon, Suffolk Co., Mass., sells land in Coventry to Thomas Domman of Charlestown, Mass.

July 5, 1744, John Brown and Ruth Fox of Coventry, were married, and their dau. Ruth d. Nov. 15, 1749.

April 9, 1753, Stephen Brown purchases land in Coventry of John Fowler.

March 21, 1757, Benajah Deans of Coventry gave land to "My son" Abraham Brown.

Children of Joshua Brown, Jr., and Prudence Welch, his wife, were born as follows: (Brown) Benjamin, Nov. 5, 1758; Simeon, Dec. 19, 1770.

John Brown and Elizabeth Dorman were married Oct. 14, 1784.

Thomas Brown died 1803, aged 71 (born 1732).

June 10, 1762, Benjamin Brown of Coventry, Windham Co., Ct., purchased land in the Five Miles (East Hartford) of Joseph Swetland of Hartford.

Miss Harriet N. Brown, of South Manchester, Ct., told M. R. Webster, July 18, 1896, that she was a daughter of Col. Ireanus Brown, a son of the above Benjamin and Sarah (Keeney) Brown, and brother of the Benjamin who lived at Keeney Settlement, N. Y. Col. Ireanus Brown mar. Susanna Keeney. After the death of Col. Ireanus, his widow Susanna (Keeney) Brown, mar. Erastus Fuller, who kept a tavern in Hebron, Ct. Susanna Keeney, who married Brown and Fuller, was a sister of Thomas Keeney.

Benjamin Brown, b. Aug. 20, 1767, bap. Sep. 29, 1767, who married Dorinda Webster, was one of the five men who walked from East Hartford to the Fabius wilderness in 1795. (See Keeney Valley at the head of this chapter.)

Both died and are buried in Keeney Settlement, N. Y., he, Oct. 9, 1857, aged 90 years, 1 month, and 19 days, and she, July 25, 1853, aged 84 years.

SECTION 3.—Children of Asiel or Asahel (Jonathan "the miller," Jonathan, Dea. Jonathan, Robert, Gov. John) and Hannah (Price) Webster of Glastonbury, Ct., and Gill, Franklin Co., Mass.

1. Asiel, or Asahel Webster, bap. Oct. 1, 1760, at Glastonbury, Ct., was killed at Springfield, Mass., in Shay's Rebellion, Jan'y 26, 1787. Probably unmarried. History of Palmer, Mass., by J. H. Temple (1889) calls him Asiel and says that he was of Gill, Mass., and one of the insurgents in Shay's Rebellion, and was killed, Jan'y 24 (not 26, as above), 1787, by a cannon shot, which also killed two of his companions.

He had previously been a soldier in the Revolutionary War, as follows: Asahel Webster; Private. 1 month 11 days service at New London in James Wolworth's Co., Elisha Porter's Regiment, from July 22, 1779 to Aug. 27, 1779. Again, Asel Webster; Private. In Agrippa Wells' Co., Porter's Regiment, from July 10 to Aug. 12, 1777. To reinforce Northern Army after the evacuation of Ticonderoga.

Capt. Daniel O. Shays, the moving spirit in "Shay's Rebellion," was a soldier in the Revolutionary War, b. at Hopkinton, Mass., 1747, and died in Sparta, Livingston Co., N. Y., Sep. 29, 1825. With a thousand of his followers he attempted in Dec., 1786, to prevent the assembling of the Supreme Court at Springfield. In this he was foiled by the Militia. A little later, in January, the same force, aided by Luke Day and Eli Parsons, commanding smaller bodies, marched on Springfield, Jan. 25, 1787, to capture the Continental Arsenal, but were repulsed by Gen. Benjamin Lincoln and 4000 Militia troops. February 4th, the entire force was scattered at Petersham, Worcester Co., Mass., and 150 taken prisoners. The leaders were sentenced to death, but ultimately pardoned. Shays retired to Winchester, N. H., and then settled in Livingston Co., N. Y.

He had served with distinction in the Revolution, and was brevetted for gallantry at Bunker Hill. The government pensioned him for his services. His rebellion was against imprisonment for debt. It was estimated that each person in Mass. owed, on the average, $200, and many were thrust into prison for nonpayment. In 1903 there was a movement by the Livingston County Historical Society to erect a monument at his grave in a little cemetery at the head of Conesus Lake, in the town of Sparta. The end.

2. Giles Webster, bap. May 20, 1764, by Rev. Simeon Backus of Hadley, a farmer, (though he probably never owned a farm,) of Gill, Mass., mar. "Holda" (Huldah) Thornton. He died at Gill, Mass., Dec. 15, 1845, aged 81 yrs. After his death, his widow lived with her son, Robert, at Stamford, Bennington, Co., Vt., where she died Feb. 11, 1849, aged 80 yrs.

5. Lucy Webster, bap. July 21, 1771, mar. at Gill, Mass., April 7, 1794, Oct. 30, 1794, Eleazer Darby, of same place. Nothing further.

6. Jonathan Webster, bap. June 12, 1775, is said to have enlisted in the U. S. Navy at the time of the war with Algiers, and for a long time was supposed to have been killed there, but in 1835, some of his old schoolmates met him in St. Louis, Mo., and learned that he was then Capt. of a steamboat on the Mississippi River. Another account says, he was drowned in Cayuga Lake, N. Y., but nothing more can be learned.

7. Price (or George Price) Webster, b. March 15, 1783, at Gill, Mass., a farmer, remained at Gill, Mass., and with his brother Chester carried on their father's old farm until about 1818, when they sold out, when Price is said to have removed to Ohio and settled somewhere in the vicinity of Marietta and from there followed the business of a drover, and is said to have been killed by the breaking down of a bridge at Youngstown, O., about 1828, while taking a drove of cattle to Philadelphia. He mar. Oct. 4, 1806, at Gill, Mass., Polly Lawrence, of Wendell, Mass. He is buried at Monroe, Butler Co., O.

CHILDREN: Samuel Price, b. at Gill, Mass., Dec. 20, 1807; (others in Ohio) Lyman, b. Nov. 28, 1810; Lydia Messenger; Mary, July 15, 1820, at Monroe, O.; Edward. Resumed in Chapter XXXVIII.

1. Hon. Elizur Webster, Jr., b. Aug. 24, 1767, at East Hartford, Ct., a farmer, mar. at Hampton, Washington Co., N. Y., about 1791, Elizabeth Warren, b. May 15, 1774, dau. of Col. Gideon Warren. (See Rachel Webster, who m. Caleb Warren.)

Elizur Webster removed from Hampton, Washington Co., N. Y., to the "Holland Purchase," N. Y., where in 1803 he took up a tract of 3000 acres of land in what afterwards became the town of Warsaw, Genesee Co. (now Wyoming Co.), N. Y., where he accumulated a large fortune for his time. He was the pioneer settler of the town of Warsaw, where in 1804 he built the first saw-mill, raised the first crop, and not long after his arrival opened the first inn or tavern; at an early day set out a large orchard and erected the first cider mill on the "Purchase." His first cider sold at $7.00 per barrel. His daughter, Mrs. A. W. Young was the first person born in the town. At the first Town Meeting he was elected, in 1808, supervisor, and held the office by successive elections for seven years. He was for several years a Justice of the Peace. In 1813 he was appointed one of the Associate Judges of the County Court. In 1816 and 17 he was a Representative for Genesee Co. in the General Assembly, and in 1821 he was a member of the Constitutional Convention of the State. In 1837-8 he sold out his farm in Warsaw, and removed to Ripley, Chautauqua Co., N. Y.

The Will of Elizur Webster, of Ripley, Chautauqua Co., N. Y., dated Jan'y 25, 1851, gave to the following persons: Children of Arvin, deceased, $2,000; Warren, $2,183; Chipman, $3,134; Horace, $2,180; Lemuel, $1,450; Elizur, $2,800; Gideon, $2,221.64; William Harrison, $2,400; Eliza Young, $1,850; Clorinda Hough, $2,166; Harriet J. 6. Rev. Joshua Webster, b. Aug. 6, 1794, at Stamford, N. Y., (by second m.) mar. (1) March 16, 1817, at Colborne, Canada, Rebecca Merriman, b. July 10, 1792, at Hartford, Ct., daughter of Joel and Anna (Perkins) Merriman; and (2) June 19, 1877, at Cobourg, Canada, Pamela Tourje.

Joshua Webster was a soldier in the War of 1812; Pamela, widow of Joshua Webster. May 6, 1878: Pamela Webster (writes fair hand) aged 53, of Cobourg, Northumberland Co., Province of Ontario, Canada, was married to Joshua Webster, at Cobourg, Canada, June 19, 1877, by the Rev. William Hansom, Methodist, her maiden name being Pamela Tourje. Mr. Webster had previously married Rebecca Merriman, who died Feb. 24, 1876, at Bellville, Ontario, Canada, and he died at Cobourg, March 13, 1878. "He had resided in Canada ever since in or about 1815." He was about 20 years old when he enlisted, was born at Hartford, Conn., 6 ft. high, dark hair, dark eyes, and light complexion. Was drafted in Delaware Co., N. Y. There is record of the marriage to Pamela, and of the death of Webster at Cobourg.

3d Aud. reports service of Webster, as Ensign, in Capt. Alex. McPherson's Co., of N. Y. Militia from Sept. 8 to Dec. 10, 1814.

May 22, 1871: Joshua Webster (in a good hand) aged 76, of Hilton, Northumberland Co., Canada. Was married to Rebecca Merriman at Colborne, township of Cramahe.

March 16, 1817: Was drafted in Delaware Co., N. Y., and rendezvoused at Delhi, N. Y., and was discharged at N. Y. City.

June 16, 1874: Mr. Webster made a statement giving his history, which is now so badly mutilated that much of it cannot be made out. Says he is an old Methodist minister, was born at Hartford, Conn., and moved to York State. Was twice wounded in service. Commenced teaching before he was 18. Got to Canada by accident. Sailed from Sacketts Harbor for Detroit, but was set down in Canada, and being offered better wages to teach there than he could get in N. Y. State, remained. Married a Connecticut woman, "whose father was for many years the first and only J. P. in this town (Hilton, town of Brighton).

It appears from evidence in the case that Mr. Webster was commissioned as a Justice of the Peace by the Canadian authorities Oct. 29, 1856, for the Counties of Northumberland and Durham, and he still retained that office as late as June 4, 1874.

A letter from the U. S. Consul, says that Mr. Webster, in 1874, owned no real estate, although he had held some, which he sold. Also says that he was a staunch Republican, being on the side of the Union in the war of the rebellion.

May 28, 1851: Mr. Webster made his application for Bounty Land in Monroe Co., N. Y., but gave his residence as in Canada, and said he was drafted in 1814, at Stamford, Delaware Co., N. Y. His original commission as Ensign is on file in this case, and names him Joshua Webster, Junior, and was issued at Albany, N. Y., Sep. 22, 1814.

His original discharge is also on file in this case, signed by Lieut. Col. Putnam Farrington, Mar. 20, 1855.

Joshua Webster, Ensign, May 25, 1851: (in good hand), aged 56, of Cramahe, Canada. Called into service as Joshua Webster, Jr., at Stamford, Delaware Co., N. Y., in Capt. Alex. McPherson's Co. Served 3 mos., and was discharged at N. Y. City, Dec. 2, 1814. Original discharge on file, also his commission as Ensign, issued by Gov. Daniel D. Tompkins. Mar. 14, 1855, he gave his residence as Hilton, Northumberland County, Canada.

He was a Methodist minister and a teacher, and died at Cobourg, Canada, March 3, 1878. His first wife died in the city of Belleville, Can., Feb. 24, 1876, and he, Mch. 12, 1879.

(9) Horace d. Dec. 28, 1872.

(10) Elisha res. '83 at Olmsted Falls, O. The end.

2. Ebenezer Webster, a farmer, b. at North Bolton, now Vernon, Ct., March 16, 1767, m. (1) at No. Bolton, Ct. (Military record says, New Hartford, Ct.) Roxana, dau. of David Benjamin, b. Aug., 1774. She d. Aug. 1, 1825, aged 51 years, and he m. (2) Polly Martin. (See Real Estate notes.) She d. bet. 1841 and 1843, and he at Fredonia, N. Y., Apr. 20, 1863, aged 96 years.

1794, Oct. 26, Ebenezer Webster and his wife "owned the covenant" at Vernon, Ct.

Early in or before the present century they removed from Vernon, Conn., to Vernon, Oneida Co., N. Y. Jan. 29, 1807, the following united in giving a deed for land there to Monroe Darling of that place, viz., Ebenezer, Joseph, Eli, Seth, Elisha, Horace. A birth-list secured by Wm. H. Webster included the name of Ezekiel.

1810, Oct. 2, the following united in giving a deed for land in Vernon, N. Y. (all Websters) Esther, Joseph, Olive, Elisha, Catharine, Horace, Ebenezer, Roxa, or Proxa; Eli, Jerusha.

About 1810 the family came to the town of Pomfret, N. Y., in which is the village of Fredonia. Ebenezer Webster was one of the founders of the Baptist church in Fredonia, and held the office of a deacon until his death.

He served in the war of 1812. June 4, 1852, he applied for a land warrant, alleging that he served at the mouth of Canaway Creek in Pomfret, in the summer of 1812, in Cap. Martin B. Tubbs' Co. of New York Militia, and that he again entered service in the company of Capt. Jas. Hale and Martin B. Tubbs, in Dec., 1813, and served at Buffalo.

The records of the Third Auditor's office, U. S. Treasury, show service in Tubbs Co. from Dec. 20, 1813, to Feb. 3, 1814. On March 19, 1855, he gave his age as 87 years. In his brother's bounty land claim he says, Jan. 12, 1858, that he removed to Chautauqua Co. and settled in Pomfret in 1810. Also that he and his brother Eli occupied adjoining farms, and that their dwellings were near together on "Webster street" in Pomfret, N. Y.

CHILDREN: (First three b. Vernon, Ct., next three at Vernon, N. Y., and last two at Pomfret, N. Y.) Russell, b. Feb. 9, 1793, bap. Nov. 9, 1794; Nancy, b. Sep. 22, 1796, bap. Feb. 13, 1796; Electa, b. Sep. 6, 1799, bap. Sep. 15, 1799; Emily, b. Dec. 12, 1804; Amelia, b. Oct. 26, 1806; Esther, b. Apr. 24, 1809; Fidelia, b. July 27, 1812; Samuel Benjamin, b. Jan. 7, 1817. Resumed in Chapter XXXIX.

3. Eli Webster, b. 1777, m. at New Hartford, Litchfield Co., Conn., by Rev. Amasa Jerome, a Presbyterian minister, Aug. 23, 1806, Jerusha Cone, b. 1783 or 1784. Both d. at North East, Pa., he June 12, 1847, aged 70, buried in Pomfret, N. Y., and she, Dec. 1861, aged 78 yrs.

He served in the war of 1812. In bounty land claim by widow service is alleged at mouth of Canadaway Creek, in Pomfret, N. Y., prob. in summer of 1812, when his brother Ebenezer claimed service, and again served, as shown by report of Third Auditor U. S. Treasury, in Cap't Martin B. Tubb's Co. N. Y. Militia, from Dec. 20, 1813 to Feb. 3, 1814. The brother says this service was at Buffalo, N. Y.

It appears from evidence in the case that soon after his mar. he removed from Conn. to Vernon, N. Y., and afterward, 1811, to Pomfret, Chautauqua Co., N. Y., and settled on a farm adjoining his brother Ebenezer who had removed to Pomfret the year before. It is also shown that he removed to North East, Pa., 1840. Also that he had seven children by Jerusha and that five of them died before he did, and are buried at Pomfret, N. Y. She gave his age (in bounty land case) June 14, 1852, as 68 years. She res. '52 at North East, Pa.

Chautauqua Co., N. Y. records, show that Oct. 31, 1821, Eli Webster, of do Co., bought land of parties in Amsterdam, Holland.

CHILDREN: Seneca and Lucinda, who rem. to North East, Pa., and died in the Poor House, and five who d. before he did. Others: Sally, Harriet. Sally was a school teacher and d. ab. Dec. 1, 1846. The end.

4. Ezekiel Webster, b. no date found, m. Chloe Ellsworth.

Bradford Webster, a grandson, says Ezekiel d. after they got to Oneida, N. Y., which explains why his name does not appear in the list of those who signed the deeds, while that of Chloe, his widow does. The same Bradford Webster says "five uncles" came to Chautauqua Co., with "my father, his mother, and (his) sisters, Polly, Eliza and Welthey" in 1814. Bradford Webster, June 3, 1899, says: "It was my grandfather, Ezekiel Webster, who d. of smallpox in Oneida, N. Y., then on their way to their new home in Western New York." He was called "Zekel,"—that's why I remember it so clearly.

CHILDREN: Ellsworth, 1797; Polly, Eliza; Welthy, bap. at Vernon, Ct., May 10, 1801, as the dau. of Ezekiel Webster. Resumed in Chapter XXXIX.

5. Elisha Webster, b. (no date found), m. probably at Springfield, Mass., Catharine Butler, a sister of the Butler who had command of the fort at Pittsburg, Pa., in 1812.

(8) Delilah m. Christopher Aiken. Res. 1900, Nebraska. The end.

7. Horace Webster, a farmer, b. June 10, 1786 or 1788, m. June 25, 1818, Nancy, dau. of Lemuel and Eunice Porter, b. Nov. 26, 1796.

He served in the War of 1812. He claims service in Capt. James Hale's and Capt. Martin B. Tubb's Co. N. Y. Militia. He entered service at Fredonia. The 3d Auditor, U. S. Treasury shows service in Capt. Tubb's Co. from Dec. 20, 1813 to Feb'y 3, 1814. This service was probably rendered at Buffalo, N. Y. and his brothers Ebenezer and Eli served at the same time and in same Co. One of the identifying witnesses to the widow's pension claim, May 1, 1878, was Lemuel B. Webster, of Pomfret, N. Y. (who Geo. N. Frazine says was adopted by Horace, but was son of Elisha.) Mrs. Nancy Webster in her claim for widow's pension, May 1, 1878, quotes from a family record which she says was made in 1868, by Mary Jane Webster. Mrs. Nancy Webster resided in 1878 at Fredonia, N. Y.

5. Charles Ingalls Webster, a farmer, b. March 23, 1789, at Orford, N. H., m. Arvilla Fish.

He was a soldier in the War of 1812. No record is found of his service, but on Apr. 5, 1855, he made application for bounty land and alleged that he enlisted at Delaware, Delaware Co., O., in Capt. Elias Murray's or Norton's Rifle Co., ab. Aug., 1812, and served for about one month, when he was discharged by furnishing a substitute, and that afterward he served as a commissary under one Moses Bixby, at Militia Grand Camp. As no record of service was found this claim was rejected. In this claim he gave his age as 66 ys, and his res. as Aurelius, Cayuga Co., N. Y.

Mch. 10, 1871, he made another application for bounty land, alleging that he served in the Ohio Militia as a teamster, or pack-horse man, in the War of 1812, and that he was paid by Quartermaster Morrison, of Ohio. (He seemed to remember but little about his service and his claim was again rejected).

He gave in this application his age as 81 years, and his residence as Throop, Cayuga Co., N. Y. He was identified in 1871 by Ella L. Gervis (Jervis) and Maggie E. Webster, both of Throop, and both, probably, his daughters.

In 1854, he removed to near Fairfax, Court House, Vt., where he was residing when the war of rebellion broke out. He was an uncompromising Union man, and in 1862 was arrested by Gen'l Fitzhugh Lee, was taken to Manassas Junction; kept for two or three weeks and subjected to hardships and exposures in inclement weather. Was then taken to Libby prison, Richmond, Va., where he was promised his liberty, if he would take the oath of allegiance to the Southern Confederacy, which he refused to do and died in said prison.

A letter written by him when he was on his death bed in a rebel prison, at Richmond, was dated March 22, 1863, and was published in the Michigan State News, June 23, 1863. He died March 23, at half past 5 P. M., and was buried March 24, the Rev. Mr. Eddy, Chaplain of the 20th Conn. Regt., also a prisoner of war, read the burial service, and preached. In one published account of Rev. James Webster's death it is said that two of his "sons were forced into the rebel army, but after the battle of Bull Run deserted and came into the Federal Army."

He died at Libby Prison, Richmond, Va., March 23, 1863, and she, at Washington, D. C., May, 1878.

The Waucoma Sentinel of Jan. 23, 1913, says of him, under the title, "The Father of Waucoma."

He was the youngest of thirteen children; his father dying when he was eight years old. When he was eighteen years old he worked his way west to Palatine, Ill., where he married. * * * The same year he crossed the plains to California, returning the next year via Panama. In 1854 he moved from Illinois to Iowa, entering the land from the Government where the present town of Waucoma is located. It mentions that he "donated the mill site and thus started the town of Waucoma;" "gave the right of way and depot ground to the Davenport and St. Paul Railway, and was for a time a member of its Board of Directors," "was elected Waucoma's first Mayor in 1883, and served over a quarter of century, the last fifteen continuously,"—the oldest mayor in age and service in the United States. The great concourse of people present at the funeral in the Congregational church attested his hold on the city. Escorted by the Knights Templar and the Masonic orders, and borne by his sons and grandsons, to his burial, the last rites were most impressive.

George Webster lived at West Granville, Wash'n Co., N. Y., till he was about 21 years old, when he with his parents removed to near Conesus, Livingston Co., N. Y., and two years later returned to W. Granville and married, but settled at Conesus working his father's farm till about 1843, when he left the farm in care of his brother Lawrence, and, with his family of six children removed to Jefferson Co., Pa. He cleared and paid for a farm in the wilderness by most rigid economy and industry, declaring that he would not buy a "wamas" (coat) till it was done. They lumbered in winter, cleared land and farmed in summer, made shingles evenings, the women spun yarn, wove cloth and hatched flax which they had raised. In the spring of '55, returning from Pittsburg where he had sold his lumber, Mr. Webster said his debts were now paid, and he had purchased the coat so long desired, and his younger children could be educated. Even then typhoid fever was burning in his veins and in two weeks he died. His son Aaron, then in Minnesota, returned home, and cared for the farm and the family.

Walter Rossiter Webster, when 15 years old went to Georgia to be company for his sister, Caroline (Webster) Kellogg, who was then residing in Jackson Co., Ga. After remaining there one year, returned to Harwinton, Ct., and went to school for six months. Then returned to Georgia, and became a clerk for his brother-in-law, Kellogg and Co., in Hall County, 9 miles South of Gainsville, Ga. Remained there a year and then went with a stock of goods to sell to the Cherokee Indians, on the Etowah River three quarters of a mile south of Canton. Remained in that business two and a half years. Then went into company with his brother-in-law, Kellogg, in Forsyth Co., Ga., six miles north of Cumming, Ga. Was in business there two and a half years. Then went to Rome, Floyd Co., Ga., and was in business there two and a half years, as a member of the firm of Sanford, Kellogg and Co., and while there was married. From there removed to Crossville, Lumpkin Co., Ga., bought a farm and opened a store, under the firm name of Webster and Julian. Was there nine years (16 miles south of Dahlonega). Sold out there and moved to a farm on Coosa River, 16 miles from Rome, Floyd Co. Remained there five years, and then sold farm, and removed to Cave Springs, six miles southeast, in Floyd Co. Purchased a Hotel and Store house, opened a stock of goods, and kept a Hotel and Livery Stable. In 1855 was sent to State Legislature, from Floyd Co., for two years. Was Post Master at Cave Springs, also Secretary and Treasurer of the Deaf and Dumb Asylum, located at Cave Springs, for five years, and one of the Board of Trustees for 19 years. Afterwards sold out and removed to Rome, Ga., and went into the State Railroad office as General Ticket Agent, with office in Atlanta. Held that office nine years, during which time the war of the Rebellion came on, and he was obliged to get away. Says he took his family, and negroes and lived for ten months on the cars, keeping away from the enemy. After the war returned to Atlanta. Was in Railroad office under Gov. Joseph E. Brown before the war. After the Confederate surrender the new Governor, R. B. Bullock, displaced him from his office on the Railroad. Dec. 1, 1873, he again took a position on the Western and Atlanta Railroad, as General Purchasing Agent, under Joseph E. Elisaph and Rhoda (Clark) Hull, became communicants of the Episcopal Church, at East Church, where the town of Plymouth, Burlington, and Bristol join, in the year 1839.

William Holcomb Webster, the original author of this book, was a son of the above, and he prepared in connection with his father's marriage the following notes upon his maternal ancestry, which we insert at this point.

1. The Clark Family.—Stephn Clark was born in England, and married a Burr, who was born and died in Cheshire, Ct. Diamond Clark, son of Stephen was born in Cheshire, Ct., about 1750, and enlisted for service in the Revolutionary War, Feb. 28, 1778, for three years, in Capt. Joseph Mansfield's Co., in Col. Return Jonathan Meig's Regt., 6th of the Conn. Line, but was rejected at the muster in March, 1779. He died in Burlington, Ct., March 27, 1835, aged 85 yrs. He mar. (1) Sybil Tuttle, of Hamden, Ct., b. in 1754, who died at Burlington, Ct., Aug. 10, 1794, aged 40 yrs., daughter of Enos and Martha (Brockett) Tuttle, both of whom died in Hamden, Ct. He mar. She died March 10, 1872, aged 81 yrs. (4) Wooster Clark, b. in 1800, mar. Maria Parks, and died in Burlington, Jan'y 16, 1835, aged 35 yrs. The end.

2. The Hull Family.—Benjamin Hull, b. Aug. 7, 1726, at North Haven, Ct., son of Joseph and Lydia (Blakeslee) Hull, m. in March, 1746, Anne Hill, b. May 29, 1726, dau. of Stephen and Rebecca (Bishop) Hill. Stephen Hill, b. Apr. 1, 1700, m. June 7, 1725, Rebecca Bishop. He was the son of John Hill, b. Jan. 10, 1650, who m. Jan. 13, 1680, Hannah Grannis. John Hill was the son of Robert Hill.

Joseph Hull, the father of Benjamin Hull, was b. in England, but died in the United States. He (according to statement by my grandfather) went to England during the War of the Revolution, and died there, or according to a statement of the son of my grandfather's brother, Elijah, he was during the War of Revolution working in the fields with one of his sons when a small force of men suddenly appeared and siezed, and carried them both away with only the clothing they wore, and that, although search was made, they were never seen or heard from again.

Joseph Hull, b. Aug. 11, 1672, was the son of Jeremiah Hull, and m. July 12, 1722, Lydia Blakeslee.

Jeremiah Hull, father of Joseph, d. June 13, 1700. His estate, 241 pounds was settled June 10, 1709. To his son John he gave lands in the "Westfield," to Joseph, his house and lands in "Yorkshire Quarter," and at "Oyster Point;" he (Joseph) to maintain "my present wife." He mentions his daughters, Mary Hotchkiss, Sarah Chidsey, and Martha Hull.

The estate of Joseph Hull was probated Oct. 31, 1765, when Joseph, Benjamin and Daniel agreed to divide the property in equal shares, and in the same year Lydia appears as the widow of Joseph.

Benjamin Hull and Anne Hill, his wife, had the following children, born in New Haven, Ct.: John, b. Oct. 17, 1747, given below as Oct. 28, 1748; Hannah, b. June 8, 1749; Elijah, b. Oct. 13, 1750; Benjamin, b. May 22, 1753. But the probate of the estate of Benjamin Hull, Oct. 15, 1782, of which Benjamin and John were administrators, shows a widow and seven children, but their names are not given. The following is a summary of the children of Benjamin and Anne Hill Hull.

CHILDREN: (Hull) (All b. at North Haven.) (1) John, b. Oct. 28, 1748, mar. Martha Pardee, b. at North Haven, July 6, 1747, where both died, he, in 1823; and she, in 1815. (2) Joseph, said to have been a Tory, and suffered confiscation of his property. His name and that of his wife, Hannah, appear on the Congregational Church records in 1760. After the confiscation, he probably removed to, and died at Norfolk, Ct. (3) Benjamin, was alive from 1770 to 1781, and in the latter year had a child baptised in the Church of England. He is not traced in North Haven after 1796. He was enrolled as a member of the Episcopal Society from 1784 to 1790. (4) Philip. (5) Name not known, but he is the one who was seized and carried off to England with his father.

John Hull, b. Oct. 28, 1748, who mar. Martha Pardee, had the following CHILDREN: (All b. in North Haven.) (1) Sarah, 1768, died in North Haven, in 1772. (2) John, 1771, mar. Hannah Wood. They, or at least he died in Oxford, N. Y., in 1864. (3) Sarah, 1773, died at North Haven, in 1793. (4) Ebenezer, 1775, mar. in North Haven, Beda Jacobs, and died in Oxford, N. Y., in 1851 or 1852. (5) Patty, 1777, died in North Haven, in 1786. (6) Eli, 1779, mar. (1) in Hamden, Ct., Amelia Dickerman, who died in Hamden; and he mar. (2) in Milford, Ct., Mehitable Pardee, who died, same place; and he mar. (3) in Southford or Southport, H. Talmadge. They died in Hamden, in 1856. (7) Rosanna, 1781, mar. in North Haven, Thomas Smith. She died there, 1851. (8) Elijah, b. 1784, mar. in 1812 or 13, in North Haven, Nancy Blakeslee, b. in North Haven, in 1787. A son, John William, resided in '91 in North Haven, and has a son named John.

(9) Elisaph Hull, b. Oct. 30, 1786, the grandfather of William Holcomb Webster, died at Burlington, Ct., Jan'y 22, 1876. Rhoda (Clark) Hull, his wife, b. at Burlington, Ct., April 27, 1788, died there April 16, 1873. They were mar. Dec. 30, 1811, by Joshua Barnes, Esq., in North Haven, Ct.

CHILDREN: (Hull) (All b. in North Haven, Ct.) (1) Lucinda, Oct. 25, 1812, died Jan'y 1, 1840 or 39, aged 26 yrs. (2) Patsy, b. Feb. 2, 1816, date of death not reported. (3) Sarah Adelia, b. April 11, 1817, mar. William Burnham Webster, father of W. H. W. (4) Sylvanus, b. June 27, 1820, mar. (1) Eveline E. Pond, in Plymouth, July, 1839, who died Sept. 14, 1840, aged 19 yrs.; and (2) Florilla Clark, in Burlington, April 9, 1843. He died Jan'y 28, 1873. He had by his first wife, Eveline E., b. July 30, 1840, who mar. Isaac Hartwell, of Rochdale, Mass. He had by his second wife, George S.; and Burton. (5) Elisaph Andrew, b. Sept. 7, 1824, mar. (1) May 9, 1849, in Wolcottville, Ct., Sarah Jane Burr, who died Jan'y 23, 1862, aged 30 yrs.; and he mar. (2) in Blandford, Mass., Sept. 10, 1862, Sarah V. Russell. (6) Eli Lucius, b. June 14, 1828, date of death not reported.

Note. The most of the members of the Hull family in North Haven, Ct., are said to have been identified with the Church of England. In a list of land owners of New Haven, Ct., in 1643, appear the names of Richard Hull and Andrew Hull. The site of John Hull's house is given in '92, as Lyman M. Hyde.

3. The Merriam Family.—The following notes on the Merriam family, says William H. Webster, are the recollections of my uncle, Ozias Loomis Webster given in June, 1879. ——— Merriam, probably of Meriden, Conn., mar. (1) Miss Lankton; and (2) Miss Blakeslee. CHILDREN: (Merriam) (By first mar.) William, b. Cheshire, Conn., July 16, 1751; Ebenezer; (By second mar.) Merritt, Rual, Ruth.

(1) William Merriam, by first mar., named above, a farmer, of Harwinton, Conn., to which place he removed from Meriden, Conn., mar. Nov. 5, 1772, at Harwinton, Deborah, dau. of Captain Joel and ——— (Holcomb) Catlin, b. Sep. 19, 1750.*

The first record of him in Harwinton is dated, Aug. 7, 1773, when George Willis of Hartford deeded to him 60 acres of land in Harwinton. (At about the same time a deed of land in Harwinton was made to his brother, Ebenezer Merriam.) Several other parties deeded tracts of land to William Merriam, which made him one of the largest land owners in the town. The most of this land belonged to the place on which my grandfather, Ozias Webster, afterwards lived, on which my father, William B. Webster, was born.

It was claimed by my uncle, Ozias L. Webster, that William Merriam served as a substitute in the war of Revolution, but some of the present residents of Harwinton, '91, allege that he was a Tory and that he and one Prindle and other Tories hid in a cave East of Merriam's house, which has been "handed down" as the "Tories Den."

He d. at Harwinnton, Conn., March 28, 1800, aged 50 years.

CHILDREN: (Merriam) (Probably all b. in Harwinton, Conn.) Hannah, Aug. 17, 1773; Deborah, April 21, 1775; William, Jr., Feb. 14, 1777;

Merrit Bull mar. Cook, and had these children: Mary; Sidney; Trumbull; Lizzie; Henry, all of whom removed to Massachusetts; and Delia who mar. a man in Unionville, Conn., and died there.

Sabria, mar. a Coe, and left a son, Trumbull Coe, who, '79, lived near Norfolk Centre, Conn. The end.

* Captain Joel Catlin, a farmer, of Harwinton, Conn., served in the war of Revolution. He mar. ——— Holcomb.

CHILDREN: Joel; Deborah; Rebecca, and three others.

Rebecca, mar. James Bartholomew. CHILDREN: Catlin, who mar. in Granby, Conn., and had two daughters; Daniel; Ursula; Rhoda; Rebecca, who mar. Elijah Spencer, of New Hartford; Gusta. Ursula, Rhoda and Gusta left no issue.

William Burnham Webster (continued) was a farmer, teacher, surveyor and mechanic. He was educated at common school and academy in his native town, Harwinton, Litchfield Co., Conn. He spent his early life on his father's farm, but commenced teaching at the age of twenty, and taught as follows: In 1829 in Burlington, Ct., receiving $10 per mo. and board; in 1830 in Bristol, Ct., receiving $12 per mo. and board; in the winter of 1835 at Grafton, Lorain Co., Ohio, for three months, spending however seven months from home, one month of which was given visiting with his uncle, Charles Webster, in Morrow Co., Ohio, much of the rest of the time being given to the trip out and back, especially the latter one which he assisted a man in driving a drove of horses from Ohio to Morristown, N. J.; in 1836 he was teaching at the old Methodist Church place in Burlington, Ct.; in 1837 on West Street, Bristol, Ct., where he received $18 per mo. and board and where he had his largest school, averaging from 90 to 100 pupils a day; in 1838, the winter after he was married, his school was in East Plymouth, Ct., and in 1839, the year of the birth of his oldest son he had a school in the Hayden Dist. in Harwinton, Ct. During the winter of 1831 he was employed in canvassing the upper counties of New Jersey for subscribers for a "Family Encyclopedia" compiled by Chas. A. Goodrich and published by Cook & Belknap of Hartford, Conn. The most of 1832 and 1833 were spent on his father's farm, where he assisted in the winter of 1833 in building a saw mill (which was burned by an incendiary in March, 1834).

He was appointed early in life as a reading clerk at the Episcopal Church in East Plymouth, Conn., where he was also confirmed; in 1839 he was appointed as one of the wardens of the Episcopal Church at Harwinton, to succeed his father who had been warden for many years and was getting too old to attend to the duties. He retained this position until 1845 when he removed to Wolcottville, Conn., where he found that he had already been chosen warden of the church there in anticipation of his coming, and he held this position until he removed from Wolcottville in 1849. While at Wolcottville he was engaged in the manufacture of cotton cloth, in company with other parties, through whom he lost heavily, and with whom he was subsequently involved in a long and expensive law suit which impoverished him and compelled him to start life anew. In 1852 he removed to a small village in the town of Watertown, on the borders of Waterbury, now known as Oakville, Ct., whence he removed in 1852 to New Britain, Ct., where he spent the remainder of his life. He studied surveying when he was nineteen years old and when 21 was appointed by the Superior Court at Litchfield, Ct., county surveyor for the county of Litchfield, and he retained this position until he removed from the county in 1849.

Mrs. William Burnham Webster died at New Britain, Ct., April 2, 1856; and he, at Berlin, Ct., Aug. 31, 1887, aged 78 yrs., and 8 mos.

3. Fila Webster, no date of birth. No record.

4. Lydia Webster, no date of birth. Probably never married. Sep. 14, 1837, in Oneida Co., N. Y., Lydia Webster and Justin Webster (her brother) unite in signing a deed. Jan. 29, 1820, she gave power of attorney to Justin Webster for the settlement of the estate of her father, David Webster, late of Pittstown, Rensselaer Co., N. Y. Done at Vernon, N. Y. The end.

5. Justin Webster, b. May 1, 1788, m. (1) in March, 1810, Elizabeth Phillips, b. July 27, 1787, "a sister of Mrs. Polly Peckham," and (2) Dec. 28, 1840, at Durhamville, Oneida Co., N. Y., Rev. David Stone of the Methodist Episcopal Church, officiating, Mrs. Mary Muckle, nee Sanford, b. Jan. 26, 1807, at Cobbeskill, N. Y., widow of William Muckle.

Justin Webster was a soldier in the War of 1812. Enlisted at Waterford, Saratoga Co., N. Y., and served at Ogdensbury, and New York City. He was a corporal and also a Sergt. Third Auditor reports Webster's service in Capt. Gideon Reed and Andrew Brown (joint command) New York militia from Sep. 18, 1812 to Jan. 2, 1813.

In Feb. 1852, Webster gave his age as 63, and his residence, Durhamville, N. Y. Says he was first drafted in 1812 at Pittstown, Rensselaer Co., N. Y., and second in 1814 at Troy, N. Y. His original discharge for the 1812 tour was turned over as a part of his case. In Bounty Land Case, 3d Auditor reports service in Capt. G. Reed's Co. from Sep. 18, 1812 to May 2, 1813; and in Capt. D. St. John's Co. from Sep. 22, 1814 to Dec. 9, 1814.

Justin Webster was an active member of the Methodist Episcopal Church for over sixty years.

1. Zenas Webster, born Sep. 3, 1786, m. Dec. 1, 1814, Parnell Palmer, b. Feb. 25, 1794. He died near Edwardsville, Madison Co., Ill., May 14, 1844, and she July 18, 1872. She lived with her son Hiram Zenas and died at his home in Marion Co., Iowa. She is buried in Peoria, Mahaska Co., Iowa.

He served in the War of 1812, in Cap. Burnap's Co., Vermont Militia.

In the year 1811, Mch. 11, he purchased land of Alfred Tucker of Hartland, Windsor Co., Vt., 20 acres in the S. W. corner of lot 3, in the 3d range, paying $150, and was himself of Hartland. June 2, 1819 he was of Woodstock, Vt., and sold the above land to Gratia and Martin Billings, both of Hartland. Nov. 25, 1819, he was of Woodstock, Vt., and sold to James Crooker "one undivided half of the farm on which I now live, which I hold by deed from the same James Crooker, dated Dec. 29, 1817."

Evidently soon thereafter he removed to the "far west." A letter written by his sister-in-law, Mrs. Parmelia Thomas, dated Woodstock, Vt., Jan. 13, 1833, and addressed to him at Edwardsville, Ill., declares: "Once more I take up my pen to address you, though at so great a distance that it seems almost like addressing the inhabitants of another world. When I realize the land and seas that divide us, and the probability of never again beholding you face to face, my heart dies within me."

The letter continues: "The Indian depredations committed in your section of the country caused us much anxiety as we feared that you were sufferers with others of your own state." After further remarks about reading all the comments of the home papers concerning the assaults of the Indians, and expressing a fear that the Almighty is about to come out in judgment against the United States for the abuse of the many blessings which He has bestowed on them, she adds: "We feel, however, a good degree of confidence in the wisdom and skill of our Chief Magistrate. . . . I know of no one better qualified than President Jackson. He is a Mason, it is true, and he is also a Republican of the old school—for the latter principle I love and regard him. This you know is our inheritance, and never shall I forget the zeal with which our dear father espoused and advocated the best interests of his country. He was a decided Jackson man. We know not, Brother, whether you and your wife, are Jackson men or not; or whether you are Anti-Mason or not; on these points you have remained silent."

June 28, 1871, Parmel, widow of Zenas Webster, in good hand, aged 77, of Pella, Marion Co., Iowa, made application for a pension. She alleged that he enlisted at Woodstock, Vt., where she married him, Dec. 1, 1814, under the name of Parnel Palmer, Rev. Seth Sterling, a minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church, officiating; that her husband, Zenas Webster died in Madison Co., Ill., near Edwardsville, May 14, 1844. She said she was residing at the time of this application with her son, Hiram Z. Webster about seven miles North East of Pella. She was identified by Melville M. Palmer, a grandson of Mrs. Webster, aged 30, of Young America, and Chester W. Palmer, a nephew of Mrs. Webster, of Monmouth, both in Warren Co., Ill. Her attorney wrote July 3, 1871, that she had lived until recently with a son-in-law, Geo. W. Holcomb, five miles from Young America, and that both Mr. and Mrs. Holcomb had died within a few months. Report in the Bounty Land case shows that Zenas Webster served in Capt. Burnap's Co., Vt. Vols., from Sep. 17 to Nov. 30, 1812. It shows the marriage, Dec. 1, 1814, of Parnel Palmer and Zenas Webster, certified by the Clerk of the town of Woodstock, Vt.

Zenas Webster settled near Edwardsville, Madison Co., Ill., where he died May 14, 1844. The family then removed north to Ogle County, thence to Young America, now Kirkwood, Warren Co., Ill., and finally to Pella, Marion Co., Iowa. The date and place of her death not obtained.

“He was several times married”, and the names of his wives and their children severally have not been obtained. Those that follow were probably the children by his wife, Martha Vaughn.

1. Justus Webster, (not a son by Martha Vaughn) b. 1781, in Whitestown, now Oneida Co., N. Y., a farmer, may have been a son of Daniel Webster the Revolutionary soldier, but the proof is yet lacking. The name is however entered here that it may not be overlooked in future investigations. That he was not a son of Martha Vaughn is evident from legal papers involving her heirs cited in Chapter XII.

To aid in such investigation we append the following notes. He apparently removed from Oneida County to Bloomfield, Ontario Co., N. Y., with, or in advance of Daniel Webster, who is assumed to have been his father.

1804, Nov. 12, Justus Webster of Bloomfield, Ontario Co., N. Y., purchased land in township No. 10 of Asher Saxton of Bloomfield.

1806, Justus Webster was of the town of Clarence, Erie Co., N. Y., and married, while a resident of Clarence, Eliza Doney. Her sister, Electa Doney, married Asa Chapman, also of Clarence.

Eliza Doney Webster was a devoted reader of Shakespeare and named her sons after characters in his plays. She died and is buried at Clarenceville, near Farmington, Mich. His death is not recorded.

CHILDREN: Henry Bolton, probably originally Henry Bolingbroke, after Shakspear's King Henry the IV. He was born in N. Y. state. Belarius; Varrius, probably d. in early life; Gorduras, b. Apr. 21, 1812; Mary, b. Clarence, N. Y.; Helen; Mortimer; Vorigus or Arviragus; Amanda; Sophia; Eugenia. The end.

2. Martha Webster, no date of birth found, m. James Parmele, a farmer. Both died at Adams Basin, Monroe Co., N. Y., he, Oct. 1, 1858, and she, Sep. 30, 1873, and both are buried in the Fairfield Cemetery at Spencerport, N. Y. James Parmele was a Justice of the Peace for 28 years in town of Ogden, and never had a decision reversed by a superior court. He was a soldier, war of 1812.

CHILDREN: (Born in Mendon, Monroe Co., N. Y.) Betsey, 1806; George Webster, Feb. 8, 1808; Amos, Nov. 16, 1810; Charles Henry, Mch. 8, 1819.

(1) Betsey m. Darius Cone, a shoemaker. She d. June 17, 1874.

(2) George Webster, a carpenter and farmer, m. Mch. 25, 1829, Susan Burlingame. She d. Mch. 24, 1881, at Adams Basin, N. Y., and he, June 24, 1889. James Parmele, Adams Basin, N. Y., a son, died April 16, 1911.

Mr. Parmele was born in Ogden in 1834, on the farm where he had lived all his life, and where his father was born and lived except for six years, when he went to Lynchburg. Forty-eight years ago the deceased married Miss Martha W. True. In politics Mr. Parmele was a stanch Democrat. He was a prominent member of Etolian Lodge, F. and A. M. Besides his wife, the deceased leaves two daughters, Mrs. A. W. Myers, of Albion, and Mrs. W. B. Norton, of Sweden; one son, Ransom T. Parmele, of Ogden, and one sister, Mrs. Jane N. Baird, of Hamlin.

(3) Amos, a ship-carpenter and farmer, m. Hannah Flagg. He d. June 6, 1879.

(4) Charles Henry, a farmer and miller, m. June 12, 1839, Elizabeth J. Hunt. He d. Mch. 8, 1898. Mrs. A. T. Ward, a dau., lives at Adams Basin, N. Y., and S. L. Parmele, oldest son, at 138 Hoyt St., Buffalo, N. Y. The end.

3. Betsey Webster, no date of birth, m. Ambrose Beach. She died in Monroe, Monroe Co., Mich.

CHILDREN: (Beach) Valerious resided there the last known; Gardurous, or "Gard," for brief. The end.

4. Pamelia Webster, no date of birth, married Giles Adams. She died in the month of Dec., 1862, at Manchester, Washteneau Co., Mich. He died in Churchville, Monroe Co., N. Y.

CHILDREN: (Adams) Susan S., b. Dec. 22, 1810; Oliver Giles; Olive Cornelia, b. Dec. 2, 1818, and one who d. in infancy.

(1) Susan S. m. 1836, David Wilder, b. July 20, 1805, a teacher of vocal music, and carpenter. She died Dec. 1839, in Attica, Wyoming Co., N. Y. He was the son of Abel and Eunice (Hole) Wilder; and his parents were m. in 1792. Res. Attica, N. Y. CHILDREN: Walter David, b. Mch. 6, 1837. Was an officer in the Union Army of the Civil War. Killed in railroad wreck in Western New York in the year 1867.

(2) Oliver Giles, a tailor, m. Elizabeth Griffith, and resided at Greenville, Montcalm Co., Mich.

(3) Olive Cornelia m. William S. Stowell, an undertaker, and later, a dentist. Res., Manchester, Washtenaw Co., Mich., where May 2, 1878, she died. Mrs. Clara Pamelia Twist, a dau., Feb. 7, 1905, of Ypsilanti, Washtenaw Co., Mich., says her brother, Wm. G. Stowell, was in Chicago, 1892, but where he now is, is unknown. No longer in City Directory. The end.

5. Daniel Webster, born at Westmoreland, Herkimer Co., N. Y., Dec. 7, 1793, grew to manhood in that part of Herkimer County which, after Mch. 15, 1798, was Oneida County. He m. Sep. 25, 1817, Amanda Weller, b. March 25, 1798, at East Bloomfield, N. Y., dau. of Elijah and Eunice (Hawley) Weller.

Daniel Webster was a soldier in the War of 1812. Feb. 17, 1851, he, aged 58, of Byron, Genesee Co., N. Y., applied for a pension and certified that he enlisted in Cap. Isaac W. Stone's Co., N. Y. Militia, at Bloomfield, Ontario Co., N. Y., and in Cap. Truman Kellogg's Co., at same place. Served in former from Sep. 25, 1812 to Dec. 25, 1812, and in the later, from Dec. 23, 1813, to Jan. 17, 1814. He was a private and a corporal. Apr. 3, 1855, he made another application in which he gave his residence as Essex, Clinton Co., N. Y.

1795, Oct. 10, Robert Parke of Paris, Herkimer Co., N. Y., and Ruth his wife, sell to Daniel Webster of Westmoreland. Asahel, Daniel, Jr., and Justin Webster, witnesses.

1818, Apr. 17, Daniel Webster and Amanda his wife of the town of Henrietta sell land in Bloomfield as heirs of Elijah Waller (Weller), deceased. Wits.: Ambrose Beach, Abraham Beach.

1818, Dec. 6, Gideon Dewey and Eunice, his wife; Isaac Hamil and Berintha, his wife; Daniel Webster, Jr., and Amanda, his wife, sell to Julius Steele.

Gideon Dewey, b. July 7, 1758, at Westfield, Mass., a Revolutionary soldier, son of Moses Dewey, m. (1) Dec. 27, 1781, at Deerfield, Mass., Joanna Allen, b. there, Oct. 14, 1760, dau. of David and Joanna (Severance) Allen, and (2) Mrs. Eunice Weller, nee Hawley of Lima, Livingston Co., Mass. He d. June 11, 1830, at East Bloomfield, Ontario Co., N. Y.

May 21, 1844, Eunice Dewey of Canandaigua, N. Y., with Daniel and Amanda Webster, quit-claim land once owned by Gideon Dewey.

From the foregoing it is obvious that the widow of Elijah Weller m. as his 2d wife, Gideon Dewey, Sr.; that her maiden name was Eunice Hawley; that her children by Elijah Weller were, Amanda, wife of Daniel Webster, Jr.; Berthinia, wife of Isaac Hamil; and Elijah Weller, Jr.

Daniel Webster finally settled in Maple Rapids, Clinton Co., Mich., about 1853. They were members of the Congregational Church, and he was an abolitionist of pronounced type. Both died at Maple Rapids, he Oct. 2, 1866, and she, Apr. 3, 1870.

CHILDREN: (First five b. Broomfield, N. Y., E. Darwin, Rush, N. Y., the others at Byron, N. Y.) Henry Augustus, b. Aug. 29, 1818; d. July 3, 1820; Henry Augustus, again, Nov. 26, 1820; Eunice, Jan. 14, 1823; Jane Elizabeth, June 1, 1826; Martin, June 2, 1828; Erasmus Darwin, Aug. 17, 1830; Carlos Alonzo, June 15, 1833; Oliver Giles, July 8, 1835; Mary Lovina, Dec. 12, 1837; Miles Daniel, June 18, 1842. Resumed in Chapter LVIII.

6. Zilpah Webster, no date of birth, m. (1) DeWitt Clinton Gye, who was killed in Virginia, and (2) James Espie. No children by either marriage. They lived in Virginia and were slave owners. Legal proceedings in the settlement of the estate of her grandfather, Capt. John Vaughn of Westmoreland show that she was still Zilpah Webster (unmarried), June 10, 1824. Dates of marriages and deaths undiscovered, and places. The end.

1. David Webster, b. March, 1783, m. Hannah Gifford, b. Aug. 1778. They removed from Fabius, Onondaga Co., N. Y., to Hinsdale, Allegany Co., N. Y. arriving Dec. 6, 1833, where both died, she Jan. 19, 1847, and he, Nov. 17, 1851. He m. about 1848, Abigail.

1806, Mch. 12, David Webster of Fabius buys of Zecharias Davis, fifty acres in lot 12, directly north of the village of Apulia, N. Y.

CHILDREN: (All b. Fabius, N. Y.) Daniel, b. Oct. 18, 1802; Isaac, Feb. 11, 1806; Charles Henry; Sally Ann; Rowland Gifford, Feb. 7, 1811; Alanson, Mch. 12, 1813; Clarissa; Philo, April 2, 1817; William Riley, Jan. 9, 1820; David, Jan. 8, 1821; Hannah Maria; Ahijah, ab. 1826, died at four years and probably lived at Apulia, N. Y.; Hiram King, Feb. 7, 1827. Resumed in Chapter LVIII.

2. Enoch Webster, b. 1787, m. Dec. 3, 1808, Prudence Chapman. He resided at Wayne, Steuben Co., (Now Schuyler Co.) N. Y., and Trenton, Wayne Co., Mich.

Enoch Webster was a soldier in the War of 1812. In a communication to the Pension office of the War Department, dated Horseheads, Chemung Co., N. Y., Sep. 4, 1871, written in a fair hand, he alleged that he was 84 years old; that his company rendezvoused at Kinderhook, Columbia Co., N. Y. In February, 1873, it appears by letters in the case that Mr. Webster was residing at Trenton, Wayne Co., Mich. He seemed then to take a great interest in the election and was fearful that Greely and Brown might succeed. Said that he had been a voter for 64 years, and had never missed voting for a governor or president.

Third Auditor reports the service of an Ensign, Enoch Webster, in Cap't. Daniel St. John's Co., New York Militia, from Sep. 9, to Oct. 17, 1813. He claimed service in Capt. Winns' Co., but his name could not be found on Winns' rolls at 3d auditors.

Bounty Land Warrant, 68,003,—160—1855: June 22, 1855, he gave his residence as Tyrone, Schuyler Co., N. Y., and states that he was transferred from Capt. Winns' to Capt. St. John's Co.

CHILDREN: William; Isaac, b. about 1825, and at least two daughters.

(1) William Webster, no record.

(2) Isaac Webster, unmarried, resided in Michigan, and visited Hiram King Webster, Hinsdale, N. Y., last in 1880. The end.
